You... are not..... Black ... Well thanks for that captain obvious lol but seriously, I mean I've been called white and pink in my life. Never one time did i find that racist or offensive, often it gave me a giggle, and I just don't really care what colour people want me to label with. You know why??? Because the moment you choose to be offended by someone else's judgement/assumption, that makes negativity. It's not necessarily negative, until you do this in fact.What you choose to do in your life, and your decisions, effect your path. If it doesn't matter what colour skin we have, and these differences don't matter, we probably shouldn't be making videos claiming it does. I would call you brown. Probably not like a name, and for no reason to your face, I mean why would I?Not that it makes any difference to your life or mine. That's the colour i see you as mostly. If I was colour blind , you might be grey. These trivial things don't have to be a big deal. They don't have to be a dedicated youtube video, with slow, dramatic piano music. Call me whatever colour you like. Label me whatever tags you wish. You're still my brother, and any other human being on this planet I see as my sibling/family.It's long due time we stop talking about skin colour like its a big deal, we remove any and all groups which segregate and package us up VIA skin colour (aka BLM) It's long due time we start expressing all lives matter, be proud of who you are, not what skin colour you have, it's irrelevant. The worlds got an infinity of real problems, but skin colour's not one.	Black, Blind, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	3/291	1.031

24yrukdesigner sorry to tell you, but if you never felt the judgemental looks of People only because you happen to walk thru the "wrong" neighbourhood or you hold hands with your girlfriend and she is "white" you should think close about what He says. I'm "mixed", born and raised in Germany and trust me i've got my fair share of racism every Day. it starts with People Talk in english to me cause they asume i can't speak german and it get's even more racist when I Start talking german and they say: your german is great.Those People dont think they did some wrong and dont recognize the lable they Put on me. Racism and lableling is the dumbest thing of all Time and you know why: when I cut my finger and you cut yours, the blood is the Same colour, EVERYWHERE on earth.	Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - General	3/146	2.055

+Steve L These places you speak of exist in a minority of places compared to those which do care of such pettiness. Again it does not need to be stated. It's nothing but a cry for vanity otherwise. We are ALL mixed, and are in denial to think otherwise. It's not only skin colour which "Mixes" us. I've been in France, and some guy came over and started speaking Italian to me, because he thought I was Italian based on my looks. He seemed frustrated when I didn't speak his language... (In France) - - It's the same thing, that he was angry for no reason other than I was different from him, and we were both white. See it's not about skin colour, it's about familiarity. It CAN be about skin colour, but that is far from frequent as those being offended by people living differently. Racism isn't always the right word, and is used for just about anything now days. I've heard kids in a shop recently talking about what packet of crisps they wanted, and one of them called the other racist because he didn't like that flavour :D It's a silly word which now means something different for everyone. We all get judged, we all experience some degree of bullying or discrimination at some point. Lets just get on with it, deal with it like adults, turn the other cheek and be happy we're alive. No more videos calling for people to unite together against racists, because that is just ridiculous and solves nothing other than children hitting each other with sticks for disliking cheese and onion. In short... There are bigger things to worry about. :) Good day. If someone says you're not German, good for them, allow them to have their opinion. Doesn't mean they're right or even have any point in judging you does it. Who cares what they think :) Turn the other cheek. Smile. (It will annoy them a whole lot more that you're not bothered)	Nothing, Racism, Racist	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General	4/334	1.198
He IS black. Isn't there such a thing as black history week too. He is a self hater when it comes down to it. There will always be racism. I lived through it. And I'm sure what I lived through is more than what most did. I was born in 80s child and I watched my black father suffer it often. I lived in a predominantly white neighbourhood in a racist town. My father the only black man in that town. My siblings the only mixed ones in that town. And the residents wanted that town kept white. There wasn't any of this PC stuff and you could get insulted by school teachers without anybody thinking a thing of it. Today racism isn't so bad. But I see a lot of self haters who try to wipe out their colour and see it as gaining a trophy if they have a white partner. I'm perfect for all the self hating black guys who claim they don't hate their color. Because they get a woman who can pass as white, but who is still part black. So they can claim they are dating a girl of color with a black father. While still preferring that I look white. It's sickening!!! I want a proud black guy (like my father) who doesn't need to go on about his color and convince people he isn't as dark as they say. GET OVER IT!!!'	Black, Racism, Racist, Woman	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	12/240	5.0

This is just like a lot of your other videos, Sure you have the correct message that we should get along together however there is a difference between the color black and white. The adjective black means a color, you are black just as I am white. We are equal and the same species I agree however there is a difference we aren't all "the same color" there are distinct colors.If we didn't have "labels" naming people for their heritage then we lose individuality and we all become one big blob of people who look different but refuse to accept it. Without our current labels human beings would make another label for different looking people its how humans work we always try to make a us and them scenario with anyone who looks slightly different then us.Show less	Black	Ethnicity - Black	3/140	2.143

Race isn't a social construct terms like black and white are social constructs. Race is more than just skin color in fact we're actually more like more like dog breeds if white is a real race then why do Europeans have different features in almost every region? Like Irish, English, Scottish, Nordic, baltic, Alpine, dinaric and Mediterranean, they all have their own unique appearances. Same with Africa. Africans have different appearances too like the Cushitic people of Ethiopia and Somalia have straight hair and faces that look more like Arabs and Indians, the Khoisan's of Southern Africa look more like East Asians, the Nilotic of north east Africa are the tallest people in the world while the pygmies of Central Africa are the shortest people in the world. The reason why blacks worldwide have the same looks is because the slaves that went to the America's and Europe were just one ethnic group that was taken from one region witch was the Nigerian coast. Black and white is an American term that the Indians came up with. White became term because the majority of Europeans who went to America were from the northern part which has the lightest skin and they referred to them as white and the Africans came from one region and they were considered as black. Over the last 300 years Americans have been isolated from their home land for so long that the only thing they know about their ancestry is that the whites came from Europe and the blacks came from Africa thus creating the black and white stereotypes. Most people outside North America don't know what black and white means.	Black, Ethnic, Race, Witch	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Gender - Female age and physical appearance	10/276	3.623

You are not black and you are not white, you are yourself, you are what your parents named you, like that kid Mathew down the street, what if he is a different color, and you yell "hey black kid!" just think what you are making this kid think, your parents raised YOU to call different colored people black or white, its not right tho, think about it if you go up to somebody and call them black and white and they don't know what that means, they could go home and say "Why did somebody call me black ?" just be ashamed.You are yourself you are your name don't believe what other people call YOU you cant change what they say but you can change what you think about YOURSELF. You need to shine in this world different color or not. Remember you cant change them so shine and be YOU!"By being yourself, you put something beautiful into the world that was not there before."-Edwin Elliot.	Black, Colored	Ethnicity - Black	6/168	3.571

You are black , and I am white. But we are the same. We don't need to hide our differences, because our differences are what make us beautiful. The difference in culture is what makes us beautiful. The differences are what link back to what makes us the same. So it's not that we aren't what we are. It's that we need to appreciate what other people are. Are to us . . .	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/73	1.37
I get the whole meaning in it and all, and pure respect for your beautiful message. All though it is incorrect, we're born in those body's indeed, but what u talk about, is choice, just like the car, we have a choice wether to pick a black car, or a white car "Or any other color" But our body is not a choice, trust me if human beings could have a choice we would partly all be super models duo to how insecure most teens and elders are with their bodies.I do get your message though! And it is beautiful! Sadly just incorrect, born black , be black , born white, be white, and that is the matter of a colors name, not our minds and hearts control.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	3/127	2.362

I am white activist of 20 years and I live in apartheid white Australia. I remember my fist experience of seeing racism and could not understand the cruelty being dished out on the basis of skin color, particularly as the recipient was a very friendly affable boy from Africa. So while color means shit to me, I know that colored people everywhere are treated like shit, and the genocide here has never ceased and it is appalling. While Prince Ea is correct about the reasons and origins of racism, I have learnt you cannot fight a battle on the basis of race alone, because race is but one FAKE social construct used to breed hate and division in order to subjugate and enslave us all.Nationalism, race, creed, religion are all fake social constructs and their specific purpose is the division of the world by white colonialists and imperialists to rape the resources of the planet that belong to us all that they have stolen via genocide of the indigenous and the indoctrination of we in the West and we are pretty stupid as result. The third world was created by the west and still exists because the plunder continues. The west would collapse in a heart beat without the enslavement of the peoples of the so called third world in sweat shops and the continued plunder of its resources. Americans per capita use 50x the energy as someone on the subcontinent and twice that of comparable first world nations....a disproportionate amount that can only be procured by the use of violence. The function of the Aircraft carrier is to make imperialism mobile, to be able to deliver deadly fire power wherever and whenever necessary. The US is currently breaching the sovereignty of 54 nations in the Middle East and Nth Africa today and is desperate to get its hands on Iranian and Venezuela oil because the empire was never sustainable from the outset and is in a state of collapse as a result. The problem is systemic, you must fight the disease, you cannot fight the nonexistent social constructs used to perpetuate it. MLK realised this and is why he changed his orientation from race to class and is why he was assassinated because he now threatened the system. They will tolerate people fighting on the basis of race and even denounce racists because it threatens nothing. That is why Gandhi and Mandela are held up as heroes, because they replaced a foreign white ruling class with a black ruling class and left the system intact and the results are there for all to see, while the Black Panthers were eventually put down by state violence....murder, frame ups etc because they challenged the system. If Prince Ea was to garner enough support to run for president they would get rid of him in a second. There is the belief amongst liberals that Sanders and Gabbard are radicals that promote change....total bullshit. IDENTITY POLITICS IS A DEAD END. They are more Obama smoke and mirrors to keep people enslaved within the system. Even if Prince Ea managed to become president, what happens after 8 years when he has served his maximum term? Another Trump? Trump, like Boris Johnson in the UK are no aberrations, they are what a system in collapse throes up...the most vile vicious garbage prepared to wage wars and vilify migrants, and blacks and whoever else is necessary. Albert Einstein, Oscar Wilde, the Anarchists, the socialists, even deaf dumb blind Helen Keller have all weighed in on the subject time and time again but we know better obviously because we avoid doing what is necessary like the plague. We have to do the obvious and tell the mother fucking psychopaths in power that they cannot have the stolen land because it's not theirs - so fuck off. Not to do as in the	Black, Blind, Colored, Deaf, Dumb, Nationalism, Nobody, Nothing, PIGS, Race, Racism	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Nationality - General, Nationality - Southern European, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	17/920	1.848

warning i wrote alot. I dont get why people say your act white. To me it make zero since because there is no you act white or you act black . That's what you choose to be. People tend to follow others because of the affection they gain. Yes we might be slightly diffrent like the way our hair works or the way it react to certain things but we are all still the same thing and that's the mistake people made years ago they thought we weren't like them because of the color of our skin. Did they know us? Not at all but was still judged. Not all people where for it but some people where enough for it to be official. the fact that segregation is over and we continue to label people by there color is ridiculous. Like deciding who you wont to be friends with and you pick a diffrent color to be your friend. Once my friends friend said why is that ugly black girl over your house. I was offended and heart broken that someone would actually say that. I grabbed all my stuff and left i said you shouldn't be friends with someone who acts like that. The point is why? Everything is over now we are supposed to be equal. We did not end segregation for people to be able to label people by there race what there wearing.what your wearing is not you personally. If I'm wearing what jogging pants Jordan's a hoody people tend to say oh you dress like your from the hood. It's a style not a meaning there is no meaning to the way you dress you can Express yourself with cclothing but you cant describe yourself by your clothing. Either your " black or white" we are all human whether you dress like a stereotypical "hood" or something diffeent we are all human and the way we look doesnt matter! I totally agree with you that people should not be judged by their skin color. But you were talking about something that your body is not you and that everyone's the same apart from their bodies. But let's look at the two genders: male and female. Before I get to the point: I totally agree with your opinion you shared in this video. Now, everyone is judged by his or her gender . If you replaced „I'm not black , you're not white' with „I'm not a man, you're not a woman', you'd earn much more criticism, because we're all familiar with the physical differences of men and women and we know, that our bodies are not the same, but our minds are. My point is, that your quote „I'm not black , you're not white' is not true, which becomes obvious when you replace black and white with male and female. It would be a perfect world if your labels (skin color, gender etc) were not seen as YOU. But it's kinda unrealistic that that would ever be the case. Yeah, just think about this comparison... --	---------------	---	-------	-------

Black and white is a label for someone’s skin color. If you have a friend, and you simply describe them as: "White skin color with brown hair," that’s not a good thing to say. I would describe my friend as "Smart and kind." But if you don’t know the person, we typically use labels to describe them. "Human" is a label. Anything that makes up you, is a label. "Human" and "Dog" are 2 different labels, that separate a dog from a human. To completely get rid of labels, that would be pretty bad. For example, if you’re in a criminal case and they ask you about the robber, you can describe them as white skin tone, brown hair, brown eyes, skinny , etc. This will make it easier for the police to find them. Labels are the things that you are made of. People typically use labels to describe people if you don’t know them. Or, you’re in the store and you’re talking to your friend. You say "That girl is pretty." Your friend says "What girl?" Then what? How can you describe the person to your friend if you don’t know their personality? You can say "The girl with the blonde hair and purple dress." "Oh, yeah I can see her. She is very pretty." Using labels to define our friends can be unnecessary in some cases as well. "My friend, Jazmine? Oh yeah, she’s black , you should meet her!" that is unnecessary to say, we already know she’s black , that doesn’t say anything about who she really is. A better thing to say could be "My friend, Jazmine? Oh yeah, she’s very kind, you should meet her!" Labels are used to define people, and that isn’t a bad thing. Then some people say "Yeah, we should stop labeling people as black , white, Asian, mixed, etc, because it’s racist !" It is not racist to label someone by their skin color, it’s literally a fact. No matter how much you think calling someone white is racist , it’s a fact. That person is white. If you are in a situation where you don’t know the person, you can say "That Asian lady with the brown hair has a nice outfit." People nowadays would say that defining her as Asian is racist . But it’s not. It’s a fact. The part saying she has a nice outfit is an opinion, but the part saying she’s Asian and has brown hair is a fact. Yes, I agree we should get to know the person instead of just labeling them and moving on. But honestly, labeling isn’t bad. It’s just things that make up you. With all respects the human race has different skin tones, and colors in the shade. In Noah's day there was 8 people who survived which is eight different skin tones or colors,etc.Now hate, and prejudice crimes are increasing and getting worse.My skin tone is light, or white. There is nothing I can do about that. The human race is what it really. We should love one another, and have unity too. It's like that people are just more likely to be born lighter or darker skin traits because it's genetics. However a dormant genetic factor can be in people. I will have very much of the Caucasian genetic traits because it's most abundant. Although there are some Native American in my veins, and it may not show because of my European genetic factors. Never know that could be Native American blood in my veins or genes although it's most likely not to show.	Nothing, Race	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General	3/155	1.935

It is not that these labels do not exist. These make references of our culture of origin etc. and give us IDENTITY! Do not be blind , these identities such as culture, gender etc give us purpose when we cannot find it in ourselves. The thing is, we should not let it spark conflict - it is one of our hardest missions as human beings. But if we do not have identities, how can we define each other in this limited world? We cannot have good or bad guys merely, it would spark even bigger conflicts. Nor can we use only wealth as a measurement. We are different in ways we cannot influence, and it is BENEFICIAL for us! All baloney in this video. If it were all true you're rants on this video, others would hated the carbon neuro-melanated people so much and do everything to deny the carbon people, eliminate, commit genocide upon, create laws to restrict and murder b-lack people so much and so for 1,000s years. Baloney is just that, baloney, reality speaks for itself. Period. How can you live free when all others (non-carbon people) always conspire to keep prevent you from enjoying the resources of our own mother, mother planet Earth? Are you dreaming or what? Reality speaks for itself. The truth will set you free. So, quit hallucinating and face reality! Bullshit. No truly racist person became not racist by watching a five minute video.	Racist	Ethnicity - General	2/14	14.286

Mutantcy1992 racism is not natural..it is through programming..cultural views..and society..who would they have to teach them differently..a 5 min video would not wash it all away..but it would definitely spark the influence to change their perception..and with genuine acts of love and kindness..it will change..	Racism	Ethnicity - General	1/45	2.222
Mutantcy1992 how is it natural.. nobody is born racist ..we are born blank without thoughts and perceptions..the information we are fed growing up determines how we act and behave towards anyone..the information we consume is who we become..thats the root that needs to be fixed..where i'm from has alot of racism ..and that is because the government has been using that for years to win elections [on both sides]..unless people become more aware and elevate their consciousness..only then we will have a gd outcome..i am very well aware that alot of things are far from over..	Nobody, Racism, Racist	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General	3/96	3.125
Mutantcy1992 I know I'm insanely late to the party, and I'm probably in no position to argue.But like Romein already said you can't be born racist you're just a living being who doesn't have any perception on what exactly life is. Babies mimic behavior from others, and so do children. So when we are told to not do things because the younger kids, 'will copy you.' I'm pretty sure that means behavior is learned. If I express my hate for things, my younger cousins have always followed through with me. If I say I like that exact same thing, reversing what I just said on the dot . They still follow suit. So, honestly. You can't be born racist , you can't be born and that's suddenly what you'll be doing. No artist was born to create art. It's what they were surrounded in, what they took notice of. What they chose to mimic.	Dot, Racist	Ethnicity - Asian (South-India, Pakistan, Bangladesh), Ethnicity - General	3/153	1.961
Mutantcy1992 Feelings are important. Otherwise you wouldn't be human. And again, you're in no position to say someone is, was or will be a failure, because if you at least made 1 person think about why they're racist and realize that they're in the wrong, you did something. Something imporant. However you..You're spreading negativity and nobody needs that. So please be so kind and don't tell people pointless and stupid advice that nobody asked for	Nobody, Racist	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General	3/75	4.0
Oxyme food is important. without food you wouldn't be alive. does this mean that we should elect someone who talks solely about food?things that are important for being human are not necessarily important for a politician.i really doubt this video turned any actual racist to think differently, because if you're actually racist against, for example, black people, why would you watch a video with a black guy in the thumbnail?my advice is actually valuable and you could follow it too, maybe you'd learn something. Mutantcy1992 Alright, so i checked out the video (Well, more like skipped through it) and right off the bat, i have something to say. First of all, the video didn't actually touch the subject of racism , nor did it have any connection with this video. Second of all, boyinaband was talking about how facebook helped people communicate and all that, but i only speak from personal experience and thus, here's what i have to say to that. Yeah, sure. But let's not forget that social media is also the reason of many deaths. Whether it be suicide or getting killed. Not to mention, that social media is also the reason for some people's depression. While i agree that depression doesn't just come and go, boyinaband has very invalid information and maybe if i actually watched the whole video, i would have a lot more to say. I completely agree with this until it crosses to the point of transgenderism. I completely understand the thought process behind transgenderism, but it's completely impossible to change one's gender . Yes, the common counter is to try and separate 'gender' from 'sex' and say that sex isn't changeable, but gender is; and to that I must also respond with a question: 'How many genders are there then?' To ask for this change and societal reconstruct, we need certain ramifications to be met. IF gender is a non-binary; IF gender is separate from sex ; IF gender can be whatever you want to gender -identify as, how many genders are there?I'm not trying to start a debate here, but I am trying to make a point in that these labels are in place for a reason. I think the racial labels are wrong, but the gender/sex labels are not. Without those, we no longer have a solid societal construct. Of course this also leads into homosexuality, but let me say this. I do not care what your orientation is. I know this is a sore subject during pride month, but why do we need an entire month to celebrate something that doesn't effect most people, but we only get two days to remember those whose serve, and those who have served. Now don't be confused, I am not saying I don't care about you, or that you're insignificant. What I am saying, is this, most people don't care about your orientation; if I cared enough to know, I'd ask, so don't go telling everyone that you're gay/lesbian/transgender, because most people will simply see it as a person desperate for attention and recognition.I'm sorry to say, but except for those who are Extreme Right Radicals, the LGBTQ is not, in my honest opinion, suffering from oppression, but in fact, over-recognition. I'll go back to my earlier point here.We have 2 days in a 365 day year, to remember those who serve, and those who served. But, we also have an entire month to celebrate a community that has only been gaining popularity for roughly the past 60 years. The start of this long comment was to say that the racial labels are incorrect and need to be less substantial, but labels that define gender/sex and orientation need to remain. Without those labels, we complete lose our societal construct.Again, this was not meant to start a debate, but simply share a different viewpoint — one of slight disagreement with a very smart and educated man. I mean people look different and when the difference is quite common between a lot of people for example colors of eyes. We kinda need labels. It helps us describe things. If you want to explain how a person looks to someone who you might not really know who you could say the guy with white/black.ect skin, green/blue/brown.ect eyes, blonde/brown/ginger hair, tall/short/average height, fat /average/ skinny , muscly/lanky/average. People might not like some of these labels for example Lanky, skinny , fat or short but it's how they can be simply described.You can't avoid being labeled or labeling someone else. What you can avoid is who you think is behind that label. There is a word for it. Stereotyping.	Common, Fat, Skinny	Physical Identity - Physical Features, Social Class - Working class	3/116	2.586

"Why call it jewtube, and why say george soros and other rich jews?" Maybe because most media companies are run by jews? thats not me being "anti-semitic" thats something you can look up yourself, and I mentioned George Soros because he pulls the strings of the EU and is one of the leading enforcers of open borders and mass migration by funding NGOs and such to smuggle in immigrants. And it sounds like you havent heard of the rothschilds or any of the other jews that are responsible for the degradation of the west. Aedrim you are honestly stupid... the thing about different races having better IQ is idiotic, like sure different races may be better at school, but it is simply how they are raised whether it personal reasons or their country of origins beliefs... Asian people believe school is incredibly important so Asian students do better in school cuz they work harder. But such things as an IQ is not based on race . IQ is intelligence and race does not define intelligence the only thing race /skin color defines is how much melanin your ancestors needed based on where they lived and possibly what languages you were taught as a child.That's it. And also because prejudice is stupid.Funny, while people claim the ethicality lies in the fact that 'God created us all equal' you can't say the same for animals.Ethicality doesn't justify anything, because everyone has different ethics. I believe in logical reasoning, not some book that, while Funny, the American Civil War was fought by two different sides, both claiming to be in service of Go- F$$$ that! Nobody really knows what god wants because it's always what THEY WANT. Any idiot can claim to know the will of God, and people will do as they say because their favourite fairytale character apparently said so.Point is, religion makes people stupid. And without religion, a weapon used to easily justify any drastic actions one took, racism might've been resolved far earlier than it has in our reality.You think Martin Luther King believed in God? No. He just used it as an easy justification for his actions, because the average citizen was too stupid to understand why racism is stupid.See, people will ignore logic as long as it's not what they want to believe, but 'God's opinion'? Ah, now that's something everyone at the time was willing to listen to. Martin Luther King was too smart a man to really believe in that stuff.TO SHORTEN IT DOWN: RACISM IS ILLOGICAL, and it's basically killing innocent people for something when there's nothing wrong with them, simply because their ancestors were born in a different country. Now that is some Class A stupidity.(Or basically, it's not justified and therefore is quite, ' immoral ' - but see, that word was invented because the average person at the time was too stupid to understand reasoning like that. You are the color you are, you are the gender you are these are facts. Pink and blue are diffrent, people look diffrent this is fact but this dusn't make them diffrent. You may have been born in china or mexico but we are all brothers and sister on this earth. We need a label to be identified, thay don't hold us back i have never thoght how being amirican changes me because it dusn't what you here and see changes you.	Gender	Gender - General	1/82	1.22
Your body IS you. And if it isn't, what is you? Is it your hart or brain? Because those are a part of your body. And if it is your soul so can you point me to it without pointing to your body? Also, you can choose a car but nobody can choose a body and you are stuck with it for the rest of your life, and I don't understand why you are complaining about it because we all are stuck with it for the rest of our lives, than isn't our body a part, if not is, us. Also if you are black that doesn't mean you are just a color and never will or never have been anything else. It just means that your skin color is significantly darker than of an average Europeans or north Asians skin which is white for the same reasons. Think of it this way ... a Siamese cat is the same as another Siamese cat BUT they aren't the same. Every animal in the world (including us) every life is different than it's own kind. A Siamese may look like another but if you pay enough attention you can find not one, not two, but thousands of a one single hair miss placed from it's 'twin'. A black man is not the same from another black man because there are more than one thing that can separate them. A pair of twins have the same back-round, raised the same ... same everything while growing up BUT that doesn't mean they see the world the same way that doesn't mean the other is just as smart as the sibling. There are so many ways you can go about this problem (yes, it is very much a problem). Labels (like Ea said) are just words ... a label that we believe in at school/work/other. When I first began dating my bf ... I was judged because of our race differences 'whites' vs 'natives' his friends didn't like me because I was a white girl and they were all native but I pushed passed the labels and the bullies because the words they said were fake and what I have with my bf is real. Don't let labels control you, you could lose more than just your self confidence."Your self-worth is souly bases on your ability to judge your-self." Negitive or positive? It's your choice. -Giggles (me lol)	Black, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	3/257	1.167

racism is when some person says derogatory explanations based upon their race . i am not a fan of fighting and arguing, but here is onething i realised about this topic. im not going to subject white/ black /Asian/Indian or any other race because in society, we mustteach everyone that we are all apart of one thing, and that's humans. we are all humans and im proud of it. skin colour doesnt meanthat im what society tells you. the message here is that no matter what race you are. even if your albino or have any other skin disorders. you are human and im not going to waste my time into saying, ohh white people this black people that. because i am not a label. i am human that has the most complex organ in the entire universe and its all inside my skull. i am human that can stand in two feet. i am human and i can keep saying this over and over. never listen to what society tells you. nobody can question about you. YOU MY FRIEND ARE NOT A LABEL! , embrace your humanity. say sorry to those you hurt, weather its accidental or on purpose. because one day you can die and in the afterlife, with whatever religion you believe in. theres no going back for yourmistakes you caused on earth. Angel Mayer Oh no, I completely agree that we are all equal in terms of the way we should be treated under universal law. But I do think different groups have different characteristics, such as black people are taller than Asians on average, are better marathon runners than all other races etc. Similarly, East Asians and whites score highest on IQ tests and blacks average around 20 points fewer than whites East Asians. Honestly, I feel that white people (and some other groups) won't truly understand racism until you spent considerably large amount of time with a minority. There are so many things that I never thought of and never understood before I met my gf and she opened my eyes to them. This might sound kind of odd but I think a good way to break racism down is by having "spend a day with a minority" day. So that people can see first hand the difference between how they are treated and have a minority is treated. I think a lot of people just don't understand the severity of this issue and a lot of people say "it's 2019. Racism is dead. There's no more lynchings or rallies. And the police shooting are all just a coincidence." These people won't understand if you tell them or yell at them. We need to show them first hand	Racism	Ethnicity - General	3/155	1.935

Look, here is my input, you are black and I'm white, and the point is, this IS NOT something that matters. Denying reality is senseless, I mean, when I look at you I see a skin color, that in our language, is called black skin, the only message that you must pass on is, physical appearance doesn't make one less human than another, we are the same species, therefore, we are in the same boat, sharing the same planet and the same destiny. It would be the same as saying that a ginger isn't a ginger, or a hispanic isn't a hispanic, it wouldn't make any sense, denying reality isn't a solution! In some years Those labels won't exist anymore. Because every year we mix more and more. Those labels are only working because there are more people of "pure" races than of mixed raced. But the new generations will be unable to be labeled. I already have 4 different "races" in me. My child will have 8 different "races", so on so on. Now how do you label someone that has no spesific race , but 16 different. People ask me to which race I feel the most connected, only to be be able to label me. But the true is: to none. No. Simple: You are called black because your skin is literally black , dark brown, whatever. A white man's skin is literally a light colour. It is not a label. It is simply calling a certain thing, that thing. And yes, there are differences. While we, the white people invented the steam engine, the telegraph, morse code, radio, flying, planes, the blacks or native americans or southern americans lived in dirt huts barely discovering basic civilization. Stop shitting yourselves thinking of this western order bound to turn you into sheep, called equality! Some deserve morals for what they have done, while others are still to prove themselves. I think every race should be friends with one another, but clearly, one is superior to another, no doubt, and that doesn't mean the inferior one must be dealt with... no! This is just the way life works. Things differ! Think!	Black, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	3/147	2.041

The concept of this is beautiful but there are too many of us dismissing real racial problems and systemic problems with this 'we're all human' mindset. Labels are not inherently bad, they serve a communicative purpose. What matters is how these labels interact with one another. This concept alone of 'all human' will not get rid of racism , it is beautiful but this alone without action will do nothing . It is OK to want to identify with labels. We label everything, not just humans, for communicative purposes like I said. And this undermines a lot of problems, gaslighting them as 'not existing' because 'we are all human'. It's an easy way out.. we need to recognize differences and tensions and oppressions within these divisions first before we can transcend them. Wow this is actually retarded! Black and white are not made up terms lol they are terms that categorize real distinctions in people. My kinky hair and black skin and full lips is quite different from the thin lips white skins and different hair types of Europeans. Everything that goes into making an Irishman, their culture and phenotype is from their history and land. Everything from how the sun shines on them to what they eat in Ireland go to contribute to making an Irishman as well as their unique history from fighting Anglos and declaring independence and such. They have the right to take pride in that history and their culture as much as anyone. It's not just a label it's real. The Irish are different from The Yoruba just like the Russ are different from the Turks. You're just advocating for ethnic minimalism which in reality just leads to people with no identity and multiethnic mongrels who wouldn't know how to identify if they wanted to. Your argument is that since apple and oranges are both fruit they are the same. You're just applying a more generic classification (human race) to a more specific one (Irish) and saying that everyone is the same but that's simply not true. This made me ThinkI draw colorful Stars on my students papers, My student in Kindergarten can get a star for just writing their first and last name, another for the work that They Do, and not every time they finish a page, but for the work tThat They Do. I started with every bright color in the rainbow , talking about the beautiful things with each... the sun is yellow, the grass is green...And it wasn't until I got to brown stars , Did I realize how some colors are stigmatized by 5 year olds, from what they only know was around them. Brown was then for them beautiful, only because I told them So. About the Trees that Give Us Air and the Good Earth That grows our food, and the Chocolate within my Children's Eyes, and how I love Chocolate. But before this , I'm sad to sayBrown wasn't known to them , to be as cool as it should of been.So I Then Gave Out Black Stars. And my children's heads turned in the remarkably of that. 'Black is Beautiful ' I said.'It is the color of the Night that Hold the Moon and the Twinkling Of Lights. That we all have A Center of Black to See from our EyesAnd I Will Do White Stars Tomorrow,This is my quest against white and black dolls of the Clark StudyAnd soon I will focus on just Happy Faces in all the colors Again . Because Stars can be a negative in it's own. As an Educator Of Continued Thought,I reflect that this is Which can only be reflected as how we grow,This takes Growing. With our Children , Families and Society. And Must Be Allowed To Evolving EveryWhere for Everyone. That All Colors To which Our Children Apply Cultural Thought, Are Equally Beautiful and Sought As Good..	Black, Yellow	Ethnicity - Asian (East-China, Japan, Korea, Philippines, Vietnam), Ethnicity - Black, Nationality - Chinese, Nationality - Japanese	6/319	1.881

Actually, while we are all equal and rightfully so, there are genetic factors and traits that determine our appearance. These are divided in classifications of race . Look at the facial structure of five people of African descent and compare it to 5 people of Caucasian descent. You'll notice similarities between the 5 but when comparing all ten, the differences appearances begin to polarize. Also, as an anthropologist howthey determine someone's race . The figure it out via the structure of the skull. Like I said, as humans WE ARE ALL EQUAL but we can't ignore genetic differences between the races. People call you black because of the colour of your skin. It's how you bring yourself and how you present yourself to the world is what makes the difference. The world isn't in easy mode. But once people start being raciest towards you then they live in a world that they think is easier for them. Let them feel the hard truth, become better than them and show them what it is to be the Apex of human evolution. An once you're at the top... KEEP GOING UP . Don't let lable's define you. black and white is an american concept. Outside the US people refer to themselves as where they come from. As an european I don't see you as black and white. To me you are just americans. Of course there is also racism in Europe but it's not a big thing as in america.Also when are you considered black ? When I think about black people I think about australaian aboriginals. Most of the players started laughing not including me but including Fiqrie. We are still in primary school so our perception of racism is very different from adults which means that for example, we are in art class and someone says "just gotta get some black on here" and another person shouts "ooo! Gracie Renee no you didn't write something about the topic. You didn't try to start a discussion or even talk about your opinion. Next time just say something like: "Please help in the fight against racism . EVERYBODY MATTERS" But you just wrote your comment to get useless responses and that's annoying	Racism	Ethnicity - General	1/51	1.961

Sure, I am not racist . In fact, I am Asian myself. But you can't use this video just to get attention, I would like to say really mean things to you, as some random person scrolling down the comments sees this, and your basically forcing them to reply. You are a idiot who just wants attention, and you will use anything to grab on to it. Idiot.	Racist	Ethnicity - General	1/67	1.493

bruh. CALLING SOMEBODY BLACK ISN'T BAD UNLESS THEM BEING BLACK MAKES YOU NOT WANT TO TALK TO THEM OR SKMETHING REEEE. Black people have darker skin. Now some people are like this but honestly you are saying that if I say somebody is black I am a bad person. When I say something like that I could literal be just saying that they have darker skin. And this is your opinion it's not a fact. Just like this comment.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	4/79	5.063
Penguin I never said he wasn't. I think he is trying to spread a good message, but saying things like you are not black or white is kinda of a bad way to present it. I am not gonna hate on you because it is your opinion. Hope you have a good day! :D	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/54	1.852

The black skin is part of our heritage and has to be protected from insults. More importantly to be concerned about is our personality (improvement of it), but what about these people that do not see it for what it is and choose instead to collectively connect inferiority to one particular race ?? It hurts bro and causes emotional pain	Black, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	2/59	3.39

Nichole Mathis believe at the end of everything we will all be judged on what we did in our lifetime. for the goodness we do we will receive a reward and for all the bad things we do we will be punished for. At the end of the day you are only in control of your own actions. We are all humans and humans make mistakes it's how we redeem ourselves. Dont worry. A killer will be punished for what he has done. A rapist will also be punished for what he has done. A cheater too. On the other hand people who do good on this earth will also be rewarded. Nothing will go unaccounted for. Before I was taught that dark-skinned people are called ' black ' and light-skinned are called 'white' I thought a white man is a man dressed in a white clothes and a black man is a man dressed in black clothes, I was so confused when dad said Hitler only wanted white men to live in freedome (as a bad thing ofc! My dad is against him, but I find that an obvious thing) and I remember thinking, (as a six year old maybe or less) 'well why don't just every man dress in white then?' hahah. I've actually always struggled with this. I was born in the U.S, making me american. It's that simple. I never believed in race , and I never know what to check when i have to check those stupid boxes asking my race . but when people see me they always want to know my ancestry, asking me if i'm italian, mexican, "white", french, puerto rican, whatever. Everyone sees me differently based on what they think the label of that race should look like. And it really confuses me because i dont classify with any race .I literally don't know my own " race ". I'm just me, a human. We are all "mixed", and we are all just part of the human race , but when I tell people that they look at me like if I am some crazy , sensitive hippy. Ethnicity is real, somewhat. Like if you are born in Europe, you are european, if you were born in america,you are american. If you wree born in and grew up in france, you are frnech. Geography doesn't have to label you in a spot based on the way you look, or act, and you skin color doesn't put you in a race category. That's just what they want you to thinkI wish people were never conditioned to believe in race , and I wish everyone could think for themselves and realize that race doesn't exist. And now i'm ranting. Again.Anyway, thank you. The video really spoke to me.	Crazy, Ethnicity, Race	Ethnicity - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	11/245	4.49
USERNAME NOT FOUND lol same here when i went to summer camp they made me fill out a form and it asked my ethnicity /race and i told them i didn't want to answer because i just wanted to say i was human and then i was told to just pick one so i did. I was 9 years old and we had to fill out the form every year so i eventually said no and i said i wouldn't pick one and then i missed out on a bunch of activities. Looking back i realize why they did it though, it was to measure how many kids were enjoying the camp and if some where singled out because of ethnicity but still its ridiculous that i missed an activity over something like that. I do understand the moral, but honestly not calling people for their skin colour is impossible. (I do not mean racism). It is tough for me to say this, but just imagine ; IF we would remove thinking about the skin colour of other people, sooner or later somebody would come up to collate people by it, as everyone does by someones hair colour, height, sex etc. It is not possible for such not unseen thing to remain undiscovered. However, I do not support racism , also in my personal opinion, it should not exist. White, black , yellow is just a word. As I have never been offended, I probably do not feel the possible pain, but I wish everyone could take some N-words etc as a joke, not a personal attack. The human race has a tendency to label everything and anything, it's like a need. Therefore, it's normal that we have these label. A black colour skinned person is black and a pale colour skinned person is what we call white. This video is inspirational and sends a good message but I think some people are missing the point. Being black or white or Asian or whatever race you are is not important when it comes to others, other people shouldn't be concerned or offended by another person's race the only person that should be concerned with your race or heritage is yourself. Racism (in my opinion) is huge a problem in this world and it needs to be stopped. This video should be shown in schools and this topic should be explained. Schools only touch on racism when someone has done something or said something racist and that's wrong we need to educate young people about racism more and we need to teach them ways to deal with it when you come across it whether they are receiving the racism or whether they simply hear or see something (when I say this I am talking about schools in my area I can't say this about other places). KoolerTyp21 this answer is long, I apologize: Will there be racism without labelling a race ? Subconscious identification of a group by whatever distinguishes them from the mass leads to naming such identification and once meanings are attached to such labels, a power conflict naturally occurs. Lest the world clicks into unision that equality is reality, then yes, racism wouldn't exist amidst labels. Yet here we are having racism because of race distinction. Sexism because of sex connotations. And a whole lot more of these discriminatory -isms.	Race, Racism, Sex, Sexism	Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	7/87	8.046

I get it what your trying to say, I appreciate you bro, but I honestly don't agree with your all your views. Maybe we will have to agree to disagree for peace sake Racism can be defined as 'prejudice, discrimination, or antagonism directed against someone of a different race based on the belief that one's own race is superior', I agree is present in this society. * I personally believe, in my own opinion* a mindset change, and real love will change this, but not appreciating individual differences will not solve this issue. I understand what you were saying about race not really 'existing', which I believe is true, but I do believe as a women of colour I was made this way on purpose, different from my whiter sisters, a bit darker in tone. Instead of people looking down on me because of it ' racism ' I would rather people celebrated my difference - that is important to me. We cannot deny that I am darker than others in this society, let's preach celebrating differences to eliminate racism , rather than classing everyone as the same - don't let God's creativity and our individuality go to waste. You made very good points in your video, I agree with you on being one, we can still be one in love, peace and unity with different shaded skin tones. If we are not 'skin deep' why don't we focus more on humility and love - in the heart. We are different tones, even if we (as many believe, I do too) originate from the same place, skin tone difference is not a bad thing, let's celebrate it, and ALSO focus more on the goodness in our hearts. Peace, Jesus loves you, and all those reading this. Thank you for sharing this.	Race, Racism	Ethnicity - General	5/299	1.672

I get that people don't want labels to define them, but to some degree we have labels for a reason. There are genetic, biological differences between black people and white people. The labels " black " and "white" are the terms that we use and there is nothing wrong with acknowledging the fact that we have genetic differences. Now, it would be amazing if race didn't have to play a part, but it does. We live in a society stemmed in racism and that has been racist for over 500 years now. You may not want to be defined as black , but these racist cops and white supremacist will still define you that way. Black people ask to not be judge and treated badly do to our skin color but no matter how much we ask and plea, you're still black , or you're still of color. I totally agree with your idea of that the inner soul should define a person and note ones outer appearance. But if I say that your skin is black , I don't want to offend you but simply state the circumstances that your body is black . If a black persons is offended by this statement (I don't know a single one who is), it simply shows that he him self is blended by certain stereotypes concerning black people. That means that he feels offended by these which basically makes him the racist by thinking all blacks are the same. People starting conflicts due to cultures are definitely in the wrong and this has to be stopped. But by simply eliminating all the Cultures of the different races would be a terrible thing to do. All the black people I know are proud of being black due to their tuff history and their culture. I also am proud being white and love my culture and yet I have duzen of black friends and we get along splendingly. At last to the point of you stating that there aren't any different human races. There definitely are, just as there are several different dog and ape races. We all belong to the same biological kind but to different races within this kind. (This is the biological definition of races). This does not mean that we are mentally different or have to be different in our soul, people who think this build up these barricades them selfs. But it doesn't matter because we are all human in the inside and there is nothing you can do to change it! So why spend your whole life worrying because there is a black or a white sitting or standing next to you! You will suffer and stay depressed your whole life if you think like that! God didn't make all of us, to bring each other down and to discriminate each other! But that's all we know! And some people may say that not liking one another is understandable but it's not! It's not understandable when you do this just because you don't like thinking that one person just may be better than you, and that's why you put a label on them!!! Ok it's a nice message, but as long as you don't judge someone by their race there is nothing wrong with having one, it's like being white doesn't define me but it still doesn't change the fact that I am white. people call people black or white because that is just what they are, because when you look at them that's what you see and if you're not a racist there is nothing wrong with that as long as you know that everyone is equal there is nothing wrong with saying this person is black or white when you are describing them or just in general, trying to be respectful, actually haven't finished The video yet but I just started writing and now I have written so much I can't be bothered to discard it and finish the video. Yes, you are right. Nobody should see colour as a "thing" and Jaguat car company are a fine example. They put 2 people with white skin and one person with black skin in their TV ad, today and the head of casting for the advertisement did not include the colour of her skin as a positive factor for possible inclusion in the ad. Not at all. They weren't trying to make a "statement". The dark-skinned woman was chosen due to her acting skills and/or beauty etc... obviously. Good on you, Jaguar. Black Auroras okay fam listen i didnt say that to get you fired up lmaoo but you know what, this is all about how you see it. Its how your mind works is how your gonna see this video. All of what you're saying is true. But, did he upload this video saying you dont have a skin color? His point here is that we are equal. He didnt say we dont have skin colors, he didnt say we dont have phenotypes or genotypes. You're kind of missing the point. The reason this video was to made to say that your perspective on someone shouldn't be altered because of their skin color. I legit don't wanna fight someone on a youtube comment section because I have a life but you aren't seeing it the way some of us do. Thats all im going to say.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/145	0.69
Quote "' Blind people understand race the same way as sighted people," said Osagie K. Obasogie, a professor of law at University of California Hastings College of Law who has researched how blind people think about race , but was not involved in Friedman's study.Just like sighted people, blind people can conflate the concept of human variation – differences in skin color and facial features – with the qualities of a person, Obasogie said.Unlike Friedman's study, however, Obasogie's research, which was published in the book "Blinded By Sight," suggests that people who were born blind do, in fact, think about a person's physical appearance, including skin color and facial features. They also make quick judgments based on the physical attributes they perceive people to have, he said.' Bulletproof Army The video literally says 'I'm not *insert phenotype' and 'my body is not apart of me' then you implied that I 'missed the message' by your poor attempt to explain away their delusional thinking ..as if I asked for your opinion. I showed you that only delusional, sick in the head people can live this fantasy world of 'no labels' claiming 'my body is not apart of who iam' and 'don't use labels to make judgement' is delusional concept even blind people can't practice in reality. Don't respond if you don't want 'my opinion'.	Blind	Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/96	1.042
Bulletproof Army Exactly that is the reason of having an own opinion. If you can't support it with facts or reasons it obviously is a wrong one. This video is right.... ethnicity is what our backgrounds are and why people are different, such as being immune to different things. Race is just an ideology of grouping people with similar colour skin together... I do not say I'm white, I say I'm Irish and English. Be proud of your roots, not the colour of your skin.... skin colour doesn't matter in who you are, but getting in touch with your ethnically background can. Stop categorising eachother into colours. I think this video is incredibly idealistic, and as much as it is powerful it is also subconsciously already conforming to these constructs... Why were there so much diversity in the video? Also, I think ethnic background should be celebrated. The only boundary I see in racism is where your pride causes you to mistreat others. If I support Miami Heat and you do not, I don't think there's an issue, however if you do not support the team and you tell me my team is crap.... There's an issue... with you, not me. Also bare in mind the race we are born into cannot be changed so why do dwell on it as something that can be? Be comfortable enough in your own skin not to need any justification of "I am not this" or "I am race neutral" or whatever other term. Just be you and be proud and be respectful and tolerant of others too. Love is universal, let it supersede everything.	Ethnic, Race, Racism	Ethnicity - General	4/165	2.424

How stupid is this? Ethno identity is history. Our genetic makeup is paramount to who we are. Race does matter ! It's positive! If it's used negatively then that's the fault of the individual . The " one" world is a construct of the globalist agenda!!!! We are not all the same and that's the beauty of the human race . I agree that it's who we are inside but our ancestry is as important as anything. Don't forget that! We are all humans and we are all different and that should be celebrated and not made irrelevant. We are many ethnicities among many nations so be proud of who you are and where you come from. I say this with no fake preacher tone like the dude voicing this vague message in some sort of desperation. It's not true. You are white or black or Asian or Hispanic or pigme or Martian and the traditions and beliefs of your people is part of you and can never be erased no matter what. So yes in part as far as the individual but no as to letting go of your heritage, it's a huge mistake. They sell this crap to middle school kids ! My daughter showed me this video. Our Heritage is a major factor into who we are, and you are very much right on that note. But this video is promoting equality between all races, its not trying to tear away a person's heritage. It might be hard to see the damage of racist comments on children and adults, I talking about lives.	Racist	Ethnicity - General	1/80	1.25
Laniify you tube needs to tell you that ? Nobody ever taught you common courtesy? To treat others kindly and fairly? boogie woogie really? Who are the some? I don't know one person like that. Your childish grade school explanation is so Patronizing it's kinda scary. It's a courtesy and one I happen to practice to a fault but there is no law that says you must be kind or fair. Not one! So in a sense this stupid video is making shit up? So start with your none victim self and watch how unnecessary this video babble really is. It's garbage! Quaint maybe but ultimately a joke and a play on devaluing identity and ethnicity . You think all this mass migration in the EU and what is happening here in the US is a coincidence? It's a plan! We are Americans ! Period! The color of your skin is irrelevant! Get over it! Earn your place in the world! If it's a bit harder for the minority's then work 2x as hard! Nobody ever said life was fair. Nobody . EVER! I'ts not fair , not even close to fair nor will it ever be. I'd say race doesn't matter because we use it in such a negative way that it shouldn't even matter anymore.Our skin color doesn't creat us,our personality creates us.Where we're from creates culture.I do agree that we are all not the same though but just because our race is the same doesn't mean we are the same.I rest my case.	Race	Ethnicity - General	2/59	3.39
I get your viewpoint, but ethnicity and personality/traditions are different. What he's saying is that we are all human. There shouldn't be a diversity not to forget where we come from. Yes he says we are not black or white (or Asian, Indian , Hispanic, etc) but that's not exactly what he's talking about. He just doesn't want us to think that because I'm spanish it makes me better then anyone or worse. It's a person not a race . For example, I am biracial. I am Hispanic and White. A Spanish-American. But, I can watch anime. I can worship Allah. I can celebrate Day Of The Dead, or even Hanukkah. It doesn't matter my race , I can do what I want. Why? Because I'm still human just like you. Darren Diaz Darren Diaz . it's highly hypocritical of u to call my opinion childish because urs is so messy and poorly delivered.First of all, U dont know any people who discriminate because of someone's race, but that doesn't mean that there's nobody in the world who doesn't do so. Ur 1 out of 8 billion, lol, so for u to use 'I don't know one person like that,' as ur backup is so despicable, it's crazy how uneducated u are.And i never said that it's a law that u must treat others kindly. Even so, that doesn't make it ok to be cruel towards others, but it's more than just treating others kindly, u idiot. There's things like police brutality that could get people killed. Second of all, for u to assume that I've never been a victim because of my color is so inconsiderate of u. U dont know who u am, so stop assuming. Even if i wasn't a victim, i know people who are, and i'd still have a right to stand with them because i want to help make a change. Third of all, this video isnt devaluing inentity and ethnicity, although it may seem so because he's saying 'i am not black, u are not white.' He's only trying to prove that there's more to a person than the way they were raised, or the way they look, or the religion they believe in, or the gender they appeal to, so why would someone conclude their opinions based on their initial thoughts? He isnt saying that race and background doesnt matter but to get to know someone and value the complexity of their personality instead of basing then off of the history of their ancestors or the ignorance of others.I would've, and DID, respect ur opinion, especially considering the way i first replied, until u had to drag in the name calling, so here we are. U shouldnt degrade someone if u think their opinion is invalid because that's urs and it's theirs. So much for practicing curtesy.	Black, Crazy, Ethnicity, Gender, Nobody, Race	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Gender - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	7/348	2.011

Um... "Human'" IS a label too. It's just one that folks find more palatable or digestible.Folks be like, "We are not 'labels,' we are 'human.' So if your argument is labels being the problem, how does replacing one label with another label help your point?Labels are not bad, it is our misconceptions, biases, preconceived notions, or corrupted use of certain labels that are the issue. Labels are a necessary means for communications, human relationships, cultural identity, race consciousness, education, and so much more.I could elaborate further, but I digress right now. His intentions are well, though this only further perpetuates the race problem by turning a blind eye to how race /color just like height, weight, etc. contributes to our different societal experiences. If you can't acknowledge something for what it is, you can't properly address its roots to tackle the problem, it's nuances, and the real effect it has only people. I get your message and I think it's a great one but I think if we dismissed ethnicity and race we break many other things like culture. I think that yes, ethnicity and races will come with stereotypes but there's also a system in a way. It's kind of like instead of having 7 days a week we have 1 day a week, instead of having many races and cultures and backgrounds we have 1 entire blob of...well what I'm trying to say is that without races we break a huge system in humanity. ”There was something horrifying in the realization that, in this twenty-first century of what we call ‘civilization,’ we have carved up what we claim is one world into 200 artificially created entities we call ‘nations’ and armed to apprehend or kill anyone who crosses a boundary.”Is not nationalism – that devotion to a flag, an anthem, a boundary so fierce it engenders mass murder – one of the great evils of our time, along with racism , along with religious hatred? These ways of thinking – cultivated, nurtured, indoctrinated from childhood on – have been useful to those in power, and deadly for those out of power.”...Surely, we must renounce nationalism and all its symbols: its flags, its pledges of allegiance, its anthems, its insistence in song that God must single out America to be blessed.”...We need to assert our allegiance to the human race , and not to any one nation .”Howard Zinn, U.S. historian, 2005<3	Nation, Nationalism, Race, Racism	Ethnicity - General, Nationality - General	5/159	3.145

You are black. I am white. These are two colours describing the likes of which the tone of our pigment is. People just need to accept that people hate each-other, that doesn't mean it's right, but it's true. It seems that equality has gone to far. I saw a black man on the street spray painting "BLACK PRIDE" then a white man came up and said "What are you doing? How is that fair? How come you can spray 'black pride' but we're arrested at the mention of white pride?" and the black man punched him in the face saying "Racist fuck." That is how fucked up our modern society is, but suck it up and deal with it. People WILL call me racist by this comment, and if racism is the truth then fair be it. But know that some people think that they are the gods of the world. I get that black people were around first and I respect that. Like aboriginals for example, Most of them are horrible fucks who drink, stink and are always on drugs. Those, however, are not real aboriginals. The one's who truly inhabited Australia before us white people are wise, kind, incredible. If magic is real, they would be the one's who have it. They perform miracles. Most of the real aboriginals are dead (Rest their souls), but some aren't. Some of them deserve respect, most deserve jail time. That's the same with African-Americans, except there are more who actually deserve respect from us. If you want to hate, hate. But know your goals of bullying will fail because, as a white 12 year old kid, this is my opinion and I stand by it.	Black, Old, Racism, Racist	Age - Over 65s, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	9/284	3.169

George Stinney Jr of African descent was the youngest person to be sentenced to death in the 20th century in the United States.He was only 14 years old when he was executed in an electric chair.During his trial, even on the day of his execution, he always carried a bible in his hands, claiming to be innocent.He was accused of killing two white girls, 11-Year- old Betty, and Mary of 7, the bodies were found near the house where the teenager resided with his parents.At that time, all members of the jury were white. The trial lasted only 2 hours, and the sentence was dictated 10 minutes later.The Boy's parents were threatened, and prevented from being present in the courtroom, and subsequently expelled from that city.Before the execution, George spent 81 days in prison without being able to see his parents.He was held in solitary, 80 miles from his city. He was heard alone without the presence of his parents or a lawyer.He was electrocuted with 5,380 volts in his head, imagine all that voltage in a teenager's head.70 years later, his innocence was finally proven by a judge in South Carolina. The boy was innocent, someone set it up to blame him for being black .May his innocent soul rest in peace.	African, Black, Old	Age - Over 65s, Ethnicity - Black	3/221	1.357

Black people is a term used in certain countries, often in socially based systems of racial classification or of ethnicity , to describe persons who are perceived to be dark-skinned compared to other populations. As such, the meaning of the expression varies widely both between and within societies, and depends significantly on context. For many other individuals, communities and countries, " black " is also perceived as a derogatory, outdated, reductive or otherwise unrepresentative label, and as a result is neither used nor defined.[1]Different societies apply differing criteria regarding who is classified as " black ", and these social constructs have also changed over time. In a number of countries, societal variables affect classification as much as skin color, and the social criteria for "blackness" vary. In the United Kingdom, " black " was historically equivalent with "person of color", a general term for non-European peoples. In South Africa and Latin America, mixed-race people are generally not classified as " black ". In other regions such as Australasia, settlers applied the term " black " or it was used by local populations with different histories and ancestral backgrounds. I think there is a big difference between black and German. Still, knowing the gender and color of a person you are supposed to meet seems more reasonable to just guess. Some people call this racist but to me its just normal observation and literally stating a fact. I mean sure, black isn't actually black , more like dark brownish or something, but so is white not being fully white in the literal sense. But these are observation words we are familiar with that doesn't really disrespect or insult someone if you are just stating how they look like. First you said he was an idiot...we can throw that straight out the window because I doubt an idiot could build a 3.5 billion dollar business... your second point was that Trump is racist ... before Trump's announcement that he would run no one was calling him racist . In fact many prominent blacks love him...(Alveda king, Jim Brown, Darrell Scott...just to name a few)Rappers praised him in there lyrics and hung out with him. He fought for the rights of black to play in mar-a-logo. Trump was praised by Jesse Jackson for a lifetime of service to African Americans... He was actually awarded for hiring so many minorities. Those are just some of Trump's credentials for not being racist . Trump just had a speech at the young black Leadership Summit, check it out. The truth is humanity diverged, biologically, and races naturally developed due to isolation from other groups, for the most part, even though we're all classified as 'Homo sapiens sapiens'. Races exist. It's not about 'social value', it's about recognizing diversity. Humans diverged into regionally distinctive morphologically distinctive historically indigenous lineages. Race was never 'made up' as you state, race just is. Social valuations were based on abilities to control and social values. And, race was a convenient reference. But, race just is, regardless.Dude, are you a majority? Where are you a majority? Are you a minority? Where are you a minority?Are you human? We're all human. And, we all come from different human races which are distinctive from each other. Appreciate diversity,... even on the ethno-racial-grouping level.	Race	Ethnicity - General	4/129	3.101

Someone : most people aren't actually black . They are brown. I've literally never seen black person. This is black and I've never seen anyone with black skin lol. Even so, that's not the point of the video. You treat people like people regardless on their skin. When you address people by their skin color most people automatically judge them based off the stereotypes that come with that, and not by who they are. :)	Black	Ethnicity - Black	4/75	5.333
May not be a hate comment but it's definitely an uneducated one. First of all you literally (and by literally I actually mean LITERALLY literally) are not the color white and I literally am not the color black . Secondly, even if the color of our skin was literally black or white that wouldn't make US black or white. When Michael Jackson's skin went from as dark as mine to as light as yours he wasn't considered white. White and black aren't colors when it comes to people. They are grouping mechanism used to put certain people in certain groups. The fact that you think you are white means you subscribe to the group think of everyone else that thinks they are white, at least in some small form. This thinking unites you. And that in itself isn't bad. The problem is this creates outsiders. People that are assumed to be not of the same group and are by nature considered a threat. It's simply a defense mechanism humans and other animals have developed for safety. We are naturally dubious and skeptical and even fearful of things we don't know or are unfamiliar with. Again this isn't bad. But when artificial and unnecessary labels drive the division that brings about these fears there is a problem. I hate that the first thing people think of when they see me is that I'm black . I'm proud of my dark skin and I'm also proud of my tall stature. But I don't think either of those things define me. You won't know anymore about me knowing that I'm black than you would from knowing that I'm tall.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	6/275	2.182

Black Bach Beats yes I completely agree what what you're saying. I didn't really go into detail in my original comment (however I have slightly mentioned it in other replies) but here's my perspective on things:If I see someone honestly skin colour is not the first thing on my mind, however it's more like how when you meet someone new and you subconsciously notice their hair colour. Or their eye colour. I never judge people on skin colour or any other details I judge people after I've met them and spoke to them.Now when I call myself white, it's because that's my skin colour (like you said not literally white but it's the name of the skin colour and I didn't choose the name of skin colours so I'm going to stick with calling it white). I don't personally group people together because of skin colour. I don't call myself white because I want to be united with white people I call myself white because I'm white. I want all people to be united no matter what the skin colour. I call myself white like I call myself brunette. I call myself white like I say I've got green eyes.I do see where you're coming from and what you are saying, and some people do think the way you describe. However I don't, and personally that comment felt like a personal attack against me.I agree that racism should end and I don't get why people are racist , however I don't think 'stopping the labels' will serve any purpose. I think just teach people to treat skin colour like hair colour or eye colour is the right way to go.Edit:Also this video is pretty much bringing personality into skin colour. And i think that personality and skin colour should stay away from eachother and not even be associated with each other because personality does NOT equal skin colour.	Black, Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	3/323	0.929
If it sounded like an attack forgive me. But we both live in a society (assuming you live in America as well) that does not only label but also defines a person by their skin color. People who are considered black have a much higher likelihood of going to prison or not getting a job or being accepted into a neighborhood. We can both agree that this is not an opinion. It's not because these people's skin is black that this happens. It's because of the preconceived ideas that people have about people with particular skin colors, on both sides. What this video is saying is that this shouldn't be a thing. Look and see the those stats as they pertain to brunettes. You won't see the same correlation.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/131	1.527
Black Bach Beats ok yeh I understand what you're saying. And I live in England where there is hardly as much racism , however I know a lot about the racism in America. Someone : Labels are literally a form of categorization dude. And there's no way to get rid of stereotypes without getting rid of this categorization. When people categorize individuals into separate groups, they will notice tendencies in those groups which would lead to stereotypes... I agree with what you are saying about the green eye brown eye kind of thing but that is not what is going on with the terms of black and white to describe people. The world doesn't call a person with green eyes a green eyed man, they would say "oh, he has green eyes" or "the guy with green eyes". On the other hand, the world LABELS you a black or white man based on your skin. "You are a black man" not "the man with black skin". That is the difference... Better wording would be to get rid of labels but obviously you cannot ignore features. Your skin color is still your skin color. And that was the point of this video that you did not grasp. i agree. there isn't a thing called race , we are all human, part of one humanity, just labelled with a stupid tag we didn't ask for. society is crap. there is infinite reasons why society is bs that could go on and on, and i don't think we should be judged just by what we didn't ask for. we think we are in a utopia, but we are actually in a dystopia, is now, and always was. we need to actually understand what we actually truly are. i love this tbh. it's so true, and put in a way we understand. i likeu	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/104	0.962

I love love love all of your videos but I'm afraid I'm going th have to disagree with this one. I feel our ethnicity is our identity and it's not right to say it's just a label and not apart of you. We are born the way we are and should be proud of it. I believe we should love each other for who we are, ethnicity /race and all. We, humanity, are one species yet we come in an amazing variety of color, shape, and sizes that should not be forgotten or ignored. Children aren't born racist yet we shouldn't call that 'colorblind' because like it or not your black and I'm Hispanic and that guy over there is white and that's fine, it's not wrong to call ourselves that because it's who we are. If there was a better way instead of using the internet to spread positivity and awareness, he would use that. He's just trying to get the point of not using the internet for useless things, like posting pictures on pictures of your figure in the mirror, and then go around calling yourself an influencer. Idiot.Jesus was never black, or Middle Eastern looking. On the 6th day of the creation account, Genesis 1:25-27 and Elohim 'created' Adam, man, mankind, both black male beast and female behemah simultaneously and placed them both in the garden together, and the races. And Elohim 'created' the beast (and behemah) of the field after his kind. After the 7th day Sabbath, JESUS The Father's day of rest, In the words of the Epistle of Barnabas, JESUS The Father declares that "after I have set everything at rest, I will create the beginning of an 8th day, which is the beginning of another world" (15.8). Genesis 2:7-22 JESUS The Father 'formed' Adam [the man], human, humankind, from the dust of the ground and He blew into [his] nostrils the Breath of Life and Adam [the man] became a living soul, for whom a paradise and home and food were provided" and [he] not the black beast and behemah, was placed in the garden of Eden alone by himself. Adam [the man] told JESUS The Father that [he] was lonely. JESUS The Father would not pick a single female from any of the blacks/negros or the other races from Gen 1:25-27. This shows us JESUS The Father had no intention of any mixing of the seedlines/races/nations. JESUS The Father wanted segregation or He would have condoned it. He forbade it. It is clearly evident, then, that Adam [the man] was not the progenitor of all of the races but rather ONLY the progenitor of the white race – the Adamic race. JESUS The Father put Adam [the man] into a deep sleep and took a rib thereof and He 'formed' [woman]. Then He took the [woman] and placed [her] in the garden with Adam [the man] and [he] named her [Eve]. The apostle Paul confirms there were two creation accounts in the book of Genesis. "But indeed, O man, who are you to reply against God? Will the thing 'CREATED' say to him who 'CREATED' it, 'Why have you made me like this?' Does not the POTTER have power over the clay, from the same lump to make ONE VESSEL FOR HONOR and ANOTHER FOR DISHONOR? What if GOD wanting to show His wrath and to make His power known, enduring with much long-suffering the vessels of wrath prepared for destruction, and that He might make known the riches of His glory on the vessels of mercy [Adamic man]. Different races have clear-cut differing destinies in Scripture, and are stated to be the offspring from certain progenitors, who are not either Adam [the man] or [Noah] in a universal sense – in other words those from the creation recorded in Genesis 1:25-27. Also, the popular Church belief is the doctrine of 'The brotherhood of man' which is based upon the surmise that all men are created equal and all men of every kind are made in the image of JESUS The Father. JESUS The Father did not want [the Adamic seed/line mixed with pre-Adamic mans seedline through Miscegenation. White Adamic [the man] with pre-Adamic/black/negro behemah of the field was the first Divine Law. Pre-Adamic blacks/negros cannot be Hebrew Israelites. White Adamic [the man] has a living soul. Pre-Adamites are not promised redemption, salvation, or eternal life. You read that Watchman? Galatians 3:1-29 was written 'then' to the white [Adamic] race. Jews & 'Gentiles' doesn't mean the false doctrine of man for today. A true Israelite is the white [man] who accepts GOD The Father, and is under His Law. Ioakim Antonis I'm white and.... black lives matter is talking about police brutality and you need to accept the fact that police officers wilding sometimes and they really do look at black people differently. I'm adopted. My dad is black and my mom is white. I was in the car with my dad. A police officer pulled him over and asked him multiple questions and both of us had to get out the car handcuffed him and accused him of speeding and his Tai light was off. Now if this was my mom this woudnt have happened. I was with my mom, and she saw a campaign poster with her last name on it. She took it off and explained to the cop why she did that and told her the exact reason. That's wild that he was understanding. There is always a divide with police brutality. I don't understand why you are claiming that white people have to deal with these things. Ofc there are times when that happens but it's rare. I don't know why you would want pitty for yourself like. I'm chillin ion want police all over me and they shouldn't be.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	3/196	1.531
Ioakim Antonis there is bias and that needs to be solveD. But don't say that white people deal with police brutality like black oeople do its such a lie. Ioakim Antonis i rly want you to understand that I know I have orivelage. And you also know that black people, have been through things in the past that still affect them today in ways that us white people will not see. Ok I understand that someone stopped you for having drugs but a white women chocking in Harvard is approached by two black doctors who came to help her and was hit with the ladies friend. When the police came they took the black men to jail. When they asked what happened the person said ur not a doctor n* stayed in jail for 6 days. Oh I know how black person is beat going into their own house becsue how dare somebody black live in a nice home. So if you are a white women who only dates white men or if you are an Asian women who only date Asian men or if you are a race that dates your own race and choose not to date outside your race , non of that shit wouldn't matter any more because in the end times of this earth, we will be trying to survive not trying to worry about what race we don't want to date or interact with. When it comes to humanity in a whole race and skin color does not exist. It is also sad that most humans of the earth don't care about what I am talking about. It is sad that most humans don't want to here the truth they just want to be stuck in their ways date their own people instead of dating other kinds of people its sad that we as human beings don't realize that we are all we got No matter what skin color or nationality or race sexism we come from. If we all recognize that we are all human and that race isn't real, there won't be racism because there won't be any race . If we continue to keep the idea of race alive there will always be racism . No he does not mean the color of his skin is not black , he's saying HE is not black . His body might be but that doesn't define him	Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/28	7.143
Cermit he is saying a label/skin type doesn't mean that we are different, and that just because one is black or one Is white doesn't mean they are worse or better, it means we either have melanin or we dont. We should define a human being by their personality and even then we shouldn't label but feel a certain way about them like love, trust, or anger. U are being small minded, that doesn't mean you are, but that is a temporary action, and you should agree that people are the same based on personalities, and feelings not stereotypes or labels... But he's black and beautiful	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/5	20.0
Don't Look at My YouTube Banner I agree we shouldn't judge others by stereotypes or labels. Actually, I agree with everything you just said.My point was that we shouldn't deny our ethnicity to stop racist stereotypes. People should be proud of their race and accept their unique history and culture. Sure, we are all equal, but that doesn't mean we are the same.I personally just don't think a black man saying he isn't black and a white man saying he isn't white is gonna stop any prejudice stereotypes. Apart from that, it doesn't seem like it'll reach people. Sure, he doesn't literally mean that he's not black , he's just saying to remove that label. But not all will understand that.I believe we should avoid labeling ourselves and each other with racial stereotypes, but that doesn't mean we should say "I'm not black ". I'd rather him say something along the lines of "Yeah, I'm black , but that doesn't determine my personality or my actions. My skin tone doesn't mean anything about what I wear or how I wear it. Yeah, I'm black , and I'm proud to be black . But most importantly, I am me. And you might be white, brown, yellow , red , but overall you are you. Don't judge yourself based on your color, don't assume that limits you. Don't label anyone else based on it either, because behind their shade, they are themselves."That's just off the top of my head, but I'd definitely like a message like that. Scott B oh then what's my skin tone?It's wight.There's this thing called a race .That's like saying you can't call a cat a cat cuz it's a "lable"	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/27	3.704
Mlp Naynay You are wrong, first of all race is scientifically proven to be not real but rather a creation of our minds, all humans are human just like how all cats are cats. Unless you are albino you do not have white skin. There is no such thing as a truly black person, black man is a label, white man is a label, black cat is a label, white cat is a label. The only difference is that there actually are black and white cats, even so, they are both cats. There are brown humans, pale humans, tan humans, peach humans etc. there are no black humans and the humans that are white are albino. Color is a label, Human is not a label, Cat is not a label, race isn't real because we are all humans with different levels of melanin.	Black, Race, Tan	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Nationality - British	8/143	5.594
Scott B Actually,it is scientifically proven. Black people are different that wight people,asians,indians extc.We are all different.Asians have different dna that indians.For example,most Asians are smarter than wight people.Do I get offended by that?No I don't because it's a fact.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/39	2.564
Mlp Naynay your stupidity is actually amusing. Everyone has different dna, you have different dna then your parents, all white people have different dna from eachother, all black people have different dna, I am also labeled as white and I have different dna than you. Everyone has different dna but we are all humans. That is what we are. We are all human. Doesn't matter what color you are we are all human. Also intelligence is not genetic to Asians, anyone from any race can be smart. White people can be smarter than Asians, black people can be smarter than white people, etc. Also you clearly haven't done research because scientists have proven race to be a myth. The explanation is simple, we are all humans with different color skin. If black people were different than white people we wouldn't be able to have sex and reproduce with them. We are all the same species, we are all human. Also I am considered white by society but my skin color is dark tan . I am not white, I am dark tan . My friend is considered black by society but his skin color isn't black , he is light brown. My girlfriend is Asian, If she was a different species than me we would even be able to communicate. I have different dna than my brother and sister. Your skin color isn't white you are just of European descent. Race isn't real. We are all human. This shouldn't even be an argument. Also you it's supposed to be spelled white not wight.	Black, Race, Sex, Tan	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Gender - General, Nationality - British	11/260	4.231

I have been in a state of despair. There is sooo much hate in the world, even the media seem to promote it with the language they use. I don't want to be a racist , yet I was looking for a group to join because I felt my heritage was at risk. Some of them sounded quite reasonable, but then there's always that one who says something which I find unacceptable. I hated the way I was feeling, angry and scared. Hence the despair. there is massive differences in the way the brain is wired between races unfortunly. we share 90 percent the same traits but that last 10 percent is wired compleatly different between races and i know because im living with a partner that is from another race that is brown and she is totally different in the brain than me and i know nobody of my own race that think as backwards and alien as her no matter what level of intelligence. its as we are from different planets or aliens to each other trying to communicate a common language. i say if you go it will be bad for yourself and she respond if you dont like me don't be with me. i expected, she would think trough if she was doing the right thing before responding but instead she dont care and think later. that is a major different in race since if i was from her country, i would have said somthing compleatly different and kind of know what response to expect. i know what to really say but it was learning. i had to say if you go i can't help you and then she respond i dont ned your help but then ask me what she can do for me next turn. if she felt guilt for an action she would respond nice but if she felt as if i was insulting, she would just want to destroy the relationship. this behavior is not normal from where i am from. i have had a few dates before with same race and nobody in frustration have had this weird thinking going on. they had been upset but then would want to understand how to be frend again as they don't like to be in a conflict and feel as loosing if they have to leave as they are aware of what they have and what they can loose and what they want and dont have the feel guilty or blame partner for guilt mentality. if you believe there is no diffeence between races, try to have a verbal fight with another race and see if you can survive it without almost deadly outcome as verbal become physical at some point as the other person dont understand at all becasue he's brain works in a a compleatly different way. its as if your running windows and the other is running weirdo operating system and nothing is where it should be. the taskbar is inside the control panel and "my computer" is stored in a file loaded into a picture that loads the routines that drives the aplication manager and inside that is the c drive and when you load a file from it up comes the control panel and ask you if you what program you will run trough then you select the program and instead of the one you picked loads a totally different program that show alien symbols instead of the expected result. that is the brain of a different race. if you just get used to the cracy rules in the operating system of another race brain it wil produce most of the time the same results but not the same way as the information took a compleatly different path trough the brain before it reached destination.	Alien, Common, Nobody, Nothing, Race, Weird, Weirdo	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General, Nationality - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments, Social Class - Working class	15/552	2.717

Little did this German female know that what she said about me being 'small' in German was well understood to me because I study the German language in school. Just because I'm a different race from her (asian specifically) doesn't give me the ability to understand the German language in her thinking. Be careful of what you say towards others, especially in another language because you never know if they'll understand you. Don't judge by mere appearance. Don't assume that someone will not understand you simply because they don't look like you or they seem to speak a different language. This German female said in front of my face, 'EEE DAS FRAU IST SEHR KLEIN!' meaning 'OH THAT WOMAN IS VERY SMALL'. And I simply thanked her in German and she had a surprised look on her face as I walked into the elevator.	Race, Woman	Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	2/144	1.389

I was in an elevator with my mom and a women and her child then the elevator stopped and a African American male walked in and the women pulled her child closer to her me and my mom stood there in shock at the women and the child look up at the mom and said ' why did you do that' the man had head phones in so he did not know what happened next the women said to the child because of the man and pointed to him. I was about to say he is just a person just like you are you afraid to stand in an elevator with a man that has a different skin colour then you? What if I had blue skin would you be afraid and pull you child closer? No you wouldn't because you would be amazed that someone with blue skin walked though those doors. But I could not say that because the man pulled out his headphones and said 'yes I am black but that does not define me, just like how you are white that does not define you.' I looked over to my mom and she said 'you are the most awful person I seen ' she said to the women and then she said 'why' my mom the man and me all said 'you pulled your child closer like she was in danger' and my mom said I am sorry that I called you awful but it is true. "You didn't even answer my question. What race is inferior and how should they be treated differently?"The idea of races being "inferior" to one another in a generalized, objective way is absurd.Assuming that they are equal in any and all characteristics is also absurd.In regards to other forms of discrimination based on immutable characteristics,There are age restrictions on who is allowed to vote in every republic and democracy around the World, preventing children from voting. Countries do not engage in this sort of discrimination because they believe children are "inferior", just that people accept the differences between adults and children and willing to make policy decision that may exclude children from voting for the good of the nation .Just because I don't have concrete policy proposals on how difference groups of people should be treated in a multiracial country (like Brazil, South Africa, United States), doesn't mean those differences are not still there and that voters should (at the very least) be aware of those differences when making political decisions.You still haven't answered my question, WHY should people be treated equally if people are unequal?Thank you for your response. If I wasn't given a label I would be nothing , I would mean nothing , but because since I was given a label or chose a label, I drive myself to live up to my label, but without a label I would have no purpose in my existence and that's the last thing I would want because I wasn't born to be free or oppressed, I was born to be my label. No labels means no purpose and no purpose means there is no purpose for your or my existence, then what would we be.	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	2/128	1.562

Touching. But not entirely true. We war because of many reasons. This video does well to address the racial issues and suggest a solution. I applaud that.But not nationality . We around the world are born to a people that may very well transcend the color of our skin. A kingdom, a state, dynasty, country, etc.And to these nations the people come together. Banding together and offering their loyalty to that nation . Sacrafices, bloodshed and war. It is a bittersweet thing with the potential of both great good and great evil. Because we DO need to band together and separate ourselves from each other. We need to be individuals who can live and work together in groups. We are humans.The greatest peace in the world is not when we become one group.It is when we understand our human nature, accept our differences, and pursue selflessness when we can afford to. And when we can't, to try and make our selfishness benefit others than just ourselves.We are human. It is not entirely in our nature to be 'good' by default. But we have the potential to. It is impossible to not have a so called "label". Even if you were to say "I'm not black And you're not white, we are one" well your new label is "one". If you don't "label" things, then where would we be? I'd live in a house, but you may call it a giraffe for example. "Labelling" is there so we can communicate. This video is rather ignorant if that. If you didn't "label" a dog a dog then how would we know what we're talking about? Even saying "thing" is "Labelling". Simply put, this video is against language and is trying to be deep and meaningful but fails miserably.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/110	0.909
This video is a bunch of bs. A black person is black a white person is white whether you like it or not. Those are not "Labels" those are adjectives or facts. When i call someone black cause he is, i don't label him as a good person or a bad person. I just simply refer to his look and not his personality. This video shows that we are moving backwards instead of forward. People are more uptight now then they where even back in the 70s. Everybody is insecure about what they are and who they are. Just accept who you are instead of expecting to be spoken to in a certain way. I seem to have less problems with the color of your skin than you do. It's ok to "fight" for equal rights. Everybody should have the same rights and chances. But this video is not "fighting" it's whining. I grew up watching tv shows like "Fresh Prince", "The Cosby Show" or "Family Mappers" and i never thought about the fact that those people are black . I simply didn't care and i still don't care. Race is a societal construct, and the heart behind colorblindness is a good desire, but there is beauty in acknowledging a person's culture, less we assume they are exactly like our culture & not honor that part of their identity. Color blindness in America often assumes everyone has the same value, language & communication style, etc. as the majority white culture, instead of acknowledging the beauty in differences. To identity as Guatemalan is not mutually exclusive to loving, acknowledging & being aware of the Nigeria or African American sista across the room that might communicate differently than me (direct vs. Indirect communication, low context or high contract communication). When we don't acknowledge the differences we sometimes overlook people & miss opportunities to learn about how a person chooses to identify b going deeper. back in the day. i was full of hate because of gender, race, ethnicity, culture, traditions, and so many more things. i was bitter all the time. and i became so depressed. i would label an entire people based off of my bad experience with one person. anytime i saw a black person i would hate them for what one black did to me in the past. everytime i watched this i would ignore his words. ignore the truth. it took me many years to finally come to peace with my past mistakes and my past hate. i allowed toxic backwards old world primitive misguided confused people to pull me apart and hate the world. and hate anyone different from me. these poisonous people called me names and filled my mind up with hate and lots of judgement. i believed in hating every race that was different from mine because thats what they did to me. but now i see. i was wrong. peace love and harmony. is all that matters. one day we will have utopia. one day there will be no more wars. i realized now that we are all one we are all family. no matter how white we are no matter how black we are. these labels only divide us. we all come from adam and eve. we all originate from one africa. we need to be unified. to protect our future utopia that will become real one day. only if we stop the hate. and begin to love all our differences and treat everyone with respect equality and love. now when i see black lives matter and all these other toxic groups that define the meaning of hate and destroy our progress to utopia happiness. i see now that they are just misguided people. like i once was. one day when they are willing to open their minds. and be saved and realize that the past is the past and creating a healthy future for our kids and teaching them to love all not just someone that has black skin like them. but to love all people with any skin color. i know the world will become better. those that are spiritually awakened like us can help motivate them and teach them we are all one we are all africa. we are all related. we are all connected and mixed with so many things that create us us. sometimes those that are lost will die filled with hate but god will give them another opportunity whether its through reincarnation ect. we are all making our way to accepting all people no matter what. for some it takes longer than others but we will reach utopia soon.	Black, Ethnicity, Gender, Old, Race	Age - Over 65s, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	10/451	2.217

Labels limit our personal beliefs and prevent us from true personal growth. By believing in a single infinite being that comprises every aspect of our universe, and that everything, but everything is nothing more than a mere manifestation of this infinite being, in one form or another, we are easily able to transcend the labels others, as well as ourselves, have imposed upon us. Because we are able to believe that by speaking to the single infinite being, He can help us to arrive at any change we wish to initiate.Because our Creator is infinite and one throughout the entire universe, we can learn to faithfully serve our Creator by simply speaking in our own words sincerely and truthfully and expect for our Creator to guide us on the correct path and introduce us to His true and faithful servants, that can impart what they know and bring us closer to Him by teaching us to speak truthfully and sincerely and sharing all of our difficulties and challenges that we face on a day to day basis with Him.Labels can possibly create enormous obstacles in the lives of those that are labeled. We must, therefore, be very careful how we use labels since labels are usually used as a means of defining and categorizing something for future reference to make it easier to communicate, or possibly understand something between ourselves. Therefore, from a practical point of view, we need to be very careful to speak respectfully to one another, especially to our children and our spouse. Since the labels that we give them e.g. bright, intelligent, good-natured, wonderful, good, smart, caring, empathetic, etc. will help them immensely to develop and grow as human beings throughout their lives, and will cause them to inspire others to do good as well. Wars were caused by racism , that's the most ignorant thing I heard today. Racism may have been used to make them justifiable in some cases but definitely was not the cause. All these sentimental-motivational videos may have a good core message but the oversimplification goes too far and my previous point is just a quick example of that. Also the viewpoint that you are anything different than your body can be challenged both biologically and philosophically and (in my opinion) it is quite a narcissistic one, and also leads you off point. ”Why not?,” because human beings are distinct and should be treated according to those distinctions, not excluding the political realm.For example, Every democracy and republic have age restrictions on who is allowed to vote. While this is a form of ageism (discrimination on the basis of age), most people recognize the differences between adults and adolescents and accept that it is not a good idea to give adolescents voting rights equal to adults. While people may argue about what the age limit should be, they implicitly accept the premise that there should be a limit.The same argument can be applied to sentient non-human apes. Proger13 10 how would you know an individual is an " African american" just by looking at them? Were they born in Africa and currently living in America? Origins of humans trace back to Africa. Black is a color. Like white is a color, like orange and green and blue and any other color. How about telling the truth? Instead of lying. How about calling someone by their name. Or if you do not call them by their name, call them by "hey you" or hey man, or hey woman . But it's the American way, to lie and to shun the truth. It's embedded into your existence. Is there a country called black ? Nope. Why do you call a chinese person chinese? Because they are from China. Same for Japanese and any other nation/country or continent of people. If it's hard for you to say the truth, then just say nothing at all. I wouldn't call anyone black or white. Because black and white people don't exist. Here's my stance. I think that all stuff like this does is spread more division. After oppression in the 60s, everyone wanted to be seen as equal. We were people. The term black , white, etc, was just a description of race . Now, particularly from the left, there is more of a division. People of the same race are often described as "brothers", or like a team. Go on Buzzfeed or any other leftist site, and you will see separation of races, usually touting to be victims against whites. Heck, when I got a pamphlet signing up for a medical camp, they said they specifically wanted minorities. On the sheet where race , age , gender was described, they had boxes of the race . White was the only one that had two boxes. One said white-advantaged and white-non advantaged. I'm not making this up. One time, my friend and her brother were talking about this girl I knew from school. Her name was RChel. So then her brother goes, 'Oh, you mean the white girl, right?' And I told rn around from watching Suite Life of Zack & Cody (mind you this was in 2011), and I say, 'Why would you call her that?' Yes, Rachel had dirty blonde hair, blue eyes, and ivory skin, but did the label 'white' really need to be out upon her? She's more than her skin color. She was funny, smart, brave, and really good at singing. I told him this, and he just shrugged and walked away. The next day, he referred to her as 'the girl in the yellow shirt' because that's what she was wearing. I don't like race . It makes me feel like a jar, and all you see in the clean class that the sun can come through. You don't see what's inside the jar. He never called her a white girl again. He just called her Rachel. We are abandoned by our own families, mocked by our own elders and forced to begin from scratch alone. I have no one and I would rather die alone then to abandoned my own intelligence. Here's a brutally honest, offensive rant:The term "white"creates segregation and it's the main intention whenever we use these terms. White people didn't refered to themselves as such until the year 1664. White is a colonial term, too much coincidence?huh? And again, it creates and has the intention to create structural racism that violates the space of non whites interpersonally to prove the superiority of Anglo-Europeans. Whites have more power interpersonally. Whites"have the power to be offensive and be congratulated by their fellow whites no matter how much the other half white people try to virtue signal to show how of a"soft white guy i am and i fucking hate racists". We know white people score higher on machiavellianism, which in part does explain racist tendencies(it's white people who came up with the statement that they themselves are more machaivellian and snobbish). In other words, we know whites are ignorant and often benefit from their whiteness but us non whites have our own perspectives and it's obvious we will call them out on it and put whites in their place whenever they try to pull the race card to invade non white's personal space. No offense but, you can call yourself white, you can be racist , you can say racial jokes, you can choose to be shallow but if so then stick to your own white people(no offense) and leave non whites alone.This race shit impacts out interpersonal interaction and if white people know it can affect our well being then why don't they already stop creating racial segregation?We also have the sadistic types who enjoy performing racial segregation.It all went from homophobia , machismo to colorism and then it's brother racism . We don't need more negativity, especially the oppressive type.	Homophobia, Race, Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - General, Sexual Identity - General	7/293	2.389

Well you're kinda of a toxic person in my opinion because even if your skin is white or his black that is not a label to bring up because most europeans don't call themselves white. Anglo-europeans didn't referred to themselves as white until the year 1664, so it's a colonial term designed to create segregation. And again, this crap affects our interpersonal interaction and it mostly impacts"non whites". If so then i should get away with calling myself schizotypy because i have shizotypal tendencies but i don't yet whites do even tho calling myself schizotypal doesn't create segregation the same way the term white and black does. Think about it like this (you can give me hate or not)its not the skin that matters through connection but rather the opposing gender that you connect with because if you think about basically every other creature, they look for a mate to repopulate which is only possible through opposite gender "connection" and not on looks so if a bird were to find another bird it wouldn't care if it had a yellow feather instead of a blue feather, just that it is the other gender and same species. So why should we be so different from the rest of the earth. Another thing is that originaly, we are made with the genes that tell us to be male or female making the whole body to be ready for sexual reproduction, those genes also "work" with others for the organism to want to reproduce meaning that it wants to be able to do meiosis, and mutations aside, why do we defy the very DNA that we are given? Well, the truth is, from our human perspective, your skin is black or white in color(technically it is not totally with one color, but in general and in most apparent view from most of our population), and we call you black or white people, calling such name has nothing to do with bad racism, it is just a fact (If you really want to say that it is not a fact, it is just a subjective view from human perspective. This is not the main concern for this channel). We human know people live in different areas have different body functions and skin colors, and we study them scientifically, we know the evolution, it is a benefit. I am not sure about why black people were discriminated first, but not white or other colors. But the truth is, there is nothing wrong with labels, it just depends on how we use it. It's like money, money makes fraud, murder, hatred, but it also makes love, education, YouTube, human civilizations. Again, money does nothing, we does something. So the purpose should be something like educating people how to use labels peacefully, correctly and rationally. And who told you that those labels will blind us from seeing a person? You can't just conclude that every person will be blinded and labels are not good simply because many people racist badly. People conclude such with with such only such stupid reason are already blinded by people who racist. Labels help us recognize everything we see in the world, without labels, you know shit. It's curious that before a person or group of people is conditioned to notice skin color and attribute traits to it, we tend to identify ourselves by the places we were born in. I always thought of myself as a Dutch New Zealander. My family came from Holland, and I was born and raised in N.Z. It wasn't until I started college, my first introduction to public education, that I even noticed that I'm "white". Up till then, my skin color had meant nothing more or less than that burns show easy. I had never really internalized any one else's skin color either. I had non-white friends but had never translated their skin color into an identity. After a year in college, I am nervous to even approach non-whites for fear they'll assume I'm an entitled privileged snob and won't see me as an individual. Of course, I'm fully aware that that means I'm judging THEM based on THEIR skin color. The irony is not lost on me. College has sort of trained me to notice skin color everywhere. Meanwhile, the natural way of self-identification, our native lands, is becoming more rare in some environments. In school, I am almost considered an American just because I'm white. And even though I was born in New Zealand, I still am supposed to apologize for slavery, taking Indian land, etc.It's crazy . If I hadn't been to college, I would never have noticed mine or anyone else's skin color. We need to be trained to do that. Prince is a charismatic and talented poet, I agree with him on at least two points:- Race is a social construction;- My race or colour does not say everything about me. That being said however, the label as of itself is not the problem – whether or not there was a label people would still be oppressed and discriminated against by virtue of their difference. This is due to the very long history and legacies that underpin racism – colonialism, global economic injustice. (Other legacies include, Theft and Conquest of the Americas, Religious Crusades, Slave Trade, Capitalism and Patriarchy). It is the legacies that give racism its power. For example, there is no legacy that labels whiteness as less than ideal and for that reason, a white body cannot claim racism - maybe stereotype and prejudice. Stuart Hall (2010) argues that "race is not a set of false ideas which swims around in the head. They are not a set of mistaken perceptions. They have their basis in real material conditions of existence. They arise because of concrete problems of different classes and groups in society" (Davis 2004, 101). Prince, I wish it were true but it is somewhat naive to think that dropping labels is suddenly going to result in people influenced by centuries of hegemonic attitudes and behaviours are going to start living in peace and harmony. Nature favours diversity and nothing is wrong with labelling per se but the problem is the vitriol, hate and discrimination that people associate with the labels. I think that is a better place to start!	Nothing, Patriarchy, Race, Racism	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	8/266	3.008

No man...those 12k dislikes aren't the people who got triggered. Thinking that is only one race is so wrong dude...I am not racist , I think we all need to have the same chances, but how about the history of each race , we should just left it in ignorance...and also, by reestablishing the equality, we give more rights to minorities until that minority has more rights than anyone else. Isn't that racist then ? To give an example...with the rise of feminism and the believe that females are equal to males, we gave to females more and more rights until the point where if you are a "minority" you are more powerful and u have more rights. Jolette Lima sorry for that "belive", It's hard to make such an argument without using some wrong words. I think males are equal to females in every way. But, because females were treated poorly and unfair by males, we now gave rights to them, rights that should protect them, rights that males now don't have now. For example, if a girl is disturbet sexually at work by her boss, she has the right to throw him in jail. im not a scientist in neurobiology but to me there is no doubt that your brain has at least something to do with your personality, your behavior and in fact your "persona" and your brain is a part of your body, and in addition to that your brain structure is determined by your genes. The genes of almost every human being are different(twins excluded) which takes me to the conclusion that every human must be different in their make up. but since im talking about humans being made up their must be a way to categorize humans. so i categorize in different character traits. you can say a human belongs to the group psycopath, mentally "normal"(my english is bad dunno how to say it better, i mean mental health) drug addict , smart, dumb , black or white but i think those categories are independent from each other so a human shouldnt just be labeled as one label but has a good number of labels making up their personality. I don't care about your people's history, I care about YOUR history, your people's history is OUR History, everyone's history, but no one I seem to talk to sees it that way. They all think it's about Black & White. If you're not one, you're the other. There is no in between, you can't be for both. They think that I'm talking from White Privilege, but here's the thing, I'm Canadian, white privilege means nothing up here, we are all people. I don't give any fucks that your skin just happens to be black , you're my friend, you're my equal, you're a PERSON, just as I am. I won't treat you differently from my friends who just happen to be white. The only thing I have a problem with is that Black people can say the N word, and SING the N word in their songs, but when a WHITE person sings these songs, with the N word, they get in so much shit, "YOU'RE RACIST FOR SINGING THE LYRICS OF THAT SONG!". What the actual fuck? You want to reclaim the word so that it's not a word for hate? Let everyone say it. Because until that happens, anyone that ISN'T of your particular shade of skin is going to be racist just because they sing a song that was written and sung by a person of colour that happens to use the N word. Can I just say thank you for sharing this. My husband's side of the family is so amazingly divers. My side not so much and it shows why from the comments they make. I strive to raise my daughter not to see color, but people. With her being brought up around so many different nationalities, it has been easy so far. But I know it will be harder as she gets older. This video gives me hope that there are some out there that feel that color and nationality are just that. They don't define us, who we are, where we've come from, or who we will become. All people are humans ,we come from a Creator and therefore we are ALL the same inside cause you cant justify a person by the exterior aspects and yet you can't force people to feel phisically attracted to all them races and therefore put a label on people calling them "racist" and if you notice people nowadays call " racism " to EVEEERYTHINGGG, I was recently attacked by saying I don't find a white and black couple attractive as a match phisically speaking, THAT doesnt mean I dont respect them both for who they are inside , theres people who have a PHISICAL type of man or woman with all the rights to have it and THAT SHOULD BE RESPECTED AS WELL. SO LETS NOT LET RACISM RAPE OUR DEMOCRACY , BECAUSE THATS THE POINT WHEN RACISM WORRIES BECOME AN UNHEALTHY OBSSESION IN THE HEAD! Labels are necessary. As humans we need to define eachother. So I am white, you are black . It's just the way it is. I'm a good person, you probably are a good person. If labels didn't exist we couldn't communicate. Also, it's not possible to judge someone by the way they look or by the things they possess. We are humans. It's absolutely true that we should respect eachother, but some of the things you said are just unrealistic. We are afraid of things that are different from who we are, it's a self defense mechanism. Racism cannot be deleted, but it can be reduced. What we can really do is love and respect eachother.	Black, Racism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	2/115	1.739

So what you're saying is that there is no difference between races? They're subgroups. If there weren't labels today there would be the next day. Nice sentiment but I think you may be reaching a bit. I think our society may put too much emphasis on race but it existing is just practical. When you have a lot of something you divide them into subgroups of defining qualities. That will always happen. Racism is the issue, not races. Your perfect world goes out the window as soon as someone attempts to describe someone to someone else. They'll describe them by whichever physical attributes stand out, like skin color, height, weight, etc. And out of convenience people will create these labels. The problem is the psyche of man. He will eventually ruin things. Not due to labels but due to human nature. But I do feel that you are on the right track and if there were more people like yourself we'd be better off. Good luck	Race, Racism	Ethnicity - General	2/166	1.205

Genetically there is so little difference between white, black , asians, and ect; honestly people have mixed and matched so much there is really no pure white or black or asian if there were large groups of that well they'd be very.. incestuous. Yes there are some degrees of protein differences but overall there is no real difference when it comes to brain matter or physical ability if there were any real truth to such we would have far more issues with fertility between races much like tigers and lions or horses and donkeys. The differences that most put stock into well those primarily are stereotypes and overall the majority those that have any degree merit to them are caused more by psychology, culture, and economics than biology or genetics	Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/129	1.55
I've read a lot of comments here, a lot of them are really headache giving-and I'm not going to assume mine wont be either. But anyway, here is my own opinion: I think that while racism exists in the world now, it was not always so. There was a time that people co-existed among each other peacefully. How long did that last? Who knows. History is a mystery, especially before things were written down. Who knows what has been lost in time? We may never truly know the answers to many questions. But I do know at least one thing. It doesn't have to be this way. It became this way because people weren't satisfied not knowing why we are all so different. But God in his infinite wisdom made us this way. Just like he made so many species of animals different, so are we. Why did he do this? Perhaps it was to test our character, and our tolerance, after all as humans, we are full of error and sin. He tests us constantly to see if we will make the better choices that he gives us throughout our lives. Choices that will put us on whatever road to whatever future that will lead us to become whoever we are set to become. He does this because we have purpose, we have free will, and we have free will to choose whatever path we will be set on that will either lead us the right way or the wrong way. Hate is the wrong way, and that's something people realize on their own. Like a father, he allows us to learn our lessons on our own in order to enrich the human experience. We can choose who we are going to be, if we allow ourselves to broaden our minds and think beyond ourselves to a higher power.	Racism	Ethnicity - General	1/310	0.323

It's very STUPID, you who speaks of racism of any various sort. Here's the issue: What are we? All of us collectively on Earth? Do all you morons who like to call others racist , for real, or do you not truly understand how dumb the term is?Whether you believe in God or not, ALL PEOPLE ON EARTH are the HUMAN race . Apart from that, there are no other races, unless you want to discuss the wild kingdom, where there are near countless races of animals. But again, we people are ALL the HUMAN RACE !! I find it amusing that in America it's wrong to be conservative. And that if you are proud to be white that it is racist . I have a question for everyone to answer without it being racist to whites. Why is it that only WHITE MAJORITY populations need "DIVERSITY" but no other races promote the same for any other race ANY WHERE else in the WORLD? Being this is a part of media and hence promotes multi-cultural, white genocide, prejudiced against whites, double standard bigotry, I'm sure I'll get the typical ranting about how America could be more diverse (among other ridiculous notions). Let me add that many white Americans feel we have plenty of diversity already and that whites are the only race to have different color hair, eyes, etc. We actually have a rich culture (when it's not trying to be torn down or taken away from history by OTHER "diversities" such as "minorities"). So other than trying to make everyone have the same color skin, eyes, hair, etc. (like carbon copies of each other) just what is in it for the white person to be "diverse" and how is it benefiting WHITE culture? Because it sure looks like "diversity" benefits EVERYONE but the WHITE person which it is promoted to. Racism is unacceptable and all races should be treated equal. But saying that someone is Caucasian, African , Asian, or Latino is not a problem. I don't want to start a debate, but I don't think you should be comparing apples to humans. The point this video tried to make is that race was CREATED to tell people what they should be and guide them in a direction. Like he said, he didn't come out of his mother's womb saying he was black . He was taught race and he was taught racism . Apples are the same. Imagine apples are humans. All apples are APPLES. And they should be treated equally. They only have different names because of their appearance change. Maybe they even taste differently. But every honey crisp apple tastes a little bit different. What he says:I am not, "black"I mean, that's what the world calls me, but its not be.I did not come out of my mother's womb saying "Hey everybody I'm, Black!"No, i was taught to be black.And you were taught to call me that.Along with whatever you call yourself, it's just a 'Label'See, from birth the world force feeds us these 'Labels'And eventually we all swallow all of themWe swallow them, Digest them except the labelsNever ever doubting themBut there's one problemLabels are not you,when labels are not meLabels are just Labels, but who we truly are is not skin deepSee when i drive my car no one would ever confuse the of meWell when i drive my car, my bodyWhy do you confuse me of my body?It's my body, Get it?Not me, so let me break it down for you, your body's are not just cars that we operate and drive aroundThe dealership we call Society decided to label mine the "Black Addition"Your's the white, Irish or Light addition.And with no money down, 0 APR, and no test driveWe were forced to own these cars for the rest of our lives!Forgive me, i fail to see the logic or pride into defining myself or judging another by the cars we drive.Because who we truly are is found inside.Listen, i'm not here to tell you how Science has concluded genetically we're all mixed in race and the human species doesn't exist or no historian, that race was invented in the 15th century to divide each other, and it has worked perfectlyNo! I'm not here to lecture, i just wanna ask one question who would you be if the world never gave u a "Label"?Never gave u a box to check, would you be white, black, Mexican, Asian, Native american, Middle eastern,Indian?No, we would be one! We would be together, no longer living in the 'Error' of calling human Americans, Black people, or white people, these "Labels" forever blind us from seeing a person from who they areBut instead of seeing them though their, judgmental, prejudicial, artificial flavors of who we think they areAnd when you let an artificial label define yourself?!Then my friend you have chosen smallness over greatness,and minimized yourself.And can find divide your'self' and you can divide yourselfAnd it is an undeniable fact that there is division that will be conflict,Conflict starts wars, therefore every war has started over 'labels'It's always us vs them so the answer to war racism, sexism, and every other ismAnd every politician has missed it?It's the labelsWe must rip them offIsn't it funny how no baby is born racist yet every baby cries when they hear the cries of another no matter the gender?Culture or color providing us the deep down we were meant to be connect and care for each otherThat is our missionAnd that is not my opinion, that is the truth in the world that has sold us fiction please listen labels only distort our vision which is why half of those still watching will dismiss it or feel resistance and conflicted with Just rememberSo did the caterpillar? Before it broke through its shell and became the magnificent butterfly well these labels in our shells, and we must do the same thing so we can finally spread our wings human beings We're not meant to be slapped with labels with groceries in supermarkets DNA can not be regulated by the FDA we were meant to be free and only until we remove them all and stop living and thinking so smallWill we be free? Just so you know, Do you think your video will make PEOPLE Color Blind by saying "I'm not Black " or "I do not want to be Labeled? They may call you a "Human", but when they SEE YOU, Do you think people are going to treat you any different? "Men" & "Women" are labels. If I see a Man, it's a Man & If I see a Woman it's a Woman . I'm not going to say "look at that Human." (Where's the Details!!?) (True, we are Humans, but EACH HUMAN is DIFFERENT) A Dog is a Dog and A Cat is a Cat. People have EYES and People SEE what they SEE (Inside and out). SOME People are going to ACCEPT YOU (inside and out) & SOME People WILL NOT ACCEPT YOU (inside and out). LABELS is Not the Issue. THE ISSUE IS PEOPLE ARE BEING TREATED NEGATIVELY AND THE STEREOTYPING. (LIFE HAS LABELS. EVEN YOUR NAME IS A LABEL. SO WHO & WHERE WOULD YOU BE WITHOUT ONE???) AZURE EYES DRAGON , Your right. Labels don't do anything. It's not meant to make you feel Superior nor Inferior. It's just part of the human language(Human Nature) to describe a different types of people, because we are ALL NOT the same.(It's Called a Description) Example: The Same goes for Dogs(Animals, Plants, insects, Sea Creatures and Etc.) We know ALL Dogs don't look the SAME! There are Different Breeds of Dogs. And We gave Names (Labels) to distinguish one group from another. There are even people of the same color who are different by ethnicity , language, religion, nationality & etc. That's just life. Not labeling yourself or calling yourself human won't stop people from disrespecting each other. Whether they are of a different race or of the same race . This is only my oppinion. Don't get mad, because it doesn't really matterHumans are herd animals. We are constantly looking for acceptance and the sense of belonging. I belive that all these lables are there not only because we want to cause separation, but because we wish as humans to be a part of something. Even in the school yard I do see examples of these kind of lables. Not lables that indecate someones rase, but rather the way someone dresses, the people they associate with others and how someone looks. We do not create these lables because we want to cause separation. It happens almost by itself. As we label others we also lables ourselves. I know that i am not a part of the popular gang at school. I am a part of the group who might look a little weird. By labeling myself, I know where I stand and I find it easier to figure out who I am in a society. This kind of labeling can cause really bad situations, where you forget that people are more that just looks. It can lead to people feeling misunderstood or trapped because of the way other precieve them. I belive our body is a "car" but different from a car our bodies are also are a part of us. tobias sol , I'm African , I have visited Western countries and I choose Africa a thousand times, and I'm not joking about it, so I don't get your point, most Africans that have visited the West thinking it's better there end up coming back home because there is no place like home, what white people find appealing and necessary in life is not exactly what Africans find appealing, we are different people	African	Ethnicity - Black	1/72	1.389

tobias sol , sorry but not everyone, only those who need jobs, most who go to West just work, invest back home and then come back to live happily here. No African will get old and die in the West. Coffee See you say "term" but not seeing anything biological reasons why it's call " black ". No, racial labels are illusions used to separate people and it somehow passed down to generations causing trouble and bullying ever since. Now what will your response be to this?	African, Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/67	2.985

People's race is determined by their genetics, so for example, black people have a gene that makes their skin produce darker pigments. Race is an actual thing, and it's useful. For example, 'gingers' or people with red hair, light skin, and freckles, aren't affected by anesthesia as much as other people. This is a biological difference, and it's useful to know. Black people are also more sensitive to salt than other races, which is another biological difference that is useful to know. Coffee If so, that doesn't give anyone the right to label one another, we all have arms, legs, skin over meat and bones. Humans may have different genetics down the line for generations but in the end we're just human. We can go our whole lives without that label. Point is, we DON'T want those retarded labels and specially not labels used as a means to bully each other. Why can't people see that? Why do you guys WANT to keep us under these labels? Did you learn nothing from the video?	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/92	1.087
AZURE EYES DRAGON So if somebody who is half ginger goes to the doctor, you'd rather the doctor not know that, and have them go through excruciating pain when anesthesia doesn't work? You'd rather have black people die of hypertension from consuming too much salt?	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/45	2.222

AZURE EYES DRAGON Why are you assuming race is inherently bad though? I have plenty of friends who are all different races, I don't care about somebody's race , or discriminate based on it, but celebrate the beauty, and the culture of it. Everyone has their own unique culture and heritage, and I think it's rude to ignore that and say there's only one, human race . Ignorant people will always discriminate whether there are labels or not. People will always question why someone's skin color is different than theirs, even if we don't have a name, or word for it. Some people will see one aggressive black person, and assume all black people are mean and aggressive, even if they aren't called black people. We should use that as an opportunity to educate them, and share kindness with them, to erase their prejudice, and teach them about the beauty of their culture. We can all get along and be peaceful if we spread acceptance and kindness.	Black, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	6/165	3.636
Coffee We wouldn't have to go through all of it if it weren't FOR those labels. You didn't truly ask yourself what would you be without a label. If you disagree so badly then why are you even on this video. It's not rude to ignore an illusion, we came from Adam and Eve, one race , we're humans from beginning to end, period. End of story. But if you're not gonna see the bigger picture then don't try to change my view, I personally think the concept of labels is retarded as all Hell.	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/94	1.064

The pro side of labeling is that it creates a space for everyone to get comfortable and get with others who you can relate to. However, the con side of labeling creates stereotype and judgemental thoughts. It creates a vision that specifies a group as one person. Do we really need label, just to create comfort zone? You don't necessarily need label to make acquaintance or friends because I am 'Asian' and I have 'hispanic' friends. The ideas and stereotypes that degrades people just because of their labels such as gender and race hurts me so much. Label is the reason why we are living in this corrupted world right now. Labels suck, but pretending there is no such thing is race isn't going to make it disappear. Race exists. You are, actually, a color known (and has been known as such for hundreds and hundreds and hundreds of years) as black . Cool. Since you're descended from black Africans, among others, perhaps, you have no Neanderthal (a completely different species) in you, whereas Europeans have something like 2-4 and Asians 4-6 I believe. Just THIS little fact, by itself, shows that yes, we have some differences in our human bodies, and that's okay. Pretending the differences don't exist is ridiculous. People with darker skin known as 'blacks' have more type II muscle fibers in comparison to whites who have more type I muscle fibers. This makes them, generally speaking, better athletes. Does that make them better? Are they ALL better athletes? NO. Pretending race doesn't exist is really going to result in everyone looking the fucking same. No thanks. I don't want to live in a world of 8+ billion brown people with brown hair and brown eyes. I like diversity. I like Japan to be full of Japanese people. I like that Kenyans look different than me. I like that in Siberia, the people there have very specific characteristics, as do the people of Czech Republic and Ukraine. Race exists. Get over it! This is good, this is the first step. But, the truth of why we need to stop saying black and white(specifically) is not being addressed. The word ‘Black’ actually means ‘pale, bleached out, voided, etc.’. Let that sink in real quick. When we call ourselves ‘black’ we are erasing our very being; voiding ourselves. Do you hear me??! Please listen. Please stop saying your black please. Not for the ‘we are all one’ reason mentioned in this video, but because your erasing your very being with the utterance of a simple word. That’s why we are in The state of destruction we are in now. FURTHERMORE, stop calling caucasians white, please STOP. White actually means something too! Please my ppl hear me. White means pure/purity, HOLY, all things good. Now, I’m not saying caucasians can’t be white, BUT it will never be bc of the color of their skin. White is a SPIRITUAL word! If you can understand me and hear me in this perilous hour, then head what I’m writing. To call someone black or white bc of skin tone, has provided the Spaniard & Portuguese colonizers with SPIRITUAL protection, and the exact OPPOSITE for dark, indigenous ppl. Please lose and loose these terms from your vocabulary when referring to ppl. It has literally shaped our very existence for the last 400 years. But they did give me a label. I can say I've removed it, but I need other's buy in for that to be legitimate . I don't have it. The label is taught to children. It never stops being taught. So I must own my label. Because I know that there's no other way. Love has been practiced for centuries, yet labels still exist. Why? Because one side is being told to love by the other as a tactic. Yet, they themselves do not love. They attack while we sleep. If love were the answer it would have conquered by now. So are we to wait, love and deny the label indefinitely? As nothing changes. As we continue to be abused and murdered? As the label makers seem to thrive, no matter how many people love? It's futile. There's no evidence it's ever worked. I prefer not to be surprised by reality. If there are so many good people that 'don't see labels',why are those who see them allowed to subjugate others? It's obvious that more people see labels than you're willing to acknowledge. You don't have their buy in. They love that you think that you do. It makes it easier for them to subjugate you. Leah Michaiiah Yes, the World would still be corrupt, BUT the POINT of the video is that skin color does not define us anymore than our job or name does.The other KEY POINT here is that labels are used to divide people. Has that not been GLARINGLY APPARENT lately ????? "Us against them" is all we hear these days. He never said that anyone should be ashamed of their origin or color, but me having "pride" in my race or color, makes as much sense as having pride in how many toes I have. And besides the fact that he said ' In the 1500 scientists divided us on purpose ' it's bs. They divided everything for health reasons. Not so we can fight with each other. We fight with each other simply because we are of the world. Like I said the only problem isn't racism so there will always be issues within the world. Wanna know why ? Simply because we are people. Shruthi R I love this message but there is nothing wrong with being different or seeing difference from other people. We are miseducated on how to treat people who are different from ourselves. Ethnicities are one of the biggest things that make this world so cool, and taking it away will make it worst. Before you look at this and call me stupid, think about what will happen if we come together as one with no ethnic groups or race . We are too far in time to take it away, so taking it will cause disagreement within us all, cause when we come together as one we will have to choose one ethnic group, and others won't agree on it. Ea made a good message on it, but he needs to wake up, this isn't gonna do anything, miseducation is one of the biggest problems in the world, JUST REMEMBER THERE IS NOTHING WRONG WITH SEEING COLOR OR ETHNICITY , ITS HOW YOU TREAT THEM THAT MATTERS! A person with light skin is called white. People from Asia are called Asians, A fat person is fat because they're fat . As this video mentions Irish people are called Irish because they're from Ireland. It's not a label. .. These are just facts not labels. Racism/prejudice only comes when you see these quality in people as the most important thing and immediately make up your mind about them or treat them differently based on it. I don't buy into the idea that I'm a morally shitty person for referring to people's appearance to describe them. The video relates our bodies as cars.. Well when there's a parking lot full of cars and you want to point one out you're not just going to say "look at that car!" and expect the other person to identify it without describing it's color, shape, type, etc.	Black, Fat, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Physical Identity - Physical Features	5/174	2.874

Nicole Young College professors, across race/ethnicity and gender, are more likely to respond to queries from students they believe are white males. Despite universities frequently being described as bastions of progressivism and liberal indoctrination centers, a recent study found that faculty of colleges and universities are more likely to ignore requests for mentorship from minority and/or female students. Researchers sent more than 6,500 professors at 259 schools in 89 disciplines identical letters that differed only in the name and implied race/gender of the fictitious student sender (e.g., 'Mei Chen' as an Asian female; 'Keisha Thomas' as a black female; 'Brad Anderson' as a white male). The study found that regardless of discipline (with the sole exception of fine arts), faculty more consistently responded to perceived white males. Two notable additional findings: 1) professors at public institutions were significantly more likely than their private institution counterparts to respond to students of color, and 2) the students most discriminated against were perceived East Asian women, followed by South Asian men. [LINK] White people, including white children, are less moved by the pain of people of color, including children of color, than by the pain of fellow whites. Three distinct studies support this finding. The first found that around age 7, white children began to believe black children are less susceptible to pain than white children. Another study found that emergency room personnel are less likely to give African American and Latino/Hispanic children pain medication, even when they are experiencing severe abdominal pain. The same study also found that even when the same tests are ordered, black and Hispanic children face significantly longer emergency room stays. A third study found that white people feel less empathy toward black people in pain than they do for whites experiencing pain [LINK] [LINK] [LINK] Black men are sentenced to far lengthier prison sentences than white men for the same crimes. A 2012 study by the United States Sentencing Commission found black men were sentenced to prison terms nearly 20 percent longer than white men for similar crimes. To break those numbers down further, from January 2005 to December 2007, sentences for black males were 15.2 percent longer than those of their white counterparts. From December 2007 to September 2011, that number actually increased, with differences in sentencing growing to 19.5 percent. [LINK] [LINK] Black children are more likely to be tried as adults and are given harsher sentences than white children. A Stanford University study uncovered this sobering information: "[S]imply bringing to mind a black (vs. white) juvenile offender led [white study] participants to view juveniles in general as significantly more similar to adults in their inherent culpability and to express more support for severe sentencing.' That is, when white respondents thought the child on trial was black, they were more like to endorse 'sentencing all juveniles to life without parole when they have committed serious violent crimes.' That might explain why, of the roughly 2,500 juveniles in the U.S. who have been sentenced to life without parole, nearly all (97 percent) were male and (60 percent) black. You act like I said some long convaluted thing about race is America.. ALL I SAID was that I've watched this video dozens of times and I tear up and get goosebumps every single time. Again, long and short, I love this video. And you're going to lecture me (A social work student FYI) about race in America and being privleged because I'm white? Why bring race into my comment at all? My comment AGAIN is simply that I love this video. I'd tell you "no disrespect" but at this point, I'M actually the one offeneded. I personally prefer to be called for what the skin tone I actually am. I don't call a dark skinned person black , unless they really are that skin tone. I don't understand why people find it so hard to call people for what they are, when it comes to skin tone. Tbh, when I hear a person call someone black , white, yellow , red , I automatically think of cave man n cave women, because it pretty much comes off as that, knowing that people used these "labels" along time ago when people were first discovering differences in peoples skin tones, n had no clue what to call them	Black, Red, Yellow	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Ethnicity - Asian (East-China, Japan, Korea, Philippines, Vietnam), Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - Native-American, Nationality - Chinese, Nationality - Japanese	7/107	6.542

You’re not going to say, ’I know this white guy named Mike Wallace.’ Hear what I’m saying? Racism today is only pushed to divide and destabilize society racism can die with us. .. if my daughter is talking about a kid in her class named ”Josh” and I say, ”which one is Josh?” She has to describe the person by notable external traits. She can say, ”you know, he’s like 4’ tall with brown eyes and curly brown hair, pretty quiet.” Or she can say, ”the black one”. That works in her class because it’s a predominantly non- black class. That label isn’t derogatory, it doesn’t harm anyone, it simply serves as an identifying characteristic. If there were two black boys, she would have to go into more detail, but the fact that we see that particular label as harmful whereas the ”brown eyes and curly brown hair” labels are not – that’s a problem. You can’t solve that by no longer seeing people’s skin color any more than you can stop seeing any other physical traits. What we can do, what we need to do, is to actively work to stop judging people based on physical traits. I don’t judge people by their eye color, and I try really hard not to judge them by their skin color either. But I refuse to pretend like I can’t see color - that isn’t real, it’s a farce. If Morgan Freeman claims he doesn’t use people’s skin color to help recognize them, then he is lying to himself.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/224	0.893

Society not only lost track of dropping you in the crack; it has moved on and stopped paying attention to the mind f+ing games he's having with himself. Michael Jackson did the same play, and wound up being the ripest fruit on the on the ground! You don't know what from what and your speech proves it. How dare you talk as though your buffoonery should cause questions. You don't have a preference, history, mirror, relation, or touch of reality. You are a divider, a nonsensical, a transitional fruit . Walk in the shoes of the Caucasian white man, woman , or child, who has to put up with first hand knowledge of a race of people that runs around trying to strangle people with their laws, politics, norms, morays and ethics. See the frustration of living around these upstarts, from another history, part of the world, set up dictatorship in your legal system, through the President, tell you your ignorant, small, and a joke. This may have been how you felt being force to assimilate to American society, at best, what I call a leg up from where you can now call hell, and not look back. on. Race only exists to ignorant people who think different phenotypes (black ,white,etc.) means different species.The problemIS NOT recognizing that we DO have different phenotypes,its as you say treating each other different due to those differences.Pretending the differences arent there, IS A HUGE PART OF THE PROBLEM.Especially from black people, if anybody should know better, it should be black people. I appreciate the overall message of this video, but think it veers off course around 1:41 with:"how science has concluded.."how every historian."Setting aside the specific claims that follow each, virtually any statement that begins with either is false.There is no such thing as scientific or historical consensus. Knowledge is provisional.This weakens the message of the video.Because of this, I did not "like" it, nor did I "dislike" it. However, if I were forced to choose, I would grudgingly choose to dislike it on this basis.I hope my example shows how it is possible for someone who is not misguided or racist to "dislike" something like this.Maybe all the people who disliked it are opposed to racial equality. Who knows? If clarity of understanding is an objective, it's probably safer not to assume to know without direct evidence.	Racist	Ethnicity - General	1/145	0.69
Amazing Player009 What so you mean by " racist white people"? What about " racist asian people" or " racist latino people", etc? Because they are out there. Would that be any better? Racism is prevelent among ALL cultural groups. "White people" aren't the problem.It's a sad problem. It will likely remain a force until people find a way to see each other for who they really are instead of the color of their skin. It starts on an individual level. It's up to each one of us to make that happen.Hatred is easy and contagious. Love is hard. But through what other approach can this be solved?	Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - General	4/107	3.738

It will end when black leaders in developed countries stop getting rich from it. My favorite quote to this day and I saw this a little while ago. No baby is born racist . Every baby crys when it here's the cries of another.Also, the video is so inspiring. Whatever you call someone, black , white, Mexican, Irish, those are all adjectives. Why are you judging someone over what you started calling them. We were given these bodies to possess and take care of to live, the color of you boy doesn't matter because you can't control what you were born as. People need to stop being racist . Great video Prince. But, our REAL problem is not being labelled, that is only an extension of something far more serious. We are sinners, and we fell short of the glory of God. Our problems are inherent, PERMANENT, deep in our beings:THEY ARE SPIRITUAL. Therefore, there is no cure, no antidote, except One: Jesus Christ. I respect the idea, but the strange thing about this video is that at 2:14 there is a muslim guy. Muslims call their false prophet Muhammad, "the best pattern of life for all mankind". Muhammad was racist , mocking black people and trading black slaves. For him black slaves had less value than white slaves.This video is also about unity. So I showed my black girlfriend this video and..... ahhhh, just joshing around.I don't know who put this video together, the casting and such, whoever it was, I truly need to commend and offer my sincerest gratitude. I am absolutely sick and tired of media and hollywood's stereotypical depiction of what "diversity" looks like—to them, this usually means a black dude and a white chick , or a hot lesbian couple. What this video managed to do, it manages to capture diversity, in it's truest form. Free of labels and stereotypes. It's beautiful. It's unadulterated. Unafraid of mis-conceived notions and shattering labels. For a change, it does exactly what it's intended to... and that's show case people. And for once, I saw myself amongst those people instead of cast aside because of my color or my perceived privilege.Diversity is as much about: this couple [LINK] this family [LINK] and these men [LINK] as it is about anything else and it's nice to see some inclusion behind a message like this.Thanks to all of the minds and faces who put this together When I start making beer after I graduate from my brewing program, I'm going to make a " black ipa" that's white, and a "blonde beer" that's black , and I'm going to call them "I Am NOT Black " and "You are NOT Blonde" as an homage to this video. Ok so according to this, say I was talking to a friend in the neighborhood, and I wanted to describe a lady he may or may not know, and in order to do so I had to use adjectives, like black , or woman . These are all 'labels', and in this case have neutral connotation. I don't think labels should just be thrown away. I don't think we need to separate ourselves completely from our adjectives or even assumptions about people. We just need to be careful how we use labels, as they can vary in connotation depending on the situation. Keep it neutral, people.	Black, Woman	Ethnicity - Black, Gender - General	2/104	1.923

Jerome, dude, I already told you I go by my gut instinct and by the vibration radiating from other individuals. Having fancy clothes or being a certain color or gender is irrelevant. You need to pick up on the intentions of the other person even if they are a CEO or a priest or a sweet church lady. Therefore if a mass murderer is radiating bad intentions I can feel it and I avoid that person. My city has plenty of good people and some misbehaving people including white misbehaving people, who I avoid or stand up to or fight back. The wave of aggressive drug addicts a few years back, trying to make people give money, was all white people and of course I avoided them where possible. Some even chased me because the drug made them think they were invincible and it made them very very focused on their goal. Well they got a surprise when they forced a confrontation with me; some of us don't respond well to being threatened. Lots of people had the same experience and the police cracked down on it and cleaned them out of the CBD.	Gender	Gender - General	1/194	0.515
Also Jerome, where I live, black is normal and no-one is going around dividing things into black and white. It's multicultural and diverse in a myriad of ways. Jerome, I do say so brother. Open your heart, mind and senses to what is actually out in the world. It is way more complex and interesting than what you seem to think. Put your misery aside and see the good, bad and ugly with calmness. Move towards good situations and people and away from unsuitable-for-you ones. Don't judge by appearances, don't judge by your own pessimism. Open your senses to sense what is actually going on under the surface. Yes you will see bad behaviour from individuals of every colour, gender , religion. BUT! I recommend to also BE ALERT to notice good things going on as well as unevolved things. Make sure you NOTICE GOOD STUFF EVERY DAY - tiny, small, big, whatever - it cheers you. Here is a link to cheer you up when you need a little boost. Or you'll find ways to cheer back up. Find ways to be at peace so you can notice the good and connect with good people. Maybe volunteer your own time and your own kindness to spread more of the good? Contribute some of your beauty and inner qualities! Now we're talking. No-one is going to deliver a perfect world to you but you can contribute to making it better. Lots of people are doing that as well.I hope you have fun with it =) [LINK]	Gender	Gender - General	1/228	0.439

Here’s an opinion, and I’m not really challenging the video: I’m rather proud of being asian, and I want to be seen as asian. I live in the US as an ethnic minority, and I disagree with the idea of a ”melting pot.” For me, the beauty of America is that people from different backgrounds and culture can come together on the same soil and consensually exchange ideas and opinions within the context of a shared culture and language. Of course theres only so much of this kind of mutual tolerance for these ”differences” thats been achieved here, but I believe the US is very much in an experimental phase. Its not that I disagree with this video, as it argues for inclusitivity despite differences as do I, but my position is a tad different in that even though we see differences in skin color, we should strive to be able to demonstrate tolerance and understanding. For example, in healthcare, there is a movement to change the way physicians interact with Hispanic patients (primarily first/second gen), and to learn the concepts of indirectness, fatalismo, marianismo and machismo to better accomodate such patients. To be completely blunt and honest, especially upon first encounter with the patient skin color is a bit helpful in discerning that. However, it must of course be kept in mind that many Hispanic patients are primarily ”American” in culture and speak English as the primary language, in which cases the aforementioned concepts do not apply. Of course, there are also Hispanic people with ”white” skin color, and clearly skin color shouldnt be the only way to discern how to go about these in-office conversation, as obviously other aspects revealed through dialogue must be factored in, but many times it can be helpful in the clinical context. Personally, I appreciate very much my skin color. I appreciate that it allows others to be curious about my culture, and I appreciate being asked ”where are you/your family from” even though I primarily grew up in the States (born here, moved around to different countries later). If I was white, black, brown, red, green or whatever isnt ”yellow,” or if we were all homogenously gray ambiguous blobs, it would likely be much less probable that people might be curious about the Asian culture that may potentially inform who I am. In this comment I gave myself the label of being ”Asian” without indicating what kind of asian. If anyone was curious, I’d be happy to reveal that I am Korean. For me, my skin color at least provides that label that can provoke curiosity in the real world. If a person is curious but sincere about it, but is ignorant and thinks Korea is next to Vietnam, why blame them? I was never their responsibility to know about that. I’d be happy as a minority in America to share that it indeed isn’t. Just an anecdote, but my personal experience. Ive met others whether China, Korean, Ghanian, Dutch, Venezuelan, Mexican and etc. that share the same sentiment, while there are of course other ethnic minorities that insist on being American and American only, which of course why not? They have every right to do so. While I say this anecdotally though, I do realize that the experience and history of Korean immigrants in America, is very different from those of Mexican immigrants (or those that were already here but are considered ”minorities”) and African Americans. Also, its pretty fun to watch some of my Latin	African, Black, Ethnic, Red, Yellow	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Ethnicity - Asian (East-China, Japan, Korea, Philippines, Vietnam), Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Ethnicity - Native-American, Nationality - Chinese, Nationality - Japanese	9/593	1.518

Hmccccpp, my opinion is that for a healthy society of individuals, you can't have a fake peace. You have to speak up for what you want. Often that will be different to what someone else wants so that will have to be discussed until a reasonable solution is found. Yes there will be passionate disagreeing but if everyone refrains from insulting each other, and insulting each other's mothers, and insulting each other's race etc while disagreeing, then that's healthy. Christian Conservative MAGA supporter here. And, I agree with the message of unity, but disagree with this whole love beyond labels bit. Also, the music of today is god awful and this is no better, but I digress. My main issue is the love beyond labels. We are all one race , the human race , so true the labels aren't needed. But, tell me why the ad coucil, along with Pepsi, google, state farm, Johnson and Johnson, paid for a very similar commercial where John Cena says "Love Beyond Labels, like AGE ". This is where the line is drawn. This whole bit is being used to usher in pro pedophile "love". Even if this video is not affiliated with that, it sure sounds and looks just like it. In closing, end racism please. End pedophilia or we will end it for you.	Age, Race, Racism	Age - General, Ethnicity - General	4/141	2.837

I absolutely love this vedio, we must overcome divisions hatred inequality once and f all period. we are stronger together as one human family, selfishness and ignorance and greed is the main root cause of our problems. in order to create a better world f all of us, we must eradicate discrimination inequality and injustices. no human beings is an alien on mother earth. we must get rid off borders. fairness and justice is the name of the game .a true democracy is a universal aspiration .we are interdependent and interconnected we need one another no matter what. misunderstanding differentiation fear of others hate aggression are all a threat to humanity. I am sick of these psychopathic corporation and their Puppet politicians, they are the reason why our world is a mess. so stand up and spread the love for the new world order, evil should no longer rule our world we must get our humanity back before it's too late. and learn to live together as brothers or perish together as fools	Alien	Nationality - General	1/173	0.578

Just know that our aims s to create a freer prosperous and safer society. which embraces freedom justice and equality. if u don't like that it's clear that u are afraid of changes or u are a racist, nothing will stop us. the new world order is coming. so the sooner that u embrace multiculturalism the better it's f u. people with your kind mindset are the reason why our world is what it is today period	Nothing, Racist	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General	2/155	1.29

Hassan Hassan..... 1. By "discrediting" a "positive message" I am spreading the truth or at least something close to it and I am not ashamed of doing it. It's better to break people's fantasy world and knock them back to reality than let them fool themselves with this "positive message".2. The society that your dreaming of is simply impossible to exist. Because to achieve "equality" every single human being needs to be the same in every regard as the other. And that is impossible because people are different, they are just different and that is a fact. As for the open borders. They will be a disaster because the poor people in the world will all rush to the welthy and prosperous areas effectively mixing with the native population and eventually replacing it and they will turn the once welthy and prosperous countries to the shitholes they came from. 3. Calling me "sick in the hearth" and " racist " is proof that you are delusional. You are unable to make a proper argument because the facts are not on your side and you don't want your fantasy world to be ruined so you'll just dismiss my arguments by insulting me. How delusional of you.4. Judging by your name and your use of English you are either a turk/kurd or middle easterner that is either currently living in a western country because yours is shit or wants to live in a western country because well... yours is shit. And that is probably the reason why you love multiculturalism and open borders. Because your people are unable to create a nice and prosperous country so you have to find a moral excuse for your people's failures.	Racist	Ethnicity - General	1/285	0.351

These days we tend to give more or less credibility or license to speak the truth about certain things like racism based on the skin color of the messenger. It would be interesting to see how the number of likes would differ based on his skin being white or brown, if his ethnicity were jewish or mexican, etc. because the truth is the truth regardless but it's funny how and why people can accept the truth differently or not at all for different reasons. Let me say this,I like yhis guy's message BUT I dont like how he shows it.All the different colors a human can be ARE NOT LABELS,the colors show us that even tho some of us are different we are all special.Having green eyes or blue eyes are not labels they are special and the same thing goes for skin color.You ARE black and I AM white and someone else IS orange or red or yellow .Labels are indeed misused often and can be negative,but labels at their own arent bad,they are the way to seperate all of the special and different things someone can be.WE are all different and thats why labels,races etc, were created BUT we also all the same and we are all equal since we are all humans.Also he says that wars start because labels seperate us so its us against them.Wars WERE NEVER BECAUSE WE ARE DIFFERENT,wars were always about power or wealth or control of a country,town,place.They Justified them by using labels and making the people think that,that's the reason.Like his message but this video is wrong.Also this is my opinion dont kill me for it. I always notice that "enlightened" black men always make these "we are above race "videos. And then when you look at who they choose to marry, the women always look the same aka not like them. There is a theory going around that black males of the 1960s pushing for integration were only doing so as a means to have access to white women. In fact, black panthers often made black women guard doors as they finnagled with white women. We can philosophize, rationalize, compose poems, moralize, etc. etc. but let's be truthful- we are now living in a pathological worldwide system of hate that feeds off of our fears, emotions, and illogical thinking. Wishing things to be true feels good but logical and critical thinking are the mental actions we need to push us toward action. Variety is what has kept the human race from dying . We have lived so long in this sick system that we say illogical things like I don't see color. We were made this way and we were made to differentiate by characteristics like color, gender , etc. However, we must appreciate and celebrate our uniquenesses instead of running away from them and lying to ourselves that we are all the same out of fear and guilt. Human beings are suppose to be different-that is what makes life worth living until some 'smart' folks wanted to make our uniquenesses something foreign and evil. We are all people who are people. The fact of the society we live in though, is that different minority groups experience the world differently because people are already biased in some way against certain minorities. And yes, some are biased against skin color. Claiming to not be the race that society labels you is to ignore the Injustice and marginalization that disproportionally occurs in the face of specific minorities every day. We are all equal people despite sexuality, race , gender , or ability, but to say that we are all the same people ignores the Injustice in society. I give my thanks for this video Prince Ea, as I began to realize this truth during my teen years when I began to think for myself. When an individual begins to think for themselves and seek only the truth, you see situations and all creations differently from the flock. What has also assisted me is that I began to challenge those "truths" that bigots and obedient followers believe, and ask what supportive evidence says that a color is a proper identification to mankind, and what part of this body is the color black . The mindset is groomed in to the mind of many people, so sadly the fallacy will not end soon.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/113	0.885

Well if it's really just that, I don't see why you'd be racist .However what makes me feel suspicious when some people mention a similar problem. They're wary and careful and are always worried they might be racist .But a lot of black people live where I live including some who identify with BLM I've never felt for even a second that I had to be cautious with my words around them, I treat them exactly the same as I treat white people and have never been accused of racism . I don't even have to think about my behavior - it just happens automatically. Same goes for all the white people I know. We don't feel at all that we now need to be more careful than in the past. We've probably always done things right.But the one notable difference betwene you and me is that I also haven't grown up in a racist environment. I've never been "taught to hate". When I read your background, I wonder if the people who feel they have to walk on eggshells nowadays and that we live in times where people are accused of racism too unreasonably.. maybe they just need time getting used to such an anti- racist environment after growing up in opposite circumstances. If you are young and think this is a wonderful positive video then you are in for a rude awakingWe are not all the same and our cultures are not equal and if you don't learn this now you WILL learn it in the near future when one particular culture takes over.....and we all know who I'm talking about , don't we. If you are young then join the army and learn how to defend yourself before it is too late. War is not something that just happens somewhere else or in the past - it happens to people just like you and that is where we are heading and young people need to wise up because you are going to have to fight the coming war. May I point out that 96 percent of black people voted for Obama, but skin color or where you are from doesn't have an influence on anything. Also this video is about racism , and in the title you assume I am white. Most people that I have heard call somebody racist , don't even know what " racism " is (trust me I ask them, and they basically describe people so that way they have to be white to be racist) I would also like to ask why people hate Donald Trump, he is getting the job done, is doing his promises, and little 8 year old Jimmy's are getting triggered over him being racist , and they don't know what " Racism " is. RACISM IS IN MANY CASES FAKE (OR JUST A CLAIMED THING) :Keep in mind : when a white and a black fight eachother, the reason of that is not necessarily racism !It's perfectly possible to have a dispute with a guy who has an other skin color without racist intensions. Whites can have the same problems with eachother as a white could have with a black one.Blacks often blame us way too fast in calling us racists. If i say "shut up" to a white , it's not racist . But I can say exactly the same to a black one , and that does not change the situation. A human is a human. In other words : sometimes it looks like blacks want to be discriminated , because they often confront us with racism , blacks are just like whites also humans. If a black one calls a white a racist , he discriminates himself too : he puts himself on a lower level.	Black, Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	10/167	5.988

Leeber, yes, sometimes someone dislikes us for our personality not our race . Or maybe you avoid a person because of some of their past behaviours towards you, not because of their race . Or maybe someone disagrees with your point of view because they actually disagree, it's not because of your race . Maybe you didn't get the promotion at work because you're not a team player, it's not because of your race . We can't assume every time we get turned down or excluded that it is about our race . I still remind myself of this one: it is important that we don't just assume the reasons behind something a person to did. Unless they tell you their full thoughts you might guess wrong. Psychologists say: Don't MINDREAD. It means, don't say, "Oh the teacher looked at me funny, he must think my sweater is ugly he must hate me because I'm [insert race]". Meanwhile the teacher might have indigestion and be very stressed about all the papers he has to mark and he just happened to be looking at you with that facial expression. I agree Leeber there are some people that still need to learn this.	Race	Ethnicity - General	5/197	2.538
Kenson KingAre you " black " ?I wasn't there 200 years ago. All the whites today weren't there. I am from Germany, racism is whole different here than in america. Blacks migrated to europe spontaneously, because Europe didn't join the slave trade. America did slave trade. If your reason to hate whites is the slave trade many years ago, then I see that as a weak reason.	Black, Racism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	2/67	2.985
You know , many people (yes, I mean white americans, but all white americans are in fact descendants from the migrated europeans to the new continent called america) fought for your freedom (if you are black , because your comment confuses me).You know , "whites" aren't evil at all. Some are racist bastards, that's right. but others the opposite.You know , it's also thanks to many white people as well that all blacks got their freedom. Many "whites" were against slavery, so it thanks to them that all black americans got their freedom today. And african countries are also poorer than europe and america. So thanks to the whites a lot of blacks live in a better organized society and have a better life than it could have been if you weren't brought to america. I'm not trying to be rude, and I really do see your point but I don't think labels are the big issues. It's more of respect. See, labels does define us, like I'm bi, animist, artist, transgender etc... they tell each other what our communities our. Human beings survive on communities and socializing. But if we take that away it would just trying to survive. No feelings. But if we just had respect for each community, each label, then we won't have this unnecessary drama. And then again, we need drama in our live. Without bad feelings we wouldn't know what good ones are. If we were happy all the time, it's more just a normal neutral thing. So we need labels, a some drama. But also respect for one another. if you don't respect them, it shouldn't be of their label, it should be of their actions. No human being can be black or white, that by definition has nothing to do with a living thing. It simply is a color from the spectrum of light. Characteristacally white is defined as good, pure, honest and trustworthy. Black is defined as wicked, scary, dishonest and evil. So when you define or identify as white or black it has nothing to do with the color because neither persons skin color actually looks as those colors black or white actually do. people generally have different standpoints on a certain statement,argument or opinion.and that's fine, as long as they tolerate the standpoints of others, and so should we tolerate their standpoints, as long as they don't force it upon someone or something it's fine.for example (for the few people who didn't already get the point i'm trying to make): if person 1 thinks the color blue is the best, and red is ugly, and person 2 thinks the color red is best, and blue is ugly, they can either tolerate each other's standpoint, or argue about which color is the best, and in the first case scenario they would most likely just get along fine, and the second one just causes unnecessary conflict (keep in mind that its fine to debate or have a proper argument about things, but in those cases people don't often attack the people themselves for thinking a certain way)	Red	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Ethnicity - Native-American	4/154	2.597

Nothing short brilliant!!! Would you kindly oblige and make a video for animals and the planet? Humans have to awaken from their indoctrinated slumber. Compassion is the only truth; it is the only way to light.A human being is a part of the whole called by us universe, a part limited in time and space. He experiences himself, his thoughts and feeling as something separated from the rest, a kind of optical delusion of his consciousness. This delusion is a kind of prison for us, restricting us to our personal desires and to affection for a few persons nearest to us. Our task must be to free ourselves from this prison by widening our circle of compassion to embrace all living creatures and the whole of nature in its beauty. There are black people of this planet but there are no white and yes race do exist even if that race is a fraction a DNA. We need to stop acting like history and Europeans did nothing wrong and look pass it. Also, the psychology of human nature will tell you that people don't forgive easily if they know the truth especially if that truth keeps repeating itself. So what I'm hearing is race is a social construct, am I wrong in that statement? Race is not a social construct, it is a biological trait. Granted, there are certain things about how different races act are socially constructed, like why whites and blacks talk differently. Now I am a white man biologically and I can't change that. But the worst thing to be right now is a white, heterosexual, cis gendered male because that is the most common target of hatred nowadays. I am an egalitarian for almost everything, race , gender , religion, whatever. Cade Thumann in the case of white people, there's a spectrum (pinkish, tan , and white). Same goes for black and brown. Of course there are inaccuracies but blame scientists for coming up with the modern race concepts. For census and demographic purposes, labels are also needed, whether or not people affiliate to them. If it wasn't for that, then affirmative action and college quotas wouldn't exist, whether for better or worse. Ok, so some people are bashing the video, saying that it's essentially exaggerating a situation that's simple. This video isn't meant for everyone, the message is powerful. Those that need to and should watch are those stuck in the past, still devoutly racist . The label approach is really meant to reshape the issue of racism so that those who still discriminate against any group of people for whatever reason can look at the situation from a different angle. I liked the video, did watching it have a profound effect on me? No. I see skin color as more or less of the chemical melatonin, the variation of this chemical within each of us is a direct result of nature and evolution. Indigenous peoples will have a genetic makeup designed to give them some kind of advantage within their region. Can an individual who happens to be black be born and raised in Germany? Yes. But track his ancestral lineage back and you'll very quickly realize how an individual who happens to be black can be born and raised in Germany. I choose to look at the differences between ethnicities from a scientific perspective. Individuals who are black aren't black because they're inferior, they're black because of evolution and natural selection. Humans in Africa evolved in response to their environment. Environment is a HUGE part of what makes our skin color vary so much.	Black, Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	7/233	3.004

A world where there are no labels is a world where everyone is a hyper consumerist, hyper individual where your identity is simply based on consumerism and how you choose to identify as. You are simply what you are born as, and that is what ever race , gender and ethnicity you are born as. It's none sense like why people are now identifying as a "dragon" or some white guy recently identifying as a "Filipino" or "Transgendered", its because rubbish like this gets pushed around. You say that you are not " black " but blacks have a tendency of spouting garbage like this to non-blacks and then later, you will identify as " black " when it is convenient for you. We are all different, not equal. To be equal also means to be interchangeable. Which means you can replace the population of say Germany and Japan for black Africans and still somehow have the modern 1st world society that inhabits these countries. You change/swap a people and the culture also changes. National identity is not a proposition, blacks don't create, don't sustain 1st world countries and never will. We are not going to be "together" no matter how hard you try to spout this garbage, because once put into practice, the stark realities of racial differences become apparent. Thus leading to natural segregation.	Black, Ethnicity, Gender, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	6/221	2.715

I think the video sends the wrong message. Race is a social construct, yes, but it has had lasting negative effects on particular groups of people over others. This video promotes the ideology "colorblindness" which just perpetuates the racial inequalities we still have today. In the perfect world where racism never existed this ideology would be fine, but we aren't in the perfect world. That is why I disliked the video.	Race, Racism	Ethnicity - General	2/71	2.817
DoubleGoon What Prince was getting at is that we are equal in the sense of intelligence, traits, etc. Yes, there is racial discrimination, which is what he's trying to address. People shouldn't be discriminated or looked down upon just for being a different ethnicity .	Ethnicity	Ethnicity - General	1/44	2.273
+Cade Thumann I understood what he was getting at, but what I'm saying is we don't live in the perfect world where colorblindness will fix inequality. Having equal intelligence or skill doesn't mean a damn thing when the white kids are going to well funded schools and black kids are not. Money is everything in capitalism; generally you get what paid for.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/62	1.613
DoubleGoon I know. That's what I was addressing. The fact is that people shouldn't be handled differently just because of their ethnicity . Sadly, as you said, this isn't a perfect world because people get benefits based on their skin color as opposed to their characteristics and capabilities. That was the point of this video. Not all ethnicities are treated equally but they should be.	Ethnicity	Ethnicity - General	1/64	1.562
Jordan Peterson has a big chip on shoulder when comes to atheists, transgender people, and promotes censure of certain college courses like gender studies or women studies. Full disclosure: I'm agnostic and I've taken women studies courses.Basically he promotes his own identity politics while denouncing identity politics by calling everyone who disagrees with him, like myself, a "postmodern Marxist". It should also be noted that Peterson has become a hero amongst reactionaries who thinks inequality is a good thing.	Gender, Transgender	Gender - General, Sexual Identity - Transexuality	2/80	2.5
DoubleGoon One thing I would add is that all these laws that prohibit certain ethnicities from doing certain things not only is mean but also unnecessary and messy. Just have it be simple: treat every ethnicity equally and only judge by individuals. In the end, while we may not look exactly the same on the outside, we share the same flesh, bones, and organs. Race has nothing to do with prejudice, bigotry, or disliking someone because of their skin color. Racism is the competitive relationship between groups of people competing for wealth, resources, power, property, and privilege. Race is done collectively as a group not individually. The literal " race " that the rest of the world competed in was lost by Black people a long time ago due to the fact that they were classified as property and could not acquire wealth or resources for hundreds of years. Black people have no power to tell people where they can live, whether or not they can get an education, or send them to prison for anything they decide to criminalize people for. The "ism" at the end of race means to keep the status quo which is how you get the term " racism ". If you think about it, only Black people in America have been treated this way by being blocked from acquiring wealth and resources and classified as property. This was a maldistribution of wealth. Black labor has enriched the wealth of the entire world as all of the other races of people in this video have owned Black slaves at one time to enrich the wealth of themselves, their culture, or their race . The label that the young man in this video mentioned was deliberately done for economic reasons only and it continues to this day. I think people are missing the point. " Black " and "white" aren't labels. They're features. It's like when you say someone has a big nose, or blue eyes, or small arms. They're ways to describe your surface features. If you say to the cops, "this man wearing a jacket robbed me", it's a lot harder to find the culprit than saying, "this tall white man with blue eyes robbed me". Javon Cabbage you are correct. Every single person has a privilege that someone else doesn't. For instance, i have the privilege of living in a middle-class home and having a decent enough life to be able to comment on youtube, but I'm socially awkward. Everyone has advantages and disadvantages. Also, the only privilege comes with money. A homeless white man will not have anywhere near the same amount of privilege as a rich black man (or woman)	Black, Woman	Ethnicity - Black, Gender - General	2/77	2.597

A massive Weeb Yes all that is true. However I don't think you are fulling understanding what white privilege. By the way it does exist and is very prevalent in American society today. It has been less then 200 years since slavery has been over. Was I slave ? No. Where my mother, father and grandmothers slaves? No. However my great great grandmothers and grandfathers where. To act as if that has no impact on my condition and the way society looks at me is truly ignorant. We live in a country that 60 years ago told my grandmother she couldn't go to school or sit on certain on a bus. The level of societal advantage that comes with being seen as the norm in America, automatically conferred irrespective of wealth, gender or other factors. It makes life smoother, but it's something you would barely notice unless it were suddenly taken away or unless it had never applied to you in the first place. Even as black male I have more privilege than a female just for the simple fact that I am a male.	Black, Gender	Ethnicity - Black, Gender - General	2/185	1.081
Javon Cabbage then tell me how you're discriminated in modern times. Today. Not your grandmother, not your father. You, in this day and age of almost 100 percent equality. (It's impossible for the world to be 100 percent equal because every person is different)	Age	Age - General	1/44	2.273
A massive Weeb If they were really features rather than labels, you wouldn't call a black person "black." Nobody in this world has pure black skin, just like no one has black eyes. We are all shades of brown, even "white" skin.	Black, Nobody	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black	5/42	11.905
A massive Weeb Yes sure discrimination is totally over in a country that 60 years ago had segregation please give me a break. Have you missed the mass shooting of unarmed black man over the past few years or how about our criminal justice system that gives me a 1/3 chance as a black man to go to prison at some point in my life. How is it possible that a group that makes up 13-14 percent of the total population makes up half of the prison population. Please explain because there is no logical explanation for that other than systematic discrimination and racism. If you think we've reached 100 equality you are sadly mistaken. Has it gotten better of course. Each generation has it better then the next however don't confuse progress with resolution. Think of white privilege like this Imagine the entire history of the United States as a 241 year-old relay race, where whites began running as soon as the gun sounded, but blacks had to stay in the starting blocks until they were allowed to run and when they final allowed to run there we hurdles that they had to jump that whites didn't. If the finish line is the same for everyone, then the time and distance advantage between the two runners is white privilege.	Black, Race, Racism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	4/220	1.818

Javon Cabbage Okay, that's a lot to unpack:- you do not have 1/3 of a chance to go to prison. It all depends on how you act. The worst cops can do to you without justification is give you a speeding ticket- apparently i did miss mass shootings of unarmed black men. Also there are plenty of white people being shot as well. Everyone is shooting each other and it's a big mess- i would go and check my sources if i wasn't on my phone but i remember that blacks to make up a lot of the prison population, but they are also more likely to be killed and assaulted by other black people (i can't remember the source). And it is honestly depressing that 13 percent of the population makes up a lot of the crime.- the only thing with privilege in this world is money, my man. Get rich and no amount of melanin will stop you from doing whatever you want-once a black man made it into the white house (not cory in the house), we pretty much made it. Race is culture. If you get rid of race you completely destroy the idea of culture and by doing so you make us all alike. So what happened to one of a kind? You're all making us mix for what reason this isn't nature. In nature we go to our own kind, red birds don't fly in the same flock as blue birds, nor owls with hawks. We're not born racist but we grow up learning and adapt knowing it's better to be in the group that's like us! White, Arab, Asian cultures and nations must stay the same! Just like culture not everybody will be accepting of what is outside of the box as to what they stereotypically look like if they were to check in the box. Race is just a social construct created to degrade people. I can prove to you right now that race isn't real. Ex:Mexican people are Latinx. But they are descended from the Spaniards(white people) and Native Americans(their own race). Brazilians are also Latinx and share little to no genetic similarities with Mexicans.Native Americans are their own race but where did they come from? Asia, they didn't mix with other races here. So it's not like a new race was born. Race is false, there is nothing scientific about it.	Nothing, Race	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General	7/90	7.778
If you think race is false then why are there Whites, Blacks, Asians, Middle Easterners, etc? If there was no race then the entire human race would have same physical features. And if you think race is false, then why does the Holy Book of God mention how God himself created multiple races? Different races definitely exist and EVERY race /ethnicity has the right to preserve its identity but of course to still respect all other races/ethnicities and to treat them as equals. But remember, just because we respect other races and treat them as equals does not necessarily mean we can mix because that will just destroy diversity. And God loves diversity. actually you are black or is that spray paint i was also not taught to call someone black and you weren't taught to call someone white you knew that since grade PRESCHOOL its a color not a label not a lie just a fact you treat every one like there evil but there NOT there all different special unique labels aren't to divide there meant to label, it brings us closer together to learn different cultures you're black im white she's black she's white not everyones racist and not every one is normal you know that and for those who are going to say this a lie wait just hear me out all people aren't one color there a rainbow fat skinny black white gay and straight and he is trying to hide that so if you say your not a certain color think again cause labeling does divide us but divide us from people that are bigoted racists and directs you to new paths adventures and friends remember that next time someone labels you cause we all have labels and thats what makes us special	Black, Fat, Gay, Racist, Skinny	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Physical Identity - Physical Features, Sexual Identity - General, Sexual Identity - Male homosexuality	10/186	5.376
labels are necessary, otherwise you literally can't describe anything.You are black, I am white, if you were to say otherwise, I'm assuming you're blind. If being called "black" forces you to act a certain way, then you need to learn how to be your own person, rather than blaming labels. Maybe that's easier said than done though. Most people would rather follow everyone else than to think for themselves.	Black, Blind	Ethnicity - Black, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	3/70	4.286
This is so deep, I almost cried on the inside. I've wondered for a while why people when describing your race would say "your black" or "she's white" other than "your African American" or "She's European American/American", and on tests and important papers when they ask for your race its usually black, white, asian, middle eastern, etc. Why is it that we are the only races described by the color of our skin. I don't mind being called black because black means of African and/or aboriginal decent and I fit that description, and the term white means of European decent. I always thought it was easier to call someone black or white rather than Nigerian American or Italian American. But then you don't call asians yellow, or Latinos/Hispanics brown cuz then that would be racist. But he's right tho Black and White is a label. I am myself and no one can tell me otherwise, so should I circle OTHER for myself on my next exam.	African, Black, Race, Racist, Yellow	Ethnicity - Asian (East-China, Japan, Korea, Philippines, Vietnam), Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Nationality - Chinese, Nationality - Japanese	14/166	8.434

Harry Potteriac I think your point here is valid enough, but that isn't even racism. What if the place that that school is in is all white, and the kids that go there don't have any knowledge that there are people of other skin colors other than white? That's how it was in my elementary school. My teacher would hand us a pack of 'skin colors' and every kid would take the white skin tones. The only ones left would always be the dark skin tones. That isn't an act of racism, though. As a kid, you have no concept of racism. Therefore, your classmates are justified here. If it was in a generally black neighborhood, then the kids would probably refer to the dark/black skin tone as 'skin color' as well. As a side note, the way kids are brought up these days, they are taught that racism is discrimination towards black people. That isn't what racism is. It is discrimination towards a certain race. I bet if your classmate called the dark tone 'skin color' you would not consider it racism at all, which is kind of sad. It's nothing against you, it's just how it goes these days. White people are at the disadvantage. People are always begging for equality by dragging the standards of white people down to the same as black people, which is how it already IS. I believe that people are using white peoples' past of having black slaves against white people now. So by trying to make the races equal, they have dragged white people below black people on the social scale. If a white cop pulls over a black guy, people think that the cop is racist for doing his job. But if a cop pulls over a white dude, it's considered fine and no one even thinks twice about it being racist.I hope you took the time to read all of this, and remember, this was not meant to bash your opinions at all. I get the message he was trying to say but I dislike how he put it. Race is not the problem, people judging or treating you differently for it is. But in this video he made it seem like the only solution is to shun where we came from instead of fixing people's prejudices. To me personally I am proud of my race , I would not shut down the label. It shows where I come from, it shows my culture, my family, my genetics. Why the hell would I want to get rid of that? Honestly, mind sets like this lead to cultures dying out. great video. but even if we stopped labeling ourselves, we'll still be viewed the same way in the eyes of others. for example, if a racist comes up to a person of color and starts harassing them for being different, and starts shouting out slurs, it wont matter if the person that's being attacked doesn't have a label because they're still gonna be in that certain race/ethnicity category to others/society. i personally agree with the video. however, i'm black before anything. when people see me, they see my black before they REALLY see me. when i was in my mothers womb, people knew that i was gonna be black for a fact before they knew my gender . "that black girl" . labels will never go away, like racism or probably anything else with "ism" at the end because the people who enforce those things will have children and people are a product of their environment. feel free to leave replies below. A dark-skinned Nigerian woman friend of mine told me that on a number of occasions during her life other Nigerians had told her that she was "white". My response was to tell her that she had a "Scottish head". To me her head was that of a dark-skinned Scottish woman . She then told me that her great, great grandfather was an English trader (who owned his own boat). He traded from Bristol (which is in Southern England). She couldn't remember his surname ... but his forenames were John Knox - only Scottish men, or men of Scottish descent, use these forenames. I often see black Africans who have European heads. I also observe that such people tend to think and behave somewhat dfferent from Africans who have " African heads".. Here in England the head shape of a minority of people in West Yorkshire is noticeably different from most of the locals. Recent genetic studies have clearly identified them as being a separate " ethnic group" .. that has been living in the area since before Roman times. Nothing more then 'labels', he hits the nail on the head. Never were truer words spoken. It is amazing what we find when we stop and actually LOOK at how our personal 'world' has been constructed through peers and society to breakdown everything around us into compartmentalized labels/words and we never question those. There is no actual race as white or black . You're Latino, or African American, or whatever you were born as. There was never a white or black , those are colors. Nobody skin is the color white, it's just really light beige or just beige in general. Nobody is the color black , there skin is Brown. And even if anybody's skin is white, it's because they're Caucasian or some other race that has light colored skin. Or for all you know, they have a skin disease. White or black , is not a Nationality , nor a ethnicity , nor does it point to ancestral homeland or lineage. For example Nigerian would be a Nationality Yoruba would be an Ethnicity . European American would be more accurate for pale skinned people here in the US whom no knowledge of any particular European nation or any culture attachment of any particular European nation . White is applied to albino people from the Latin word albus . Race is a social construct, it's not genetically or biological at all. Really we don't even no our colors? I find the sad, simply because I see both sides of modern racism wrong. "I don't mean this I think it's pretty :D" But I mean, the 2 extremes I see, one claims to be against racism , but really it is racist , and the other is just racism . what I mean is the people who say things like, "you wouldn't understand what it's like to be Asian because your White" or "Your in the majority so race issues don't affect you as much" Let's be real here, assuming someone of a different color can never understand you, is within its self racist . I mean let me offer a simple question, if I can't understand you because you're black , then how do you know I can't? I mean I'm white, do you want me to believe blacks know what it's like to be white, but white's cant understand blacks? as if our skin color changes our basic function to realize each other's issues. plus you're being self-defeating, after all deciding who and who can not understand you based on race further separates race . "children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character" - Marther Luther King By assuming someone can't understand you because of their skin, is simply going against this. As for that second statement, "Your in the majority so race issues don't affect you as much" I don't even understand how people say this one as if being in the majority means you can't be touched by racism . It simply discounts others issues and makes yours seem worse even though they aren't. Racism was never about who the majority of someone's skin color, in fact, here's a google definition of racism "prejudice, discrimination, or antagonism directed against someone of a different race based on the belief that one's own race is superior" Says nothing about who makes up the majority of a population. in fact, I've faced racist acts, only 2 times but it has happened. Which brings me to my last point, racism today can affect anyone for no reason, it doesn't matter what race you are, it never has, after all. Whites enslaved the Blacks. Blacks enslaved the Blacks. Mongols enslaved the Chinese. Egpty enslaved the jewish. Fuck find a race in history who wasn't enslaved at some point and I will personally give you a cookie. ok i am one of the dislikes of this video. I myself will admit that I am a fairly negative person, but there is good reason to dislike this video.I feel as if this isnt a bad message but it is portrayed in a lackluster fashionPrince Ea is trying to show how the terms black or white are used as pointless labels, and as if it is a bad thing or we are being segregated by labels in the world. However, it isnt supposed to be used in a racist way, as it is literally just a way of categorization. For example, if there was not a name for colors it would be very odd trying to describe the color of something to someone by saying it is color. It is used as a subsection of something co-existing, and is what these "labels" are. They arent racist remarks, just a way of categorization. As you see, not everyone just dislikes videos to spread negativity, but because they think the so called good message isnt a good message. They arent trying to make the world bad, but instead are trying to keep the world fresh and new and interesting, but most importantly right. Dislikes dont spread negativity, they spread what others think.	Black, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	3/213	1.408

necro mantis so... Do you yell at people who say your name cause that's a label. Instead of getting rid of labels we need to recognize that these labels don't make us different than others. Being black or white or asian isn't a "label". Just because you want people to see them for who they are individually, which I agree with, it doesn't mean that you have to deny your culture, history, ethnicity and traditions. Just because I call myself black , white or whatever, it doesn't mean that I'm a racist , and that's why I disliked this video. I get what you're trying to say, but I don't think that you have to say "I'm not black or white" to get your point out. Most people wouldn't say that the color of your skin is the only thing that defines you, so no, I do not agree with this video. Be proud of yourself instead, all aspects of you (as long as they aren't aspects that are TRULY harming people, and to harm someone isn't the same as to "offend" someone). I really like the message youre trying to bring across! Its touching and true but excuse me the approach is a little too much for me. Maybe language has a mistake there as we say people ARE their skin colour. Wrong way of putting things i agree. But jesus people look different! And i mean everybody! In a group of blondes the one brunette is discribed as the brunette! In a group of people with black , brown and red hair the only blonde is discribed as the blonde! And in a group of black people the only white person will be discribed as white! This is only a label if you make it one! Of course you dont always want to refer to that person as "the brunette", "the blonde" or "the white guy" that is reducing a person to their physical appearance and that is disrepectful. But jesus thats how you look! Get over it! I think its the wrong approach to say youre not black or white! You are but it doesnt matter because youre a person! With an individual personality and that has nothing to do with your skin colour! People should learn to accept that instead of denying differences in appearence. Or do you want the whole population to look like identical twins? Thats where youre heading if you start mistaking physical appearance for a label. What he tried to say is that we shouldn't judge people just by their appearance because they true self is inside them. We're thought since the early age that..." these people are like this and those like that ...they tell us who's bad or not...based on what they were thought or of their hatred to others "...but we as individuals who develop our own opinion and are capable to think and judge by the experience, by interacting with people we should know better than to close our eyes and swallow something that are merely "words" and accept... without knowing the truth....and yes there are bad people as well as good people but you won't know until u actually meet them and see on your own... something like that is not recognisable only by their looks or rumours... get it? • •	Age	Age - General	1/140	0.714
Melodie Ellis please listen. It's important to have critical thinking skills. His message was completely inconsequential. The question is who is he trying prove that he not black ? It seem like to me that he denying racism even exist. Matter fact! He is saying that racism don't exist by saying he not black . We have to take under Consideration that we didn't hear any Arabs in his videos saying they are not arabs. I didn't hear any white person in video saying they are not white so as the Indians. But yet! He want to come together with people who never once said in his video they are not labels. He didn't speak as whole he spoken as a individual. Ali Polaris u didn't see all the other people? If they were in this video they must've agreed with him so are the 329K people who liked this video am I wrong ? People have liked this video because he is proving something that they never had the guts to say .. and another hand he's not making it seem like racism doesn't exist ..I mean what is the whole point of this video? He must be confronting it over racism and that's a true fact. Why else would he say it's just a label ..you need to listen to his words cuz clearly u don't understand what he is saying ...here's an example of what's he saying for example the n Word .. he's saying that is just a label that some people who was taught to call us ..but does that mean that's him no. He's saying labels are just labels ..if there wasn't one race on this earth we would all be one ..we would be our selves and that's the only thing that matter ..all the stuff ur saying is so inaccurate	Race, Racism	Ethnicity - General	3/186	1.613

Melodie Ellis it's not about agreeing or disagreeing with him it's about if this video symmetrically humanity. No white person in his video didn't say he not white, no Arab in his video didn't say they aren't Arab.so therefore it can't be symmetrically humanity. You think it's good idea for black man to come out and say he not black . Consider the facts! The facts! let me write this again! facing the facts..... black man are been killed do to their skin color . You are not getting it! I wouldn't have problem with his video, if said he not black , after him... white person said I am not white, etc because it will be "whole" But only him will come out and said he not black . But no white person in video didn't say they aren't white. but you can't see the point because you have no critical thinking. I am against animals cruelty. People like you will agree to this: But I go to the grocery store and buy something which I am against! Which is meat.The actual message is not important than the essentially message.Don't be fucking dumb . Ali Polaris why does a white person have to say they are not white? It's his speech he wrote it ..but did he included white people in their ..yes he did. He said clearly "we would no longer be calling people black people or white people " . The only thing ur focusing on is is first line tf ur not even listening to the whole thing come on now .. it's called read between the lines ..if there were "white people " in there they are also saying that they are not white .. common sense will tell u that tf u don't have to say something verbally to prove something it that person have common sense you would understand what every person in this video tryna prove too not just him. You making it seem like he's the only person in this video. And all u keep bring up is Arabs and this he listed all the races .Listen hun listen to his words carefully cuz u making no type of sense right now ..if he made this video it ha voice for everyone in one voice ..why u think people like this video ..I'm sorry but ur information is inaccurate once again	Black, Common, Hun	Ethnicity - Black, Nationality - German, Social Class - Working class	4/205	1.951
Melodie Ellis why do white person in his video need to call himself not white because it advocates they are proud to be white lol but not even that! He making video bout label and the first thing came out of his mouth that he not black , he telling people in his video who look like the ones are gunning down the man who look like him, and never once deny their label which is white, and you just prove the point by saying he " wrote it. "He"is definition of individual male which mean separated, anything that has separation can't never be truth. So this advocate it was his idea come up with this video about denying his label. And since it was his idea" he has single "prognostication" and this explains the reason why the Arab, and white in his video didn't say they are white or Arab. Because they do not feel like him. And if they did. They would've say after him..., I'm not white nor Arab. You essentially said yourself by saying "He Wrote it" so therefore there must be accordingly. The question is to who?To single man "prognostication that came up with this video.And you be stupid person if you respond didn't get the point. You wrote it yourself, by saying "He" wrote it. ON another hand HE is THE VOICE he made the poem so hes gonna say it. WHY DOES A WHITE PERSON HAVE TO VERBALLY SAY THEY ARE NOT WHITE, common sense will tell you that IF THEY ARE IN THE VIDEO THEY AGREE WITH HIM , IF THEY WERE PROUD TO BE WHITE WHY ARE THEY IN THIS VIDEO, HE IS SAYING CLEARLY THAT " WHITE BLACK AND OTHER RACES" ARE CONSIDERED A LABEL WHAT PART DO YOU NOT UNDERSTAND, HE IS TRYING TO STICK UP FOR RASCISM AND ALL YOURE DOING IS BACKING DOWN U MUST LIKE RASCISM,. HE IS SAYING THAT WHY ARE YOU JUDGING PEOPLE BECAUSE OF COLOR . HES SAYING THAT PEOPLE CALL HIM BLACK..AND PEOPLE CALL ALL THE OTHER RACES BY THEIR COLOR BUT THEY DONT REALIZE THAT ,THAT DOESNT DEFINE WHO HE IS. YOURE NOT PROOVING ANYTHING YOURE JUST DISAGREEING WITH HIM BECAUSE HE IS CORRECT. omgsh I'm stupid but yet you're trying to prove an unnecessary point here come on now. No we pay for education because dumb people like you are hard to teach. WHO SAID THIS WAS SYMMETRICAL HUMANITY you brought that into your mind. YOU'RE RighT who is he trying to prove that he is not black , he has his own opinion why cant he present it without one of yall downgrading him about it. Some people agree with him and why cant they? Because people like you don't listen. HE IS NOT DENYING RACISM why are you constantly bringing that up, every time someone makes a video about skin color yalll have to come in bringing that up like who said anything about that. on another hand this video is saying why do people judge other people for what they wear and their skin color. for example if you see a girl who has nasty clothes on youre gonna thinks she is poor, well why would you think that you don't know her. Another example if a girl that is another race move from a black man because she think he is gonna rape her..why is she judging him cuz of his skin color she don't know him. HE is saying that people keep putting these labels on others when they don't actually know them. No u have to take under consideration that its HIS poem HE wrote it HE is going to say it CUZ HE has an opinion that what so ever people agree with. AND ANOTHER POINT there are many other races in this video lip talking to his words wouldn't they agree with him because THEY are in the video. WHY would they be in the VIDEO if they didn't agree with him? That doesn't make any type of sense. SO meaning the people in this video with different races had to agree with him, on mind ive seen an arab person and an indian person in this video meaning that they agree with him. Very good contribution. Like all the others. Racism makes no sense. However, Do we have to deny all differences now? Without "difference" there is no science no knowledge. Better it would be, if humans would be strong enough to endure differences and still love or at least respect each other. But many humans are weak. Moved between the extremes of there is only me and everything is the same. And in this matter there is no differences between black , white, yellow , pink, grey or whatsoever. And what about cultural differences? Yes, I know, not again. But: Many people give themselves so tolerant when they meet the "others". And when they are alone with their own "kind", it's: "Don't you ever forget that we are better". To be honest, I can respect everybody as long as they respect me. But I can not love any opinion, culture or attitude. And yes, I am suspicious against religions which are base on false promises, nourish and exploit a feeling of "us", and just wait for the apocalypse to hit humankind. I agree with the title of this video. Never mind the rhetoric about labels and social standards/conditioning. Being called "white" or " black " seems so ... damn ... stupid ... Why do the progress-loving masses, even the anti-racist side support this notion by continually using these terms? In my opinion saying anyone is " black " or "white" is in effect racism . I say this because I personally don't understand the reasoning behind colour coding the different people of this world. I've come to feel that that there is no justifiable sense, or practical purpose behind it. It is not visually a truth and neither is it a collective truth. That's my opinion. I'm so happy this is up here. I'm tired of being questioned about my " race " by "my own kind"... I'm done with accepting comments along the lines of "you look more like this" or "you don't look enough like that". I'm sorry that my eyes are too small for some of you to accept me. I'm sorry that I don't fit into your stereotype or under the labels you accepted in your mind. And ironically enough, these same people who alienate others like myself who don't fit the mold, are the first to say "they're not racist ". I have had my share of cruel jokes, but I'm done with that. For me, comments like "you're like this" or "you're like that" (no matter how harmless they seem in the speaker's pov) cut like a knife. My question is why do people feel the need to differentiate in this way? Does it really serve a beneficial purpose? The problem is not being called a color, race . You are what you are, if you're not black what are you? Orange? Blue? We need to differentiate you somehow, only thing that's wrong is that when the labels get turned into insults, people get judged because of it. People need to accept what they are, that's the first step in being happy, accept yourself for who you are, as you are, your body. And you control it. This made me cry, I've watched this video before, but that was a while back and I was younger, now that I'm older I finally understand, I'm crying because it is unfortunately true. I won't lie and say I've labelled myself, only with saying I'm Greek, but I don't call myself white or African, or Australian, or straight, gay whatever. I'm still young, and many people tell me I'm very mature for my age, though i'm not sure myself. I get very angry when someone asks me, whenever a same sex couple is around, "oh my god are they gay? that's so gross, and wrong." even my best friend asks or responds questions like that and it honestly surprises me sometimes, that people are so close minded and fenced off. I once made a speech when i was in year six last year, I was debating about same sex marriage, because it still isn't legalised in Australia because people are too blind to make it legal. But after I said the speech people started to say things to me like you're so gay, and oh my god she's a lesbian but I'm not honestly, it's so dumb to label yourself, why? you don't need to know everything can you just live knowing that you are something without labelling yourself that particular thing, if not for labels so many events in history wouldn'tve occurred. The whole black rights and stuff isn't as big of an issue here as it is in the US, but honestly I'm tired, I'm tired of life and humans and just everything. Everything is just so dumb and useless, there's no point. I don't have any mental issues but, I just don't know what to think or believe anything anymore in this stupid prejudice world. I want to live, but this is not how I want my life to be. I'm terribly sorry for the long post, it's just I can't talk about this to anyone in my intermediate life, they just won't understand, or even most social media forums, well parts of it, and here I know most people will understand. There is a race within the human race , a race to be better. Everyone feels like the have to be better than another person because of the color of their skin, their religion, color of their eyes or hair, the city or state they are born in, etc. We all feel the need to compete and we put others down trying to raise our self esteem. We insult each other, degrade people, murder each other in hopes of proving that their " race " is better than the others. We all claim that we are not racist but in one way or another we kind of are but sometimes we don't realize it. Scientifically speaking, yes there are different races but we shouldn't judge a person on their race because that is when people begin to make the races into labels. In the end we are all humans and we should treat each other with respect and we should grant each other with equality.And please don't get me started on sexism , homophobia , religious discrimination, and etc.Have a nice day :D	Homophobia, Race, Racist, Sexism	Ethnicity - General, Gender - General, Sexual Identity - General	16/180	8.889

I like your ideology, but there is a flaw. Do not remove the labels, remove it's influence in society. Labels are just a unique identifier, if we didn't have this, then who is different, we lose our unique aspects. The issue is that people base biased opinions off of these label. For example, I like the laptop more than the desktop, but people fail to see that they are both computers, because the let the exterior label blind them from looking at the root. It is not the outside that defines you. In the end, we are all pink on the inside. We shouldn't look to the color of our skin, rather we should see that we are all simply humans. But that does not mean we should remove those labels entirely.	Blind	Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/132	0.758

Labels are important. What if we stopped labeling food in stores? Of course people would still understand that the products are different and that they can be categorized into groups and so on based on empirical fact and observation—white is white, black is black , and so on. People would invent labels to more easily comprehend and manage; simply removing a word, in some orwellian fashion does nothing ultimately. Ali Polaris no, your the one being stupid. We are all human, no matter our race . That's a fact.	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/19	5.263
+Ali Polaris1.First of all you clearly missed the point of the video. 2.We are all human that's his message and something that is undeniable.He have all have different skin and facial features but we all bleed the same blood,Have the same heart,Have the same kind of brain etc. He want's other's to starting seeing people for what they are human. 3.I think you aren't understanding anything lolipoppy is saying,what this video is saying and the fact you will probably not even understand what i am saying.4.Not trying to call you racist or anything but the last part of what you stated "We are all Same species. Not that we are all human." Are you trying to imply certain races are subhuman? or rather less than that?	Racist	Ethnicity - General	1/128	0.781
Accelerating Fiction no you missing the point. His First sentence were- I am not black . He didn't say I am human. But who is he trying prove that he not black ? It seem like to me that he denying racism even exist. Matter fact! He is saying that racism don't exist by saying he not black . We have to take under Consideration that we didn't hear any Arabs in his videos saying they are not arabs. I didn't hear any white person in video saying they are not white so as the Indians. But yet! He want to come together with people who never once said in his video they are not labels. He didn't speak as whole he spoken as a individual. If this video suppose to be symmetrical humanity why is he the only person speaking and saying he not label?	Black, Racism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	5/143	3.497
Ali Polaris the video isn't him denying his skin color he's talking about stereotypes and how people would mistake his skin and add it with what they were taught to think of black ppl or white ppl and other races. When he says he's not black he's saying I'm not what you think of my skin or appearance. People In this generation judge others more often and he's trying to stop that, because really once it was no black or white .like he said until people came up with something to separate us.he's not denying racism he's pointing out that labels is another form of racism cuz it could be used against you any time. For example if someone says wow a black guy he's gonna go rob a bank but in reality the guy was a doctor .you see? They were judging him by his skin and his body but that's not HIM that's not HIS PERSONALITY or GOALS in life.idk if you understand a little better now or not but I tried my best. Manasse Ella read what the hell you wrote, read it carefully. Because you bout to prove the level of your critical thinking. He not denying his skin color lol Again his first sentence is... he not black . Why a white person in his video saying they are not white? Why Arab in his video saying he not Arab? Now I want you to considered sentences and correspond to racist situation that black men face .think it over before you answer the question	Black, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	3/82	3.659
Ali Polaris you're taking his wording to directly.he's saying he's not the black stereotype .	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/15	6.667
+Manasse Ella It's not you're fault. Ali is just literally so cling to his own nonsense idea/interpretation which i really have zero idea how anyone could get this idea. I'm honestly starting to think Ali may be racist (mainly due to the stupidity racists tend to go to even if they are not outright upfront about being racist) or at the very least very dumb (most likely). As he completely is missing the point and seems to be intentionally not understanding why he is changing(technically giving the effect as they are lip syncing to his voice) to different races to further get his point across that we are all human and skin color does not define us for who we truly are. And considering the fact he went this quick to the insulting you.	Dumb, Racist, Zero	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	4/132	3.03
Ali Polaris his first words were I am not black that's what the world calls me but that's not me .I feel like you didn't pay attention to the rest of his sentence. when women call men dogs do you think they mean literal dogs ???calling me names is immature and unnecessary .I wasn't even trying to start a argument I said have a nice day and you reply with you're such a moron that was the funniest thing ever . stereotypes were made from labels. like I said before have a nice life sorry I failed to understand your point of view.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/102	0.98
Ali Polaris of course the child is not the same as its mother but in this society its so stupid .I've had my uncle followed in stores before because of his skin and what society labeled him as (a thief , drug addict ect.). And some messed up people think that if they see a drug addict mother when they see the child they would Say wow is she gonna be a druggie too ,and I know this cuz this happened to my friend .its honestly really dumb but it happens in this society and I feel like that's why he made this video because many people are being judged because of their labels which comes with stereotypes .its kinda like a don't judge a book by its cover thing. Ali Polaris I also feel like he didn't say I'm talking about stereotypes but he hints at it for example :I was taught to be black . but really what does it mean to be taught black ? Its how everyone think a young black men should be Like which is part of some stereotypes. When people see a white men talking gettho or from the "hood" they always say stop acting black . I have a Muslim teacher and everyone makes jokes on how she's gonna bomb the school ..it's crazy .lol everytime I try not to reply back I always feel I have to but anyways okay I'm finally done. Manasse Ella Please read what you read!first you stated: He talking bout stereotype black - now you r stated, you feel he not talking about stereotype. you just contradicted yourself. now you go on but he hints example: I was taught to be black but really does it mean to be black ? how everyone think young black men talking ghetto or from the ghetto. this man in the video did not say these words at all. U making up shit. I'm laughing at you right now because you told me you have hard time explaining yourself lol that explains a lot. Let me help you. Labeling can be understood as the act of attaching a label to an individual or else putting someone in a category, this definition perfectly fit this man in video Description, by having different races in his video. take this statement under consideration A stereotype is a generalization of a group of people. Now if he were talking about stereotypes he will only have black People in his video to extravaganza it.I must be honest. you and whoever agrees this video are fucking dumb . What I mean by dumb can't see what this black man is doing. He basically denying racism . Ali Polaris I'm the dumb one ? But you fail to realize that this has something to do with stereotypes? If it weren't stereotypes then it wouldn't be a problem with labels .if I said right now I'm dead you would be like you're denying life .wow its crazy how you focus on him saying he's not black but you don't focus on the rest where he talks about racism ? Or where he says labels cause war? If it wasn't for stereotypes that's like him saying a chair is not a chair end labels, but don't you notice he talks about ethnicity's and race and nationality's which shockingly comes with stereotypes gasp. never in my life have I thought that someone like you would call ME dumb maybe you should be a comedian. Like I said goodbyeeeee now I see why nobody else wanted to waste their time responding to you .now let me go join them ,wait let me guess you're gonna be Like" you're the dumb one " so immature as usual. even after I said bye you would STILL respond. MADGAMER GIRL Anyone who disliked this is someone that doesn't agree with it, racist , sexist, hates freedom, or just a dumb ass. And who came up with a " Black Race ", or a "White Race "? That is a color, not a race . A Caucasian's skin is not literally WHITE. And an African/African American's skin is not literally BLACK . We use slangs for African/African Americans and Caucasians, not the real names. But we don't use much slang for Japanese, Mexicans, Native Americans etc.. Did you know, that the Indians they found in America by explorers, are not Indians? People thought they found INDIA not America. They're NATIVE AMERICANS. Now we call Native Americans Indians, even though they aren't. All in all, WE CAN NOT BE ANY RACE . There are studies where you spit in a tube, and you see where you come from, like a company, "23 and me". There was a man that said he HATED Germans, but guess what? He turned out to be 14 German! Basic summary of the video: Prince Ea does not bring the facts into the equation and relies on how he feels. Prince Ea, facts don't care about your feelings. You ARE black , it's a fact. I AM white, it's a fact, get used to it. Doesn't mean we still can't all get along, but there's no denying the fact that we are diverse, that's what God wanted, diversity; he made no two people exactly the same.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/76	1.316
Jackson Pope And yet if you factor "God" into the equation you have less sense than he does. The only physical proof of God or his religion is the Bible, which could be and most likely is another fictional book made thousands of years ago when there were only millions of people in the world instead of billions. As time progressed, culturization of the human race allowed for the spreading of such fiction. Everyone else views Christianity how Christians view Hinduism: It's entirely folklore. Moving on, the point of this video is to give every living person an equal opportunity in the world, not to make a black person Korean. He is signifying that we need to look past our physicalities and be who we want to be. You want to be a person who worships a deity. Some want to worship hundreds. Some don't worship any. That shouldn't determine who we are associated with or who we are supposed to be around. We can be heterosexual, homosexual , bisexual, or anything else we say we are. Y'know why? Because we said so. You can't use "society says otherwise" as a valid reason why we can't because laws, government, rules, and common sense are all ideas which have been copied down onto tablets or papyrus or paper. They all make it easier for us to get along. However, they are not laws of nature. We were not given a crash course on these ideas before birth because they didn't exist when homo-erectus did. They're a social construct made by man.	Black, Common, Homosexual, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Sexual Identity - General, Social Class - Working class	4/259	1.544
He is saying that our bodies are black , white, etc.Yes, God made us diverse, but he didn't make us to use our skin color as a definition of who we are are supposed to be. I find this video slightly offensive. I'm white (English, Greek and Czech) and my race and where I'm genetically from means a lot to me. This video is saying that race is bad because it means nobody is exactly the same. If everybody was the same physically, it would be boring. We wouldn't have the song Young, gifted and black , because black people wouldn't exist. There wouldn't be brilliant varied characters in fiction, because everybody would look the same. All the famous singers in the world would be identical in appearance.If everyone is the same, nobody is different.Note: This didn't offend me because of my race , but because I am a human being. Great video, and I agree with the sentiment of it. My reservation is that sometimes saying black or white is the quickest and most obvious way to identify someone in a group. Are we to dance around the obvious and say things like, "The guy with the blue shirt who's standing to the left of the water cooler", rather than saying, "The white guy", when all the other people have dark skin? So you're saying there are no biological differences between races? That race is no more than a social construct? Wow, wait until all the people with blue eyes find out! Racism and discrimination are wrong as a matter of principle, not of science. There are 3 principle races in science; African , East Asian and Caucasian. Exploration of the genome has shown that all humans, whatever their race , share the same set of genes. I don't agree with this video because the guy is overthinking this way too much. So what if we're all called different things? It's not meant to have a negative effect. Racism doesn't happen because people think they're all different. Are you gonna complain why there's so many names for species of fish? Are you gonna say, "why can't all fish be called 'fish'?", and then claim that the animals kill each other because they're called different things? What dreamy is saying is correct they were defeneding themselves since the people who worshiped idols hated Muhammad because they thought he was spreading lies...but heres a verse Aggression is Forbidden. Fighting is permitted only in self-defence.The Quranic verses on this are very clear. God repeats, "do not aggress", multiple times. Only if attacked, is one permitted to fight back. If the other party refrains from aggression and offers one peace, we are told to stop fighting.Rules of War*[2:190] You may fight in the cause of GOD against those who attack you, but do not aggress. GOD does not love the aggressors. [2:191] You may kill those who wage war against you, and you may evict them whence they evicted you. Oppression is worse than murder. Do not fight them at the Sacred Masjid, unless they attack you therein. If they attack you, you may kill them. This is the just retribution for those disbelievers.[2:192] If they refrain, then GOD is Forgiver, Most Merciful.[2:193] You may also fight them to eliminate oppression, and to worship GOD freely. If they refrain, you shall not aggress; aggression is permitted only against the aggressors.*2:190 All fighting is regulated by the basic rule in 60:8-9. Fighting is allowed strictly in self-defense, while aggression and oppression are strongly condemned throughout the Quran. [5:87] O you who believe, do not prohibit good things that are made lawful by GOD, and do not aggress; GOD dislikes the aggressors.[8:61] If they resort to peace, so shall you, and put your trust in GOD. He is the Hearer, the Omniscient.[4:90] ... if they leave you alone, refrain from fighting you, and offer you peace, then GOD gives you no excuse to fight them.The Quran also reminds the submitters (muslims in Arabic) that they should not be provoked by past animosity into committing acts of aggression (5:2). Additionally, God insists that submitters (muslims) must be absolutely sure before striking in the cause of God (4:94). Anyone who offers one peace, cannot be attacked.[4:94] O you who believe, if you strike in the cause of GOD, you shall be absolutely sure. Do not say to one who offers you peace, "You are not a believer," seeking the spoils of this world. For GOD possesses infinite spoils. Remember that you used to be like them, and GOD blessed you. Therefore, you shall be absolutely sure (before you strike). GOD is fully Cognizant of everything you do. and Life is SacredThe killing of innocent civilians by suicide bombers and terrorists is strongly condemned in the Quran. Taking any life—except in the course of justice, is forbidden. Even so, capital punishment is discouraged. Thus, those who commit these horrible acts are clearly not muslims, rather very evil people who try to justify their hatred and actions using God’s name (7:28). The Major Commandments[6:151] Say, "Come let me tell you what your Lord has really prohibited for you: You shall not set up idols besides Him. You shall honor your parents. You shall not kill your children from fear of poverty - we provide for you and for them. You shall not commit gross sins, obvious or hidden. You shall not kill - GOD has made life sacred - except in the course of justice. These are His commandments to you, that you may understand."[17:33] You shall not kill any person - for GOD has made life sacred - except in the course of justice. If one is killed unjustly, then we give his heir authority	Quran	Religious Identity - Muslim	3/697	0.43

jz1207 yes u are correct 100 I hate this Adam dude..people who just go around and convince other people to change to Christianity because their religion is the right one ugh why we can't just leave everybody alone and believe what we were born to believe Islam is a religion not a race	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/53	1.887
+Short Videos no one is born into religion. religion should be discussed and debated, just like any itellectual or political subject. making it taboo just allows people to believe crazy things (like scientology) without being challanged. I'm just fed up with people ripping on christian's as either idiots or nazis, and then turning around and complimenting an illogical, cruel religion like islam. It needs to be talked about. only the one who is unconfident in the validity of their position will shut down the drbate, as you are doing. Debate me, don't label me, jerk. +Short Videos I already saw it. "let's love the people who hate! that'll fix everything..." prince ea has a big heart and a small head. be practical, not sympathetic. it takes 1 hateful imam to radicalize a whole mosque of muslims, so you either need to arrest the radical imams or challenge the validity of the religion. there is nothing wrong about saying "hey, you're believing a dangerous lie you know." and then talking it out. otherwise, everybody would believe what they believe and insist everybody else is just delusional. (many will continue to live that way, but you can at least convince some that everyone else is not delusional or stupid. Also, you need some serious grammar help.	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/119	0.84

the message is that we are all humans and it doesnt matter if we are italian, scottish, chinese, african , american me are still humans it doesnt matter what skin color we are. lables are separating us from eachother and starts wars and we are thinking that if we look different its bad. like if an american saw a mexican the americans wouldent want their kids near the mexican kids and thats wrong you need to see eachither as equals even is they dont look like you accept them and make them feel happy they are not being scolded at other people the same race as you. forget about race , forget about skin color, forget about the way they look and appreciate their personallity.thank you for whoever read this full comment. Thank you for this message, I agree with you completely. When I was very young I can remember having a dime and my buddy had 15 cents. Together we could get a Ice Cream Sandwich and a small soda. We would sit outside the that little country store and share both the Ice Cream and Soda. People would walk past us and shake their heads. When I was about 11 my Grandfather said I couldn't hang out with my " Black " friend anymore. I was devastated, so we would just meet up on the road and walk to the store. When my Grandfather drove past us he stopped and told me to get in the truck. I refused, even though, my friend said go don't get in trouble. That was worst beating I ever had, and at that point I understood what a prejudicial attitude can result in. May Grandfather professed love for me, but his prejudice allowed him to harm me. I did keep my friend and we were Marines together.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/171	0.585

I truly admire the message in this video. It's something everyone needs to here, especially young children. I think the human race really needs to make a change in the way we see other people. We shouldn't see people as their skin color, or their religion, or their culture, or their gender , or sexuality, or whatever. Everyone should have the right to just be seen as an individual human being. Like, things like that shouldn't be ignored, and we can't just say we "don't see race /religion/ gender /whatever", but those things should never DEFINE somebody. Just because you're part of a certain population doesn't mean you shouldn't also be seen as just a unique individual. We shouldn't define people by stereotypes, or by what other people of someone's religion, sexuality, etc; have done. We should define people by who they really are, not by what we see. If we could just take the time to really look at others and actually take the time to UNDERSTAND and LISTEN and look past these LABELS, I think we could all begin to understand each other just a little more, and not be so quick to judge someone based on certain features or their looks or personality or ancestry, and to not judge people by what we see or know/think we know, because at the end of the day, we are all just human, and that's the only absolute that should exist in regards to people. So don't assume based on what you think you see or know, because the truth is, you never truly know who someone really is or why they do something or act a certain way until you ask the right questions and truly try and understand them beneath the surface. Beneath the LABELS.	Gender, Race	Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	2/293	0.683

Race is real. A " race " is a subspecies of humanity. There are significant biological differences between the various subspecies. Do you really think, that changing language will do anything to help the real problems in black communities?	Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/65	3.077

” I just wanna ask ONE question.Who would you be if the world never gave you ”label”? Never gave you a box to check? Would you be white? black? mexican? asian? native american? middle eastern? indian? No. We would be one. We would be together. No longer living in an era of calling human beings black people or white people. These labels that will forever blind us from seeing a person for who they are,but instead seeing them through the judgemental,prejudicial,artifical filters of who ”we think” they are. And when YOU let an artificial label define yourself... then my friend, you have chosen smallest over greatness and minimized yourself,confined and divided yourself from others. And it is an undeniable fact that whenever there’s division there will be conflict,and conflict starts wars. Therefore, every war has started over labels. It’s always ”US” versus ”THEM” So the answer to war,,racism,sexism and every other -ism is so simple that every politician has missed it... It’s the LABELS We must rip them off!!! Isn’t funny how no baby is born racist? Yet every baby cries when they hear the cries of another. No matter their gender, culture or color. Proving deep down we were meant to connect and care for each other. That is our mission and that is not my opinion that IS THE TRUTH in a world of souless fiction. Please listen. Labels only distort our vision. And that is why half of those reading this, will dimiss it or feel resistance and conflict it with. But just remember,so did the caterpillar... Before it broke to its shell and became the magnificent butterfly. Well these labels are our shells and we must do the same thing so we can finally spread our wings. Human beings were not meant to be slapped with labels like groceries in supermarkets. DNA cannot be regulated by the FDA. We were meant to be free and only until when we removed them all and stopped living and thinking so small will we be free... to see ourselves in each other..for who we truly are.”	Black, Blind, Gender, Indian, Racism, Racist, Sexism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Ethnicity - Native-American, Gender - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	8/347	2.305

I actually like this one.Edit: races weren't made in the fifteenth century, that's just a lie. People have been creating groups ever since the beginning. It's why humans are so successful. People go to the people that are alike because they will probably relate to them and have pleasant social interaction. This doesn't say that you can't relate to someone of another ethnicity , but that in a splitsecond decision, you will always go to the person that is more like you visually, even if the other person is more like you, and a better fit for you on the inside.
