The worst part is when your dad starts telling crazy childhood stories like how he used to walk to school 5 miles everyday or that once he beat someone trying to steal from him	Crazy	Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/34	2.941
i hate seeing parents being strict with their kids. my parents aren't strict and i think i can say i grew into a very responsible young woman :) but i think it depends both on the kids and the parents, maybr some kids need strict parents to become more adult and responsible	Woman	Gender - General	1/52	1.923

i have a friend whose parents are so strict that they sent my friend's sister (she's 16 or 17) to an all-girl school so she can't date. few days ago she came out of the closet as lesbian lmao	Lesbian	Sexual Identity - Female homosexuality	1/39	2.564
I am 27 and can't be completely close to my parents. Majority of my interests, style and wishes are being judged and misunderstood. That's why I better open myself to someone like me than them.When i was a teenager it was a lot of drama. Some things not happened because of them are fine now but other ones.... I still can't completely forgive them....To be short.... our relations are much better,but still old memories cut my soul and make me suicidal from time to time.....	Old	Age - Over 65s	1/87	1.149
If the first girls parents were so strict she wouldn't be lesbian	Lesbian	Sexual Identity - Female homosexuality	1/12	8.333
My mom when I started school: Dont you ever talk to boys.My mom when I started puberty: Don't even look at guysMy mom when I started senior high school: I will kill you if I see you with a guy.My mom when I'm 25: wHeRe iS yOUr HusBaNd??	Senior	Age - Over 65s	1/51	1.961
I'm not allowed to wear shorts, crop tops, leggings, skinny jeans, regular shirts, or tank topsI can only wear shirts that are 1-2 sizes bigger, dresses and skirts if I wear leggings underneath, straight or baggy jeans, and sweatpants that are baggy	Skinny	Physical Identity - Physical Features	1/43	2.326
My mom flipped bc I went to a to the movies with my girl bestie and my boy bestie, oh ya and he's gay My dad won't let me date till I'm 18 bc that's when he stops having control of me also I've had 3 boyfriends since I was 13 and they still don't know	Gay	Sexual Identity - General, Sexual Identity - Male homosexuality	2/56	3.571
this is just one of the dumbest rules parents set for their daughters they allow their sons to date at age 15 but they make their daughters wait even longer this isn't for protection because the idea of protecting is only an excuse because a patriarchal society only wants to control girls for their clothing and their love lives	Age	Age - General	1/59	1.695

well I was just talking about the double standards parents set on their children Luckily my parents never did it with me otherwise i would be making out with a giant teddy bear when i turn 25 or become a crazy cat lady	Crazy	Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/43	2.326
The only time i go out is grocery shopping WITH MY PARENTS. Im only allowed to wear dresses WITH leggings. My parents freak out if i wear jeans and a t shirt. Reply with ur parents strict rules.	Freak	Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/38	2.632

Bane - at least you know your sexuality, I don't know what gender I like	Gender	Gender - General	1/15	6.667
My parents also told me that i shouldn't wear sleeveless dresses so when i started puberty i then forced myself into gaining weight just to prevent being an object for men's sexual desires if i wasn't taught to stand up for myself i think this is the reason why feminists in USA are the female versions of Jabba the Hutt because they are morbidly obese	Obese, Sexual	Gender - General, Physical Identity - Physical Features	2/65	3.077

wait till u meet my indian parents...	Indian	Ethnicity - Native-American	1/7	14.286

I totally understand this coming from and Indian household it is so hard to do what you want or even have a personality but you know at least I'm grateful 4them	Indian	Ethnicity - Native-American	1/31	3.226
Don't get me wrong, I do understand how annoying it must be to grow up with strict parents, but my childhood was a complete mess because of violence and a total lack of rules. I'd be out drinking on the sreet's at the age of thirteen, nobody gave a damn about where I'd spend my nights. One time I got so drunk at 14 that my friends had to carry me home and just left me on my bed. I pissed myself, threw up and all - nobody noticed. I was so glad to have gotten away with that the next morning, now I know that I could have died that night.I've been dealing with alcohol abuse on and off since then, now I'm 23, got my degree and haven't had a single drop in 13 months. I love my parents and know they love me, but what they loved even more was their careers. They didn't only neglect me but also my younger siblings. When I was 14 my brothers were 3 and 5 years old , they often got up at night to sleep in my parent's room or to get them to bring them back to bed and say goodnight one more time. My parents didn't like that and locked their door. Since I didn't have a key for my door, my brothers would both come into my bed to be close to somebody, and I had to share it with them which kept me from sleeping. I complained about it but nothing changed. When all of this started to show and my grades got worse and worse, my parents would pretend that it was all my fault.I could go on telling these stories for hours and it truly sickens me. Both ends of the spectrum can be very damaging.	Age, Nobody, Nothing, Old, alcohol	Age - General, Age - Over 65s, Age - Youngsters, Behavioural Addiction - Alcohol	6/304	1.974
0:11 They are religious.I am Indian . And have saw this videos different parts of world.I initially thought that parents being religious creates problem only in India.but as I saw videos I come to know it is problem in this literally every part of the world.Religious people just destroy the lives of others and specially their kids.	Indian	Ethnicity - Native-American	1/60	1.667
Thought Indian parents were more dramatic and strict. Lol nevemind.	Indian	Ethnicity - Native-American	1/10	10.0
My parents would seem strict at first glance because they're Indian honestly my parents are some of the kindest people I know they literally never say no to me and they aren't mean to anyone so :) I love my parents	Indian	Ethnicity - Native-American	1/42	2.381

So im 12 And i cant go to sleepovers And no one can Come To my house To Have a sleepover And my parents are Like if i go to someones house They should Come To my house the next time or else they be Like "why would you go To their house?" And i went to a New school so i cant (always) hangout with my friends from the old school coz "you Have To Have friends in the New school blah blah blaaaaah" - - And the New school kids are annoying And they hate me i can only be sure that i can go to birthday partys but its ok one LIKE Helps me get friends in the New school	Old	Age - Over 65s	1/122	0.82
I wish my parents were strict instead of having sex and doing weed all the time.	Sex	Gender - General	1/16	6.25
Many strict or traditional parents make Massive Hyperbolic statements over girls for their clothes or their love lives they blame them for sexual harassment unwanted pregnancies or STD's and use the "boys will be boys" excuse just to sugarcoat it and defend perpetrators believing it's for their protection which is just further from the truth this worsens the problem Girls should be allowed to make their own decisions on what's right for them they don't need protection and should defend themselves	Sexual	Gender - General	1/81	1.235
My parents treat me like i'm at. They started treating me like I was 18 since I was 13 years old	Old	Age - Over 65s	1/21	4.762
Parents when they were younger could survive without phones and devices because (in my case) my mom's parents weren't strict and they had no reason to be bored in their room watching Netflix and staying in their room for 6 months straight doing so they could go out with their friends and sleepovers and hang out but what do I do nothing I basically live in my room and have horrible social skills I try but I can't do anything and they wonder why I have no friends and people think I'm weird look I'm trying but my parents are too strict and they don't realize how it's messing with my life they won't even listen to me anything I say is irrelevant to them	Nothing, Weird	Age - Youngsters, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	2/125	1.6
So basically growing up with African and Asian parents	African	Ethnicity - Black	1/9	11.111
As an Indian I can relate to it much more than I should	Indian	Ethnicity - Native-American	1/14	7.143

Honestly having strict parents is the worst since I'm an only child. I'm also an introvert (INFP) and sometimes, I honestly want to just go out with friends, I don't like being cooped up all the time, but my parents never let me go out. They wonder why I am so quiet, well it's because I'm not trying to get in trouble because everything I say gets me in trouble. I end up setting high standards for myself and it becomes unbearable. My dream is to be a veterinarian when I grow up because I love working with animals, though I have never had a pet, but my parents says school comes first. 98 of the things you learn in school aren't useful for the future; we all know that. I swear I had a mental breakdown after my mom found out I had Reddit and was posting because Reddit is my escape and she took my phone away, took it back but now she is home and I was working on my keyboard so she left me alone (ending here before i get in trouble)	Mental	Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/186	0.538
want to know how strict my parents are?I'm a flaming 12 Y.O lesbian that isn't allowed to cut my hair until I'm 21	Lesbian	Sexual Identity - Female homosexuality	1/24	4.167
I am 15 and no one have any idea that I am Lesbian	Lesbian	Sexual Identity - Female homosexuality	1/13	7.692
Strict Parents are notorious for using the strawman fallacy they scapegoat everything normal as being a bad influence on their daughters this isn't "protecting" their daughters from being objectified and sexualized this is only worsening the problem Daughters are taught that standing up for themselves isn't "ladylike" and parents sugarcoat sexual harassment by using the excuse that boys will be boys and that girls should stay silent which are just outdated gender stereotypes	Gender, Sexual	Gender - General	2/73	2.74
when I was 14 (I'm 15 BTW) I told my father about my male friend (who's actually my love interest) I was surprised when he didn't get mad at me when I was little my mother told me that i cannot have male friends anymore when i start puberty this not only made me angry it made me sad a little because when i was a toddler i used to spend time with my sister's male friend who passed away at age 14 from a liver disease this was the reason why i view men and boys in a negative light	Age	Age - General	1/101	0.99

I just got yelled at by my mom for eating a banana when I was so hungry I started feeling super dizzy while I was studying for finals	Banana	Ethnicity - Asian (East-China, Japan, Korea, Philippines, Vietnam)	1/28	3.571
I have such strict parentsLeggings need a long shirt to cover buttNo boysLiterally nothing	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/17	5.882
honestly no girls should wear short shorts at too young of an age . that's why girls get raped and it's kinda gross to see girls dressing like grown women. there's nothing cute or positive abt wearing short shorts at a young age .	Age, Nothing	Age - General, Age - Youngsters	3/42	7.143
Oh my Lord. My mom was sooooo strict she won't ever allow me to go hang out with my best friend. I told her we were just going to the movies and go eat and then hang out more. But then she said OMG YOU ARE A WOMAN , YOU'RE GONNA GET RAPED, YOU'RE GONNA GET KIDNAPPED, ABDUCTED, KILLED BY ALL THESE SICK MEN, BLAH BLAH BLAH BLAH like omfg it's so annoying. I really wanted to hang out with my friend cuz she might move schools next year and I wanted to have the opportunity to gain the best moments of our friendship because I really do love her as my best friend and I am absolutely heart broken to hear that she's moving soon but my mom is just holding me back every single time. I just hope that one day JUST ONE DAY, she'll let me step my foot out of the house to the mall to have fun. Honestly, strict parents are one of the worst kind of parents ever cuz they don't ever understand what you're going through and then just expects you to behave like they wanted you to. We're not ragdolls which just sits at one spot until it was controlled, we need to go out too sometimes. Mom, step up your game, please	Woman	Gender - General	1/220	0.455
if only parents taught their daughters about self defense and would stop sugarcoating sexual harassment by using the "boys will be boys" excuse and defending perverts	Sexual	Gender - General	1/26	3.846
but parents often sugarcoat sexual harassment against their daughters by using the excuse that "boys will be boys" and that girls should stay silent they think they are protecting girls from being objectified and sexualized but in reality they are just making girls feel insecure about themselves and are worsening the problem	Sexual	Gender - General	1/52	1.923

I'm 20 and still not allowed to date... I tell them my boyfriend of 4 years is my gay best friend lol	Gay	Sexual Identity - General, Sexual Identity - Male homosexuality	2/22	9.091
Eugh my "mother" was super strict but about weird things like I could date at 11 and be alone in my room with him with the door shut but I wasn't allowed round his house in case I got pregnant... like someone please explain the difference between being in my house when it's empty Vs his house when it's empty...there is none! If I was out with my friends past 7 at night even in summer I had to phone her every hour so she knew what I was doing and if I missed one phone call off her I would get in trouble like I remember once I went to the toilet and had a missed call from her... apparently "almost wetting myself" wasn't a good enough excuse to miss a phone call! And my absolute favourite was her bitching that me getting a bad grade on a test was because I didn't study enough yet she would moan at me if I studied too much because "I need to do something else to take a break" like get a grip woman! xxx	Weird, Woman	Gender - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	2/184	1.087
My parents are strict on me but not my older brother, we have 4year difference. They bought him a car when he was attending high school. Im a senior with no car still. He would bring his girlfriend to the house and I had to sit in the living room since we shared a room. I don't even get to go out. He is unemployed currently and they just keep giving him money monthly, I rarely get $20 a month if I'm lucky. Don't get me wrong, I applied to work at wing stop since a majority of my friends work there from school. And they did not let me work, they said I'm going to become ok with earning a small amount & wont try hard in school. What can I doo ?????????!!!!	Senior	Age - Over 65s	1/134	0.746

Not even gay boys were allowed in our rooms	Gay	Sexual Identity - General, Sexual Identity - Male homosexuality	2/9	22.222
I know this has nothing to do with this but at my old school which was catholic on dress down days we weren't allowed to wear leggings because they show too much body shape But jeans were allowed...	Nothing, Old	Age - Over 65s, Age - Youngsters	2/38	5.263
Here's my child hood.... nothing cause still I'm 11 and I'm not allowed to hangout with my friends and let me go to my friends house	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/25	4.0
I don't think my parents are strict, considering my religion and nationality . But I go to an International school with very free kids, so I sometimes think they're strict. But they would give me my own laptop, phone, and money/card. They let me hang out and wear pretty revealing clothes for where I live. but, they have a strict 9 PM curfew (note that 9PM is already 3 hours into the sunset in my country) and does not let me go to over city trips without any adults, wear crop-tops, and I'm not supposed to watch movies that are rated above my age (I still do anyway lol)	Age, Nationality	Age - General, Nationality - General	2/108	1.852
I relate to all of it being with African parents and living in different country and it's the worst	African	Ethnicity - Black	1/19	5.263
but most of them are obsessed with enforcing gender roles on their children	Gender	Gender - General	1/13	7.692
Similar to my family because my sister and I are allowed to have friends of 2 genders and are allowed to wear anything we want and go out whenever we want I started having a boyfriend at age 10 and he was such a softie and my father accepts me for who I am because i'd rather choke on a tide pod than be "perfect little goody two shoes" who has to live in extreme celibacy but it's a shame that parents would always force gender roles on their own children like putting restrictions on their daughters but letting their sons get away with everything which happens in all countries	Age, Gender	Age - General, Gender - General	2/110	1.818

Maths.....My grandparents were all college principals.And they used to be like”if you don’t do maths homework,We will send you to boarding”.But no.He was not at all strict.But we had a lot of creepy HOSTEL stories.After a year my dad sent me to boarding.Without anyone asking him.He went at age 9.I went at 7.HOSTEL IS SO MUCH FUN.I AM THE SMARTEST ALONG WITH 2 OR 3 OTHERS.I AM FUNNY.WE STARTED A SPA.I AM POPULAR.WE DID HORROR NIGHT.I WAS CREEPY GOOD AT PRANK-ING.LALALALALALALALALALALALAALALALALALALALALALALALLAALAL	Age	Age - General	1/91	1.099

Safiya’s mom is just like mine haha except that I don’t have a curfew and have never had one because my parents are probably the chilliest Indian parents you’ll ever find. (All Indian parents are like Safiya’s mom, as I know all too well.) Also, just like Ashly’s, now that I’m almost out of high school, my parents are waaaaaaayyyyyy chiller than they were less than three years ago.	Indian	Ethnicity - Native-American	2/69	2.899
Personally, I am thankful that they have given me everything that I needed, but them being strict now that I am 23, I feel like I am stuck in a life of a 13 year old for the rest of my life, and it is very frustrating.	Old	Age - Over 65s	1/47	2.128

Y’all, I’m feeling like a bird in a cage, I’m 17 years old and my mother won’t let me go for a walk by myself. Since I’ve had such a sheltered life my social skills are super bad, I can’t even talk to a stranger without nearly having a heart attack. I need help building confidence but I have no clue how if I can’t leave my front door step!	Old	Age - Over 65s	1/70	1.429

This is so relatable. I come from an strict Indian family and my parents don’t let me wear shorts (if I do, they have to be 3/4 shorts) and I am not allowed to wear tank tops if I do, I have to wear a baggy shirt over it. Having strict parents thought me to be much sneakier with my moves. Like, now I wear a jacket over my tank tops then I take it off when I get to school.	Indian	Ethnicity - Native-American	1/81	1.235

I wasn't allowed to watch cartoons or basically any tv, not even anything Disney. No jewelry or piercings. I couldn't even wear makeup until I was 13, and even then, it had to be natural. No hair dye or crazy hair styles. Side bangs were barely allowed because they were too worldly. No skirts above the knee. No right or ripped pants. Jeans couldn't have rhinestones on the butt. Shirts had to cover at least half of my butt. Nothing sleeveless. Swimsuits had to be long shorts and a rash guard top. No lace could be on my panties. I couldn't be alone with boys. No sleepovers. Supervised internet until I was 12, and after that only if there was parental control on the computer or phone. No WiFi after 8 PM until I was 15. No 'worldly' music. Not even Christian pop. Anything with a beat was bad. No dancing unless you were home. No meat or dairy. CookieNinja8 that's true but one problem atleast makes you capable while the other one makes u handicap.Maybe not everyone likes studying but if one is educated then they have more opportunities to work and navigate this world and when ur parents force u to study they aren't getting anything out of tht. While I'm from a country where certain types of parents hate you for being a girl and make u completely incapable of doing anything other than housework....yes, too much study pressure is a different kind of problem and tht needs to be addressed...I'm just happy that I'm getting an education and some rights and freedom...life is very different when you are not allowed to date cause if you do...u r literally forced to marry or locked up or killed by family in name of Honor killing...u are not allowed to study, pursue a career or wear anything revealing..Not allowed to talk to boys, not explained about sex , expected to marry inside caste... not given any choice...u can't talk back, dance or play or learn to ride a bike(motercycle) be sweet and nice and most importantly obedient ...I can go on but u get the point..... I'm not belittling anyone's pain because that's wrong but I'm saying u have an advantage of getting to study...use it.	Sex	Gender - General	1/219	0.457
my parents arent strict about what i wear, but when it comes to having a friend who is the opposite gender , they get so strict mainly my mom. i was not allowed to talk or be friends with a boy until age of 13, but it was only going to a mall with a group of ppl that were both genders, as long as the majority of ppl were girls. i couldnt date until i am 17. ik it sucks	Age, Gender	Age - General, Gender - General	2/80	2.5

I wasn't allowed sleepovers over at other friend's house, only at my moms house (single mother with only one girl). But later she explained to me that she was only trying to protect me from sexual predators. You can never really know if another adult has nasty thoughts or bad intentions, and now I really understand why my mom wouldn't risk my safety by sending me over to other people's houses. Don't go overboard in the other direction, that's a common mistake people make (ironically, your kids may see the flaws with having few rules, be strict with their kids, and start the cycle over). I'm very fortunate that my parents are not strict ( any more ). My mother used to be very strict about a lot of things and now that I'm older (17) and she's getting older, she realized that restricting me a lot was depriving me of enjoying my childhood to the fullest, and sadly the same was done to her when she was younger. Now she's much more lenient and loves meeting my friends (male, female, gay , straight, trans, etc). My dad has never been strict and only requires that I hang out with the right people ( not drug addicts basically lol ) because I've never snuck out or done drugs and he completely trusts my judgment. Linda Carrasco God says it's a sin, so it's a sin. And yes God says we should love each other. If it seems I am spreading hate it is my own human failing. But God knows all and knows all of us. He wants to bring us all to Him. Being transgender is an illness, being gay is an illness. People just won't acknowledge that because of political correctness. But God loves each of these individuals; what they are suffering is from the devil. Everything bad is from the devil. Who enjoys being gay or transgender? A person with a healthy mind would see it as a curse. You get lots of suicidal people from these categories. It's not a good thing. It causes great mental distress for the person. Marie Munzar wtf is wrong with you.... If he wants to consider himself a male, he can and if he wants to consider himself a female, he still can. he is a trans man.. it's not exactly an illness, And religion has NOTHING to do with this. It is not gods choice it is the person's choice.Why isn't it normal? He's still a human. He breathes oxygen. He needs food and water to survive, like the rest of us.there is nothing wrong with being gay or anything else besides straight. It is not being selfish, if it's what makes us feel good and it doesn't hurt anybody, so what's the big deal? What wrong with being trans? That's right, nothing . Want to know what is wrong though? Being rude and saying "Its an illness", and other stuff about 'God' and no, not everybody loves God. Not everybody believes in God. So don't go around saying it's gods choice. Its not. Its their own choice.God is not the start of everything, TONS of people don't follow him, and its people like you that pis$ me off. It's not us that are wrong. It's You Marie. It's YOU. You are wrong. YOU are selfish. Not us. We can be who we want, it's what we consider ourselves, and you don't get to classify us. You are coming at this all wrong!! If you want to lead someone to Christ, saying that they have a mental illness is NOT the way to do it! You're going to steer them away from him. If someone told you, you had a mental illness, would you come running to their religion w open arms? no, no one would. I get that you're trying to do good. but I am looking at these comments & cringing at some of the things you are saying. if i was some athiest or something, I wouldn't to join this religion. as Christians we are supposed to love ppl & show it, not tell them something is wrong w them! to any gay , queer , bi, trans, whatever you are out there, I love you & God loves you. If you get anything out of this argument it is that. Plz never forget that. no matter what you do, God will NEVER stop loving you. He will always be there for You. Yeesh, watching this makes me realize how laid-back my parents are. I've never thought of them as strict, but I never thought of them as lax parents, either... Guess they're pretty laid-back after all! I'm 19, but since I'm still under their roof, I follow their rules which include no smoking, no drinking, and (of course) no sex before marriage... I've never really felt like breaking any of those rules anyway. The idea of getting hooked on smoking terrifies me (and I'm a singer), the thought of enjoying a wine or beer sounds nice, but I'm worried that I would become an alcoholic (seems to run on my dad's side with his uncles). I've never been with anyone, so there's no telling how easily I would cave to sex in a relationship with someone, but I like to think that I have a level head.
