Arabs are not white. But there was lots of mixing between Arabs and whites, so many have white features, really thin faces, with really long pinched noses along with their Arab black hair, hooked nose sbushy brows and hairy olive skin. There was also a huge migration with black Africans to Middle East Asia, which explains Arabs with bushy curly hair wider noses and naturally darker skin. Arabs are diverse in looks. . Arab-American — I am Italian, Sicilian, Spanish, and English... The Italian, Sicilian, and Spain (Spanish) and my Family don't look white. But a lot of Arabs look white... look but they are not- Arabs are mixed, ... The British took over our Italy land so that's, why, There is white Italians and Arabs because British took the land we... Sicilian own in North African , and my family looks North African ... and Middle eastern... my family of each race are natives of each country.. so, the White Man are liars.... Black races and other races are liars; it's just a identity theory ... North America gave every one the ID.... The world map was made by White Rome... the globe you see... "they came from Asia"...and shows Middle East. Arabs aka Semites can be classified as "white" because anthropologically they belong to Caucasoid race , same as Europeans.	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/25	4.0
S B Depends on what you mean brown? The maximum dark Caucasians can have is olive or dark olive and that is not brown. Also, Caucasian babies are born pale and later gain their permanent color and it can turn to olive. Caucasians don't have same skin color as black race . I'm not talking about mixed white/ black kids though, where a child can inherit a different genetic trait. Also, Asians can have light skin colors same as Caucasians just they tend to have yellow hue.. This is an issue that is of concern in the USA's racialized identity culture and is (for the most part but not completely) inconsequential for Arabs living in the Middle East/North Africa region.To the extent that "white people" objectively exist (they don't really), then some Arabic-speaking people fit the description of white.Some also fit the definition of " black ," to the extent black people exist. Arabs are related to other Semitic ethnicities, and of the CAUCASIAN racial group. Latinos (not referring to Spaniards and Portuguese) are of Spanish, Native American, and often of some Black African descent; Latinos (from the Americas) are therefore of some Caucasian descent, too. Caucasians, whether dark, medium, or light complexioned, are in the broad category of "White". White RACISTS insist on restricting the definition to ONLY NORDIC (that is: Teutons, Celts, Slavs, Basques), while excluding Mediterraneans, light skinned East Indians, Arabs, Jews, and North African Caucasians. The subject of Ethnology is complex, with historic intertwinings.	African, Black	Ethnicity - Black	3/95	3.158
Race doesn't exist and is outdated and arbitrary grouping of people. For instance, if you are defining race as grouping by genetic similarities you couldn't say black race because there are bigger genetic differences between some of the " black " people than between some of the " black " and "white" people since we all come from Africa and there is more genetic diversity there. If you start adding anything else do define race you could as well use ethnicity instead of race .	Black, Ethnicity, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	9/80	11.25

Some silly comments True, we Arabs are not whites like Europeans But at the same time we are not as black as Africans claim. I don't know why Africans insist that Arabs are just as black . Is the problem of blacks in the sense of inferiority because of their past full of tragedies, or that white Europeans caused the inferiority of Africans because of slavery in America? important point We are not a mixture of any race and have nothing to do with blacks, whites, Africans, Asians and Hispanics We are a special race and pure Yes, we are a race and not culture as promoted by some I mean the real Arabs in the Arabian Peninsula and I am them and even know the real Arab ask him about the proportions where we save the names of our ancestors until the tenth grandfather and more and we Arabs belong in two Qahtan and Adnan, if you are not affiliated with these branches you are fake and not an Arab	Black, Nothing, Race	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	6/170	3.529

Random xx it originated in the Caucasus yes but the Caucasian people migrated to many places not only Europe the Caucasian race originated 1000s of years ago it is decided to 3 main category. Indo-European (what most people think is the only white race) ,hematite, and semetic people. all are white	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/51	1.961
Komfy Koala some arabs have more European heritage than others , those who have less European heritage i would say are not white but the ones who have a majority European heritage then i would say you can consider them mostly white because technically they have inherited a lot of European heritage so they are not much different than europeans in terms of skin colour ect (which is what race actually is) so why would they not be considered mostly white. culture that is what actually makes them different but even with culture eastern europeans share some similarities with arabs	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/102	0.98
Komfy Koala it is not what would you call . when scientists devised the human race they devised it to 5 negros, congoids (those 2 are black) Austroid (the native Australian , mongoloid (Asians and near that) and Caucasian .so u see when u take this classification u will put arabs as white . the problem is when u say white u think about the Indo-European not the white race so yes we aren't of those	Black, Mongoloid, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	4/76	5.263

WHITE CAUCASIANSFamous individuals The Hashemitesare the royal family of the Hejaz (1916–1925), Iraq (1921–1958), and Jordan (1921–present). The family belongs to the Dhawu Awn, one of the branches of the Hasanid Sharifs of Mecca – also referred to as Hashemites – who ruled Mecca continuously from the 10th century until its conquest by the House of Saud in 1924. Their eponymous ancestor is Hashim ibn Abd Manaf, great-grandfather of the Islamic prophet, Muhammad. The Arab DNA forums and DNA Project admins reported that two test results of members of the Jordanian royal family (private kits) are positive for L859 mutation downstream of FGC12. According to a study conducted by L.A. Ferydoun Barjesteh van Waalwijk van Doorn and Sahar Khosrovani published in Qajar Studies, Journal of the International Qajar Studies Association, volume VII (2007), Qajar dynasty, the Iranian royal family who ruled over Persia from 1785 to 1925, belonged to haplogroup J1. Several members of the House of Saud, the ruling royal family of Saudi Arabia, who descend from Muhammad bin Saud, founder of the Emirate of Diriyah, known as the First Saudi state (1744–1818), were confirmed to belong to haplogroup J1-FGC2, downstream of FGC12 (FGC12 > FGC1696 > FGC5 > FGC1 > FGC2). The acclaimed Jewish actor and director Dustin Hoffman (b. 1937) appears to belongs to haplogroup J1-Z18271 (downstream of ZS227), which corresponds to the lineage of the Y-chromosomal Aaron. During his career, Dustin Hoffman has won 2 Academy Award, was nominated for 5 additional ones, and won 6 Golden Globes out of 13 nominations. The Sultanates of Adal, Mogadishu and Ajuran would disagree. They were very much a mixed people, they spoke Arabic and had Arabic traditions and culture. They were so mixed in fact that according to Portuguese and ottoman sources the people were almost indistinguishable from common Arabs, but darker, the Arabic noses, wavy hair were prevalent from the elite to the lower strata. These people have been trading, mixing and fighting the Arabs for millennia. So yes they are very much Arabic. And let's consider AFRICAN ARABS like the Rashaida Bedouins of Sudan and the Baggara people who are very much Arabic though the Rashaida didn't mix to a great extent while the Baggāra are quite literally black subsaharan Africans	African, Black, Common	Ethnicity - Black, Social Class - Working class	3/119	2.521

Artair "We" have not categorized ourselves by race .. You and raciologists have categorized yourselves and everyone else by race . And you think we should be chiefly concerned with how you see us. The Human Race does not work that way. Just read a history book. I have no doubt that raciologists think they belong to a specific race . Everyone should have the freedom to delude themselves. And the only thing "we" need to be aware of are the people who insist on that delusion being reality.	Race	Ethnicity - General	4/86	4.651
Artair That is not the issue. The issue is identity. Raciologists make the claim that groups identify with race above and beyond every other way humans group themselves. I just showed how that is not true. In fact, it has never been true in the whole history of humanity. Race was built for the purposes of politics. It was not an observation of how human beings form social groups. That's why raciologists always claim "Africans are killing themselves". As though Africans see each other through the same nutty prism of race and that race even factors into the everyday issues of Africans.	Race	Ethnicity - General	4/102	3.922

Same applies for africa , an egyptian and an angolan have diffrent skin colors and features yet for you they are both labbeld " black ") not to talk about mixture of diffrent races and ethnicities (which are not always based on skin color or apperances) Now answer me this question if her skin color isnt "white" (terms you like ro use) then what is it? Artair” both are white” yeah when it comes to skin color they are slighty diffrent but they have seversl diffrent features ,(shape in eyes , diffrent heightsetc) portugal has a temperate average climate while ukraine is a cold country , ukrainians have developed to resist cold temperature while portuguese have adepted to survive average climates and even when you take one country people will still have diffrent skin colors , north italy for example you will find lighter skin tones similar to germans and french while on the south people will have darker skin colors. When you say ”white” you re refering to europeans and when you say ” black ”you re refering to africans and ” ” black ” or ”white” are colors not designations for citezens of an entire country , europeans have diffrent skin colors and apperances (its not only about skin color otger features change , bone structure , eyes shape etc..) based on regions , same dor africa .Now to the soo called ”facts ”you like some portuguese from the south (algarve for example) have darker skin colors the aj + here (due to its proximaty to africa) are they also black like aj ? Or are they still white deposite having darker skin colors then her because apperantly for you there is no diffrenxe between her and a nigerian.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	3/225	1.333
Artair arabs have similar complexion but you will still find diffrent skin colors and features due to mixtures, nobody is 100 arab or slav , or jewish , its all about you re genetic background which is always gonna have diffrent results based on. I feel like there is a huge misconception of the term "white" . Caucasians range from generic white-looking people in Europe, through Middle Easterners and all the way through to Indians! It would be crazy to consider all of these people white. I am Armenian and I honestly do not consider myself white, we are a lot like Middle Easterners in terms of looks and culture. We as the West Asian region deserve a whole new category. West Asians and Middle Easterners who would rather be considered white only feel this way because of the pressure put on us by society. We are minorities with lack of representation so why should we be categorised with people who colonised, who we do not identify with whatsoever, and be punished for the privilege we don't have? Caucasian somehow got stuck in people's mind as 'European' when that's not what Caucasian is. So basically you are letting the Europeans take away the race category you actually belong to because you hate white people? But you are actually messing it up for yourselves because you are letting European white people be the only ones that count as Caucasian when that isn't true. In any case I don't know why it even matters. I check Other on the race box. If they wouldn't ask me this stupid question I wouldn't even bother answering it. Americans are so obsessed with race and ethnicity it's tiring and annoying.	Ethnicity, Race	Ethnicity - General	5/146	3.425

The reason why Arabs are counted as white in the US is, I assume, because Americans use White and Caucasians as sinonims.Caucasians refers to a group that includes peoples from Europe, North Africa and West Asia (Middle Eastern mostly Muslims countries today). These peoples come in different shades of skin colour. I'm not sure what the exact criteria for being Caucasian is because my knowledge about race is mostly what I remember from high school geography class and I think there was only one page about it. The first J1 men lived in the Late Upper Paleolithic, shortly before the end of the last Ice Age. The oldest identified J1 sample to date comes from Satsurbliia cave (c. 13200 BCE) in Georgia (Jones et al. (2015)), placing the origins of haplogroup J1 in all likelihood in the region around the Caucasus, Zagros, Taurus and eastern Anatolia during the Upper Paleolithic. Like many other successful lineages from the Middle East, J1 is thought to have undergone a major population expansion during the Neolithic period. Chiaroni et al. (2010) found that the greatest genetic diversity of J1 haplotypes was found in eastern Anatolia, near Lake Van in central Kurdistan. Eastern Anatolia and the Zagros mountains are the region where goats and sheep were first domesticated, some 11,000 years ago. Chiaroni et al. estimated that J1-P58 started expanding 9,000 to 10,000 years ago as pastoralists from the Fertile Crescent. Although they did not analyze the other branches, it is likely that all surviving J1a1b (L136) lineages share the same origin as goat and sheep herders from the Taurus and Zagros mountains. The mountainous terrain of the Caucasus, Anatolia and modern Iran, which wasn't suitable for early cereal farming, was an ideal ground for goat and sheep herding and catalyzed the propagation of J1 pastoralists. Having colonised most of Anatolia, J1 herders would have settled the mountainous regions of Europe, including the southern Balkans, the Carpathians, central and southern Italy (Apennines, Sicily, Sardinia), southern France (especially Auvergne), and most of the Iberian peninsula. Hotspots of J1 in northern Spain (Cantabria, Asturias) appear to be essentially lineages descended from these Southwest Asian Neolithic herders. Most J1 Europeans belong to the J1-Z1828 branch, which is also found in Anatolia and the Caucasus, but not in Arabic countries. The Z1842 subclade of Z1828 is the most common variety of J1 in Armenia and Georgia. There are also two other minor European branches: J1-Z2223, which has been found in Anatolia and Western Europe, and J1-M365.1, also found a bit everywhere across Western Europe. Their very upstream position in the phylogenetic tree and their scarcity in the Middle East suggests that these were among the earliest J1 lineages to leave the Middle East, perhaps as Late Paleolithic or Mesolithic hunter-gatherers that wandered outside Anatolia and, pushed by successive waves of migrations from the Neolithic to the Bronze Age, ended up in Western Europe. Within the Middle East, SNP analysis shows that the J1-L136 branch migrated south from eastern Anatolia and split in four directions: Anatolia/Europe (PF7263), the Levant, the southern Zagros (and southern Mesopotamia ?), and the mountainous south-western corner of the Arabian peninsula (mostly in Yemen), bypassing the Arabian Desert. That latter group, consisting essentially of J1-P56 lineages, crossed the Red Sea to settle Sudan, Eritrea, Djibouti and northern Somalia. The climate would have been considerably less arid than today during the Neolithic period, allowing for a relatively easy transmigration across the Middle East with herds of goats. Neolithic J1 goat herders were almost certainly not homogenous tribes consisting exclusively of J1 lineages, but in all likelihood a blend of J1 and T1 lineages. So much is evident from the presence of both	Age, Common, Red	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Age - General, Ethnicity - Native-American, Social Class - Working class	9/1155	0.779

White is nothing more than a social status. All Europeans were not considered white. Arabs like the lady said are just Asians from Western Asia. North Africans are true Native Africans. Arabs invaded Africa in the 6th century. Arabs are considered to be white also based of a case of a guy named Khan. Who basically said hey Jesus is your boy in he was born in Western Asia. Today what we call Arabs is white! But they are really Persian and Turkish converts into Islam during Mohammads time. Muhammad who came out of the black tribe of Banu Quresh thought it was his job to convert them into Islam since the whites kept entering Arabia looking to be apart of the caravan trade. He made Islam as a rule to ensure their good behavior. Fast forward early 1900s the Persian Family of Saud took over Arabia and renamed the land Saudi Arabia and pushed the original black Arabs into Yemen and other places as Bedouins. The land, resources, language, religion all usurped. Arabia which sits next to Egypt was always known as North Africa and share the same geography, desert conditions, climate and animal life as the rest of North Africa. Arabia and N. Africa are on the same Tectonic plate and it was a small man made rift in the land called the red sea that separated Arabia from Africa. The answer would be no if white is defined as a white person of European heritage because Arabs didn't originate in Europe and besides the fact that they are genetically different they usually have a totally different religion and culture compared to the majority of white Europeans because they are mostly Muslims. Arabs should be classified as middle eastern Semitic Caucasian people. Although some of them look very "white" it doesn't mean that they belong to the racial group of white people. There are also black people in Africa who suffer from albinism that makes them look very pale but it doesn't make them racially white.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/106	0.943

White people is a racial classification specifier, used mostly and often exclusively for people of European descent. The term has at times been expanded to encompass certain persons of Middle Eastern, North African , and South Asian descent, persons who are often considered non-white in other contexts. Still today the relationship between some ethnic groups and whiteness remains complex. In particular, some Jewish and Arab individuals both self-identify and are considered as part of the White American racial category, but others with the same ancestry feel they are not white nor are they perceived as white by American society. The United States Census Bureau plans to add a new category to classify Middle Eastern and North African peoples in the U.S. Census 2020. According to Frank Sweet "various sources agree that, on average, people with 12 percent or less admixture appear White to the average American and those with up to 25 percent look ambiguous (with a Mediterranean skin tone)". Scientists told me I am white but it's not traditional. It's the same case with Southern Europeans, Middle Easterners, and North Africans. I've talked to white people and in most cases they say that Italians are not white. However, they are wrong, it's not that they aren't white they are it's not in the traditional sense. the term 'white' is just a socially classified group as the right term would be caucasian, and so is the term arab, being arab is not a race it just simply means you are from a country that speaks the arabic language there are so many different types of arabs e.g african arabs, levantine arabs and gulf arabs. In terms of appearance, african arabs have a darker complexion although not as dark as an average african person, gulf arabs can look persian or indian as they are geography closer to these countries, while levantine (northern) arabs such as syrian, lebanese, east jordanian, and palestinian arabs have a lighter complexion. For example my mum is an arab but looks like a northern european although my dad has a slightly darker olive complexion with dark eyes and hair and both are arabs, so technically arabs can be white but they also somehow aren't. In the Atlas mountains of Morocco. There are people who have blond hair and blue eyes - I saw them. I met a Moroccan who was a mechanic and who was going to fix my car. When I saw his face, I saw the face of Wild Bill Hickock, an old American folk hero who is probably of British origin. I am American of Moroccan origin. I myself have very white skin and when I was young I had blond hair even though I have Moroccan origin. Once I was in a classroom studying biology and people's origin and our teacher who was French saw me and said to the classroom kids that I wasn't Moroccan. The Mediterranean people are mixed. They have European, Arab, Amazigh, and Black blood. Well when you break it down, we have a few main categories for race in the US census. Caucasian, African , Asian, Pacific Islander and Native American. Hispanics can be of any race , but almost exclusively classified as white/Caucasian. Same thing withe Arabs. Classified as white because of their genetic similarities and historic location and tendencies. I think the right thing to do would be to add a box under ethnicity for Arab since being Arabic itself is not a race . The ethnicity tab would have Arabic, Hispanic or neither. Since some Arabs classify themselves as Asian, African or white adding the box under ethnicity would prove to be useful in narrowing down race and ethnicity . Sacred Truth yes what you are saying is true, there are many arabs who are syrian and labanese with a fair complexion, but I think it also depends on where you live in a single country too, for example in some places in palestine there are people with darker skin, where there are places where you find fair skin more, and the same goes for every country so it's fair to say that all countries vary in colors it's just that some have a larger complexion of a color more than other countries.But in the end, why color is something that matters so much is honestly beyond me, I don't think skin color defines who you are or changes anything about you or how much of a good or bad person you are.So seeing people argue about it and hate each other for it disgusts me and how people even judged me for the color of my hair or my skin color that I'm not muslim, or that I don't practice my religion, or that I play around with men just because of my skin and hair color.And how people treat black people as if they're ratchet or ugly or how they treat brown skinned people as if their opressing and terrorists is ignorant.In his farewell speech, the Prophet affirmed that all people are equal like the teeth of a comb and that no Arab is superior to a non-Arab, nor is a white person superior to a black person, unless by virtue of personal integrity and moral rectitude.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/263	0.76

XFlorentti Latino is a place association. People from Latin American regions I.e. Latin America generally refers to territories in the Americas where the Spanish or Portuguese or French languages prevail: Mexico, most of Central and South America, and in the Caribbean, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, and Puerto Rico.(it even can include Quebec) ...Hispanic mainly refers to people who have Spanish/Portuguese blood. Latinos are always Hispanic. But Hispanic people are not always Latinos. People from Spain/Portugal are Hispanic, not Latino. They are not from the Americas. There is no "percentage" that you have to be to BE Latino. You only need Spanish or Portuguese blood and to be born in the Americas. You can also be that and have any combination of other peoples living in the Americas. Creole is determined the same way. Creoles are people of French or Spanish heritage born in the Americas. American Creoles were often interbred with American natives and African . But they could also be 100 European. Creole simply infers the PLACE of birth. No people born in France, Spain or Portugal are Creole. All people with French, Spanish or Portuguese heritage born in America are. American natives are not Creole. African Americans born in America are not Creole. The key is the connection with Latin Europe (not including Italy or Romania...the romance language countries or latinate countries) and American birth. So there is overlap with Creole and Latino. Creole, in general, focuses on French culture and language derivations. island Creoles speak French or a French patois, (Haiti, Santo Domingo, leeward and windward islands) referred to AS Creole. Again, no percentages of any particular group is required, except the base groups of some French or Spanish and any other group. Most important too is the connection with the Catholic faith and cultural practices of the dominant ethnic groups. The same goes for Latinos. Eros Delorenzi You can be any race and be Latin. You can be any race and be Hispanic. You can be any race and be European or African. Latin, European and African are PLACE names. Hispanic is a LANGUAGE name. Just like you can be any race and be American or Mexican. The first means you were born in the PLACE. The second means Spanish was your first language. Arabic is a little narrower. It usually means you are related to Semitic peoples and speak Arabic. You are more likely to be Muslim. Your racial origins are less likely to be purely African, though Arabic people may have very dark skin and African ancestry and features. Point is, we are all mixed up from ancient times. Ancestry is about who we look like, where we come from, religious backgrounds, cultural upbringing and genetics. There are no absolutes. Most absolutists do so out of prejudice and ignorance of the human story. There might be a few human beings (and I mean a few hundred or a few thousand) alive today who are 100 aboriginal. But the other 7.529 billion of us are not pure anything, except human. It's foolish to argue otherwise. You CAN argue what your PERCEPTION of a group is from your upbringing. And you can adhere to that perception. But it's not genetically or archaeologically accurate. Social constructs separate people by class, race, religion, culture. Inclusive views break down those barriers. I choose inclusion.	African, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	9/246	3.659
Eros Delorenzi People who speak Arabic can be of many religious backgrounds, eg. Islam, Christianity and Zoroastrinism. Your place upbringing influences how you identify. Nothing is written in stone. That's the point. I never said your language was Spanish. Italy and Sicily are not known as Hispanic regions. I never said ALL Arabs have dark skin. And I said nothing about an individual moving from their birth region claiming their new region as their origin. I spoke of historic migrations where people interbred after moving permanently and exchanging culture. If there is no exchange of language or culture, of course one usually claims their birth culture, language and traditions. Though you claim Arabic heritage, it appears are genetically more Greek and you speak Sicilian and possibly Italian. You are a prime example of cultural, social, language blending.	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	2/137	1.46

Moe Baller - culturally yes but not necessarily genetically. You do realize plenty of white people were in the Middle East thousands of years ago. Indo-Europeans came to the Middle East before they did many regions of Europe! Also there were ethnic Caucasian groups too (as in from the Caucasus region, of course). Sure most ethnic Caucasians look darker today in their homeland but it's because of interbreeding over the past few centuries. But Caucasians are historically...caucasian.	Ethnic	Ethnicity - General	2/77	2.597

John VolkenPure Middle Eastern bloodlines existed hundreds of thousands years ago, long before white people even stepped foot in the Middle East. Interbreeding occurred much later in history and it exists in every race only as as a small minority. Regardless, it does not change the genetic roots of any race.A white person is someone’s ancestry originating from Europe.The average and majority of Middle Easterns don’t tick this criteria, therefore we are not white. It’s quite simple, our ancestry dates back in the Middle East.We are different to white people genetically, historically, and culturally. All these factors apply when differentiating a race from one another, and there is plenty of evidence to prove it.Middle Easterns, Asians, Whites, Pacific Islanders, Blacks, etc are all built differently. We can be easily distinguished and identified. Nowadays, Middle Easterns are usually classified under either Caucasian or Asian. However, it’s important to note that being Caucasian does not mean you are white lol, this is a common myth and I advise you to research about it to understand the difference. North Africans, Western Asians, etc are classified under Caucasian, yet are they white? For majority cases, no.Anyways, I cbf w this anymore lmfao, no clue why yall even care about this. We know what we are, and we know our origin.	Common, Race	Ethnicity - General, Social Class - Working class	4/222	1.802
Naveenthan Kanthan you are an idiot you know why? You said Arabs can pass as Hispanics? But Hispanic is not a race! Hispanics are mixed with European, African, and indigenous depending on what country. Latin America is a melting pot of races. Look at Colombia, Dominican Republic or Panama. And tell me what do Hispanics look like? Because they came in different shades of color, different genetic makeup and hair texture. You simply can’t look Hispanic. Now you mention that Arabs can’t look white? Looks like you need to travel more and look at people from Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, Jordan or Palestine. A lot of those people are white. A lot of them have European ancestry from the Greeks which is why they look white today. Other Arab counties like Yemen, saudis Arabia, or Qatari are usually darker skin with dark hair. Just like in Latin America, a lot of Venezuelans and Argentinas look European while other Hispanics counties like Dominican Republic or panama are darker skin with darker curly hair. avah Thomas Arab Middle Easterners are the still the same race as White Europeans regardless. (Caucasoid) scientifically is the correct racial term. "White" is only used as a geographical/social term catered mainly for Europeans. [LINK] And it's the other way around. Yazidi people that have blonde hair and blue eyes are not mixed with Russians or other Europeans. The gene for light hair and light eyes literally came from the Middle East long before it ever showed up in Europe. How can we be considered whites if we (algerians for instance) are Africans ? The skin color of some of us is white, but our history isnt. Did yall know that Algeria had been colonized by France for over 130 years between the 19th and 20th centuries. Algerians have been killed, raped, humiliated, their land stolen by hundreds of thousand of French who came from France to settle, came with their culture, habits, clothing styles, religion... they even named the country The French Algeria. (Western countries colonized à lot of african countries, thats why we all speak european languages in our countries and gouvernements now, and even some current african currencies are still made in France so theres always this economical, cultural grip on Africans.)Anyways, back to Algeria... To all the ppl out there... arab isnt a race ...arab referres to ur first mother tongue language...which is arabic ... so north africa r arabs bcuz their mother language is arabic....get it ..like we say to ppl who speak english bcuz their first language is english.. so they r english so north africa r arabs ... but tbh this question is sooo stupid that arabs r considered white? Really ? I dont think so.. we have many different skin colors.... like the irony here to whoever entered the sat or ap there is a part to shade ur race and they put white(including middleeast) .. How and when we r considered white ?	Race	Ethnicity - General	2/116	1.724

Arab= Ethnicity . Ethnicity and race are different. The "middle east" is western Asia(minus Egypt.) You're Asian if you are from a country in Asia. You are African if you come from an African country. You are Caucasian if you come from a European country. You are Latino if you come from central+south america. You are Polynesian if you come from Oceania. It's really not that hard. This video proves the point that middle easterners aren't a new random race and were Asian to begin with so how the hell does it make sense to add a new race for them instead of putting them under the race they've already been established as. Making up races is what ancient Europeans did. Just go by whatever continent you hail from.	African, Ethnicity, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	7/127	5.512

I'm so white I'm transparent. Yet EVERY SINGLE TIME I've been through TSA security in the last 15 years I've never reaped any of that 'sweet white privilege' either 0:39 . Every last time I've gone through security I get the extra screening pat down and a couple times taken into the back room for the more thorough search. Why you ask? Because I'm a male age 18 to 35. Do I complain? Not one bit. But don't give me this 'white privilege' nonsense as if the TSA is only screening Arabs and 'no one else'. They're screening everyone who fits into a hijacker/attacker profile and YES IN FACT white males 18 to 35 are more likely to shoot up things, blow up things, kill people, be serial killers etc etc etc. Be they Arab, be they European-American, or black . I was shocked when I met a black Arab for the first time, because I was under the impression that Arab was a race , and that the Arab race was white. Like Latino/Hispanic, which is a multiracial ethnic group, I learned that Arab is also not a race . It's a beautiful collection of multi-hue, multi racial people. They can be brown black , light, dark, pale, just so diverse. So much more diverse than we paint them to be, with a wonderful rainbow of hues, and hair textures, and facial features. Arab itself is not a race . Its something far more diverse and beautiful than what we imagine.	Black, Ethnic, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	7/107	6.542

Matty Ice Skin color has nothing to do with ethnicity or race . It is meaningless because of how easily it can change based on climate, weather and geographic location. By saying that ethnicity is related to skin color then that means any fair skinned person can go get a tan and thereby change their ethnicity which is wrong!	Ethnicity, Nothing, Race, Tan	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General, Nationality - British	6/58	10.345
heyayup A white person getting a tan isn't them changing their 'ethnicity or race' that's just genetics. My point is Arabs are not white, because they're from the Middle East (south west Asia) , just as Hispanics are not white because they're from South America or some from the Caribbean, just as white people are white because they're from Europe.	Tan	Nationality - British	1/60	1.667
Matty Ice I don't think you read very well hahaha that's exactly what I just said, You can't change your ethnicity by getting a tan so therefore skin color has nothing to do with ethnicity because of how easily it can change. Europeans and Middle Eastern people are all Caucasian. What does location prove? Borders are created by man through conquest and war, they are arbitrary. So I guess by your logic Russians aren't Caucasians since Russia is in Asia. Hispanics of the America's are mixed between Native indigenous peoples of the America's and White Spanish colonials.	Ethnicity, Nothing, Tan	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General, Nationality - British	4/97	4.124
Matty Ice How am I contradicting myself? I just proved my point through the example of Russia, you just don't want to face the facts. There is a distinction between white and Caucasian. White is a social construct where as Caucasian is ethnicity and biology. I'm talking about the Caucasian race as a whole. Yes I know that the term Caucasian comes from the Caucus region. The Caucus region is right beside Iran, Armenia, Turkey and Azerbaijan. You're delusional, Most of Russia is in Asia, not "part". You can choose to identify however you want but facts never change. Arab is not a race. I have done y chromosome DNA test and my haplogroup is J1. I am from a family who is known to be prophet Mohammed's descendents(very likely true not 100).We don't even marry other than from non Arab tribes, and that's been happening since before ottoman empire and recorded in their time and ottomans gave us like a salary and we held positions just for our lineage . I honestly don't get all the Egyptians, Somalians, Berbers claiming to be of the Arab race. How did a bunch of J1 Arab nomads in the 7th century with armies that do not exceed 30k men followed up by settlers from arabia into Egypt years later mix with the natives and become a majority 1400 years later ? We the arabs and jews are cousins, (assuming the jew is jewish all through their forefathers they'll have either J1 or J2) . I did 2 dna test, one was y chromosome the other was a random test that gives roughly where your from and I got 98 i wasn't surprised I mean as I said we don't mix with everyone.As for my Complexion and facial features, my hair is wavy, skin colour is like the woman in this video, nose is straight and the middle part protrudes and this is typical of us, although my siblings have hooked nose, just slightly hooked and small. (I'm17).God I suck at English sorry . But I get pissed when for example ummmm... I see studies even by respected scholars claiming Iq averages of different racial groups and putting "arab" in there as if we are a race (yes different races have different IQs thats a fact) ... Based on What ? assuming Iq is genetic and that my brother who is in a gifted program in Saudi I visited their class and not a single one was afro arab(about 30 of saudis are and I was judging by sight of his class when compared with saudi population) and 2 of students in his class out of 20 were Qurashis and hes the third...they have the saaaaame last name ! and the rest were of beduin pure arab descent... coincidence ? the same race that conquered North Africa and Spain (with berbers) in the past is now the one conquering aptitude tests in Saudi.I observe these things because I care. I might be biased so if you have comments tell me . so basically what im saying Average Iq in saudi is in 80s > majority of students in gifted classes are of arab tribes and not mixed> racial Arabs are about 30 in saudi= arabs have higher average iq than the average saudi and this only follows from the fact that it is unbelievable that a bunch of nomands toppled 2 empires at the time must have been smart, they were OP and needed a nerf. The same thing is gonna happen to caucasians in the west they might get a nerf soon. By the way, I believe average Iq of any race is not fixed, well it's not a belief, I can argue for several factors that contribute to the change of iq over generations within one given race, and I want to one day do further research on this topic as Iq is GODDAMN IMPORTANT.	Race, Woman	Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	7/560	1.25

moustapha lee What 'we' brag about is the civilizations of Science and Industry that we developed, improving Standards of Living and Quality of Life. Greeks, Romans, Persians were among the first to make that happen. Hindus did their own thing, a little different than Greeks, a little different than China, where The Art of War was written 500 B.C. Egyptians? Those paintings look like Whites who were Engineering and Organizing while Blacks did the work - same as in the world today - including in Africa today. Asian and Caucasian, similarly industrious, but culturally different. Africans just kinda sing and dance and screw and practice Voodoo and stuff, enjoying simpler things in life, now including basketball, like Native Americans and Native Australians do (except for basketball). FACT: Everyone on earth would be happier if separate races went back to their separate places, so that they could be whatever they want to be, industrious, people of science and industry, or, 'soul men'. USA/CAN/MEX (aka, North America, aka, Nordica)? For whatever reason, the Natives were wiped out by Plague of Pox, and no longer exist but in very small numbers, and anyone who thinks that anyone but Whitey built the USA as it is today is just plain stupid, so, North America is now Whitey -Land just as much as Europe. Africa can and should be left alone, so that Blacks can be whatever they want to be, which is a Matriarchal Society, led by women who are stupid enough to do the boring and hard work around the village while men go out hunting all day and come back to the village at night to screw - just like Native Americans, and the Pre-Greek-Europeans once did too (with high infant mortality, but, really, so what?). However, being cold in North America and Europe as it is, some Science and Industry makes for a better Quality of Life, so, Whitey -Lands they be. See?	Whitey	Ethnicity - White	1/320	0.312

White is the race of the people that originally inhabited Europe to South Asia, and can now be found all over the world in places like America and Oceania. Despite the names, race has nothing to do with skin color. Example, you can have White, Black and Asian men that will have the same skin color, but different hair, eyes and facial features. Arabs are not white, they are a caucasian ethnicity however. The race is Caucazoid to be exact. There is no oppression of Arabs or Muslims in America. Islamophobia does not exist. Fear of, or opposition to, Islam is not irrational fear. A phobia is by definition irrational. Islamophobia is a term thrown around to silence critics of Islam. In other words, an Islamophobe is a non Muslim that knows more about Islam than Muslims are comfortable with and when Muslims cannot answer the criticism of Islam being addressed. One can criticise Islam as an ideology, which we should just as with all ideologies, without criticising Muslims. Islam is not a religion but a total way of life, it is the political aspect of Islam that is incompatible with the West. Lastly, Muslim is not a race , Muslims know this. That doesn't stop them from labeling opponent of Islam as racists. Try being more honest.	Ethnicity, Race	Ethnicity - General	3/154	1.948

Historically in the United States, Arabs fought legal battles to be considered white, especially in the context of the segregated south. They fought to have legal white privilege. But now all of the sudden in the post civil-rights era they want to be minorities, since there are special benefits and protections for minorities. This is opportunism, plain and simple.
