Aquarian Aged7 When an advanced, technologically superior society interacts with a stone age culture, the primitive society always loses in the end, this is how it has always been in human history. There are many factors involved, genetics not being the least. Extensive DNA studies and tracking by the Max Planck Institute show that Native Americans (both North and South Americans, Melanesians, and Native Australians are closely linked genetically. As a group, they have an astronomically high level of alcohol and or drug abuse. Studies of Native American populations show that a very high percentage of them lack the enzymes such as ADLH that help the liver process alcohol . There are more and more scientific papers coming out about it all the time. See ADH polymorphisms in Native Americans. A lot of racist and xenophobic comments in this video and it makes me disappointed people can't understand what this video is about. This didn't happen because of them, this was entirely because of how history has treated the natives of Australia. What institutionalized and systematic racism is. The main reason why White people cannot feel racism but can feel prejudice from other POC. It's just understanding how White people have built this sick system and benefits off of it. And it's other White people's fault for either choosing to ignore it or doing absolutely nothing about it. I recommend a lot of programs for mental health and medical professional rehabilitation helping people who are addicted to alcohol and/or drugs to get clean. Something definitely needs to be done and seeing people like this is painful. They're human and deserve more civil rights than how they are treated. RossCairns Rubbish. Australia today is made up of people from all over the world. Some are darker than Aboriginals, some have features exactly like Aboriginals. They have all strived to succeed despite all the difficulties they have encountered. Aboriginals can do no less. All the other races have to not only put food on the table to feed their own families but also feed an Aboriginal. How bad is that? There is nothing that stops Aboriginals from succeeding. Here's something you might not be aware of.. which is strange considering your clearly of a level of intelligence that makes it okay to assume others. IQ is not actually an accepted standard of measurement when it comes to judging an individuals intelligence, it's impossible to create a test that would be able to accurately (or even close) measure what we believe is 'brain power'. This is because we largely do not understand the brain. Scientists do not understand intelligence or the brain or an exact correlation between these two. The same way i assume you largely do not understand things such as book learnin', math, and what the big scary yellow ball in the sky is that keeps you awake during the day time. But i'm sure your great at other things like being a bigot and a moron. Sincerely yours, Mr. Delgadildo, someone much smarter than yourself. TJTLDR: no real " race " differentiation in India. Castes were hereditary and decided on occupation of ancestors. The Hindu sociocultural system was traditionally divided into castes that were exclusive, hereditary, and endogamous. They were also ranked and unequal and thus appeared to have many of the characteristics of ' race .' But the complex caste system was not based primarily on skin colour, as castes included people of all physical variations.Castes were, and are still, occupational groups as well as elements in a religious system that accords different values and different degrees of purity to different occupations. William Carter It might be true that it is easier for one to follow in the footsteps of their parent. Life, however is never easy. It is incumbent on each and every one of us to make good in life. Every generation has to face its own difficulties and overcome its own problems. Furthermore, nobody owes you a living. Distance? Every Aboriginal has the same opportunity as every Australian to go where the job opportunities are. There is nothing to stop any Australian from succeeding. Go where the jobs are. Get qualified, get work experience, get working. Many Australians of ALL ethnicities have to work part time to supplement any study loans from the government. People scrimp and save to get by. Nobody is going to head out to outback to beg someone (of any ethnicity) to work for them, especially if they are not qualified/skilled/and lack relevant work experience. If you want to succeed, you have to reach out and grasp your opportunities with both hands. Sit on your hands and you could starve and that applies to everybody. You're definitely never going to make good in life if you don't try. When the going gets tough, the tough get going. No excuses please. Ray ok so you live in NT in the middle of nowhere and you think people there should move into a city with no accommodation. Good luck getting a job with no address. Next point. The well fare industry the well fare industry is worth around 10 billion a year of your tax payer dollars channeled into just the job agency industry and they dont fund hardly anything anymore for the unemployed people just more and more job agencies . Job agencies were made to appease the feminist movement. Job agencies are women workers only businesses. And you blame the unemployed for there own fate you are so wrong its the governments fault for creating a massive well fare state. There is a average 17 unemployed people to laussie job.The government needs to cut every one off the welfare payments and create a mass amount of jobs dont listen to the media. The medias job is to ensure that there is a welfare state to DIVED AND CONQUER rich vs poor. white v black religion v religion and the media is winning big time. They fooled good people like yourself to think the youth is useless. The greatest myth ive ever herd from the media is that there is inter generational unemployment. Mass unemployment never existed in the 70s and 80s. the vision of the media is to create inter generational unemployment	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/232	0.431

William Carter You're great with the excuses. They just don't stop coming one after another like a machine gun do they? Sure, things are hard. I never said otherwise. There are however, people working. How did they get the work? Get qualified, get work experience, get the job, perhaps start at the bottom AND turn up everyday, on time for work and for goodness sake actually work hard. (knew an Aboriginal liaison officer who was supposed to give a lecture to government officers and he actually went walkabout for two weeks. What a wanker. He single handedly taught an entire batch of government officials what Aboriginals were like). Look around, there are people who will do the jobs no one else will and work their way up. Many work part time/casual and do 2 or 3 jobs. Gone are the day when you could quit one job and walk into a full time job the very next day. I understand that. In fact, the unions won so many rights for the workers in Victoria that all the jobs have gone overseas. That sucks but Australia has no choice but to compete internationally with the world. We can't keep borrowing either or we will end up like Greece, Portugal, Italy, Spain etc broke and paying just interest on the loans. There is no more money on tap. Keep arguing for sitting one your hands and doing nothing but complaining and guess what you'll fall even further behind. No brain surgeon (and I'm not one) is ever out of work and he/she can work anywhere in the world. Welcome to the real world of today. ps You do know don't you that Aboriginals get MORE than the rest of us don't you? Aboriginals can access the Aboriginal ONLY Aboriginal Housing Victoria to move to where there is work so stop making excuses please. BTW Any provision of assistance by the Australian government should be on the basis on need, not race . Anything else is racist . Black fyre I'm American. I can explain. The "abos" he's referring too are African Americans, or Black American people. They are the poorest people in the US after the Native Americans, who are even poorer believe it or not. Black Americans are descendants of Africans brought during slavery. They tend to be involved in a lot of bad business (crime, murder, drug dealing, leaving fatherless children, living off the government).	African, Black	Ethnicity - Black	4/70	5.714

Black fyre We also don't have the word " abo " here in the US. We have words that are way worse, in particular one starting with the letter "n" that's been used for centuries by White people to put down Blacks and that nowadays is used by Blacks themselves to refer to each other. Yes, America is weird . I know. It's the only place where Blacks call each other racial slurs that are used against them and where many names can be used for men and women (Ashley, Lindsay, Lonnie, and Taylor can be used to name a boy or girl).
