I'm a jew. As I am reading some of the anti jew comments I can see a lot of hate but not really understand why.As a jew I do nothing different than you christian/muslim/etc person, it's not like we hold meetings in synagogues discussing how to take over the world, while we drink christian babies' blood. We're literally just a bunch of people, scattered over some places of the world.Do you have something against me for being a jew? You don't even know me.To be honest I don't care whether you're jewish, muslim, buddhist, or whatever. We're all humans. We all need to get over the hate and spread some love instead. That's how wars will eventually stop too, when the hate will turn into love. Anyway sorry for that long comment lol and have a great day wherever u are <3	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/145	0.69

George Let's start at the beginning. In 722 BCE, the Northern Kingdom of Israel fell to the Assyrians and the majority of its population was apparently expelled. These are the "Ten Lost Tribes". This sort of forced migration seems to be part of standard part of Assyrian management of newly conquered territories. In about 586 BCE, the Southern Kingdom of Judah (remember, that Israel had been divided into two distinct kingdoms) was conquered by Babylon, and only the notables led off (the "Babylonian exile"). In neither of these cases do the Hebrew/Jews seems to be particularly singled out.Lets skip to the Roman Era. Here, the Jews are unique. Roman policy granted wide religious freedom—however, there were two exceptions. 1) secret "mystery cults" were widely suspected, 2) groups that refused to sacrifice to the emperor (first Jews, later also Christians) were treated as suspect. The Jews led a series of wars against the Empire called the "Jewish Wars" that ended up with the destruction of the Temple after the First Jewish–Roman War (67-70 CE) and ultimately the majority of the Jewish population of Roman Province of Judea being killed, exiled, or sold into slavery in the aftermath of the Bar Kokhba Revolt (132 – 136 CE). These are exemplary of the unique relationship Jews have within the Roman Empire, but is likely not what you're asking about.Most of what people think of are the Medieval and Early Modern expulsions from states in Christian Europe. One thing to note is that Jews existed in these places at all. No other religion besides Christianity existed in these states at all. Judaism had a special status that, say, Roman Paganism did not, and therefore they (often) were the only religious minority allowed to exist. So, it's important to note, they were the only religious minority that could be expelled from Europe (besides various Christian "heretics"). It's worth noting that the vast majority of expulsions of Jews were done by Christians, with a few isolated (and generally late) cases of expulsion by Muslim rulers.Karen Barkey and Ira Katznelson have an interesting article, whose name I forgot, that argues that the expulsion of the Jews by England in 1290 and France around the same time were the result of "state formation"/"state making". Remember, for most of post-Roman history the centralized state as we imagine didn't exist. It was an overlapping series of domains where rulers claimed varying levels of sovereignty. Katznelson and Barkey argue that the Jews were expelled in England as a compromise between the royalty and the nobility in the process of state formation (primarily, the nobility owned Jewish bankers a tremendous amount of money, as Jews often formed the only source of credit). In France, they argue that they were expelled for a different reason (I believe because the King owed them money, but I can't be sure). But in both cases, though the exact reasons were different, the expulsion of the Jews was part of the same process of state formation, a result of negotiations around the clashing interests of royalty and nobility. This pattern, they argue, is repeated in other states (Western and Northern Europe is generally seen at the vanguard of modern state formation in Europe—see Charles Tilly's epic Coercion, Capital, and European States, AD 990-1992).It's also worth mentioning that Jews were often the only available scapegoats.

I think there is a Difference between "Jews" and "Zionists" and yeah the Zionists have a dangerous Agenda (they are not limiting themselves and want to have ultimate power and control over the world) and have too much Influence on Things like Banks, Media, Multinational Corporations, Movie Industry aso asf. They use the USA as a Tool to execute their Will - in the USA there are about 700 zionist lobby groups and they control the course of the country. And they manipulate the public opinion. The Fact that you are not allowed to criticize them without getting beaten by the "antisemite" club speaks for itself. Yet not every Jew is a Part of that. As not every Russian was a Bolshevik, not every Chinese Man a Maoist and not every German a Nazi .	Nazi	Ideological and Political Identity - General	1/134	0.746

Jewish control banks from around the world meaning they control governments and their future, they are the real reason why we wonder why there's poverty and deseases that kill people daily, they have the power and control of a great nation which is the U.S, they make the US fight their wars they lie about the real truth making it seem like they are the victims. I never met a Jewh, i studied a lot abouth world war 2 and understand where they come from or there religion, the thing is, its always dificult to have an opinion about a people that you never have known or encounterd before, bad judgment always is top when you dont know about a certein people or etnecety, I know jews are as any good as every common people, yet my perception of them is bad, maby its becouse they are so closed in there circle, that makes them very vulnerable about what people think about them, if they opened more and let more people in there circles, maby public opinion changes over time, as in this moment, I know they exist, but never seen one or encountered one in my city, so my perception of them is bad, not that i desaprove them, but over all not knowing makes me have a bad perception. I wonder how many more years we have to spend to hate or like Jews, their religion and general behavior. This world was a different planet 2000 years ago and even just 55 years ago during World War II. No one's religion is more true than the next one and no one human like figure is or was God. Surely anyone with intelligence has to agree on a more communal definition of God, as a divine and very intelligent source to be able to lead the planet's creatures through evolution over millions of years.The amount of people killed in religious wars over the true and only God and HIS commandments is astounding and simply does not affect the 21st century any longer. I believe that because of the CLAN like brotherhood of the Jews, their desire to be educated and hold high offices with good pay to be able to rise positively and quickly to power after being dispelled from so many cultures in the past, may be just jealousy. They figured out that family groups and learned skills were necessary to establish themselves to their liking in a new country.To have 8 jewish lawyers, 5 doctors and a few bank owners in your family is definitely more advantageous in our capitalistic society, than a farmer and electrician, not to demean this valuable trait. David Bamber LOL. There has never even been 100 countries in Europe. I love the way Jew haters like you inflate the figures to the point of absurdity in order to justify your sick need to hate. And yes....the fact that my ancestors were kicked out of a good number of European countries and city states (nowhere near 100 though) was due primarily to the bigotry and intolerance of your ancestors. In any case, we have our country back at long last and we are armed and ready. You still have the numbers but now we have the weapons too. Won't be like the bad old days, I promise you that. David Bamber I doubt it. The Jews were not violent and did not engage in criminal acts. They just went about their business while keeping to themselves. They were probably always afraid because they were a defenseless minority living on the good will and charity of others. That insured that they were very well behaved. I believe that the primary reason why Jews were kicked out of these countries and city state from the Middle Ages up to the Age of Reason was due to the bigotry and intolerance of Gentile Europe. It was really, in part, the times. Even Christians (Catholics and Protestants) were very intolerant to each other after Luther broke with the Catholic Church.	Age	Age - General	1/117	0.855

Semitic:The word Semitic comes from Semite.Semite means a language that has a root system.Words come from a root word composed of three letters/symbols.All words contain the essence of the root word.Example: mango it can mean, Big mango, Small mango, Good mango Bad mango, Sweat mango, etc.A word cannot have more than one meaning.Semite is one who speaks a Semitic Language.It has nothing to do with religion and or any tribe, etc.Semitic Language.Arabic. If Arabic, is your first language, you are a Semite.You can be an Atheist, Christian, Hindu, Jew, Muslim and or anything else.None Semitic Languages:English, Greek, Hebrew, Latin, and Spanish.Example: Case, Suite Case, Court Case, Transmission Case, Flue Case, etc.If your first language is English, Greek, Hebrew, Latin, and Spanish. Many of these comments have hundreds of thumbs up and only confirm the fact that anti-semitism is prevalent. Casually stating that jews are greedy and that is is "fact" that jews control the media and banks is also anti-semetic. using the fact that jews have been kicked out of many countries as proof that hatred of jews is justified, is also antisemetic as you are seeking to justify the persecution of jews. As the world turns there's a reason why so much energy has to go into worrying about why this is even a thing. There's very cool, lovable Jews among us and that's why it's not Jew, or Christian or Muslim person that deserves hate it is the levers of control that are exploiting true believers, like mom used to say hate the sin not the person bc sinning had to be taught and it's not the poor persons fault. Religions have been trying to control people since we speared woolly mammoths in one form or another and became magnitudes more powerful due to the invention of writing, scribes and priestly class mingled together into royalty and the law became what they said going so far as to deify themselves ,sound like lil bit like anyone yet? By controlling the flow of information and veiling much of it under instuttutions who hid meaning within mysterious deceptions astrology, numerology, riddles etc kept this cabal able to exert vast influence with relatively few members in essence having others do their bidding enthusiastically. Like mom said many times -theres nothing new under the sun. Whether these religions are at their shenanigans under the sun or hidden in shadows it's interesting to see who is active exerting influence to what ends these days and to discern to what ends. You cannot convince me that any man will write something only for the glory of God's spirit inside of us without giving way to temptation to glorify himself with ultimate hubris, oh wait, it's been done who's God's so called chosen according to the person writing it, is it the weak, the pious the righteous? This tipped me off although to be fair every tribe and extended family , nation and loose organization of similiar ppl considered themselves better than everyone else, it's practically the name of every tribe ,they say that We are the people, not you or anyone else. That's all good except that we are living in a exceedingly small world where knowledge is leveling the mountains of ignorance so that the human family that lost iit's roots are meeting each other again and becoming aquainted and do not like being lied to, toyed with scammed, cheated or kept out of the loop in any way the men of one country feel as worthy as any other and especially when people start claiming to be part of a sacred bloodline that considers others inferior or different in some way it is either wrong and must be denied any place in modern discourse or if it's going to be used to prove a point then will be taken as what it is , a bigotted position that invites fierce competition to prove it and that's dangerous as we have seen. Religions are due for a cleanup, Christianity has tried and succeeded sometimes and missed the mark at other times , Islam and Judaism need more than ever to answer this call and especially Judaism in many ways is long overdue for a deep cleaning if it's to lead minds into the future, theres a problem when the very books that Faith's claim to receive moral authority are smeared with lies and unable to admit where wrong and change. I mean religion has a amazing way of bringing ppl together , it needs to find out where it's going after that like maybe some worthwhile goals that help the guman condition soul equality and rights for all men, but if it's going to keep out the other 99 of the human beings on the planetthen maybe it's prejudice, racist evil or just worthless and should go the way of Gobekli Tepe and bury itself in dirt.

Probably one of the reasons of that video is to show Anti-Semitism is existent and alive. One can see that just by looking at many comments shown here.So if ever one says to himself that Anti-Semitism is a myth , same one should ask himself how come there had been Pogroms against Jews all throughout History in last 20 centuries (needless to mention Holocaust), One should ask himself how come Israel is criticized more than all other countries put together when victims in Israeli -Arab conflict are not even 1/100 of victims in conflicts of middle east from 1948 (when modern Israel was created). Some other ideas are commented here such as "If everyone hates Jews ,something is wrong with them" or "if they are hated by all their neighbors it means something" - that at least is typically an Anti-Semitic sentence usually commented by people who do not even know they are Anti-Semites. Others (mainly Jews ) say that they live in the USA (or Europe) and nothing happened to them or were never offended , well try wearing for one week Just a Kippa (or Yarmulke) and check that again.Anti-Semitism is not a Jewish problem but a world's problem , it's about hate in general and is the basis for all other forms of hate (including color based ones) so if one finally agrees that he hates Jews should asks himself if he is a hateful person. Anti-Semites follows a particular pattern – in the main they are of low intelligence and are fascinated by conspiracy theories, which (if suited to their purpose) they adopt. The bearing of false witness is their predominant trait; passed down to them throughout the ages. As their antecedents were willing to bear false witness - so they have adopted the practice. This flouting of the Ninth Commandment is what their existence is based upon. Their hatred of the Jews is based on jealousy, the jealousy of success through hard work and ingenuity and a creed of helping each other, an eagerness to learn and to pass on that learning. The most famous Jew was Jesus Christ; who according to history was born with these traits. The Irony of the Ante-Semites is that many of them would not exist today without the contribution that Jews have made to Medicine. If they themselves had not been saved by one of these medical breakthroughs; you can be sure that their antecedents would have been. Of course had their antecedents perished they would not exist. I am called "anti-Semitic." I only have a problem with Jewish Supremacists, Semitic or not, who hate me because I'm not one of them. If you're not a Jewish Supremacist, and don't auto-hate based on skin color, I don't have a problem with you. I try to do unto others as I would have them do unto me. If I'm wrong, let me know. I do the same for you. Before being labeled "anti-Semitic," I was a total Jew sympathizer. It was "Jews" who changed my attitude toward them. Beginning with the woman down the street in the late 80's who wanted to pay me $1.00/hr when the rest of the neighbors were paying $2.00/hr. for me to babysit. I was taken aback but nonetheless still a sympathizer. You know... "the holocaust and all."It was the rabbi who taught the university course on Antisemitism in the early 2000's who rocked my world most directly and dramatically. Was I the only non-jew in the class? It was such a traumatic experience for me that I cannot remember how I even got out of it. I know I didn't complete the course. Perhaps I barely escaped their trauma-based mind control in time with a withdrawal.I have a bachelors and a masters so I must have left the class somewhat peacefully. Can you imagine 16 weeks of hearing about how wonderful the Jews are and how evil and murderous everyone else is? When you're a "white" person, already well indoctrinated into the whole white-guilt perspective through public schooling; eventually the camel's back breaks and all is lost. A person can only handle so much false "guilt."The evil of these Satanists is unhinging. So, no, I'm not anti-Semitic. I AM TOTALLY Anti-Satanic though. Someone who is truly of the Almighty CREATOR of All Things is not a liar, one who corrupts good for evil, a thief, a murderer, a pornographer, a pedophile, a rapist, a monopolist, or a supremacist with hatred for everyone who is not like them. Joe Soap There are anomalies and paradoxes and obscure passages in every religion... For example why do Christians insist that Jesus is God when the Jewish scriptures tell us 'God is Not a man Nor the Son of Man' Numbers 23:19, or Why did Jesus call the Caananite woman and her people dogs Matthew 16:26.... Lastly and Most importantly don't confuse local factional religious interpretations, customs, and practices, and traditions (which are non-binding by Jewish law) with what is considered Halakhah (Jewish law) which is binding. I will go the extra mile for you and explain in a little more detail in what that last sentence means. Circumcision on a male child on the 8th day is Halachically binding it is Jewish law called Halakhah but thanking God for not making you a woman, gentile, or anything else for that matter is not, its actually called 'aggada' (non-binding) an optional local and sometimes sectarian tradition or interpretation and in reality most of the time shunned in prayer in most synagogue liturgy within the broad spectrum of Judaism. I hope that answers your questions and if I could offer you one last piece of practical advice that might help you along this journey that we call life its not wise to paint with large strokes, lines get blurred and many of the important distinguishing details get lost in the process."In line with the accepted tendency to define aggadah as "that which is not halakhah," one could say that the relation between aggadah and halakhah is similar to the relation between theory and practice, between idea and application, and, in the area of ethics, between character and behavior." C Kake System is the problem Our Life should be around these Great Qualities..... 1, Show all living creatures; all the love and kindness as much as you can. 2, Only try to be honest with yourself. If you try to be honest with others, you will get into big trouble soon or later. 3, Aim only one target at a time; otherwise you are chasing two rabbits and you will miss both. So, the reason behind it. Have one powerful reason and never ever give up the one you want the most. 4, Don't try to be good person only but be the powerful person. We will grow to be the one or we will die. There is no other choice. 5, Always learn and look for to improve something your life. 6, You are not alone. Love and faith the high power reduces unnecessary stress in life. But never completely rely on it. 7, Success and happiness are the byproducts of our usefulness. So, always increase the possibility of success. 8, Life is not going to be easy. Because of our unnecessary things. Eliminate all the unnecessary things as much as you can by organising yourself well with the environments. 9, Never believe anything without the proper evidences. 10, Always try to give more than you take. Because it is dignity character of the divinity within you. As long as people continue to see themselves as separate from everything else, they lend themselves to being completely enslaved. Success depends on how well we relate to everything around us. Joy comes from that bliss of connectedness. I believe that unarmed truth and love will have the final word in reality. To love; you should have good heart. I am a good person until I see a person better than my standard of goodness. Being good is the progress towards a worthy cause. Love is God. Whoever lives in love, lives forever. How selfish it is to try to keep something forever? Love is all about nourishing, nurturing, sharing and expanding the love within you for all. The principle to which we adhere to is that we have kindness of love at heart for the whole of mankind. As long as there is the unnecessary differences within us; we can not live peacefully so we have to eliminate all the unnecessary differences among us so we can love all. People abilities may vary but not there true love. If we love a person God for a reason then we love the reason but not the person. No reason is the reason to love the person because true love never fails. So do not compare or measure the true love as first or the last but love all truly. If you love people truly then you can understand people. If you don't love then you don't understand people at all. People are controlled by system why? The Cyclical Consumption is the current economy all over the World. It is making the scarcity problems of the earth finite resources to deteriorate day by day. Current Monetary System is legalised theft. Real money is Gold and Silver. Scarcity gives the money more value. Real money won't lose it's value. Michael Epstein Statistics and other facts can be distorted and misrepresented. You have to make sure that you're getting your information from places that aren't trying to tell a story. For instance, are the facts you have merely numbers? Historically written with primary source certification? Do they have an unbiased approach, with nothing to tell other than numbers or history or the like? Or are your facts written next to a headline? A subtitle? Some text that clearly indicates the end goal? Are the headlines often specifically against a certain group, regardless of if the author or speaker themselves is in said group? So, the first two sources I've seen are two youtube videos (with varying reliability considering one of the videos has likes and comments disabled, which silences dissenting opinions, and that same video has a woman who acts like a spokesperson for her entire community ) The second video over emphasizes mere aesthetic differences (as if a majority of jews are 100 pure blood or something), and still cites no evidence in the description or comments. The altnet article is a whole other story. I understand very little of overseas politics so I'll leave that be for the moment and analyze the websites as valuable information sources. The website definitely has a story to sell, and a LOT of "he said - she said" going on, with a few sources scattered between. I'd be ok with it as a source, but approach with caution of the news site's need to tell a tale conflicting with it's necessity to tell facts as well. Since youtube videos are considered valid in this discussion: [LINK] The video explains that while main reasons were originally for stopping the spread of communism a la Red Scare style, Isreal is now creating a metaphorical wall and quarantining the Middle East thanks to Muslim extremism like ISIS. But, it still stands that lobbying is very much an issue, and one of the main reasons I dislike capitalism as it's being applied today. Even so, Isrealites should not be treated like garbage because of their views, much like how Palestinians shouldn't be treated like garbage because of their views. Disagreements should only go so far. Disliking someone because you disagree is too far, in my opinion. Ashkenazi means Germans. Riparoo Weak people who do not want to take responsibility for their own lives have to find others to blame for their own failures in life, it is why they are soo weak. Them saying there are too many successful Jews is them saying they are not smart or successful enough to do it themselves. Otherwise they would be doing it. Of course there are a lot of successful Jews.Jews, Asians & Hindus all do the same thing to be in the top three in income in the U.S.LOW CONSUMPTION OF ALCOHOL . 3-4 Times the college graduation per person than the U.S. average. Not having more kids than you can afford to put through college, not having kids outside of marriage. Creating businesses their kids can run. Yah, do the right thing & good things happen. Guess what! Anyone else can do this as well. I get tired of listening to other people's jealousy. It takes 10 times the energy in life to blame others & make excuses than it does to do the right thing in life. AssGoblinWell, Jews do far better than any other ethnic or racial group on IQ tests and while a lot of people don't like IQ, for reasons like alleged [sic] cultural bias, IQ is an excellent predictor of both future academic achievement and future life success and there is no arguing these facts. So it is curious why the overwhelming majority of Jews, the world over, vote Far Left. In USA Jews vote about 80 for Far Left candidates. Indeed, with the exception of Blacks, Jews were the most reliable Obama voters and Obama was probably the most Far Left AND most anti-Semitic candidate. I believe that surveys like these are racist because they imply that everyone who hates Jews is "Anti-Semite". Idiots who make these kind of surveys and who invented the term "anti-Semite" to signify the person who dosen't like Jews are either illiterate because they don't know that Jews are not the only Semites (Arabs among many others are also Semites but the autor of the video claims that much of Middle East ist Anti-Semite, so its basicaly like saying that everyone who doesn't like Texas is Anti-American) or are being racist towards the Arabic people and abuse the term Semite. wonderfullife Not at all. Quran gives special status to Jews as 'people of the book' along with Christians. However, Jews have repeatedly backstabbed Muslims. Well, now they have to go and create a standard for Anti-African, Anti-Middle-Eastern, Anti-East-Asian, and so on.
