I see so many offensive comments towards travelers. You ever heard the saying don't stroke every folk with the same brush. I come from a travelling family myself, to understand the culture, the real culture. You never will. Non of you are open minded which is why true travelers stay private and away from house people 'gorgers'. It's trying to keep up old traditions. Which stems from respecting the life style your grandparents lived. I, myself and my siblings have been brought up in a house for many years now and have gone to school, college. And work. The old traditions won't stay alive much longer because everything's moving up in life. However have you ever sat and thought to yourself that if we move into a house and live the life you will, you still won't accept us. It's taken many years for us to be accepted in our neighbor hoods. We had so many hate crimes happen, me a young 12 year old having drunk women try and attack me because I'm a 'smelly gypsy girl'. And you wonder why we want to fuck off and live our own peaceful lives. Because we don't get judged. We had to put up with so much. Just so my 11 year old sister and young cousins can live a peaceful life and go to school. I have to withhold the abuse so eventually you all give up and give the younger generations a chance. I'm 19 now. I smile and say hello to my now neighbours who used to hurl abuse to me, a young child at the ages of 15. Have you ever thought about the effects this had on me, wondering why I didn't want to go to school. I was riddled with anxiety and didn't want to leave my home. The bullying never stopped until I left high school and went to a college. I will say this, my family never once started trouble but we finished it and defended ourselves. My great grandad was a well respected man, who didn't believe in thieving or lying. Strong catholics at that. And because you all seen something on tv you presumed we was like what you seen on tv. Now, imagine if this was any religion or other culture put through this. You'd stand up and defend them. But us gypsies get no one defending us all our lives we will have to defend ourselves. What a crock of shit, the same thing happens here in America in Democrat run cities, the leftist loons encourage it, enable it, and love the havoc it creates, it gives them more victims as they attempt to change the populous of a nation into needy beggars.No thanks liberal moon bats, lol! They're rather strange folk. Commonly referred to as gypsies but don't confuse them for Roma gypsies. Irish travellers/Pikeys are a menace to communities, they expect the country to accommodate them but give nothing back. They came over from Ireland a several hundred years ago and have been here ever since. I'm still holding out hope that we can send them back.	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/61	1.639
Pikeys are known to perform cash in hand and scrap metal jobs, although they're also well known to steal. Theft is a massive problem when dealing with Pikeys. Because they pay no rent, they often have quite abit of money despite their destitute circumstances. Irish Travellers tried to rob my grandfathers house, a couple days after he had sadly passed. They're opportunistic and I would discourage getting friendly with them, they'd rob you blind and skip town.	Blind	Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/77	1.299

Bit late, but I am a traveller . My family have lived in the same place for 60 years, all of my family are very well educated and own their own businesses. I myself am going to study at university next year. I beg you, don't let videos like this and tv programmes define what you think about us, because it only shows the worst of us. I don't know how I've lived all these years and know nothing about "Travellers". I've been watching shows about Gypsies and Travellers in America and I've felt very sympathetic toward them. I guess my thinking is just "live and let live". But I've never had any kind contact with them and when I read all the comments about what happens when groups of Travellers come to town and I don't know what to think. It seems to be a very interesting subject. Can anyone recommend any accurate and balanced documentaries that I could watch to learn more? I don't mean the "reality TV" kind. I really would like to know more about these people, their history and lifestyle etc.	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/119	0.84
I work at a bar in Germany and one night an Irish traveller family arrived when my coworker was working. She told me the kids started running throughout the bar like it was a playground and the one kid set some tabs on fire with a candle. The mother's excuse was that the kid has ADHD and can't focus properly or some bullshit like that. Then my coworker kicked them out as it was 10pm and kids shouldn't be in the bar at that time anyways.	Traveller	Ethnicity - Roma	1/86	1.163

One of my best friends at school was a gypsy , (kinda). Her mother fled her abusive husband and got fully kicked out of the whole thing. She took her 2 year old and just bolted.She ended up working as a waiter in London in the 1990's, where she meet her second husband. He's Australian and he made an absolute fuckton in the early 2000's tech boom. This was after my friends mum had married him and moved with her daughter to Australia. So anyway my friend grew up here and never knew her mums family or anything, but eventually her family found out about them. And let me tell you, travellers might talk a big game kicking people out and only marrying within their group, but the minute they found out what my friends step-father was worth (like I dunno defiantly tens of millions) they disregarded the whole thing. They where obsessed with moving here and becoming "Part of the family".	Gypsy, Old	Age - Over 65s, Ethnicity - Roma	2/161	1.242
Heres a radical idea ! How about give them their traveller sites they are entitled too? just an idea local council people!!	Traveller	Ethnicity - Roma	1/22	4.545

Criminal councillors broke the law by not providing proper sites for travellers, should have been punished. Most romanies are decent people, most of the so-called law-abiding majority are repeat dangerous criminal offenders, yet are such deluded and/or pompous fools they don't even recognise it. Most romanies value cleanliness, are often shocked by the filthy habits of the settled community. Many non-travellers do fly-tipping, including on sites just vacated by travellers. Most non-romanies are stereotyping racists. Massive numbers of romanies, including little children, were killed in concentration camps by the vicious non-romany butchers supported by millions of their racist ilk; the Porajmos-holocaust that is rarely mentioned. No doubt millions of racists would want the same extermination today; that shows the character of huge numbers of non-romanies; fascist thugs like those the world war 2 "finest hour" heroes fought against. Romanies and travellers are persecuted and treated disgracefully, as ever- kind, responsible and decent ones attacked, spat on, insulted. The land should belong to us all, instead of millions of acres belonging to the criminal rich, the rest with nowhere to stay. The racism of the settled community has caused the problems they now complain about- it could all have been very different, but hatred breeds contempt in return. Shame on all racists and hooray for all those decent people who simply want to live a peaceful nomadic lifestyle but are subjected to so much disgusting harassment and vitriol from hateful and narrow-minded hypocrites	Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - General	2/242	0.826

I've always taught my sons to treat people how they want to be treated. Last night I was walking with two of my sons to fetch a 3rd from cubs, on the way two 'travellers' tried to humiliate me by calling into question whether or not I was the owner of two functioning testicles. To be honest, I was confused at first, as I presumed by their voices that they were suffering some speech, and or, mental malady. They took my apparent confusion as a win, and sauntered off to intimidate the staff at the local shop. My kids were full of questions! Suffice to say I simply told them that travellers are a proud and noble race who felt so threatened by our walking past them, that they had to strike first. I then reiterated that diversity is our strength, and that our ancestors probably enslaved their ancestors, so really, it's all we deserve. My kids asked why I didn't stick up for myself, a difficult one that, I just went with the truth, and said, "The noble travellers love to fight people, any people, as its part of their rich and diverse culture. However, if I defended myself verbally, then they would see that as a green light from me that I wanted to partake in a fight. Then, if the one I started to fight with looked to be in any way losing, his companion would then feel compelled to join in, to guarantee my defeat. He may also call his nearby relatives, and they would also feel that it would be in everyone's best interest for them to ensure that I spent the next few days in hospital". So suffice to say, I'm sure there are some travellers who are great, unfortunately I've yet to meet one, or indeed, anyone who has had a positive experience with one. This programme virtually celebrates their existence, each syllable dripping with patronising admiration. I am not a Gypsy .But the way people look down on them is horrible.Most of them are hard working people.It makes me feel ashamed of being English the way they treat these people.Instead of councils spending tax payers money constantly moving them on,would it not be better to build more sites for these people to live on.I'm sure the Travellers would not object to paying rent council tax and water rates.The children would be in regular schools and gain a proper education.Our corrupt UK Government spend billions of pounds a year on immigrants who enter the Uk every day without passports or paperwork.But they don't look after our own people.And then have the cheek to ask us not to be racist .But the corrupt Government and councils are racist themselves to our British travellers.This country is on it's knees with the immigrants they are allowing in.The UK is the only country i know of that let people in without passports.Its a joke when they treat our own people this way.The travellers are not invading our country.They are simply wanting somewhere to live in their own country.England Scotland Ireland and Wales all form the UK....I am sure it will not be long before the corrupt UK Government and councils will start building new estates to house our illegal immigrants,which will no doubt be in rural country side.And give them state handouts and new schools.There are thousands on our streets already..HOMELESS ..Yet they are still allowing them in in their droves...But they won't build new sites for our own travellers or our own homeless people..The damage the corrupt Government has done to this country is terminal..This country is fucked big time.Give the British homeless new homes and give our travellers the sites they so desperately need.As for the illegal immigrants send them back to wherever they came from...We want our country back and to make it Great again.... i am a gypsy . I always regret watching videos like this and allowing myself to read the comments. In all cultures there are variations, these here are irish travellers.. and yes, most are tyrants to even us romany gypsies people. But true blood gypsies are truly not disrespectful, dirty, tax avoiding people. We won't steal your things, we'd rather go without than have had to steel it. If our family and friends new we stole from people, nobody would want to live around us or would he embarrassed to say they know us. We are proud, clean, moral people, are culture is not of this age , but we love it and like to embrace it. It seems nowadays, you can be what you want, girls can be boys, boys can be girls, but you can't be a gypsy . i will always understand why we are thought of like we are, when i look at irish travellers in the corner shop, i know it's them tarnishing our reputation and various other bad eggs of the gypsy community. but some are not "all" please keep an open mind when you meet a gypsy , we are just people. My first encounter with gypsies was when I worked in my first hotel job as a part-time night auditor. I didnt have to deal with them until it was time to kick them out.....OH MAN. There was shit and trash on the floor everywhere. Literal shit. Found out when I came in one day, that my manager was going to call the cops and kick them out because of the headaches they were giving the rest of the staff and the fact that they were behind on paying their bill. How in the FUCK could you be in a hotel room and have feces on the floor?!?!? The bathroom is right there! The public bathroom was literally 15-20 steps away from the room too. They ended up getting kicked out a few days later. Ever since, I have heard nothing but bad things about these folks which is sad. If everyone lived like this the country would be pure mayhem, if everywhere was just a free for all.. people have to earn money to buy land or property.. and its all well and good to want to live for free and just set up home wherever you feel or just claim land but that's not how the world works and the reason a lot of people can't stand gypsies is because not only do they not conform with society so already that would be frowned upon they ruin the land where they stay damaging the grass etc leaving rubbish, crap and even bags of human waste (most recently around a war memorial site) so yeah gypsies don't really help themselves, well they do! Group of settled travelers live close to me,about 8 houses,went to school with some of them. Grand ppl. However they're a serious drain on us nearby residents. They live by a park and on a main road in a mini cul de sac,I've seen first hand they're dogs being run over while chasing someone across the road who was simply walking on the wrong side of the path and the dog trying to bite them. Kids get barred from shops and harrass ppl shopping and working all the time. One day I saw one jump up on the counter of a pizza place for a laugh screaming racial remarks. Another time the retail shop I worked in had to be evacuated and staff sent home after there was (with no exaggeration) an all out brawl between two families because someone was wearing the wrong colour,too many of them not enough security and they just had to be left at it . Then at any given time of year at least one of the 8 houses are totally burnt down, constantly being repaired by the council and tax payers and another burns down in a weird cycle. Grew up in the Midlands where there's a thriving traveller population. As with any demographic there's a few troublesome folks but most of them are just trying to live like everyone else. Many travellers even want to buy land and settle permanently, however local councils refuse to sell them land and grant planning permission simply because they don't want travellers living in their district. This was the case for several families I knew growing up, they were forced to continue moving around because nobody would let them buy somewhere to live. Institutionalised racism only makes this situation worse, it's unreal how many people are prejudiced against gypsies in the UK despite never actually meeting them. They have a noble bloodline that goes back thousands of years and their culture is as welcome here as anyone else's; it's called Great Britain not because it's full of angry white people, but because throughout history we have been invaded and settled by bloodlines from all over Europe and even further afar, making us the most mixed and unique Europeans. so once you could travel, see the world, live on the roads, work when you needed money, and follow the seasons, the herds, you name it. its a very old tradition, originally tribes also moved to match the seasons and herds, world wide. if you have never travelled, then you really have no idea. but bit by bit, its been made harder and harder. Originally these "greens" were deliberately left for people to live on. but its easier to steal from those who stay put, hit them with the endless land taxes, than it is to target people who wont stay still. You can always "take away their home" but its a lot harder when the home ups and drives away. I think this persecution of travellers, not just in the U.K, but world wide, is very wrong. The first thing you need to understand about travelers is that they are essentially stupid! They know f*ck all about anything other than the basics of life, they are like a backwards tribe of African pygmies that are impressed with shiny bits of metal, talk to these thick fu*kers slowly and don't use any big complicated words or you will completely confuse the sh*t out of a traveler, a game of chess or scrabble is totally out of the question but they just may be able to grasp naughts and crosses if you come across an oddly bright traveler. To be fair, it's not always been like that. Because travellers don't want to integrate into mainstream society they have always been demonised and disrespected. It's no wonder communities turn militant when no matter where they go they are discriminated against and judged to be all the same. Any minority throughout history has had to endure untold amounts of suffering until society finally accepted them. It's easy to pretend like certain people don't belong and are alien to society because it makes you feel better about yourself but your identity and your way of life is just as subjective and fragile as anyone else's, including travelers. You could lose your home tomorrow, you could be thrown on the streets, lose your job, be patronised by your peers and excluded from your community. Who says you should be treated like that? If that's true why should anyone else? You get the bad people wherever you go and whoever those people are. Doesn't mean everybody is the same. My ex girlfriend was a settled Irish traveller and she was the nicest woman I had met. She's married now. Her dad has worked all his life. Her mum too. Her family are very well connected. But if you think they've had that life given to them on a plate think again. She used to tell me how people would throw them out of pubs for belonging to the Irish traveller community, without doing anything wrong! She would get dirty looks walking down the street and got bullied at school for being different. She chose to stick with education and came out with a degree despite most women in the community feeling pressured to follow the traditional path. She never said boo to a goose and her family never caused any trouble. Not to say an extended members didn't but you find me an extended family that is squeaky clean and model citizens. Billy But Whole But here in the UK we don't pay medical insurance so for gypsies here they can go to any hospital or dr and receive free care. It is different in the USA i believe. But most traveller women here now claim all the government benefits going. They pay fck all to rent a plot on a camp site and the men do all the roofing and tarmac work but pay no tax or n.i insurance and so there is no proof they work and so the women claim benefits for themselves as they cannot work due to being full time mum of up to 5 or more kids. why the fuck you idiots even care whether or not they pay or dont pay taxes or get free healthcare? there are far worse things being funded by government than fixing some gypsy girls broken leg, government is pissing on your tax money, they laugh at your face! They are fucking pissing on your face while you give them money and use it to blow up some children in Iraq, or to bribe some government officials in africa so their corporate friends in BP can get access to sweet oil a pay 0 taxes and even charge you 1.30 pounds for litre of gas, most of which is taxes while you fuckers whine about somebody getting "too much health" fuck off will ya? lets cut the bullshit and get to the real reason you hate them, BECAUSE THEY ARE DIFFERENT, they dont live your boring 9-5 bullshit jobs, they dont suck it up to bankers so they can mortgage a house they will never pay off, they dont give a shit about fitting in your inbred culture designed to suck out every penny out of you, get you in debt and be corporate slave to the very same companies i mentioned before while you get fuck all to show for it. And thats a crime you just wont forgive.	Gypsy	Ethnicity - Roma	1/219	0.457
john smith that is EXTREMELY racist to say, in the beginning of the 19th century people started to believe we we were witches and wizards and made potions and since no one would hire us because we're 'gypsy scums' we resorted to saying we actually were witches and people would believe it. I bet you chavvy chav chavlings venture out on a Friday night with your chav -level ”best suit” and prop the bar up at the local, before becoming intoxicated by 4 lemonade shandie, before staggering home in your crappy Primark clothes and beating up your girlfriend. That's crap I agree, no one should be vilified for what they are, nobody . If councils don't respond though to the requests of their local council tax and rate payers over issues, and one will be the illegal occupation or trespass and despoilment of public land, they get slated for it. They're a people out of time. They used to provide a service of being tinkers and doing other odd jobs, and to some extent some still do but the vast majority have turned to behaviors that have them hated by settled people. Such as, leaving their hauling sites destroyed, feuding between their own families like bronze age savages, stealing and swindling, mistreating their "pets", generally being disrespectful of others and not teaching their children how to be respectful. It's sad that all travelers have to deal with being tarnished with the same brush by settled people but when such a large proportion of travelers are bad human beings it's only wise to act in such a way towards them. What travelers need to do is settle on their own get a stable job, buy or build their own home, not among their extended family and slowly built a good reputation among their settled neighbors and in only a generation or two would be seen as trusted individuals. It might be hard leaving a tradition that's been around for hundreds of years but all that remains of that tradition in the future is misery and poverty.	Age	Age - General	1/195	0.513

Everytime they are moved on, it breaks up the community. Community is a real strength within Traveller families.	Traveller	Ethnicity - Roma	1/19	5.263
Well the fundamental problem with what they're doing is that if the entire population did it, society as we know it would break down and collapse e.g. the healthcare system/social and public services etc. If everyone decided they were going to live in a caravan and not pay taxes, the country wouldn't function. If you allow some to come over then just as with economic migration, it only encourages more. Then there's the reality that space is extremely limited o this small island as it is. Then there's the fact that they create a mess everywhere they go. Then there's the fact that they intimidate the locals. Another issue that arises is similar to the problem many Western countries have with their Muslim populations and it's integration. The travelling community refuse to integrate into mainstream society. They basically want to live in their own parallel society and at the cost of the tax payer. This isn't good for society as a whole.I could go on and on but these are side points really. Ultimately, a nation can only support a small number of them. Also, they have a habit of disruption the personal security of houses and shops around where they park up.As a cab driver, I have personally been on the receiving end of their habits. In one weekend, I had five incidents of groups of them exiting the cab with no intention of paying, and four did notes being handed over as payment. Virtually every single cab of a fleet of 250 cabs & over 200 private hire vehicles in our town had at least one experience of their anti-social behaviour. The shops and houses around where they parked up were subject to break-Ins & theft. The Police were overloaded with reports of crimes committed by the travellers, so the cab trade had to accept being well down the list of priorities. The pubs & clubs endured a whole weekend of vandalism, theft & counterfeit Tenners and twenties being passed. Any establishment where the doorstaff refused them entry were met with violence & vandalism, or threats of both.. It's no wonder these reprobates are not welcome wherever they go. They also drove expensive vehicles all over the sports pitches, completely ruining newly laid grass, and trashed the facilities for the pitches. It cost thousands to repair the damage and clean up the revolting stuff they left behind, once they decided to leave for pastures new. This is all documented fact, not rumour, so, snowflakes & PC do-gooders, don't bother pulling out the racism card, get off your lazy arses & follow some of these groups to witness the reality of their trail of destruction and criminal behaviour before you start calling the local population "bigots" and "racists", and sympathise with the travellers/gypsies or whatever they call themselves. That one weekend cost me virtually a whole week's earnings. Yes, I actually worked for an honest living, but I still had all my expenses like insurance, licence fees etc to cover and repairs to the vehicle after one group tore the rear door off in their attempt to make their trip free of charge! I did read it, maybe actually read my comment? The police don't do anything even though these people are trespassing for days before they get moved on. if I went and parked my car on my local park I would be asked to move on by the police, yet they wouldn't do the same for travellers. Why should they have special rules? I can't trespass and neither can they, that's the simple bit that isn't hard to understand. I would never rule out a whole group of people saying there is no good in them at all, I'm sure there are people in the traveller community with good hearts. You have to understand though this is a real problem where I live. The clear up operations can cost £30-£50k depending on how long they stay (funded by mine and your council tax). I mean even if they cleared up after them then that would be a start, but the ones that have moved in to parks and football clubs by me never do. In the case of the football club they had to foot the bill and struggled to stay open, not sure how you can really defend that? I really don't think it's a simple as you make out 'treat them like neighbours' not sure if you're experienced with travellers but that doesn't work. They are breaking the law from the offset which is what often causes the confrontation, whether that's with the police or the locals. Good look with your approach though, maybe it will work for you. Harry Jagwar For whatever its merits or lack of, 'the system' was imposed by violence in every case; in no case did the people choose it. Every nation state in history was founded by people who took control by force and ruled by force. The infrastructure you mention, while being a convenience to the people, also benefits the elites by allowing for higher population, higher production, more taxes. It's not nearly as simple as you cast it. Whether the people now have democratic control, or whether political choice is a total sham is the debate.	Nation	Nationality - General	1/95	1.053

anton S actually the out back is a great place to catch indagered animals and send them back for coats and handbags or to be fought . I dont like animal fights but i have made money from it because when i pull up in new cars people respect that. And i dont want to sound bad so i explaine about the stealing . Example i want a 100inch tv . I cab either buy it for a few k or i can buy a stolen one for cheap or take it off the person who stole it . Few punches usually does it . Then i have the tv and the money . Sister wanted a watch so i could buy one or take one off someone for free and i get a new watch for nothing . Sister happy and person who i took ot from gets insurance and has a story to tell the other slaves at work . Maybe she will.go.do karate and meet new friends . I want some fuel . I can buy it or slice someones pipe open and take it . I get free fuel they get a day off work and insurance and a story to tell his slave friends from the office . I get excited i can buy a woman for 60 for one hour and do what i want . Go home and kiss my wife . But i dont just steal cheap things for no reason . I see scum bags stealing food and hugcaps and things and i wonder were society is heading . I have over 700 horses . What am i supposed to do ? Do you have any idea how much they cost to shelter. But they have to eat no . So i out them in outhur peoples fields . I keep the best new ones and sell the worse ones for meat in France. I dont like doing it but it buys me big houses and i have a huge family . Each wedding costs me over 50k . Then they need things and i provide very well . You likely think i am wrong but i was born in a field in a storm and never had a house . I have a army behind me but i dont go hurting people . Iv built what i got from nothing . I never went to lean i taught myself to read and write the 3rd time i was in prison and i know i dont do it very well but its helped make me millions with property in over 18 countries. I oay tax in petrol and diesel and between us we do over 10 million miles a year so when fuel s 85 tax they do very well indeed . I have paid for the roads english people drive on . Suckmyballz Gameplays thats a bit mean, do you normally like bullying 11 year old girls? I used to work for a drain maintenance company and my boss got a contract to clean out the drains in 22 of my counties traveller sites. You know what? All the sites we worked on except 3 were kind people who offered us a cuppa and actually helped us find our way around the sites and had a laugh with us. The other 3 sites we had kids trying to steal shit from the lorries and tools we were using and wanting to fight us (im 6'2", weigh 115kg and have been doing karate, muay thai, jui jitsu, wing chun and taekwondo for the past 20 years lol) and a 11 year old 5' nothing 100lb when wet little shit kept trying to spar with me! I am from bulgaria and we have some of the Romani here and we don't hate them because of their ethnicity , we hate them because of their backwards traditions, for example women are seen as sexual objects, and they're thieves too. The Blazing Dead I've not heard that one before?Anyway getting back to your original comment, I dont believe I've said that I'd not debate anyone because they were stupid although I have openly mocked a few idiots whos comments the have been little more than idiotic racist and abusive rants, some were even deleted out of embarrassment after I'd shown them just how idiototic they actually were. Now about how travellers benifit the communities that they visit. Why should they benefit them in any way whatsoever who is their to benifit travellers in any way, all they ever get is harassment from police and councils moving them on as soon as they've pitched site and complaints from local residents, but maybe thats the problem, its become a perpetual conflict between travellers and everyone else so much so that battle lines are drawn on both sides long before they even arrive, maybe both sides need to take a step back and reassess how they interact with one another because they way things are going nothing will change. Mate look can I explain. I'm a traveler myself and I won't lie we do have some bad apples but its the same as any culture , the reason you see us that way is because you or the media only decide to focus on travelers when something bad happens now that's not an insult to you it's just they way you've been thought to think of us but believe it or not saying all travelers ruin where they live is racism	Racism	Ethnicity - General	1/82	1.22
Don't you think about how that makes kids feel? I am a gypsy kid and that will hurt my feelings I am 11. And you have made me cry. Think before you do.	Gypsy	Ethnicity - Roma	1/33	3.03

seen a traveller not long ago parked up with his wagon and horse, tbh with the way the government is going it would be quite a nice relaxing time, if you have steady work of some kind. anyway drove past steady as to not spook the horse and guess what the guy put his hand up.... bit of respect goes along way	Spook, Traveller	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - Roma	2/62	3.226
Lange WernerSame everywhere. I work part time security at a shop and irish travellers are always the trouble around the area. They try to come off as innocent, but they are nothing but trouble. Just two weeks ago we caught them on CCTV stealing a JCB digger from a site next door to us. Mike Murphy we've had pikeys near a childrens play ground in the town where I live and they've absolutely destroyed it. Rubbish everywhere, patches of burnt grass where they've been burning copper cable, no local kids dared go to the park so it was exclusively the gypsies park. And when they fucked of they took all the metal poles and fixings. They always cry that nobody gives them a chance, only prove what ppl think of them by thieving and destroying everything around them	Nobody	Age - Youngsters	1/84	1.19
Patrick Doherty- Mosques, temples etc are paid for by the followers. They collect money (sometimes over years) and finally build them when everything falls in to place as they also need planning permission etc. I'm amazed the travellers haven't done the same. The amount of Gypsy builders and the money they have, I'm surprised they don't have a network of multi-story sites with all mod cons dotted around the country.
