Giving the camera to that kid and letting him go film was a seriously fresh idea.You dont get that on any type of travel documentary. To see the young ones and how they act naturally was brilliant.Changing the game Bald!	Bald	Physical Identity - Physical Features	1/42	2.381
Vegan4life not just4fashion It’s like that in many rich areas of the world aswell though. Its quite normal for young teenagers to act that way in this day and age unfortunately, since the rise of TV and the internet, it’s so easy for kids to observe what should be kept exclusive to adults. This humanistic psychosis will get a lot of people in dangerous situations, see people for what they are, sense the danger, (but do not show it)..There are countless people that will take advantage of this do-gooder mentality. People have been living around gypsies all their lives, so it's kind of arrogant to think that all these Slovaks/host nations have never thought of being nice to them or talking to them, it's the worst mistake to try change people. Never trust people who are in groups like these, regardless of their ethnicity , since in a group you don't have to take responsibility for your actions. And people tell me not to be racist . Fuck off. Gypsies are nasty	Racist	Ethnicity - General	1/13	7.692

All the romani hate in the comments is disgusting. People are born into circumstances which are difficult; this is the life of any group with a history of nomadism. With the urbanization of the industrial revolution, nomadic life was made impossible, and those nomads who settled down had no material history of privilege in that society. Where are you going to put your trash, the trash which was forced upon you through modernization, if there is no designated dump? This video made me happy, to see the thriving life in what are less than favourable conditions. Instead of scapegoating the problems of your nation upon an underprivileged class, why don't you call into question the Powers which stochastically regimented them into slums, and prevented them from higher education, basic living necessities such as a garbage dump, standardized plumbing, and so on. People are not driven to "live in squalor" out of choice or out of cultural nature, this is a racist lie meant to justify continuing the injustices and the peoples' ignorance of said injustices.If you want to actually change these peoples' lives and bring them out of this situation, don't continue the hate which justifies their oppression. How must it feel as a mother knowing that your children will never grow past what you have given them, to have "no chance" to leave Lunik 9? So much of the prejudice I see pointed towards the romani people is echoed within the prejudice against black people in my own country, and they both have similar material conditions which have lead for the need to justify that prejudice. Given no other choice, many black people in America live in redlined houses infested with lead, and neighborhoods with no public support or urbanized systems.I reiterate this once more: Nobody chooses to live in oppression. Nobody willfully throws their trash out their window knowing that a garbage truck will come next thursday. Nobody commits a crime for money not out of desperation. You people who reduce the struggles of the Romani down to their race, or their culture, are fundamentally ignorant of how societies form and how upper classes make their profits.	Black, Nation, Nobody, Race, Racist	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Nationality - General	8/361	2.216

The problem is in the government a few little facts u get 60 something euros a MONTH a month, child benefit was cut from 25 to 5 euro a month on one child, if u want a job i would say more than 50 of them will have a statement that will be pointed out that they wont accept gypsies! So tell ne if u are a mother or a father of lets say 2 kids u are getting just over 100 euro a month what will u do pay for your bins or feed your kids? They cant pay for water or electricity the ones that emigrate come back and buy houses in which they pay for everything a normal citizen would. Even if a person really wanted to be successful it is impossible in this country as we are not treated the same as we have no rights as we are blamed and are treated because of how we will but no one will ever say well hold on why are these people doing all this well because they are not treated fair and yes there are gypsies that will never change and thats because they will never forget and forgive even if they move to a different country. A lot of it also goes back to where they are not very educated as it goes back to the government as they have not provided the same for gypsies as the normal slovakians. This is the same thing as you would have someone in Nigeria or other poor countries but in today's world if u are racist against a black person u are in deep trouble so everyone has to treat eachother right and as the years go by the new generations take this one as a normal thing and racism slowly but surely disappears because no one is born racist ! I fucking hate Gypsies and this video proofs once more that those people are mostly uneducated, lazy, filthy and naughty. There is nothing good about them. Here in Germany we offer them a new house and give them money for free. But after a year the whole building got destroyed by them and everything around them is in a great mess with rats and cockroaches. They rob, they steal and lie, beg, there is nothing good about them. They were originally settled in India, but even the Indians hated them, so thats why they had to leave and came to Europe. During the period of the "Third Reich" those Gypsies were called as anti-social people and being brought to labour camps. Maybe thats what they deserve. Kick their lazy asses. It's fascinating to see how the gypsies are the same from Turkey all the way pass Romania, and into Slovakia. I also ran into them in London, telling me they're Bosnians, and by calling me Sheikh or saying the traditional greeting of Islam. But I immediately knew they were just walking around pretending to be Bosnian, assuming that we would feel sorry for fellow Muslims, and that it would be crazy for them to say that they're Syrians because we would immediately converse with them in Arabic, and assuming that no Arab would speak a word or two of Serbo-Croatian. Nonetheless, they don't look anything like neither Bosnians or Syrians, and whenever I uttered zdravo kako si! They were lost. I later found out from the local Londoners that most of them are gypsies from Romania, who own villas back in Romania from all the money they gather here. Jb Jaguar Is Europe bigger than Africa, no. Anyway, let's not argue much about this. We speak your language , it has now become mother tongue for some of us but we still keep our indigenous languages, especially those of us who speak English. As for the French African colonies, the least said about them, the better. France had fooled them to the point of not being able to speak their own African languages again except French and they still keep on paying annual post-colonial royalties to France. So sad. may be can you please put some thoughts why these people don't want to integrate, as I can see they want to improve thier life, may be they don't have means to do it, as I have heard from so many that gypsy neighborhood is always a pain. In India too there are gypsy people, although most have integrated now with mainstream, what I have seen is they are not bad people, they do steal etc. because they don't have jobs, money etc. which has changed now as thier children are educated now.	Gypsy	Ethnicity - Roma	2/93	2.151
IndiaTV They dont want to integrate, trust me. Gypsies are the least favourite ethnic group in whole Europe - Bulgaria, Slovakia, Britain, Sweden, you name it - wherever they are, they cause troubles. Canada? France? UK? Never heard about that?Tho, there are thousands of gypsies who integrate without issues - they have work, often even decent education, same with their kids.Dont worry, state have many programmes for integration, financial supports, donations, study programmes. Efficiency? Minimal.	Ethnic	Ethnicity - General	1/77	1.299

xlukas this entire section tries to completely ignore an absolute ostracization of gypsies all over the EU. It's very easy to just say that they are all at fault, they ruin everything and only to crime, but this is so absolutely ignorant and people don't know the context. You can see documentaries about it (about gypsies in Eastern Europe) and the thing is even the ones that "make it" have jobs, kids go to school, have apartments are usually still treated like shit in Eastern Europe. Sure, they might go through their life 80 of the time not having any problems, but then that 20 something happens, for example, the story one documentary followed was of a gypsy man being assaulted almost to death by locals, and the police, hospital, everyone just tried to get rid of him while the people who assaulted him mocked the family. There are 100000's of instances like that. Sure, there are all sort of programs to try to help and integrate to society, but most of it is just a show. Now think of it, if you can't even feel safe to not be assaulted just for existing, what do you do? You go back to "ghetto". It might not be the safest place, the hygiene is shit, education is forbidden, but at least there is community that will not stab you for just existing. And so the cycle continues. Lukáš Soki I'm from London. I looked at Dubi and Teplice on google earth and they both look too nice compared to the shithole I went through, although it was about 8 years ago. My wish is that anytime any video documenting something bad (situation, living, crime, whatever) comes out, I would love filmmakers/youtubers to mention or even better to show the city, living situation and people nearby, because for example from this video it could seem that whole Slovakia lives this poorly and in bad condition and this is completely common , eventhrough that this is shocking even for other Slovaks to see this and close to this place people are living completely different lifes, have cars, jobs, nice houses, there are shopping malls, historical places, clean surrondings, parks, everything,... It´s not because I´m defending Slovakia or Europe there, but it gives me sense to mention this on travel channel, because next time other video can be about other countries and I don´t want to feel like ´´Oh that´s disgusting! I would be so affraid and I don´t ever want to travel to this country.´´ even when in reality the bad looking place (or whatever) was just an exception and I would be absolutely missing other beautiful and enjoyable places to visit in that country. For example close to Lunik IX there is Košice city and it´s worth the visit. I don´t want to feel like this about other countries and I would appreciate to see things I can´t see from youtube in some context and be explained to me to have an idea what the overall situation really is and how much whats showed to me is different from the rest of the country maybe, because even 5km from place like this you can find completely different life :)	Common	Social Class - Working class	1/266	0.376

Every country has problems with homelessness, addiction, petty criminality and so on. Ethnicity really makes no difference because these are socioeconomic problems. Countries with less corruption, less inequality, better government services and more liberal policies are consistently the best performing countries in the world when it comes to tackling social issues. In successful countries we view everyone equally, we don't leave our neighbours to rot and act as if it's not our problem.	Ethnicity	Ethnicity - General	1/73	1.37

The story is that even Indians didn't like their brothers the gypsies so they banished them from India. Also they are called " gypsy " cuz the Europeans thought they came from Egypt. There's some races/ethnicities who appear to have a natural way of living that would make them poorer if measured by normal modern standards.....could be that they have a work/life balance that leans more toward the life than the work side, just as part of their culture.....we probably shouldn't expect that every race will always earn the exact same average income, and that if they don't, that means the system is unjust. It's just not part of their traditions, genes. They have always been nomads, not stayed for any longer time in one location. One make it nice enough within one's living space, but what's on the outside is some place they will leave soon anyway. girls married and pregnant at 13-15 years, no education, generation after generation, a bad circle. If one only could take the girls out of the families before that age , and got them to school and college, given them some other options in life than 20 years and 4 children, it could have helped the group to a better life. but naturally, it's a inhumane thing to take children out of the families. With all due respect Mr. Bald , stop calling gypsies roma, romani or romi since people, out of ignorance or ill intent, will immediately associate them with Romanians. In Romania, we have our own share of gypsies living here, yes. Unfortunately, our government is responsible for the confusions between the Romanian and Roma, romanes, romi, rom etc. words. They thought it would be a great fucking idea to call them Romi instead of tigani so they won't be discriminated, and now, us Romanians ended up being discriminated all over Europe instead, because when a gypsy goes from Romania to UK for example and they call themselves Roma, Romi or whatever, people from UK will say "all right, so they are Romanians", well no, they are not. They don't look like us, they don't behave like us, they think the laws exist only for fun, they refuse to get integrated in society, they avoid taxes, they refuse to send their kids to schools, they refuse to work honest jobs, they prefer making tons of kids and living off their allowance, and then we are the ones who end up being discriminated and judged by other Europeans for the shit the gypsies do in their countries.I suggest you take a trip to Romania and see for yourself, we're also a former communist country and there's stuff around for you to be interested in. Cheers.	Bald, Communist, Gypsy	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Ethnicity - Roma, Physical Identity - Physical Features	3/232	1.293

That would require initiative and effort. That community employs neither, even for their own sake.They let it pile up until it gets really gross, then call in some bleeding heart 22 year old "activist journalist", parade their cutest children in front of it, get news stories done in the German media about how poorly the Slovak government treats "minorities". Then, the German government hassles the Slovak government to clean up the mess the gypsies made all on their own.It has been this way for decades, in every country in Europe. The gypsies have this whole system gamed perfectly.	Old	Age - Over 65s	1/100	1.0

If Slovaka was a such a great nation then why many Slovakian women work in Germany, UK and the Czech Republic? human nature is that when you own something, you want to take care of it and not the common areas. first nation reserves in canada are often shit because they don't own their houses or yards. if individuals can not afford to pay the fee for garbage pickup and see others dumping, then they will dump too. it has to go somewhere and if there are no community bins then it will get messy fast. people who are poor do not care about keeping things clean, they have more important day to day matters.this video was also amazing to see how quickly those children grow up and become promiscuous . birth control needs to be provided for free or subsidized for the poor with mobile clinics for the teenagers who can not get to town on their own. India is a diverse country. To understand and imagine the Indian Union, you need to compare it with the European Union by area and culture diversity in every 500km. Every state has different language & culture. We have more than 100s of communities living here. Gypsies are one of them. Some of them migrated to Europe centuries ago. Some are still here in India. They live in the same condition just like they live in Europe. Even if you give them 1 million $, they would stay in slum. Only few have merged into mainstream. Hi Bald . Just a FYI... Your concept is being heavily plagiarised on Danish national TV. I just tried to link to the show but it doesn't work – something to do with Youtube comment policies, perhaps? I've never commented on anything on Youtube before, so I don't know. But this would be a prime case of imitation being sincerest form of flattery. Your channel really is one of the very best on Youtube, and I'm delighted to see that you're approaching a million subscribers. I have been travelling to many obscure parts of Europe myself in the past few years, and I have also somewhere at the back of my mind considered ripping off your concept, but being painfully aware that I could never make it anywhere near as good as yours, that will never happen. Hi, Great to see you in Slovakia! I think you found a most controversial and interesting point in Slovakia. Good job with this video. There are dozens of gypsies slums around Slovakia which looks much worse than this. The biggest problem with the gypsies is that they like this way of life, they like to get social aid for free and they rather live in such condition than working hard and have something better. It is their mentality, which is hard to change. And the worst is when the gypsy people are living together in bigger settlements.	Gypsy	Ethnicity - Roma	1/96	1.042
Mr Bald I think you show us about old Soviet building and telling us about the history is so amazing. Gypsies aren't treated badly TBH. It's the other way around. You see, they're given a social welfare based on how many children they have (so, naturally, they make a lot of children just to have more money), they're also given fresh houses (Slovaks are really outraged about this) and they turn them into shitholes. They have really poor manners, yelling, stealing, giving smokes and alcohol to the minors... No wonder normal polite Slovaks don't like them. The worst part is when you say something bad about them, their lifestyle or anything, you're automatically branded a racist (even when you're pointing out something which has nothing to do with skin color). Not too long ago we had a situation when one gypsy (he was incarcerated not too long prior to the incident) killed a man in front of a pub... just like that out of nowhere. He killed a normal, hardworking man without any reason. That's why gypsies have a bad reputation. I also have an all around bad experience with gypsies and I don't like them in general but that doesn't mean I mind a polite, hardworking gypsy who's trying to prove that not all of them are like this. Good Sir, or M'me. Been to Mexico, seen the Romani community in Jalisco, and it's true they get along with the Mexicans much better, and they' re accepted much more while still largely keeping to themselves in their communities (historical reasons.) The issue between Romani communities and the majority in post Eastern Bloc countries stems mainly in how the governments dealt with them in general. It is a very complex issue, which points at faults on both sides. However, the greatest deal of trouble was, and still is, caused by the people in power. Thanks to the people in power the antagonism between the two prevails, it even grows stronger, sadly. Most Romani see the gadzhos almost as an impersonification of all evil, someone not to trust, not to respect. Then, some, or many, depends on the place, too, they feel entitled to show that distrust and disrespect in all-out way. Among 'gadzhos', there's belief, often taken as an ultimate truth, that Gypsies only want to be 'parasites' on the system, steal, avoid work, take any benefits their home country can offer, without any chance for a change. And they treat them accordingly. Many of the Romani ethnicity in these countries are engaged in all kinds of criminal activities, which can be also highly organized - targeted against those gadzhos.. most often, they do not commit these crimes against each other.. Oh, the hate. Also, more often than not, Romani kids ignore the school, as their parents seem to not care at all. Other side of the coin then shows that these kids are outsiders the moment they begin attending a school. There is a stigma coming along with their origins. Are you a Romani kid who so much wants to show that you're not who they think you are? You want to get along with the rest, have friends, etc.? Tough luck. I remember a tiny Romani kid crying when on a walk with his kindergarten group, as only a teacher was willing to hold his hand, and even she seemed somewhat uncomfortable doing so. Heard kids talking about dirty Gypsies. (Yes, you have these families that do not care much about hygiene, and it's the part of the Gypsy stigma, as if simply all of them were filthy.) Another thing - a public belief that Gypsies, in general, are dumb, uneducated, and if they can land a job, there's a risk they'd steal there, or make trouble. And that they actually do not want to work, they' re lazy, and they enjoy social benefits offered by the state. As a result, it can be extremely hard for an adult Romani to find a job. There's a plenty of Romani people who are skilled, skillful, even really educated, but they are unlikely to land a job where there is non-Romani competition. And guess what, it hints about where that goes. Reliance to social support, if possible. If not, they can opt to leave for other countries,(which, however is not always an option to them), or join some others who are crime-positive. I managed to know these Romani people in Slovakia, and abroad. I quickly earned their respect as they got to know me, and gave me the chance to see they are people like all of us.I had a chance to travell, visit some countries around the world, and get to know the people there. We're all the people, are the same after all. The cultural differences are always a painting on the top after all; underneath, we're all the same. But, I also acknowledge that I learned to understand that only thanks to getting to know these	Dumb, Ethnicity, Gypsy	Ethnicity - General, Ethnicity - Roma, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	3/659	0.455

John This is exactly true, especially since Bald has used that exact term on camera on numerous occasions and been greeted with nothing but a smile from Alina. Many ex USSR countries are like this, a woman's worth is only in her sexiness, after she isn't sexually attractive anymore she's almost worthless. That's why it's a compliment to her. The same goes for many other countries, like the USA for example, where being called 'hot' is often regarded as a compliment. Evgenia Stankevich what it proves is how fragile the female ego is and how we've come so far that we've actually began regressing. You're so obsessed with the quest to be treated "equally" that you've forgotten about the natural differences between the sexes and how to embrace them. Nobody here was harassing or using defamatory language. You're just easily triggered and pointlessly defending a lady who obviously doesn't want or need your defense. Leftist PC propaganda in our media says that all our gypsies in GB live as normal citizens and locals love them. 30 Years ago there was an idea to mixed whites and gypsies together on this area. Buildings were built specially for this reason. It was half to halt as about ethnics... Expectances were so big, but... Whites started to leave this area from time to time. They could not to hold out mentality of gypsies. They lost all price money, had to overhand their own flats to gypsies. Nobody but gypsies wanted to move there. Gypsies from Lunik IX do not pay for nothing - water, electricity, garbage, suburban traffic ... 5 Years ago, Kosice town cleaned area from waste material . Maybe i'm wrong but i heard that there was a plan to move gypsies from the city center to such districts and put them between high-ranked army officials, police and their families to lower the crime rate. It was very common in Soviet era in countries that were members of Warsaw Pact. There are several districts in Polish major cities (such as Cracow and Warsaw) when they plan to re-settle criminals and put them between police officers and their families. In all cases - these "experiments" failed. Only criminals and poor families were moved and flats planned for officials were sold or were for rent. This resulted in almost no-go zones and such places are dangerous till today. Lunix X is definitely the worst case.	Common	Social Class - Working class	1/125	0.8

Poor gypsy people are harassed extremely since centuries because of their look, language, life style were different. They weren't Christians or Muslims and they didn't convert or change their life style. They couldn't live even city. I noticed they are forced to live outside of town or city. They don't get basic things like electricity, water, cleaning , schools etc... People says they're involved in crimes. What you expect than if you behave like that? They have to survive. They had no choice other than crimes to earn some money. Hates of to them even after hundreds of years of harrassment they survived and living lively. they have just different culture then white slovakian people but also is not fair to generalize. There is a stigma about these people, that they are lazy, don't work, abuse social system and they children don't care about school. And for some of them it is true but you can see here that not all of them are like that. If you grow up in certain enviroment it is not easy to break away from that. 5000Kone Siggghhhh.....I'll spell it out for you guys. They originate in India. They are thieves who transform every area they touch into a rubbish tip. They leech off the welfare system. They have nothing positive to offer. All this after how many generations in Europe?	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/45	2.222

John Gibson Well, many people in India are white, related to Aryans. Basically, all people who have a mutation that makes skin other than black are basically white. Most people from Europe do not originate from Europe, that's why example most European languages are from the Indo-European language tree, etc. So what if the "gypsies" originate from Europe, they have lived in Europe for a long time, about 1500 years. They moved to central Europe about the same time as the Germanic tribes (Slavs.etc) and have mixed a lot with other Europeans, so genetically they are as Europeans as most nations in Europe. Finland, where I'm also from, have Romanian people and they do not "transform" areas to a rubbish tip, same thing in all Nordic countries. Some people leech of the welfare system, most don't. All ethnicities have something positive to offer, but not all people. I have been to Romani festivals etc. and they have lots of good things to offer, you are just a bigot. Who are you asking your loaded questions? From your self? Where all your hate, stupidity and racism come from? Do you have some kind of self-esteem problem when you must hate people as a group? Don't you know that only idiots do so? Even you sound like a moron, I do not expect that all people that come from the same ethnicity as you are morons ;)	Black, Ethnicity, Racism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	3/235	1.277
5000Kone You've effectively written be an entire book on how we're all the same!Your arguments are confused and complex , and your side do this on purpose to confuse the public. ' Black is white. White is blackand there's a lot of grey in the middle'Most people don't care if Europeans may have come from Africa two million years ago. Todays Europeans are white , have higher IQ's and superior culture. I am a racist yes. I want my grandkids to look like me , and to have a future in a culture where they will be safe and can prosper. If that makes me racistthen i guess I'm a racist .We've all met lovely individual Chinese and Indians. They have some lovely food and attractive women. I get all that. But it doesn't mean they should make up 55 of our population mix. European culture will not survive.....with a majority consisting of Pakistanis or Indians. And we never asked to be replaced. If Africans and Europeans are the same , then why the huge difference in IQ and living standards between both continents? Import the third world , you become the third world. As for the Italians and Spanish, well they're about as white as the Welsh and Irish, whome they share some DNA with.	Black, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	4/217	1.843

Hello, I recently subscribed to your channel and think the videos are great. I like the history of the U.S.S.R and you are giving us an inside look at the lives of common people living in areas for the former Soviet Union that we would not normally be exposed to. I recently read a story about the subway system in Tashkent, Uzbekistan which features architecture started while the city was under Soviet control. No pictures were allowed to be taken of the stations or trains until 2018 because the subway was used as a nuclear bomb shelter and the government didn't want it exposed to the outside world. The few pictures I have seen are wonderful. If your travels take you into Uzbekistan I think this would make a very interesting to see and maybe hear from locals about the city and its history. Thanks and keep up the travels and videos.	Common	Social Class - Working class	1/152	0.658

Cristi Magda I had romanian coworker and he flipped out one day when I explained to him that gypsies in Spain lost their language, romaní. And he explained to me about that, romanians refers to themselves as romani... and gypsies is almost guarantied that they don't want to be integrated and they just want to keep being gypsies, which is 99 true here in Spain. He told me that gypsies gave a very bad reputation to honest romanians, and to be honest he was angry, upset, and I felt that he didn't liked them AT ALL. I met few more people from Romania and they shared the same opinion. Women or men they always wanted to clarify that they were romanians and were much more closer to Spain than Hungary that it's just right there. A woman just told me "we all came from the Roman Empire so we share a big root, our languages are romance and our cultures are not so different between ourselves if we compare it to Germany or nordics". This is not the true representation of Slovakia. This is the dregs of the world. All they want to do is steal, cause crime then play the victim. Welcome to dodgy parts of my home town, Baldy!I love your capability to understand people you are dealing with, I very much agree with your conclusion at the end of the video.It's true, that we, Slovaks, look down to gipsies. Sometimes it bothers me to see how people consider them not equal, they don't show them politeness required for a formal meeting with strangers.On the other hand, the vast majority of them is burden to society- they steal, they take advantage of benefits as much as it gets (they pretend to disabled , they let their grandparents to formally adopt their child to get money...). I think some of them understand the benefits legislation better then lawyers do People call them lazy, but they can be hardworking when they see immediate profit of their work.I hope you felt welcome in Slovakia. First of all, Slovakia is central Europe, not eastern. Also, fuck you for saying we're "one big slum". That is not true st all. Lunik IX is getting torn down for a good reason - it's an eyesore, thanks to the gypsy problem. There's nothing the authorities can do about it. It's gonna take decades for gypsies, that live VOLUNTARILY in these slums to adapt to the rest of Slovakia. Most of them refuse to work, however and are uneducated (even though our school system is basically free, healthcare as well). Educate yourself.	Gypsy, Nothing	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Roma	2/93	2.151
And this is why we (White Europeans) need to change first. we need to be more kind and accepting of them, and allowing them into schools. In some parts they are not allowed into school. How are they going to integrate or access a better life if they don't go to school? In Romania, a Roma girl was not allowed to go to school anymore (by her parents this time) because they were scared she would sleep with some guy before getting married... Older generations also need to understand that if they give their children some education, could prevent this from happening -if the child really wants to study. That girl wanted to study. instead she was forced to get married to a guy she didnt even like, and then they separated (his mother's doing for a weird reason)... It's worth mentioning that whenever bald goes somewhere dangerous, just like the video where he was in the most dangerous place in Russia, there are two reasons he is safer than a lot of people would be. The first is that he's fucking huge, mugging someone big, loud and confident, is far more daunting than mugging someone scared, small and easy to target. The second is that his social intelligence is ridiculous, he goes to these places, is very charming, very flexible, very accommodating, and learns to read people quickly, meaning within five minutes he has usually made multiple friends, you're far more likely to get shit if you're an isolated outsider, than if you quickly integrate yourself and make friends. I hope that you will visit also beautiful places in Slovakia so the world doesn't image Slovakia as a dirty, shy country. I have to correct you :) that not SOME Slovaks, but MOST Slovaks don't like gypsies, as they are lazy, cheeky, fake, they have a very low IQ, which means they end their education at the age of 15 and when you give them a nice for living they turn it to this dirty place in a couple of days. They have a lot of privileges, they do nothing and the rest of the country has to work on them. Of course, there also some good exceptions, but unfortunately very little exceptions.	Age, Nothing	Age - General, Age - Youngsters	2/114	1.754

They do get assistance though. I don't know about Slovakia but here in Romania and many places in Eastern Europe they have special reserved seats in colleges. They can join any university and get up to Phd level for free, without ever having to pay a cent. They are encouraged to go to school and kids that go to school receive a monetary allowance from the state. There are numerous financial and social benefits they receive. But most decide it's better to live off welfare and do petty crimes on the side. The generous welfare state in Europe sends you more and more money the more children you make. If you have 4-5 children in your care and no official income, you can receive the equivalent of a full time paycheck in welfare without doing anything. Help is plentiful, what they need to do is help themselves. I know because my mother comes from a gypsy family and grew up in such a ghetto. In my experience, people are quite accepting here in Eastern Europe and as long as you follow an education, act like a civilized and decent person, dress cleanly and take care of yourself, nobody will attack you or disrespect you, or even treat you as an outsider just because your skin is a little browner than normal.	Gypsy, Nobody	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Roma	2/221	0.905
The antiziganism movement in Eastern and Central Europe was repelled in the early 1930s for being inhuman and oftenly being associated with anti-semitism, then communists came, they were offered housing, jobs and were integrated into the society, after the fall of communism, they blamed Eastern Europe for the gypsy problem — Lunik 9's situation can easily be compared to the gypsy neighborhood Ferentari in the Romania's capital Bucharest. It's not that the authorities are not trying their best, it's just that this is their way of living. They throw waste out of windows, the sanitary teams come and clean the place, just to confront the same issue few days after. They're uneducated, not because the government is not offering them free education (education is free in Romania), but because they prefer to commit theft at an early age and if caught in a western country (ie Italy) they're incarcerated in hotel-like conditions and just forced to go to school. Don't let the environment they live in fool you, they're not poor — beggars make more than €100 a day, not to mention the shoplifting from the high-end shopping outlets or the pick-pocketing. Stop blaming governments for your people's way of living and more importantly stop describing yourself as Romanian, Slovakian, Hungarian or Bulgarian, describe yourself as being gypsy and stop denigrating the Eastern and Central Europe countries.	Age, Gypsy	Age - General, Ethnicity - Roma	4/227	1.762

It's really foolish to encourage a bunch bumbling, naive tourists to go stumbling around drunk in gypsy slums with their fancy cameras and smartphones.In Ukraine I met this older British guy who went to photograph a gypsy slum in Besarabia, near the the border of Ukraine and Romania and was beaten half to death and robbed by gypsy guys. It took him like a year to recover from his injuries, he still had problems breathing because of how badly his nose had been broken - this is the sort of thing that can happen when you don't heed the advice of the locals, if locals tell you that a neighborhood is dangerous don't be the idiot that goes there asking for trouble. GSH RDY Sorry to say but you guys are completely wrong and just making excuses for them...Maybe what you said is true for black people in America or other minorities, but the gypsies around the world are another story. This is their way, it's what they do, what they've done, and what they will do, always and forever. They will never change, it's a part of their culture for centuries. How come every gypsy in the world is the same, in every country? They are born in completely different parts of the world, in different times, in a different environment and they are still the same. It's a mystery really...Even the best gypsy in the world is still a gypsy and you can see it in their character. Nobody treats them badly anymore, they are very spoiled and they get all the help they can but it's no use. People who do treat them badly are doing it because they are acting badly. But no matter how they are treated, it runs in their blood and they can't hide it. If you grew up knowing gypsies, you can always sense them from miles away. They don't even need the dark skin color, it's their mentality. For example, black people from UK are different from black people in Belgium (both in Europe). Also there's a big difference between American black people and others. Not to mention the biggest difference between African black people and others. But a gypsy is always the same wherever he is. If you send one single gypsy alone to Mars, firstly he would demand a very low price for him. Then he would find a way to produce 6 children, 2 mothers and one half sister-half wife. You would be able to see the trash on Martian ground from Earth, he would trade all the equipment for golden necklaces, chains and bracelets. He would destroy the space shuttle and take everything made of copper.	African, Black, Gypsy, Nobody	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - Roma	12/327	3.67

This is the best name I could come up with It sounds like you are talking about blacks. But it is clear to me that you don't think much of them. They are Europeans " negro " problem. So instead of really helping these people, they let them languish in ignorance. The same thing could happen to any people (white or black) if the foot of power is on their necks. We must recognized that people are not accepting of poverty and ignorance. They want the same things like anyone else. But the system has to stop discriminating against people, so they also have a chance to the same things.	Black, Negro	Ethnicity - Black	2/108	1.852

Universities here have maybe 1 or 2 spots open for Roma people. this is discrimination. Trust me, that you wouldn't care how your child acted either if he or she wasn't allowed by the system to study. Many Eastern european countries still think and behave like under the communist regime. This mentality won't disappear until those over 50 years old , die. They live like this by choice. It is an active and conscious choice. The only thing required of you is to behave like a clean, decent, civilized human being and everyone will respect you if you carry yourself the right way. They choose instead to act like thugs. The Blethering Maw There is no 'London type of accent', there are, for example, Estuary, Cockney and RP. But those are not all and you could even go on to divvy them up further. And all of them, like Scottish and Welsh and West Country and you name it are all dialects from Britain. So inherently, these boys have some sort of a British accent. The point is, it's English not as taught in school outside of Britain, but they obviously had to have lived in Britain, hence the 'which would seem crazy without context' remark from the original comment. Indy Jones No it does not automatically of course. They are free to go everywhere it is not reservation or anything. There are lot of Roma people with nice living conditions and stable jobs. But sadly quite large percentage of them are rather just recieving the welfare and expecting to get everything for free. And that is the majority of them in Lunik IX. That housing estate was build not only for them there were also living Slovak majority (mostly cops and military people- idea was for them to re-educate them) but they soon left it. In 1996 city council decided to put there almost all Roma people from city there and this is the result. They destroyed many of the blocks (few years ago some of them had to be tear down because of bad static). Schools are free in Slovakia they can get education also they can get work if they are willing to but these people rather just roam up the city garbage cans all day and do nothing . And it is quite dangerous part of city. They did nothing to Bald luckily but few months earlier they attacked Ambulance personell that came there for pregnant woman . In start of video you should show how Kosice looks. Its a normal modern city with 200k people and then you should go to slums. Its pitty you don't show normal Slovakia first and then these slums. I'm from Presov, 30km from Kosice and I've never been in Linux IX but we have gipsies here too, a lot of them living in smaller slums in smaller towns everywhere here in eastern Slovakia. Gipsies are problem here and a lot of politicians were trying to solve this problem but it could not be solved that easy. If you live here you would know that 80 of gipsies from slums here live just from social money. They dont care about their kids, they dont pay taxes, rent etc. Government build them houses to live. They destroyed them because they hate government. Normal family here must take loans for 20years! to build a house or to have a flat. They are looking into garbages everywhere around the city. A lot of them are in jail or are trying to steal something. Few of them are trying to get socialized, get jobs and live normal life. But the problem is their mentality. Even if you hire them, they will not do their jobs for 100. They will not be happy to have a job. I havent seen gipsy that was happy to have a job here and to be thaknful for that. They want quick money. Most of them are working as construction workers or in waste companies but they really don't do their jobs very well. This is problem that normal companies are hiring them only as last option... By the way I hope you will not get Hepatitis B. You and the chick should check yourself at a doctor after visit to these slums.	Chick	Gender - General	1/302	0.331

The intellectuals of Kolkata are book worms which makes them ulnerable for Communist and Socialist nonsense... Also, the influx of Bangladeshis and villagers as beggars has to be limited. Gypsies are not good people... everywhere they occupy they destroy. England has a massive problem with gypsies. Here in America they are very isolated as well and don't have a very good reputation. I know some families that have a bunch of kids and they go to a decent restaurant to eat and after they are done eating almost everything they call for the waitress and tell them that the food was not good and that they are not going to pay for it. They eat almost everything and then lie about the food not tasting good in order not to have to pay. The whole family is full and they just leave the restaurant. I know a few huge gypsy families that do that. Also, watch put for your belongings in your pockets when being around gypsy people, they are masters are pick-pocketing and will take your wallet out of your pocket or jewelry without you even knowing. Not all are bad but a good amount of the gypsy people are just not good people. I think it's a cultural thing.... look at how they live even in their own town and neighborhoods. They made a shithole out of it. All that rubbish and shit all over the place. They throw all that rubbish all over the streets and then live in it. That's disgusting.... Living standards are low, with services such as gas, water, and electricity cut off, as the majority of inhabitants are not paying rent or utilities fees.Health standards are low and diseases such as hepatitis, head lice, diarrhea, scabies, and meningitis are common . Unemployment in the borough reaches almost 100 percent. The borough has one elementary school and a kindergarten.Luník IX is serviced by a bus line, which stops only on selected bus stops. I was eagerly waiting for this episode! I shot a documentary about gypsy settlements in Slovakia a couple months ago and it was quite an experience. However bad it may look, the situation is getting better. Their mayor is a smart guy with a university degree and does everything he can to improve things. The crime rate decreased substantially, many people are getting new flats and they are working on taking away the garbage.By the way, if you want a really horrific experience, you should go to gypsy settlements at Svinia, Secovce, Trebisov or Chminianske Jakubovany. I've never seen things as terrible as there. You're basically crawling through human feces, 6 year olds are doing drugs in front of you, there are dead dogs rotting on piles of garbage etc. It's a very sad side of Slovakia and it's extremely difficult to find a solution to the gypsy problem.Great video as always by the way;)	Gypsy	Ethnicity - Roma	3/157	1.911

It's all IQ and it's a tough fact Europeans have yet to face despite hundreds of years of issues with this single group. Some data from Metapedia's Gypsies article...Several studies of the IQ of Gypsies have found average IQs ranging from 70 to 83.[9] The average IQs of Gypsies in different countries have been stated to be 85 in Slovenia, 83 in Slovakia, 70 in Serbia, and 60 in Romania.[7] A 2015 meta-analysis stated an average IQ of 74.[10] During a Slovak study in the 90s, 23 510 children in the age of 6 – 14 years in the district of Banská Bystrica, Slovakia, were given a Wechsler Scale test. A total of 510 children (2,16) were diagnosed as mentally retarded (with an IQ 70 or less). 0,9 of the non-Gypsies were diagnosed as mentally retarded, as opposed to 21,5 Gypsies. Although the Gypsy children constituted only 6 of the testing sample, they counted for 60,7 of the mentally retarded. [11]Many attempts to improve the living conditions and/or integrate the Gypsies into the larger society has been tried. Sometimes these attempts have involved the use of force in order to settle down, educate, and assimilate the Gypsies. All such attempt have been stated to have been without success.[7]In Central and South-Eastern Europe, an average of 46.8 percent of Roma families receive social assistance; 56.8 percent receive child support payments. In Bulgaria, 90 live on state benefits. In Britain, their "skillful manipulation of [the] benefits system has brought an outcry from the media, police, and charities for the homeless."[7] One reason for migration to Western Europe has been stated to be much more beneficial welfare systems.[17][18]The Gypsy population continues to grow rapidly. Gypsy girls traditionally marry between the ages of 14 and 17. Fertility is high: 3.0 children per woman in Bulgaria, 3.03 in Serbia, 3.12 in Hungary, 3.2 in Bratislava, 3.3 to 3.7 for 'some' groups in Romania, 3.9 in Croatia, and 4.3 in Eastern Slovakia. This can be compared with 1.1 and 1.4 children per woman by 2000 in former Communist countries.[7]	Age, Communist, Gypsy, Woman	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Age - General, Ethnicity - Roma, Gender - General	7/352	1.989

Been a big fan of Mr Bald for a while now and he's inspired me to get out and see some of the more 'off the grid' areas of European culture and history. Ended up booking a cheap spontaneous flight to Košice and went there last week, not knowing much about Slovakia at all. We got a tour 'authentic Košice' which was a fascinating insight into the area's raw past and struggle with Soviet occupation, as well as showing us an abandoned factory and bunker. On our tour in a 1985 Skoda (which we were allowed to drive) we passed through Lunik 9. It was like a warzone, and t left a huge impression upon us. Hot water and electricity was turned off by the council, people were throwing sewage off their balconies with children running around. As we turn the corner a gang of men were out in the street and stuck their fingers up at our car as it went by, basically saying a big 'fuck you' to tourists. It was quite dangerous - if our car stopped we would've been battered alive! I actually filmed a video of this myself to get my own blogging/documentary making going which I need to edit. Then I get back home and load up YouTube and what do I see a week later - mr bald has done a video here! Unbelievable, I cannot believe how much balls this guy has to come here. Despite what he says it was dangerous as hell, and we blended in with our really shit car. Legitimately this man is risking his life to show us how people live around the world in places which escape western media attention. A massive hats off to this video and I'm also low-key gutted I didn't see Mr Bald out there!	Bald	Physical Identity - Physical Features	3/303	0.99
Damn right he's off the grid. I was in Kosice. Mr Bald is trying his best to make it look like Russia and the other dirty places he's been to. The fact is, Kosice is a nice looking quiet town where most people speak English. Stay in the centre of town and you're fine. There are some American tourists walking around too. I walked around the streets through several areas of Kosice and not once did I feel any danger. Slovakia is in the EU so it isn't so bad. I didn't meet any gypsies when I was there. Well, nice video as always but please, do not get final thought from these seeing that all gypsy slums are non-harmless as this one. If you'll ever travel through country Slovenia in Europe, try to visit our country biggest and most dangerous gypsy slum called Zabjak in Novo mesto area. Immediately when they will see you're coming towards them with a camera, they will start throwing rocks and come on you with axes and bats. Everyday criminal there, drug dealing and similar activities are just their culture and beside that no body in country does not take care of this, everything is presented to public that is under control. But is not. Far from control. New challenge given. :)	Gypsy	Ethnicity - Roma	2/119	1.681

The Slovakian government needs to just level the damn thing. Those people aren't doing anything productive like getting jobs and all there's like 100 unemployment. They need to find work and the Slovakian government need to build regular housing for them. Not some damn Soviet style apartment. What hideous conditions. Worse than Dharavi slums! The base of their culture is nomadism. Being romani or ciganos (other type of gipsies living in south europe) they all share nomadism. The discussion should be if europe wants to respect their culture or to impose certain values (example for young woman marriage) and living in society. If they accept them living in those buildings they should at least teach them. That is called integration. Great video. I'm sorry to say that the Lunik 9 situation in Slovakia, is very similar to the Aboriginal situation in Australia. Yet the slums, rape, general crime, violence and alcohol problems remain.	alcohol	Behavioural Addiction - Alcohol	1/54	1.852
Mr.Magnussen The trash is equally part their problem, they generated it. Even if the government didn't place bins dumpsters for pick-up, the people should at least make and effort to clean-up their own filth. For what the community spends on booze, cigarettes, and drugs they could pitch-in for an old dumpster and burn the mess or dig a pit and burn it for that matter. Lazyness is no excuse but you can blame the government all you want it's all good.	Old	Age - Over 65s	1/82	1.22

Wow, this footage is so interesting. But you have one mistake in your translate: when you asked if their kids have any chance to live outside of Lunik IX, the man said " zero ", but woman said "they could have". So there is not as much pessimism.I was there too when i ived in Košice town. Just to observe and see that legendary place with my own eyes, i was little scared but having nothing valuable i had nothing to lose. They were a bit aggressive but it was just verbal which is no big deal. However i can imagine being beaten up or robbed because as there are many such cases. I know about few settlements that are poorer than this one, but they are located on countryside in eastern part of Slovakia far away from big cities. So many of these children spoke english with a native accent but I bet an equal amount speak french, italian, spanish. Why? Because they are taken to these countries to beg, steal and register for benefits then return to their family home. It isnt the goverment. Here in Slovakia, lots of them are given brand new houses for free and literally destroy them by month. But I know a lot of polite and good gypsies who work and live like normal people. The people showed in this video are sadly the 90 of slovak gypsy population which just live off goverment money. The problem is probably in their mentality.. But I hope that when These kids grow up, they will become a part of "normal" society and live normal life in Kosice and not in this shithole their parents created. MASSIVE inbreeding problem, gypsy people can only marry other gypsies lol.	Gypsy	Ethnicity - Roma	1/11	9.091
Mutual Altruism the inbreeding explains the lowered mental state/IQ. Fact remains that gypsy communities in EVERY country act the same even when presented the opportunity to leave their old ways behind and adapt to modern life. As you can see they start drinking at the age of 10 which further shrinks the brain, combine this with marrying your niece/sister and the problems at hand are not "omg so complex its uhhh socio-economic factors". Alis opportunity to leave their old ways behind? There's millions of slavic people all across eastern europe who are just as desperately poor as a result of the economic situation and find themselves struggling with unemployment, etc. These are issues which occur predominantly as a result of the type of society they are within, not because of some IQ reasoning. You know who else thought slavics and gypsies were inferior and had low iq?	Old	Age - Over 65s	1/74	1.351

Mutual Altruism Yes and even the poor Slavic people hate the gypsies, that should tell you something. At the very least Slavic people work hard and the hooked nosed tribe people are very sneaky and crafty when stealing your money. Gypsies just steal your shit where u stand. They will never change and adapt civilization, hope you meet a gypsy community one day and you will experience it first hand. Its a sad thing honestly. Congratulations, another British guy or a "westerner" coming to Slovakia to experience the Gypsy problem for himself and to tell us Slovaks how racist we are for not wanting to have these people around us anymore, (because we tried many times before, it never worked out). Spending 2-3 hours in Lunik IX surely is enough to understand how innocent the gypsies are and how all us Slovaks are filthy Nazis for giving up on gypsies. I wonder if you're going to stick around Slovakia for longer so maybe some Slovaks could tell you how it really is living 24/7 in a Slovak town terrorised by gangs of gypsy kids, teens, women and men all and any of them, the robberies, the killings of grannies for 10 euros, the torturing of pets by gypsy kids, the beating of rail conductors and passengers on trains, the slicing of young men's head with an axe for telling drunk gypsies off, and much more terror every day throughout central and eastern Slovakia. But surely a lifetime experience of Slovak people with gypsies is nothing compare to the 2 hours of a British guy seeing smiling kids in a city block with brand new cctv installed and police station just stones throw away. This image you made in your head during the short visit is definitely the accurate picture of the situation, come on give your head a shake. Some hardcore footage alright! Here in Bulgaria the Gypsy slums/houses everywhere look similar. Some small villages are exclusively inhabited by Zigani, as they are called in Bulgarian, all other people left. Why do these people not give a flying fuck about their surroundings? The government actually does clean it up regularly. They send in bulldozers and containers to pick up tons of trash. But the locals dont want to pay for trash colletion and they just throw trash out of the window. Typical gypsy behavior. Also it wasnt always a slum. They lived in huts before and goverment built these apartment buildings and relocated them. But gypsies destroyed the buildings, ripped out windows and anything that they could sell. To a point when the government had to demolish a building because its statics were compromised because they were removing and selling rebar from the walls.	Gypsy	Ethnicity - Roma	1/102	0.98

It's a difficult situation, because nobody is talking about the ten thousands of Sinti and Roma people living in normal houses and having normal jobs. But those East European gipsy are a different culture. When Bulgaria and Romania became Schengen-states, many came to Western Europe. Here in the neighbouring town of Duisburg they rented whole houses. In no time they looked like Lunik IX. I remember a live reporter on TV, when during he was speaking a window opened and the shell of a water melon flew out of the window just on the street. That does not work, and that makes it very difficult for us to accept them as they are. But again: They are not all like this! There is an award-winning documentary called "Paradise Hotel" (available here on YT) where they follow a group of gypsies in Bulgaria. The government wanted to help them so they built a block of flats for them to live in but now that block looks pretty much identical to this place. In the documentary they even admit that their living conditions are their own doing. It's not racism or xenophobia that have them living there, it's their own laziness. There have been a ton of programs, both government, NGOs and EU to "help" these people but nothing has worked. These people know that if they just stay put some bleeding heart leftist will come running with a fist full of cash to hand them. The conditions are self-imposed. They've been given hundreds of chances to move on to a better life, but the fact that the offers come from outsiders and their parents and peers pressure them to stay turns it into a continuous self-perpetrating cycle. They have been repressed and persecuted thorough history, but that's because of what you've seen here and the fact that previous regimes and people were far less compassionate and expected them to uphold their part of the societal contract. The government does nothing in fear of being perceived as racist (as well as the issue seemingly being unsolvable without radical solutions) but keeps being their ATM to further enable this. State gives parents plenty of money to ensure their kids can go to school, but when they pocket the money instead of buying school supplies, meals and clothes, attack the buses which would take the kids to school and then decry the school/state for being tyrannical and genocidial when they try to enforce regular school attendance and taxes/bill payments and basic security then you lose any sympathy you'd have for them pretty damn quick. You're probably not far off. A sad situation. I would guess there are more and more of the young ones that manage to break out of the old traditions and adapt to the society around, but possible not a large group. It's mindblowing that after hundreds of years in Europe the Romani people have not managed to change and adapt more over time, and we see people living in ghettos like his in 2019. The problem seems overwhelming. Is it a possibility to try avoid such large ghettos like this, but more relocate people to smaller settlements, well apart from each other, where it might be easier to 'pull' more of the young generation out of the 'bad circle'? You and people with mentality like yours are a big part of that "self-perpetrating cycle". State gives gypsies plenty of money? That's an urban legend (currently used by populist politicians to earn easy votes). Gypsies do get some money. Not plenty. And same as any other citizen, so what's your problem? Also moving from there to a city is not so easy...actually just being gypsy in Slovakia is not easy, no matter if you/re educated or employed. People with mentality like yours will do what they can to make it hard. Renting an apartment while being polite, clean and having money, but being an gypsy ? In Slovakia (and Czech rep. is the same) you have to work 10x harder and longer (compared to a white person) to find something and you will also have to bribe the landlord, so it will also cost you more than a white person would pay...otherwise the aparment rather goes to some white person. And exactly the same thing with getting employed. That's why gypsies rather go woring to UK, where people are not that racist .	Gypsy, Racist	Ethnicity - General, Ethnicity - Roma	3/181	1.657
S The sad thing is, they have been given homes of the middle class, and this is what's become of it. They have been given resources. Many families broke the cycle, many families happen to live there in a clean environment, but there are much more of them that just enjoy the life they are leading. They enjoy the benefits, the apparent immunity given by the local police that see no reason to enforce law, for example by giving fines, because many of them have no means to pay them. Like Harambe said, there is no will to enforce it for the fears of being called racist , which just further deepens the problem. That's why Teach for Slovakia does what it does, focusing on children from poor conditions, most of them gypsies, which have a chance of breaking the cycle in the future, other than wasting the resources on the generation of parents, resources that have been proven does not just work.	Racist	Ethnicity - General	1/162	0.617
Spot on. Nothing happens without a reason	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/7	14.286

I'm from Romania and the city centres of many towns used to be inhabited by the bourgeoisie. Needless to say, the communists kicked them out and brought the nomadic or rural gypsies in, and they have also brought their lowlife culture along. They taint any place they come across, even now when they get a free tenement in some old building, they blast kitschy Balkan music, make a mess of everything and frighten the law abiding neighbours. Their culture cannot be tackled with, it's too deeply lodged on both sides of the society. The white Romanians despise them, and once they are met with racism , they fall back onto the lowlife safety net, alongside their own anti-white Romanian racism (they have a word "gadjo" in their tongue, but also other demeaning ones such as "whitewashed" or "albino"). They aren't helped by the Romanian majority, and if they are, it's really hard for this kind of aid to strike home. Usually it's in vain.	Old, Racism	Age - Over 65s, Ethnicity - General	3/163	1.84

Angakok ThothState absolutely does give them enough money for them to be able to take care of their children and ensure they are ready to attend school with supplies, clean and fed. If the parents would rather pocket the money for drugs and alcohol rather than ensure their childrens future and any kind of government control of the state-given money is considered too tyrannical then perhaps the benefits should be cut altogether. I will absolutely grant you that they for aren't exactly living high-life with the money, but they sure as hell don't spend it on the intendded purpose. And I can also appreciate that the well-adjusted Roma who are contributing members of society have it harder then other people due to discrimination but those people are unfortunately a minority. The stereotypes and distrust of the people as whole are well-earned over at least a millennium.The average Roma is a wastrel. Pretending it is not so and to obscure the truth by outrage over racism does not alter the reality, if you wish the improve the situation you must first acknowledge it. Giving them benefits for existing and fucking does not work, government programs to non-forcefully integrate them do not work, the situation remains the same as it was 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 100, 200, 1000 years ago, the Roma are culturally-incompatible tribalistic people separate from the rest of society who are not net contributors, outside of the few who succesfully entered the society the better ones are vagabonds who earn a living by odd-jobs and as travelling performers the worse ones steal, mug, swindle and scam.	Racism, alcohol	Behavioural Addiction - Alcohol, Ethnicity - General	2/270	0.741

StrawMan While the socialist regime did try to integrate them (and failed spectacularly), the Roma have very similar history to Jews. They've generally lived in isolated enclaves apart from the community and were semi-regularly target of people and rulers thorough history, whether it be priests and merchants instigating pogroms or dukes and kings trying to banish and erase them. The difference is that while Jews managed to integrate quite well and even slip into upper echelons of modern society by embracing familial encouragement of education and dedication leading to many of them becoming lawyers, doctors bankers etc. despite suffering one of the worst atrocities in history, the Roma haven't changed one bit, as a whole they're the same swindlers and vagabonds they've always been.	doctors	Nationality - General	1/124	0.806

I don't see why they don't clean it up, maybe plant some gardens so they can have their own vegetables and maybe some nice flowers to make the place look nice and also to have something to be proud of. I just don't understand what the issue is; is it simply drug and alcohol addiction keeping them in such a state?	alcohol	Behavioural Addiction - Alcohol	1/114	0.877

I am a Polish Roma. I've been watching your videos for months now and there wasn't a time when I didn't like it. You have great content, keep up the good work!! However, watching this video really saddened me knowing how Romani people still lives up this this day. The sad truth is that; in majority countries we are excluded from the society. The government does not invest in the Romani peoples wellbeing, living standards, etc... For example in Albenia a 7 year old child was burned by hot oil when playing with his mates. The child was in desperate need of medical assistance but because of the families skin colour and their ethical background, they were thrown out of the hospital. We are the oldest and the biggest ethical group in Europe and we face great hostility from non Romas. Racism is an massive issue.The reason why Romani people got a "bad" reputation is because they have been neglected by the non Romani people. ITS AN ISSUE CAUSED BY NON ROMANI PEOPLE. Thank you for your work. Roms are the scapegoat of Europe. Some of them are no angels but I would be worse than they are if I had to go through what they do. For instance, not many people know that the last prisoner to leave a French concentration camp was a Rom. He left it almost a year after the end of the war, in 1946...Indeed, the idea of Lunik IX was an excellent one: to house a mix population of Slovaks (Roms, military and police staffs) but the military and police staffs refused to move in, they didn't want to live with the Roms. If they had move in, you can imagine how the situation would have been different. The present residents aren't fully responsible for the bad condition of the area. The owner of the building is responsible for the maintenance and it looks like nothing has been done for decades.When I was a kid, in the Parisian suburbs, the building where I lived was in bad condition too (not as Lunik IX). The paint, door-frames, electric system, old elevators, etc. gave a slum-like feeling because they were simply unmaintained by the government who didn't want to spend money for immigrants. Among other consequences, the resident didn't take care of anything. During the nineties, after twenty-five years of neglected state, the government financed a global and huge renovation plan. The building became clean and practical, with reliable elevators, entry phones, new bathrooms, etc. Since the renovation, the residents respect the shared areas and they keep the place clean. lamebubblesflysohigh The police and military staffs never moved in. For what I know, the city of Košice first decided to house any type of non-Romani population (we now know they didn't come from Egypt so we could stop calling them "Gypsies"; and "White" doesn't mean anything either) but since nobody wanted to live near the Roms, they then started to house only problematic non-Romani populations (dodgers, maladjusted and squatters from other parts of the city). Which means they sent people with problems to live with people who already had their own problems. As you may know, by mixing social groups you can sometimes reduce problematic attitudes. A few countries excel in doing this, many don't or give up because it involves a complicated management.	Nobody	Age - Youngsters	1/124	0.806
These people may be nice but there is ALWAYS a way out of poverty, saying there is no chance shows how lazy these people are. They don't care about their future or their kids. If they spent less time partying and doing something productive their future would be brighter. They just pump out more kids and care about nothing else in life. There is a reason they are sent to live in these places, because they are not a benefit to society.	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/82	1.22

Fun fact: Lunik 9 was projected as APG borough ("block") A = army, P = police, G = gypsies during socialism. The idea was to integrate (yet another of countless attempts to do so) gypsy minority into majority society by making them live in a fairly high class neighborhood settled by people who would serve as an example of someone living by rules. Basically mostly police officers, army officers and their families and gypsies lived there. It failed spectacularly. Everyone who could (including already integrated gypsies) moved out after the fall of socialism when the state stopped dictating who lives where. It took gypsies less than a decade since fall of the iron curtain to transform wealthy neighborhood with brand new residential building to this. Barely anyone pays rent and buildings are beyond repair which means when they finally reach the threshold of being dangerous to live in, the city have to demolish them because gypsies would settle them illegally with no thought about safety. x y I dont force them to integrate, I try to avoid contact with them as much as posible in my country and in other country I visit. And for your information, what you have said is exactly what is happening in Romania - nobody want or force them to integrate and leave them be. Thats why they do a lot of bad things and are uncivilised and they dont have any respect for the law or anything. Not to mention that in any country they are, they make a bad reputation for Romania and that really piss me off, because I am not a gypsy and I dont want to be treated like a thief , like a paria in other country from the EU or anywhere in the world where they do bad things. France, Germany, Great Britain and other civilised countries from Europe keep telling Romania "Oh, you dont support them, they need to be respected, integrated, etc..." but when this gypsies are in their countries they want them out as soon is possible :)) Hypocrisy at its finest! This video is really interesting. It shows that Roma problem in Slovakia is not just "black and white". As you can see even at Lunik IX, you can find people who live decently, like that family with beautiful flat even in Lunik IX. BUT Europeans did not marginalize them. They marginalized themselves. Whatever they did get from state, they destroyed - the flats at Lunik IX is clear example. They even admitted that all that rubbish was made by themselves, there are dustbins, they just do not use them. And in whatever conditions you live, how is it possible that you let your kids drink alcohol in such young age? and then the parents just say that there is zero chance for better life of their children !?! Just to be clear, your video is interesting and I agree with many comments below that you were able to show people something that even journalists were not able to do. I am from Slovakia and I live in a village who has a problem with Roma population, so I know something about it. But for those who never really had this experience I just wanna say that those news in media like "Slovakia/EU marginalize Roma population" drives me mad, because most of their problems are caused by themselves. And of course you do not think they are dangerous, but you should ask postmen or social workers how aggressively these people can behave when they are visited.	Age, Black, Zero, alcohol	Age - General, Age - Youngsters, Behavioural Addiction - Alcohol, Ethnicity - Black	4/245	1.633

A Košice native here. Seeing what has been going on in Lunik IX is indeed very sad. Unfortunately, it's not going to get any better (no simple solutions here). There are several reasons for this and both the Roma and the whites (the local Slovaks and Hungarians) are responsible (to various extents). Children growing up there see their parents being trapped in a vicious circle of poverty (unemployment in the borough reaches 100) and drug addiction, and the kids themselves often struggle with drugs from a very young age (it is not uncommon to see Roma kids as young as 8 years inhaling solvents). The kids often don't go to schools (even though it's mandatory and free) and thus grow up illiterate. They consider this lifestyle acceptable because they simply don't know any better. The way the whites are responsible for this is the prejudice against the Roma and turning a blind eye on what's been going on there. If you're that extraordinary 1 in 1,000 who is capable of "escaping" but are treated like shit by the majority, then good luck. 30 years ago, after the fall of the previous regime, everybody had more-or-less the same starting position (or was equally poor as I like to put it). The same endowment, education, dwellings, healthcare... everything. How did we get where we are right now? My only explanation is a different temperament of the Roma. While you cannot generalise, they've always struck me as a slipshod and happy-go-lucky bunch. They've been in Europe for more than 3 centuries and still haven't integrated. Currently, the far-right is polling at around 10 and the majority of what they talk about revolves around the Roma. The fertility rates vary greatly between the whites (at around 1.4) and the Roma (my conservative estimate would be 5.0+), which only further exacerbates the tensions. In my opinion, the best solution would be a very strict child welfare service in Slovakia, not unlike the "Barnevernet" in Norway. But I'm not convinced even this would help.	Age, Blind	Age - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	2/339	0.59
Here in Vilnius, Lithuania we call it Taboras. Gypsies usually sell many kinds of drugs there, young people dying every year. This is great curse with this nation and they need to repent of their sins and come to God. There is no other way for them. Our church runs 4 rehab centers and saves the lives of many drug-alcohol addicted people.	Nation	Nationality - General	1/62	1.613

To all those saying they are dirty because of there culture and watch how dirty modern India is let me tell u something:1. Indus valley civilization (2000bc): 2000 year before christ born when whole Europe was in stone age . There were cities in India(specifically in places frm where gypsies are) with brick walls, multistory houses, covered drainage system. So, it shows that culture is not here to blame.2. There r many Indians migrated to Malaysia, Singapore etc and they r among the most educated, financially secure there.3. Now come to modern migration. There r many Indian migrated to US, EU in Modern time. They r also educated, modern.So, india is dirty not because of culture but because of poverty. It takes a lot money to build and maintain sewage plants, garbage collection. Even rich countries like UK, Canada find it tough to manage garbage. That's why either theydump it in ocean or export it to Asian countries like China, Philippines.	Age, Indian	Age - General, Ethnicity - Native-American	2/164	1.22

Looking at the appearance of some of these precious souls, I soundly believe they have Anglo DNA. There's just something about them that differentiates them from the nomadic Asian descendants. For one thing, there attitude and character traits sets them as probable brethren to the Anglo-saxon race as the Anglo-saxon's were sojourning from the Caucasian mountain regions making their way to northern France, Denmark, Belgium, Netherlands, Norway, Switzerland, Sweden, Finland and Britain. The so-called 'white' Anglo-saxon's were called and are still called "Caucasians" due to inhabiting areas around the Caucasian mountains for so many generations in the past. These are probably some who were not able to stay in the sojourn. There were more than three million that completed the migration to the West.	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/124	0.806

This channel is getting better with each new episode, brit TV at it's best.I don't think this is a typical slum, this is more like government organized and EU sponsored geto, build to keep certain stigmatized minorities away from modern, present civilization. There's no good reason why they let those people live like zoo animals, people are told it was always this way and nothing can change that, they must suffer because they were born to the wrong parents. Eugenec BS is still very alive in Europe. And they are definitely not happy, this have nothing to do with spirituality or a good hearth, they simply don't understand and can't even describe what is going on because they were raised by not thinking, just accept existence as is by itself and give in to the basic biological instincts. Not all are Pakistanis and Indians, many third class European citizens are exiled into similar gypsy communities, many are also government and military agents, EU should be ashamed of itself for allowing this to go on. Great video, Bald ! As for those who moan about their beloved UK being ruined by these people, keep in mind that there are gypsies everywhere in Europe. I doubt it that Irish Travelers leave everything tidy before they move their caravans. Some council estates in England look very similar with Lunik 5. The only thing that makes them different that council still comes to pick up the trash they leave behind. But if you notice in the Video, despite all that mess from outside, houses inside (as Bald says it himself) look a lot cleaner than any average British full time proud mummy of 6 with 6 different dads house given for free by the council. Every nation has their own bad eggs. Let's not blame it on gypsies only. UKs benefits system is fucked up already. And most of those on benefits are smack heads and whores, not foreigners. Mr. Bald , Thanks for yet another interesting video. Really appreciate your courage for visiting a so-called dangerous place. However, I'm deeply offended by your reference of Calcutta which you used as a benchmark. Calcutta is the cultural capital of India and one of the fastest growing cities of India. Tall skyscrapers, shopping malls, new metro lines are being built in the city and yet westerners still associate this city with poverty just because Mother Teresa started her operations in the city. Even today, western media tries to highlight poverty in India without showing the economic progress. Unfortunately, you have also fallen victim to this western stereotype. They are "victims" exactly as they are in Serbia. They make their cardboard slum settlement on some non developed piece of land in some town, and when the town or the government wants to build something, we have to give them FREE apartments. so, basically, if you are a Gipsy, you just make a tent of a cabin anywhere you want, and wait for the owners of the land to evict you, and then ask for the government to give you a permanent living for free in some new building, because you are "a victim of prejudice and injustice". And the government obliges, of course, because they are nothing but EU puppets. EU is always more than ready to pour money for their accommodation.	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/124	0.806

The traditional Romanies place a high value on the extended family. Virginity is essential in unmarried women. Both men and women often marry young; there has been controversy in several countries over the Romani practice of child marriage. Romani law establishes that the man's family must pay a bride price to the bride's parents, but only traditional families still follow this rule. Once married, the woman joins the husband's family, where her main job is to tend to her husband's and her children's needs, as well as to take care of her in-laws. The power structure in the traditional Romani household has at its top the oldest man or grandfather, and men in general have more authority than women. Women gain respect and authority as they get older. Young wives begin gaining authority once they have children. Romani social behavior is strictly regulated by Hindu purity laws[187] ("marime" or "marhime"), still respected by most Roma (and by most older generations of Sinti). This regulation affects many aspects of life, and is applied to actions, people and things: parts of the human body are considered impure: the genital organs (because they produce emissions), as well as the rest of the lower body. Clothes for the lower body, as well as the clothes of menstruating women, are washed separately. Items used for eating are also washed in a different place. Childbirth is considered impure, and must occur outside the dwelling place. The mother is considered impure for forty days after giving birth. Death is considered impure, and affects the whole family of the dead, who remain impure for a period of time. In contrast to the practice of cremating the dead, Romani dead must be buried.[188] Cremation and burial are both known from the time of the Rigveda, and both are widely practiced in Hinduism today (although the tendency is for Hindus to practice cremation, while some communities in South India tend to bury their dead).[189] Some animals are also considered impure, for instance cats because they lick their hindquarters. Horses, in contrast, are not considered impure because they cannot do so.[190] Belonging and exclusion EditMain articles: Romanipen and Gadjo (non-Romani) In Romani philosophy, Romanipen (also romanypen, romanipe, romanype, romanimos, romaimos, roman is the totality of the Romani spirit, Romani culture, Romani Law, being a Romani, a set of Romani strains. You've got no idea what you're talking about...the Slovak government is at fault 100. Those buildings never got maintained since the end of the 80s. There is barely any electricity and no communal services such as rubbish collection occur at stable intervals. Now, maybe a little better, but for decades nothing has been happening in this area. The Slovak government even sterilized the gypsy population in the late 90s and early 2000s. This is a fascist apartheid regime in the middle of Europe that is incapable of providing for its citizens in general. All they are able to do well is be corrupt and run the country to the ground with loans by using what was built in Czechoslovakia under communist rule as collateral. These east European governments aren't even capable of painting over what was built under communism. Nobody is saying that was a good system, but it was a million times better for the people than this neo-liberal crony fascism they have today.	Communist, Gypsy, Nobody, Nothing	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Roma	4/165	2.424

You have no idea what you're talking about (not surprising since you're a commie). The gypsies refuse to change/integrate (not all). In middle school there was a gypsy girl in my class who dropped out to marry and be a housewife (I was like wtf?). So what are we supposed to do? Giving them money doesn't work. They receive welfare, housing, healthcare, schooling and they just keep pumping out kids. And you blaming the "fascist" government isn't helping. Maybe next time try coming up with actual solutions. And this is coming from a minority (Hungarian) living in Slovakia. I also had to integrate/learn the language.	Commie, Gypsy	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Ethnicity - Roma	2/105	1.905

Hungarian here, with a probably worse gypsy problem than our northern neighbors. The truth is : while gypsies are a huge problem, I don't think they could ever be fully integrated and I don't think there's a solution, but they are very friendly, trusting, helpful, fun if you know one.They still have the tribe mentality that we Europeans lost. They stick together, keep their traditions - good and bad ones too - , and are resistant to change that's coming from the outside. For example, they don't say "cousin", but they consider them sisters/brothers too, even very distant family members. Even if somebody moves out from the family home, they still live 5-10 minutes apart and they still spend most of the day together. They consider their friends family members. So if you're friends with one, you're friends with every one of them. If you don't know one, well, they won't be aggressive if you don't show fear, this is the reason why Ben was welcomed there. And yeah, the truth is they are not really poor, but they spend their money on drugs most of the time, be it alcohol, meth, weed, or on just pointless stuff like expensive clothing, cars, etc. When they steal, they do it because they need money for drugs, like 90 of the time.	Gypsy, alcohol	Behavioural Addiction - Alcohol, Ethnicity - Roma	2/221	0.905
Dee Raz He did(but much less then he could do), the situation is better then it was before he became the president.The most significant thing he did was probably, that if anyone denies to work(in Hungary the towns are offering public work for those who are unemployed) they won't receive social benefits(but many still dont want to work for the towns because the money they earn is like 200euros, which is even below the hungarian minimum wage (around 400euros)), but even though this program motivated many of them to get jobs, i wouldn't consider it successful. Another thing what Orban is messing up is the public education(not only for the romani people, but good teachers go to schools where the students are mostly hungarian so they don't have to deal with the problems which are made by the mentality of the parents of those kids) But gypsies who are well integrated, are facing less discrimination today then they did like 15yrs ago(probably has nothing to do with Orban, hungarians probably just regonised ,that well integrated romas can't do anything about many romas being antisocial)	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/186	0.538

Dee Raz He is a gypsy too. All he did he gave them fake jobs, and if they breed, they can make more money than a nurse with the fake jobs combined with tax return. :DD Some people say this is better than the past social security system, but this only motivate them to breed more, and also gives more power to the local government to abuse these people, for example who is not voting for Orbán is not going to get these jobs, and without these fake jobs and without social security system, they are totally fucked. So now we have a second baby boom in the slums and they deliver the votes(often with 80-90 voting for the current gov in the high gypsy populated places).	Gypsy	Ethnicity - Roma	2/127	1.575

Most of Slovakia's beauties are outside of Bratislava contrary to what a lot of Western tourists believe. Cities with more of an old town feel but stunning architecture includes Komarno (although the majority of people there speak Hungarian) Banska Bystrica in the heart of Slovakia has a very beautiful city center. Jim B What makes you think that I didnt? Cause I understood what she was trying to say? I live in this very city maybe 4km away from Lunik IX my friend. We had couple of gypsies in classroom in elementary school. I meet gypsy people almost every day in my hometown Kosice. All kinds of them. There are asocial gypsies who failed to integrate, they live in slums in many Eastern Slovak villages, they dont work and dont know any better. Then there are gypsies who live like normal people. Go to work, kids go to school... They might have more temperament in general, but they are valuable part of society. PRoblem with gypsies is largely historical issue which I believe can be fixed. Because we have some positive examples where integration worked pretty well. Take village Spissky Hrhov as one example. Google it, I believe you will find about it something in english too. You did not mention one thing. For a long time, the city was putting all people who weren't paying their rent to Luník 9. That's why it became so f...ed up. The city itself created this mess and it was pushing the problem away. Deeper reasons lay within our own racist society. After the collapse of socialism, the private and public sectors were not willing to employ Romas and if something like this goes on for decades, you're in deep trouble. Bald, I am from Bulgaria and there are gypsies here too. In the second biggest city in BG, Plovdiv, there's a slum called Stolipinovo, which is something like Lunik 9. Many gypsy-defenders from the West went there and said " nobody robbed me, they are good people, Bulgaria is racist ", but when you live here you see their real side. I know there are some, that are intelligent, but mostly they walk on gangs and then it's dangerous. Most of the cases of robbery are from gypsies.Gypsies also influence our culture very badly, which brings negative points against them too. Most gypsies have very bad character, they are very likely to lie. They have a really big problem integrating their culture into European.P.S: When are you going to come here? From 5:17 to 6:49 some of those kids are speaking pretty decent English to the point where they know British-Patois slang like "wagwan". Their accent also sounds pretty close to what you'd expect from some working class ethnic minorities in Britain. What's the story behind that? They must've spent a good amount of time in Britain mingling with natives to pick up on that accent.	Ethnic	Ethnicity - General	1/65	1.538
Cuckasaurus Rex Right, which is why I said British-Patois slang. Could've been more specific but that's generally understood as the speech patterns of British born, ethnically Jamaican, or more generally Caribbean people. It has obviously spread over to other ethnicities as well. You can now hear anything from whites to South Asian Brits in certain ares of East, or South London (and many others all over Britain) speaking similarly. My point wasn't about knit-picking definitions though. I was just wondering how some kids from a segregated gypsy neighbourhood in Slovakia picked it up, to the point where both the accent and jargon are on point? Surely, it must come from significant exposure to people with those accents, rather than just watching a few grime videos on youtube. Surprised bald and bankrupt didn't investigate...	Bald, Gypsy	Ethnicity - Roma, Physical Identity - Physical Features	2/133	1.504

Cuckasaurus Rex Which generally requires very close contact with those who have it in the first place. Just wondering what the story was. The odds of a kid in the biggest gypsy slum in Europe speaking hoodlum East London slang and barely missing a bit on the accent are quite slim. If you've got nothing to say and you're just trying to be cute and make small talk, keep it shut and keep walking buddy.	Gypsy, Nothing	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Roma	2/75	2.667

It also doesn't help that when they're given brand spanking new apartments the bills don't get paid, copper wiring disappears and insulation is looted and sold and trash starts piling up etc. The government trying to make sure the children come to school after the parents receive child support from state as well as a stipend for school supplies is decried by them as tyranny and other nonsense that generally makes people believe the stereotypes about them. Them forming begging/scam rings is also not uncommon despite them not generally being violent, although it only is a minority who does it it still sucks when they're the prominent ones.I appreciate that for hundreds of years they were repressed and marginalized, but that was mainly because of their stubborn refusal to integrate, which you can still see to this day, even in this video, they keep claiming to be slovak, but how many Slovaks do you see living in ghettos, polluting everywhere and leeching water, electricity and internet/tv? Mário Podolan No... very few people get deported sadly. Our immigration policy is effectively equivalent to 'let them all in'. What likely happened is that various immigrant groups with regressive and primitive mindsets congregated to particular neighbourhoods in Derby, this means that the worst aspect of all those cultures are combined and there is conflict and tension and violence between those groups. They probably ended up creating more depravity than they left behind in Lunik, thus they returned.	Immigrant	Nationality - General	1/78	1.282

Um... is this what is called "poverty porn?" We get to see poor people living in the worst possible conditions and then pat ourselves on the back, saying, "At least we're not THAT bad off!" and then do nothing to change the situation we privileged people or the poor are living in? Maybe it is good that we see how the poor live, but it should motivate us to improve their condition, not to get all smug about our superiority. I think Ben is walking a tight rope here between providing a genuine service by showing us people and places we might never dare try to experience on our own, on the one hand, and profiting from the misery of those people on the other hand. Wrong. Local government does organize a big clean up from time to time. Months after the place is full of rubbish again. They've been given rubbish bins but those ended in scrap yard. Same with radiators. Windows provided, got torn out and burnt. Inside the flats. Because bashavel - party must go on. Three to five days of nonstop parties and then they have nothing to eat until next month's social security pay check. Gypsies can live a good life but only if they leave their community. Gamer Bhai you do realize the Indus valley civilization has about as much to do with present day Indians as ancient Egypt with modern Egyptians? key word is admixture, various people came to the area and mixed with the local population, which is why (no offence), most Indians don't look very European, and certainly aren't white, despite actually being the same race still. This also resulted in the dumbing down of the once great civilization, which is probably why your country is simply unable to clean up all the trash and make it look at least halfway developed. Ffs people are swimming in what is essentially sewage water and call it "the holy river". If it's so holy, then why can't you take proper care of it? You have over a billion people, surely organizing a nation-wide cleanup wouldn't be that hard.	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/141	0.709

Pankaja kathaita quality of life in Slovakia is so much better than in India. Look at your wealth divide and percent of people in poverty and your attitude to woman . there's a reason everyone hates Indians like yourself	Woman	Gender - General	1/38	2.632

Mjl bruh, did you just generalize 30 india as a whole nation ? Have you ever been to India? LolGo look up Uttrakhand, Himachal Pradesh. The areas near the Himalayas. You'll see what the other half of india looks like. Some places are literal shitholes no doubt, but don't generalize the whole country. Oh, ofcourse that's what you have seen on YouTube. Anyway i agree with you on some points, some indians would potray like india is the best country of all, but it isn't. No doubt. But you aint completely right either	Nation	Nationality - General	1/93	1.075

Mackenzie Lawton When a person fears from anything it doesnt really exist is called hallucination , how much time u spent in India ? I guess u never landed on Indian soil , but still so much negativity and hatred inside ur heart , dont know why	Indian	Ethnicity - Native- American	1/48	2.083
Mjl u hv clean hands with dirty mind .At least we hv good behavior , look at these Slovakian gypsies they behave rudely with this bald man .we respect everyone who visits our country .u dont know India is a 6” th largest economy in the world n will supress Uk n germany in next 2 - 3 years . we can buy most part of europe . Slovakia is just a small town for us	Bald	Physical Identity - Physical Features	1/76	1.316
Darpan Goswami funny that I’m a keyboard warrior but with my 8 years of this YouTube account I haven’t ever been in an argument online - and I’m fat am I yet I go the gym regularly and have a balanced diet which about 90 of Indians can’t afford to do	Fat	Physical Identity - Physical Features	1/51	1.961
Mjl no there is no zero economy, those are heavily involved with tourists, treks/hikes, organic weed/hash etc. So you’re wrong. And no not 80 is a shithole, the places you see on YouTube are what every youtuber visit. But there is no point arguing. Anyway, india is not the best country, it will never be, because the people here are shit in some parts, they are far behind the technology or even the mindset. But the people in the area i mentioned are far ahead, far educated and ready to progress. But it can’t happen unless all are aboard. India = best are the people who asks for bobs. Not everyone. Mjl Forget what 90 Indians can afford , only 1 Indian billionaire is enough to buy ur Country in a second , and there are many such billionaires here ... if they stop investment and giving jobs to peoples in other countries and if India stop trade from other countries whole world will go in economic crisis	Indian	Ethnicity - Native- American	1/57	1.754

The reason why Bald stays safe in all these dangerous places is because they think he's Ross Kemp.	Bald	Physical Identity - Physical Features	1/18	5.556
Mr. Bald follows the tradition of great English explorers to bring to us tales of lesser known parts of the modern day world. He has stayed and travelled extensively in India. I thought he has become a indophile. Now I know, after seeing many of his recent videos, although he is a true friend of India, USSR, that great country which is now no more, is his love and he portrays the people now living there, with great human touch. I am from Calcutta and he has an unkind comment for my city in the present video, which is however true. He has an infectious smile and very honest with his comments. I only wish he keeps on doing what he is doing and he keeps on loving what is he is doing.	Bald	Physical Identity - Physical Features	1/133	0.752
