Ive been everywhere in America the last 53 years and I have NEVER MET A RACIST PERSON. They cant find a real racist so they blame it on the system. The system is somehow racist even though non racist humans control and run the system. Many many people in that system are black and Hispanic. WHERE ARE ALL YOUTUBE VIDEOS OF REAL RACIST PEOPLE? WHITE PEOPLE WHO HATE BLACK PEOPLE ARE LIKE BIGFOOT. Leftist have no proof of racism or climate change yet those are their 2 biggest worries in the US its funny and sad. All you have to do is research these subjects on not Goog!e but an independent search engine like duckduckgo and you will find out youve been brainwashed!! This entire video is fucking pointless. LITERALLY EVERYONE ON EARTH has different levels of racial, age , ethic and gender preference. Just because an asian may be more dominantly attracted to another asian and less attracted to blacks, LITERALLY DOESN'T MAKE THEM RACIST ! They don't literally hate blacks or think that blacks are inferior. Maybe they're just attracted to pointy Chinese eyes, or a lighter skin tone. It makes no goddamn fucking sense. You woundnt call some fucking FOOD RACIST just because they like RED CHERRIES MORE THAN BLACK CHERRIES, OR THAT THEY LIKE FOOD OF THEIR OWN ETHNICITY MORE THAN OTHER ETHNICITIES. It is QUITE LITERALLY HUMAN NATURE to be more dominantly attracted to one's own race than other races, because that is what they were born and raised around. No wonder this video has just as many dislikes as likes, i don't blame the dislikes. It's fucking illogical. America loves to casually abuse and toss the word RACISM around when the lot of them literally don't understand the true meaning of it. I see people being racist to white people online all the time talking about white as a whole as people who are racist while being racist , talking like all white people enslaved black people and are guilty of it so the racist thing definitely goes both ways and the biggest media companies act as if they trying to end racism but instead they are making the situation. Not just online white people face racism and also any other types of people throughout world however they look.Before civilised society most tribal groups from all over the world attacked other tribes and took slaves this continued up until the modern era's until it was out-lawed in agreement by all "civilized" countries across the world. Now we have certain black people using the race card as a weapon/tool for political influence and certain white people agreeing with them out of some unfounded guilt and are being used and manipulated. They themselves haven't committed a crime but bare the sentence charged of slavery.Especially in my country the UK the poorer white working class natives of the Island are being blamed for slavery even though it was the Royal Families and people with money who had industry throughout the world who were to blame for these practices but they are held up with high respect because they have money, fancy clothes, fancy cars, mansions etc and the same types of people today are using immigration for cheap labour and they are praised.The human race talking about morality is just a political game and the ones at the moment who look the most clean are the most dirty.Certain people want to be around other certain people, let everyone have what they what without conflict, it's possible, stop forcing a decision to choose to be either this party or this party.Stop beating around the bush and accept people want to be around different people and have different beliefs, we aren't all the same and never will be, we all deserve the right to live our lives in peace. Pashtun Boy No they don't! European peoples have a wide variety of different hair and eye color combinations. Brown eyes, hazel eyes, blue eyes, green eyes, grey eyes, varying shades of brown hair, blonde hair, red hair, black hair , straight hair, wavy hair, curly hair. Light hair and eye colors are mostly concentrated among European populations while the overwhelming majority of non European peoples have black hair and really dark brown eyes.	Black, Red	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - Native-American	4/73	5.479

Kyle S. No they dont I googled american white people and 90 of the crowd was black haired and dark eyed red hair is seen more in central asian races because those features were from central asia but mixing with indigeneous latin europeans, majority white people are plain dark haired with scandanvian people being blond hairedIndo Iranians have the most variety You cant find white girls with emerald eyes like the national geographic afghan girl photo Even asad zaman khan who is pashtun has emerald green eyes not seen in European people.	Black, Red	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - Native-American	3/93	3.226
Pashtun Boy First of all, Google images is not credible research. If you actually look at statistics, the most common hair color for whites is brown, not black . Very few white people actually have naturally black hair(besides Southern Europeans, who generally have some admixture from the Middle East and North Africa). Second, Central Asians don't have the highest concentration of redheads in the world. Scotland does, with Ireland being a close second, and the United States being third. Also, green eyes is most prevalent in Northern Europe. The Afghan girl on the National Geographic cover is the rare exception, not the rule. The main reason she's on the cover is because it's not very common for her people to have light eyes.	Black, Common	Ethnicity - Black, Social Class - Working class	4/122	3.279
Okay wait at 1:20, that's the absolute wrong question to ask. "what's wrong with mixed race girls?" is already assuming racism and puts him on the defensive. I don't care which race a woman has as long as she is beautiful in my eyes. People are overthinking stuff. People have preferences. That isn't the same as racism and for some it gets very frustrating to find a woman when they are a minority. But that doesn't mean those woman are racist . But what is a fact is that in a lot of places white is the non plus ultra and that perception should change. Every race has their beauties. But if someone says ok I just want to have a white partner it's their individual choice. Most times you are simply just attracted to the people you are grown up with.If you are a white man grown up in China you would be all over Asian woman . That's natural. Dating preferences are tough. You can have them, know they're a bad thing, but still have them. You can't help it no matter how hard you try, you just can't find a certain race (or people who aren't from a certain race) attractive. It's not your fault, you probably got them from what you where exposed to. I don't think we should penalize people for having preferences, but we should try to racially diversify our pop culture to help prevent these preferences.	Race	Ethnicity - General	2/82	2.439
It isn't bad its good if a vast majority doesn't race mix because then there will always be diversity and it keeps culture pure. My theory is that being blonde because of the general love and social messages of being blonde gives one's confidence growing up. Confidence is sexier than anything. Therefore, the most confident women was at the top. Even though a gorgeous woman was at the bottom, perhaps she was more passive? Is that a south Asian trait? Another observation is how unaware people are of the things they say and how it pertains to what they have said. For example:An idea that is professed a lot is that attraction is not a choice. Ive seen this quite a lot where beautiful Asian girls not just Chinese settle with white man that would normally have very low chances with their own piers. That's very strange in my opinion. Ok most times it works out.But really if you are one of the undesired races even if you are quite far from ugly there is practically 0 chance to find the right girl. Most times you get slammed the door into your face in online dating. It's like the video says they don't take even a closer look and swipe away instantly because you don't fullfill their idea.And even in real life you may get in touch with a lot of woman but you won't get over a certain line. I wouldn't ever consider the vast majority as even remotely racist but it something deeply ingrained in the subconsciousness.This beauty ideal for whiteness isn't just in white people but every other race seems to be infected too with it. What is truly bizarre about these SJW vids that whinge on & on about the subjects of sex/dating vs. " race ", it that they never ever reference the fact that 90 or more of so called interracial "couples", or just one night stands, occur between light skinned females & dark skinned males, & rarely the other way round. There are reasons for this:1. Most white men are not very attracted to black women. In fact, even most black men find white & asian women to be more attractive than black women.2. Most black women are not very attracted to white or asian men.3. SJW white chicks invite black guys to use of their vaginas & rectums as a method of "reparations" for slavery & atone for their unearned "white privilege". 4. Masochistic white girls have figured out that there are a lot of black guys out there who hate white people, but will happily fuck white girls while treating them like shit.5. Black men, on average, have very slightly larger penises than white men. That said, white guys on average have very slightly larger penises than asians, & there are still very large numbers of white guys in Europe & North America who have dicks larger than the average black guy simply because whites are temporarily still in the majority (for the time being). Even princess diana dated a Egyptian and a Pakistani guy.Britney Spears is with a Persian guy right now and also dated a Pakistani guyImran Khan in his younger years was known for plowing banking dynasty european women and was even rated above justin trudeau by british women and other european women too Id say Levant males, Middle Eastern and some northern south asian men who can pass as central asian are generally better looking than white guys in eye color, chin bones, facial featuresSome meditaranean whites are decent looking too	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/218	0.459

Its clear you are all a bunch of virgins or at least close enough to it, and you're saying who's more attractive and bla bla as if beauty is definined scientifically. You are forgetting 'preferences' people. Preferences is not factual. Just because a couple hundred million people vote for a laid out choice (like your voting) doesn't mean that that's all the choice there is. On a spectrum so vast of 7 billion+.... You're bound to get what we'd call "drop dead gorgeous" men and women from every civilisation and race , from Australian Aborigines to Scandinavian Norse.It's also worth pointing out that some see skin colour itself as an underlying factor, they're usually the racists and the not so smart people who allow others to do their thinking for them. And then you have the intelligent.... Those who embrace diversity and hence are more successful at getting sex because they have far more choices. I've banged women of the European (white) race , the African (black) race and the American (red) race . Difference? The skin tone. That's it. The climaxing was the same, the sweat, the grabbing of the hair the slapping of the flesh, all the same.That's how I know you people are stuck at home with the ice cream tub on the couch, because you haven't experienced what you're moaning and groaning about in real life, it's just hearsay. Callum Smith no, that is false.Neanderthal from Africa did go into Europe and were there until Homosapiens, us, that first evolved in Africa, showed up in Europe. Around that time the Neanderthal of Europe declined and then went extinct later, but 1-4 of their DNA exists in most humans today, few populations in Central Africa have no European Neanderthal DNA, but most people alive today do.Regardless... Homosapiens, what we are, first evolved on the African continent and they would of been black due to the sun's intensity in that region. Groups dispersed here and there over time and we adapted to different climates, our particular line of them that we come from evolved to have lighter skin over time, slimmer features, etc. It's no big deal, minor differences that should have no effect on how we respect one another.Yes, the ancestors of homosapiens came from Europe and Asia and Africa and Europe again and Asia again and Africa again and the ocean and on an asteroid floating through space etc.... This is the thing, we have ancestors going back further than the earth itself.I see how you have completely ignored what I said about the West's gain over the centuries, care to comment on that? ALL COMMENTS ON HERE ARE THE SAME. THIS PROBABLY WON'T BE POPULAR, BUT I'LL TRY ASSESSING ALL OF YOUR POINTS:1) This is anti-whiteNO: Criticism isn't hatred. The same way that yelling at your kid doesn't mean you hate them. The same way that getting into an argument with your best friend doesn't mean you hate them. Don't feel as though this is anti-white just because it criticises white people.In a World where so many right wingers are convinced that Women and minorities are too sensitive, it's very ironic that you seem so sensitive to criticism.2) It's only okay to have racial preferences when you're a minorityNO: It is okay only if your preference doesn't stem from subconscious racism I think that what this tries to do is to examine how for White people, however, racial preferences for Whites are rampant; and to study why they are so rampant, and whether or not the root is subconscious racism . 3) If this where a study of Black people, they would've only chosen other Black peopleNO: In fact, if you were to line Black people up and not white people, they'd happily choose to date white people. I, in fact, have never met a Black person who said they didn't have any racial preferences, and ending up being in a long term relationship with another Black person. Why? Because Black people live in a World where Whites dominate economically, hold most of the political power, have beauty standards which are seen as universally superior . Most famous cities are win white majority countries, and history has been washed of any of its coloured presence (Jesus, the Egyptians), etc...; and White people make up most Nobel Prizes. Finally, the only instances in which Black people discover other Black people is through the shallow worlds of sports and music, or through the insecurity complex inducing exclusive reporting of Black crime and Black poverty; not any sign of Black excellence. Naturally, blaming all of this on 18th century White people is oversimplifying. But the reality is that this current world drowns Black people in the idea that they're inferior. This translates into so many Black women wearing weaves, or Black africans bleaching their skin, or African American males' obsession with White women, for instance. Which is why this video would be completely different if it examined only Black people's biases. Subconscious insecurity and complexes are incredibly prevalent among Black people. Sex is for reproduction. Reproduction = discriminatory people are very picky there is nothing wrong with it. People are the most attracted to people who are biologically similar to them. There seems to only be a problem if it's white people who prefer white people. Why is this? You can't choose who you are attracted to. It seems to be mainly minorities in white majority countries who think it is 'racist' or 'discriminatory' for white people to find the vast majority of people they grew up with are surrounded by and have similar cultures and are biologically more similar to themselves 'racist'. Why do the two hosts even care about white people more in this video? It seems they want to be desired by white people. NOBODY in any race owes sex or affection to ANYBODY and don't deserve to be made guilty for what they like! 'Inbred genetics' sounds like someone doesn't know much about the genetic history of Britain and thinks the 'British' royal family being mainly inbred and predominantly German means all British people are inbred. +Candle Jay I agree they are the least attractive of all Europeans but your wrong about them being the most mixed they are very mixed with many of the people I've mentioned and many carry genetic markers from these people. It's the rulers that don't have much outbreeding going on for them the royal family like many royal families of Europe are a species to themselves and many Europeans looked down on their incestuous marriages (mainly found in mainland Europe) the traits many British have are due to them traits being attractive decades and centuries ago like thin lips, scrawny skinny with no curves, paper white skin, blue eyes and blonde red hair so many married though's with them traits. They do not fit any modern beauty standards and are considered the least attractive of many Europeans. However they are pure Caucasian but anyone who is 'pure' any race is more inbred than mixed race people. Mixed raced people are a minority globally though. +Candle Jay lots of chronic diseases? Like what? I know plenty of British people they generally are healthy when it comes to genetics with the diseases they do have acquired through bad lifestyle choices like smoking. The majority of British people are average looking they aren't revolting to look at and there are a few beauties among the mix just like most people among the world they just aren't well known for having as many people on average who fit the beauty standards. Symmetrical faces are usually pretty but as far as meaning beautiful I'd doubt it, the most scientifically 'beautiful' woman in Britain is pretty but she is no great beauty. What do inbreds look like? Average people don't look inbred. They share traits with their population like many other places share with their own people. Whites share characteristics with their own race as do blacks and Asians that ain't inbred. If u want to look at inbred look at the Habsburg family or ancient Egyptian royalty. the whole thing is fake, made up to start fights. Hong Kong is one of the most polluted and unhealthy societies in the World. It's superior position comes from liberal market policies which the USA had in abundance. This has nothing to do with diversity. I mean you can look at in the same framework as North and South Korea. Both are VERY homogeneous societies, one simply is able to keep the lights on while the other nation's people starve. Brazil has one of the highest rates of depression and tremendous violence, both are factors associated with diversity according to modern research. I think you are looking at economic indices as your sole metric and that's fine if your fundamental telos is that of an anarcho-capitalist but as far as metrics that are not concerned with quantitative nominal indices it's hardly a convincing argument. Also why bring up Brazil, it's in an economic depression and has TREMENDOUS racial segregation? If you want to look at diversity the ethnic fractionalization index demonstrates the most diverse places, usually in Africa, also have severe economic depression and are fundamentally aid based economies. There is more to human existence than being a fungible cog in the engine of capitalism needless to say indices are subject to being throttled by centralized financial instruments for the purposes of accelerating growth but this is simply artificial way to look at social harmony.	Ethnic, Nothing	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General	2/225	0.889

All races potentially have light eyes and flared nostrils. They made a redundant point that only exposes an agenda. People inherently like what's familiar, the majority don't like change. The term "opposites attract" has actually been debunked and most relationships last based on similarities. Everyone knows there are white men with asian/ black preferences, black girls who only date white men, women who only date tall men etc. That is their choice, based on our instinct to seek the optimal partner for our offspring. The sooner everyone accepts these facts and acknowledges that dating only white people is the same as dating only tall people, or those without glasses...the sooner we'll reach the non racist world we're "apparently" all working towards. Just because you don't fancy someone doesn't mean you hate them and want their entire race dead or removed from your country...only an idiot would jump to such conclusions. You're literally not making any sense and refusing to even consider other points of view.It's just like I have no idea how it is for you to move through the world as a white man because I haven't lived it. I don't know what it is to be male OR white. It's just as how those born into rich and privileged families often don't understand the struggle or refuse to acknowledge the struggle of the working class because they just don't get it. Being rich is all they know. Just as you don't understand how it is to be a female in a male-run world.As a person of colour, I see, hear and experience racism in the UK all the time and people like you (willingly blind to the issues) are a huge part of the problem. What makes racism in the UK insidious is that it is ingrained in our culture, deeply embedded in our societal and institutional structures that people don't even realise it is there anymore. That is how it differs from places like the USA where they are openly racist to your face. It is not extremely rare otherwise it wouldn't be an issue and I wouldn't be spending my time trying to educate you over the damn internet. Programmes like this wouldn't exist. You need to sit down and talk to more non-white people and try and see where we are coming from then you may begin to have some kind of understanding. Daniel BostockObsession with race isn't racism . Or Martin Luther King would be racist . Racism : Prejudice, antagonism or discrimination based on the belief that one's race is superior.-Oxford DictionaryBe careful of how you use the word; as a sign of respect for all those those who have died because of it.Also, it's not just unconscious racial prejudice. It's also unconscious racial insecurity. In fact, if you were to line Black people up and not white people, they'd happily choose to date white people. I, in fact, have never met a Black person who said they didn't have any racial preferences, and ending up being in a long term relationship with another Black person. Why? Because Black people live in a World where Whites dominate economically, hold most of the political power, have beauty standards which are seen as universally superior . Most famous cities are win white majority countries, and history has been washed of any of its coloured presence (Jesus, the Egyptians), etc...; and White people make up most Nobel Prizes. Finally, the only instances in which Black people discover other Black people is through the shallow worlds of sports and music, or through the insecurity complex inducing exclusive reporting of Black crime and Black poverty. Naturally, blaming all of this on 18th century White people is oversimplifying. But the reality is that this current world drowns Black people in the idea that they're inferior. Which is why this video would be completely different if it examined Black people's biases.	Black, Race, Racism, Racist, coloured	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	15/254	5.906

But just to play Devil's Advocate (usually, if you can be objective, this has the benefit of understanding an truth seeking - AKA the socratic method of inquiry) what is right about preferring your own ethnicity ?	Ethnicity	Ethnicity - General	1/37	2.703

The question is whatever you perceive it to be. There is no right or wrong answer here, despite what school tried to condition you to believe. Is it right to prefer your own ethnicity ? Why? Should you not strive to eliminate ethnical preference, since ethnical preference leads to the degradation of the individual? Do you yourself not wish to be treated as an individual, rather than a monolithic entity that is part of an arbitrary skin designation? Why would you expect to be treated as an individual, but not extend that same curtesy to others? Just some things to ponder. Go bananas :)	Ethnicity	Ethnicity - General	1/103	0.971
No worries about the "mess of words" :) I can get your meaning. For once, a little bit of debate with a slice of differing opinions without name calling and mud slinging. :)I think we all do have biases, even ones we are not aware of. I think this is what really contributes to us preferring a skin colour over another, or just completely dismissing a skin tone as potential dating material, rather than the innocuous "I like what I like answer". I think that answer tends to shy away from the idea that we have any choice and therefore no responsibility about who we are attracted to. However I assert that we have more control over such a thing than we admit, and that a lot of the time its other peoples influence over us that dictate our attraction, or who we are willing to admit to ourselves who we are attracted to. Take for example the man (or woman) who is of the mind that they are hetrosexual. Their minds will filter out the members of the same sex that they are attracted to, to maintain the idea that they are hetrosexual. This will continue until they have gained an awareness of self and realise that those same feelings of attraction that they feel for the opposite sex , they also feel for the same sex . I use myself as example, it has taken me twenty one years to realise I find men attractive. However I will not sleep with a man, due to my own fears of what sex would be like. I also find women incredibly attractive also and because of this you could accuse me of sexism which I think would be true, but I wont hide behind double talk and denial, I will hold my hand up to it. In that same way, I think that people are naturally attracted to people, rather than ethnicity (which makes more sense to me than being attracted to a specific ethnicity , since we have no gene for that) but we apply our own filter to decide that we don't want to find that person attractive, so we ignore the feelings. But even then, at some point, this will change. This is because our list of attraction changes over time and our awareness deepens. When you look back at the people you dated when younger and you think to yourself, whatever did I see in that person. As we age , our attraction widens. Why?	Age, Ethnicity, Sex, Sexism, Woman	Age - General, Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	9/416	2.163

No I'm not confused, just ready to admit things to myself that when I was younger would not have noticed at all. I suppose I am more bisexual than anything, but as you may or may not be aware a movement has been building towards non-binary definitions of sexuality. This is nothing new really, maybe to Western audiences, but the native Americans already had non-binary sexual definitions for centuries.As usual the pushback is happening, but I think as time progresses it will be another thing people will become comfortable with, but it will still have its staunch oppositionists, much like this discussion about race and relationships.Anyways, cool chatting with ya Freddy. If you have no care for blackness then why have you chosen those things in particular? I can see beauty in every race that's why i find it weird . All the Tami Williams, Naomie Campbell's SZA's, Diana Gordon's, Aliya Will's, Gabriel Union's, Erykah Badu's, Chanel Iman (who i think are gorgeous black women) could be considered unattractive not because you just don't find them pretty but because of their race ????? European and American media are aimed at the majority of European and American media is shown in any country in Africa and pushing an agenda then it's the peoples own fault for falling for it (I doubt they do)as the media in Europe and America is aimed at the white majority in their country and the continent of Europe it isn't aimed at Africans or Asians so it's their fault for watching it's not aimed at them	Black, Sexual, Woman	Ethnicity - Black, Gender - General	6/181	3.315
Ebony I I never grew up looking at white women and thinking they were more beautiful. The average looking white woman is exactly what it says on the tin but some people will gas it up because of her skin complexion and hair. If that white woman with blonde hair in this video who they voted "most attractive" was black with the same features but with kinky hair they would have voted her the least attractive hands down. We need to stop looking and trying to reprogram our brains to try understand why they find their people the most beautiful because in reality it is not the case. There is beauty in every race . I have seen this time and time, i was watching one of those street interviews and the black male interviewer was paying this thick white girl all attention whilst her friend who was right next to him who was black same shape a tiny bit more pretty got none...he kept in stating she was a thick for a white girl and shit and I just thought first, what a weirdo ? and second what was the complete difference, bear in mind i see this all the time...if she was her friends skin complexion with weave would she have gotten attention...no i highly doubt it...this is the reason i am not nor should i ever take a bunch of scattered men's preference's seriously because most of the time it just doesn't make any sense and it speaks volumes about them than it does a black woman asian woman whatever.
