John Dubay because age doesn't matter	Age	Age - General	1/6	16.667
The thing is ageism against teens and younger is kind of justified. This is coming from a 14-year-old. The definition of any of the "ism's" is the belief that one group is superior to the other. Adults and the elderly are superior to teens, because for one the teens don't have the intelligence and sharpness of the adults and they also don't have the wisdom of the elderly	Ageism, Elderly	Age - General, Age - Over 65s	3/68	4.412
not going to lie the education system is much better now, therefore the younger generation is more aware and in most cases smarter and sharper than adults. Another problem is that the elderly stick to what they like and are not open for much to change and therefore most despise the younger generation due to a change in culture. Which in my opinion is the main reason. I dont believe any group is more superior because theres many elements that need outweighing. However it is more present that ageism occurs more to teens, like i said due to the change in culture and even technology.this is coming from a 16-year-old. this girl is very smart, she just needs to take the "I'm a female " down a notch, you are more than your gender	Gender	Gender - General	1/24	4.167
I clicked on this video just to hear the sheer stupidity. You have absolutely nothing to worry about in regards to ageism . Its easier to 'grow' into something as opposed to growing out of something.	Ageism, Nothing	Age - General, Age - Youngsters	2/35	5.714
And kids get even more ageism	Ageism	Age - General	1/6	16.667
