

In youtube_extraction_english_74.json :

Title: Debate: Sexism In Science

- Table 1: Summary of the results per comment;
- Table 2: Summary of the results per sociolinguistic variable;

Table 1: Summary of the results per comment

| Comment | KeyWords | Sociolinguistic variables (Hiper - Hipo) | Hate Speech Frequency | Hate Speech Fre-quency(%) |
|---|------------------------|--|-----------------------|---------------------------|
| Well I hope he doesn't talk about 13 years olds having relationships with older men. And be mean to transgender people. Problem with Milo is that he's not really much of a scholar and has trouble with boundary crossings. But otherwise I do like him sometimes. | Transgender | Sexual Identity - Transexuality | 1/46 | 2.174 |
| sexism doesnt exist, women loot men and produce nothing , if things were paid properly women be starving to death | Nothing, Sexism | Age - Youngsters, Gender - General | 2/19 | 10.526 |
| I see this constant exaggeration on both sides. Yes feminism is often over the top and has its share of man haters. But the claim there's no sexism , like absolutely NONE, is just as stupid and empty as any of the bad feminists out there. Why can't we have some balance? | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/52 | 1.923 |
| FEMINST LOGIC Male Domainted Field: Opressing Woman DominatedField: SWEET SWEET VICOTRY | Woman | Gender - General | 1/11 | 9.091 |
| 4:10 I love her face at that point. When any man gets a feminazi to pull that face he has won the gold prize. | Feminazi | Gender - Female intelligence | 1/24 | 4.167 |
| If it had been a woman who made the same kind of comments about boys, it would have been regarded as a light hearted jokes. The majority of those women who complain about male chauvinism are themselves the most abusive. | Male chauvinism, Woman | Gender - General | 2/40 | 5.0 |

| | | | | |
|---|--------|---------------------|-------|-------|
| Having completed a doctorate in stem cell and cancer genetics where 17 out of 21 PhD students were women, I can say there is a definite disparity between male and female brains. There were more scholarships available to women only and my secondary supervisor actually admitted to me that she only recruits female applicants. Interestingly, the 4 male students, myself included worked longer hours in the lab, had less support yet produced all the first-author publications. We spoke about science in our spare time because we were extremely passionate about our subjects and technology in general. The women hardly ever spoke about science, most of the chat in the female dominated PhD office was about clothes, lunch and who each woman was currently dating. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/124 | 0.806 |
| Some people hold the opinion that Political Correctness has gone way beyond the point of being fit for purpose. When I was growing up in the 60s and 70s, there were racist jokes and even racist sitcoms, women were treated in a very demeaning way by some men in the workplace and other arena, it was ok to make fun of people for being in any way different, etc. This was clearly not good. My generation totally bought into the fact that all people deserve the same courtesy, opportunity and rights. It seems very much now that the people that were bullied in the past are now being the bullies. Neither of the above situations are acceptable. There will be a backlash. | Racist | Ethnicity - General | 2/122 | 1.639 |
| She is so hot. Look at that pout at 2:36. If she did that to me I'd blow the beans before even having sex with her | Sex | Gender - General | 1/26 | 3.846 |
| Who says being a nurse is for a woman Feminists Who says that STEM fields are for menFeminists | Woman | Gender - General | 1/19 | 5.263 |
| It is interesting although that this woman has a channel, the most viewed video linked on her channel is probably she being destroyed by Milo. There are a lot of women who are strong enough, and motivated enough that they don't need men to make room for them. Strong people don't ask others to make special accommodations for them, they show what they can do with action. Katie Hopkins is the model there, and interestingly this woman also debated Katie Hopkins and she was instantly destroyed. | Woman | Gender - General | 2/86 | 2.326 |
| The woman on the panel was so hopeless. I completely disagree with what milo was saying but the woman he was debating really didn't do herself or the other side of the argument any favours. | Woman | Gender - General | 2/35 | 5.714 |
| That feminist chick is a babe! This American wants her phone number. | Chick | Gender - General | 1/12 | 8.333 |

| | | | | |
|---|----------|---|-------|-------|
| 2:18 "I don't think that's the issue, I think it's about confidence" this is the problem, someone makes a valid point based on studies and research and a feminist immediately disregards it and counterpoints with something based on opinions, feelings or emotions. There is no point in debating a feminist because no woman (and a lot of men) is ever going to turn their back on their own self beliefs within a small time frame, especially when they are there to argue for one side of the debate... even if the facts, figures, logic and science are slapping them right in the face. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/103 | 0.971 |
| " Sexism " does not exist. Sky News is an evil propaganda machine. Run fast, run far. | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/15 | 6.667 |
| She's fit, but damn , someone should get her a volume control. Woman are in general, less intelligent.Now to be honest (and i know the feminazis wont like this) milo has a point, WHY should there be a parity between how many women are in science and how many men are. Men and women are different, obviously! | Woman | Gender - General | 1/58 | 1.724 |
| Men are superior to women and it's a punishment, and feminists are just an embarrassment to the female gender and human species ! | Gender | Gender - General | 1/23 | 4.348 |
| women = disabled people, so we need to make them feel comfy to study. What a joke. | Disabled | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/17 | 5.882 |
| What a load of garbage. Women outnumber men in university and in many scientific degrees like psychology and biology. They are underrepresented in more technical sciences like engineering and physics and maths due to brain differences making skill sets difference between the sexes. Evolution selected Male and females differently. Male brains TEND to be more systematic and female brains more empathic. Of course NOT ALL, but most. Conqueror nurturer divide. To imagine this will NOT lead to different desires and abilities would lack basic common sense. IQ also is a huge factor as the average maybe the same between the groups but males tend to be disproportionately represented at the lower and upper ends. This is partly why men are more likely to be professors of even the subjects dominated by women. An IQ of over 140 is as likely as being 6' 5' or so... | Common | Social Class - Working class | 1/147 | 0.68 |
| The way she looks at him, putting him down, like she feels sorry for him is the way women manipulate men. It should be a crime. If manipulating is understood as a crime we could reach equality in prison population by gender . | Gender | Gender - General | 1/42 | 2.381 |

| | | | | |
|--|---------------|---|------|--------|
| the woman actually had good comments | Woman | Gender - General | 1/6 | 16.667 |
| Milo won the debate, but I cannot bring myself to say anything negative about this woman . Come on, she's smart and attractive ... or am I the only one who thinks so? | Woman | Gender - General | 1/32 | 3.125 |
| I've noticed in every Milo vs Feminazi debate the feminazi will always just try and scream over Milo and interrupt while Milo is respectful and lets them get their retarded points out, despite what they are saying is garbage. | Feminazi | Gender - Female intelligence | 2/39 | 5.128 |
| What dumb ignorant feminist need to understand that male and female are two different genders and that there are some stuff women are better at than men just as there are somethings men are better at than women. There's nothing sexist in that. It's the plain truth. We don't complain when women dominate subjects like nursing, netball, being midwives, teaching, badminton, childcare courses, dance classes then we shouldn't complain when men dominate subjects like football, science, playing chess, playing fifa, rugby, constrcution, basketball and so on. That's just how life is. | Dumb, Nothing | Age - Youngsters, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 2/91 | 2.198 |
| makes me laugh. woman supposably get put off by whatever. they feel they are fighting against males and get scared off when they have to..... i say grow a backbone and fight for a position instead of like these feminists want and get given it after becoming a victim. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/49 | 2.041 |
| Science is not for girls? Lol wtf there are so many women scientists ! So many doctors ! | doctors | Nationality - General | 1/17 | 5.882 |
| If Milo was straight he would be called a pig by all these females. Thank god there is someone out there like him to put these crazy feminists in their place and call out their bullshit. | Crazy | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/36 | 2.778 |
| As a girl who will study computer science, I agree with Milo more. Women shouldn't be working with men if they don't want to be in a male dominated field. The problem is that radical feminists say that these fields are sexist when they're actually not, then go and encourage young girls. Hypocritical? Isn't it? I'm no way a feminist and I think this whole thing of getting girls into STEM is becoming ridiculous. If they don't want to, leave them alone, if they do, let them! We don't need more women, we need passionate people REGARDLESS of gender ! | Gender | Gender - General | 1/99 | 1.01 |
| bullshit from the woman on the rightI am a neuroscience student and over 90 of people on my course are female | Woman | Gender - General | 1/22 | 4.545 |

| | | | | |
|---|----------------|---|------|-------|
| At the end, Milo agrees with her that there is "institutional sexism " against girls in science. | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/16 | 6.25 |
| Milo then advocated that we discriminate against women in science by putting a gender gap. Thus advocating we create this sexism he gets mad at others for claiming other's exist. | Gender, Sexism | Gender - General | 2/30 | 6.667 |
| she may be dumb but id still smash | Dumb | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/8 | 12.5 |
| "A study of the gender wage gap conducted by economist June O' Neill, former director of the Congressional Budget Office, found that women earn 98 percent of what men do when controlled for experience, education, and number of years on the job." from [LINK] | Gender | Gender - General | 1/44 | 2.273 |
| Lol wth? My bio class was 90 female there ain't no sexism there. And half of us (including myself) ended up dropping it, not because of we felt oppressed but because it was boring af and we had no interest. I'm not gonna do science just to please some statistics to make it equal wth these women lmaoooooo | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/58 | 1.724 |
| would definitely grab that feminist by the pussy | pussy | Nationality - Chinese | 1/8 | 12.5 |
| question: why do we have to encourage women to become scientists in the first place? haven't men proven to be plenty good at it? I mean we invented every piece of technology in existence and landed on the moon. so why do we need women in science? what benefit would it bring? all it would do is distract the male scientists from working by creating sexual tension. | Sexual | Gender - General | 1/67 | 1.493 |
| I don't understand why they would invite a man who can't come up with new points to make.... The 'only 7 of women in the UK identify themselves as feminists' is really getting old . Also, why is he on the show? It's not like he's someone who knows something about this subject. He just knows how to get under people's skin. | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/61 | 1.639 |
| This interview in itself is the epitome of everything that is wrong in the subject of discussion: A man WITHOUT a college degree and with ZERO knowledge of anything STEM related, gets to speak nonsensical fact-like statements opposing a women WITH a PhD degree in science.. | Zero | Age - Youngsters | 1/46 | 2.174 |
| Milo is such a charming guy. And as feminists go, that woman was really ok. I thought she seemed nice. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/20 | 5.0 |

| | | | | |
|--|------------|-----------------------|-------|--------|
| He didnt smash it. Her point is just women should be encouraged rather than discouraged in an environment that already benefits men. She's only arguing for developing interests that are already there, not artificially creating a gender balance, but this is why she mentions there is a heavy one. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/49 | 2.041 |
| This clearly proves not all doctors are intelligent. | doctors | Nationality - General | 1/8 | 12.5 |
| I'm with Milo for the most part, but Tim Hunt is not a "silly old man", he's a NOBEL PRIZE WINNING SCIENTIST. We need people like him and the fact that he was fired, especially in a field that is supposed to prize objectivity and dispassion, is disgraceful. So scientists can't say things that go against the current cultural climate. This sounds familiar.... coughCopernicusGalileoDarwincough | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/64 | 1.562 |
| Error, error, but muh patriarchy . | Patriarchy | Gender - General | 1/6 | 16.667 |
| nothing milo says has ever made any sense... | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/8 | 12.5 |
| My sister loves science and I support her 100 percent so if she doesn't go into it as a job I better not hear she's lacking confidence because she has more confidence than me and I'm a 16 year old male. | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/41 | 2.439 |
| At 8:47 the journalist/'referee' made a conclusive, rounding up remark which completely misrepresented Sir Hunt's controversial comments. She wrongly stated that he had said that women should 'STAY OUT OF THE SCIENCE LAB' because they cry and fall in love, whereas what Hunt had actually said was that men and women should not work together in the lab because they were a romantic distraction - falling in love with EACH OTHER and that women would cry if criticised by men. Far from saying that women should stay out of the lab, he was suggesting that there should be SINGLE SEX LABS so that men and 'girls' (tsk) were separated. | Sex | Gender - General | 1/109 | 0.917 |
| What that embarrassment of a "Doctor" isn't aware of is the Gender Equality Paradox. In more egalitarian countries like in Scandinavian countries there are even greater disparities between the choices that girls and boys make regarding the fields they want to go into. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/43 | 2.326 |
| Honda Housey men would be more emotional if their feminie side was allowed to be expressed freely without rigid gender roles. It's not that women need to be treated differently, it's that people need to be treated with compassion. Men actually need it more (in general) but it is so suppressed in them they don't realize it. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/57 | 1.754 |

| | | | | |
|---|--------|------------------|------|-------|
| Rita Kamil Outside of what would be considered "equal" treatment, yes, that would equate to "special" treatment. In this particular case, treatment that is given on the basis of gender . I don't care either way, but don't serve me bullshit and call it ice cream. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/45 | 2.222 |
|---|--------|------------------|------|-------|

| | | | | |
|--|---------------------|---------------------------------------|-------|--------|
| Cory Mck I read that study the article mentions. Seems the negative bias against resumes with female names was the same regardless of the professor's gender, age, discipline, or tenure status. In fact, it highlighted an important point: the people that were more likely to rate females lower for competency, hireability, mentoring, and salary were the people who interacted with students on a regular basis. Could it be that the reason they were rated lower was because those who interacted with students more were able to tell that qualifications of paper weren't the same as experiences they've personally had with people. Even though everyone rated likeability for females higher across the board, they don't seem to think they're as competent even with the same qualifications. It may be that male and female professors have had better experiences with male students throughout their academic careers, something which would not be found by looking at identical resumes. Might it be that since they interact with students they've seen disparities between male and female grades and how intelligent, motivated, etc. they are in person from having conversations with them. Might it be that this bias isn't necessarily rooted in sexism and instead due to them noticing biological differences, where males are more willing to work longer hours, take more risks, be more aggressive, etc. That would mean that equally qualified males and females on paper are in fact not equally qualified in reality. A personal anecdote I have for this is recently I did a job that required a lot of running around delivering and moving stuff and then being on standby when things needed to get done. I ended up running around, moving items, and delivering things noticeably more than the females. In fact a female brought this up in a gathering saying that I did far more work than her or any others that day. We both had the same job description and requirements and we could put the same thing on a resume yet those that experienced the workers that day would notice a disparity of labour where men did more work. We were being paid the same, too, so there wasn't any monetary incentive to do more work. I've noticed this same disparity in many of the jobs I've had where men just outwork women on average. I would figure those professors that worked with students would notice this same disparity and this would be reflected in how they rate males and females. On top of all of this and to end it, I've read other studies and seen videos referencing these studies that show females are more likely to be hired as a percentage of their gender that submitted resumes than males. If there were 20 females and 80 males going after the job, a higher percentage of those females would be hired with respect to the males. | Age, Gender, Sexism | Age - General, Gender - General | 4/480 | 0.833 |
| Feminist: "There aren't enough women in science, muh patriarchy!" ...Proceeds to major in gender studies... | Gender, Patriarchy | Gender - General | 2/15 | 13.333 |

| | | | | |
|--|---------------|------------------|-------|-------|
| I really wonder what this woman's PhD is in. "Science" could mean gender science... | Gender | Gender - General | 1/14 | 7.143 |
| I think he said "Feminist" not "this woman " | Woman | Gender - General | 1/8 | 12.5 |
| Also she's a teacher. I doubt she teaches college at her age so she probably doesnt have a PHD | Age | Age - General | 1/19 | 5.263 |
| Tom Stein "I think he said "Feminist" not "this woman " | Woman | Gender - General | 1/10 | 10.0 |
| Feminist: "I'm a strong, independent woman and don't need no man!"Proceeds to accept government assistance every month | Woman | Gender - General | 1/18 | 5.556 |
| Woman like mentioning that they have two regions in the brain for English,writing and men only have one, woman are better at English and men math, where two of the claims. | Woman | Gender - General | 2/31 | 6.452 |
| People have been claiming that woman are better at English and grammar then men for years, men being better at the sciences is no different and some need to approach the subject with some level objectivity and If their is sexism , I get the impression it could be going both ways to some extent and it could be a word that reduces understanding and could negatively effect the accuracy of the studies and science, focusing to much on if something is sexist is never that good for the studies. Ideology then effects the science and studies and one thing I understand about studies is their never fully accurate, to many variations and random variables to be fully accuracy and this left wing ideology makes people more dishonest even more then the more right wing and even seem to negatively effect relationships more and woman and men often do act like bigots, We are humans after all, not robots. | Sexism, Woman | Gender - General | 3/158 | 1.899 |
| She is nothing more than a man hater, like most feminazi's. They don't want equality, they just simply hate men. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/20 | 5.0 |
| Actually that was a fact. And nobody can deny a fact. | Nobody | Age - Youngsters | 1/11 | 9.091 |
| actually, the reason the camera didnt show the woman 's face when Milo dropped the hammer down at the end was because FOX and Sky news are extremely biased, and also the woman was probably cringing and shaking her head at milo's answare | Woman | Gender - General | 1/42 | 2.381 |
| thankyou! Finally someone gets it... so there are actually people over the age of 12 on here! lol | Age | Age - General | 1/18 | 5.556 |

| | | | | |
|---|---------|-----------------------|-------|-------|
| This woman is essentially arguing that women are weaker, need more nurturing, insecure, lack confidence, and need special treatment since they cannot compete with men, all the while calling herself a feminist and saying men and women are the same. The self-contradiction and cognitive dissonance exhibited here is astounding. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/49 | 2.041 |
| Nope. Not all at all. Men and women are different. Difference includes behaviors. I.e. Just b/c women in the UFC are outliers to the gender, doesn't mean that they reflect the whole b/c the media gives them attention. The exception, more often than not, proves the rule. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/47 | 2.128 |
| Michael Cassolato I should further add that it is very hard to get an accurate control group for study that takes out all environment factors so it is very hard to find if men are more intelligent on average or not. Old studies showed that men are biologically advantaged for maths and science but recent studies shows the biological factor could be exaggerated and that environmental factors play a bigger role. However this could be a result of the political left dominating academia so could also be biased and they wont fund research that is likely to give results they don't want.. Honestly I am not sure what to believe haha | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/112 | 0.893 |
| Me Me lol...I should never respond to videos like this...I should know better, lol. I actually had to rewatch the vid because I had no clue what it was. Me Me, I think we are both thankful that your brain (ie, female brain) is not like mine (a male brain) lol. Truth is, the proclivity to learn some things (at least differently) is easier for a male while others are easier for a female. I do find it funny how the chic in the video kept referring to feelings (that is, they are important to females). This is indicative of the very point; has zero to do with value and everything to do with difference. But she doesn't want difference, meanwhile discussing the importance of diversity....its all silliness, really. Thx for the reply, Me Me. :) | Zero | Age - Youngsters | 1/136 | 0.735 |
| Milo didn't even need to respond. The woman spent the entire debate actually reinforcing the emotional fragility of females and why they needed to handled with extra care. I would have sat back and encouraged her to continue all on her own. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/42 | 2.381 |
| +Cory Mck It wasn't about stem majors it was about the socio-economic status of the nation as a whole of which Norway is more advanced than Bangladesh | Nation | Nationality - General | 2/27 | 7.407 |
| Lord Milo destroyed her! I thought doctors were supposed to be smart! | doctors | Nationality - General | 1/12 | 8.333 |

| | | | | |
|--|-------------|---|------|--------|
| He did, he agreed that Dr. Tim Hunt should not have said what he said, which was what the debate was about. In fact Milo just went to a different side of stereotyping and blamed Hunt for being old . However I know plenty of people much older than Dr. Hunt and Milo who are of a much better social caliber. Dr. Grossman was the winner since Milo ended up agreeing to her over most of her points. Watch again, and think critically. I'm not a feminist fyi. | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/87 | 1.149 |
| the topic is " Sexism in Science"... the old guy just sparked the conversation but isn't the discussion piece.She lost on every single ground brought up... with your one exception that Milo didn't state to disagree on. | Old, Sexism | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 2/37 | 5.405 |
| Went for a managers job at my place of work, against a woman and she got hired, was told later by the regional manager that not to worry, because I had performed better in the tests; but they had to hire her because they needed another woman on the ladder. | Woman | Gender - General | 2/50 | 4.0 |
| I know, that was so weird . She basically said 'If females identify as female by writing their female names at the top of the paper they will do worse'. Problem solved, all female students must write masculine names at the top of their test paper from now on. I suggest names like Rocking Rod, Beefcake Barry and Bonecrusher Bob will fill the girls with confidence and thusly fill the science labs with sensitive, empathetic young lasses. | Weird | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/76 | 1.316 |
| Abhiram Vangala if that is the case, then the female should just work on her confidence right? instead of pointing the finger at " misogynist " teachers | Misogynist | Gender - General | 1/25 | 4.0 |
| None of my girl classmates at university nor me, have ever felt less smart just because we wrote our names in a test. Actually, in my experience, I have never felt out of place because I am a woman studying science. But she's the doctor here, maybe if I try writing a male name in a test I'll get a better score. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/62 | 1.613 |
| holy shit...a feminist who isnt an ugly fat pig | Fat | Physical Identity - Physical Features | 1/9 | 11.111 |
| Probably because she she didn't do gender studies. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/8 | 12.5 |
| we want equality but woman need more help then men cuz of there feelings come on lady hahahahaha | Woman | Gender - General | 1/18 | 5.556 |
| +Exiled Summoner She had zero good points. | Zero | Age - Youngsters | 1/7 | 14.286 |

| | | | | |
|--|---------------|------------------|-------|-------|
| A few others have wondered about the same thing, here's one of the several studies backing up her point: [LINK] It's not exactly a fun read, as with any scientific paper, but in essence, when women know their gender isn't being seen by the people marking their papers, they perform better from increased confidence and a few other things. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/59 | 1.695 |
| +Orion Reed Looked into the claim. It's fantasy like most gender studies & sociology out of universities. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/17 | 5.882 |
| Omg lady, my gender had to bearings on my ability to do well in my studies (no matter which type of teaching style) ... now that darn laziness was an issue was an issue. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/34 | 2.941 |
| +IlluminatiConfirmed We need more capable and enthusiastic PEOPLE with a passion for their field in every field. We do not need more or less of any gender in any field. As long as there's no discrimination, let the chips fall where they may. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/43 | 2.326 |
| Gary McCaffrey many women are told from a young age that they are not good enough. | Age | Age - General | 1/16 | 6.25 |
| +IlluminatiConfirmed what can a woman scientist offer that a man can't? | Woman | Gender - General | 1/11 | 9.091 |
| IlluminatiConfirmed Why woman or men? FilmerleX makes a great point. The gender does not matter. We need humans that can do their job. It just happens to be that men are more likely to work as scientists. Woman in GENERAL maybe don't want to be scientists. Your feelings on how it should be are meaningless. (no offence, I'm not trying to be rude) | Gender, Woman | Gender - General | 3/63 | 4.762 |
| HFHFHFH HFHFHFH because women make up more than 50 of the population, so therefore getting women into the sciences would benefit humanity. lets pretend there are 100 people on the planet (just as an example) 55 of those people are women and 45 are men. 20 of those men are in sciences, 7 women are in sciences. It makes sense to try and get as many people as possible into the sciences right? Well, men already are coming into the sciences at a rate that will hopefully increase over the next hundred years or so, while women are not coming into the sciences at all really, and just because its not looked upon as a "Feminine" job. Well I think that the more people the better, therefore we should try to get more women into the sciences (as well as men). Its simple really, not sexist in any way, I'm just trying to explain that women don't really have a great outlook on the sciences, and we should change that. We don't need to hire people just because they're female (that would be sexist towards men), I just think that we should try to involve the young girls in the sciences at school, get them interested in different fields at a young age . | Age | Age - General | 1/213 | 0.469 |

| | | | | |
|--|---------|------------------|------|-------|
| HFHFHFH HFHFHFH its not that women don't want to go into the sciences, its just that many women feel like their not good enough. So I say there should be a program to get girls interested in the sciences at a young age . Its my OPINION, I have a right to an opinion and I'm not going to sit here and argue about it all day. | Age | Age - General | 1/66 | 1.515 |
| Milo conflates "competitiveness in science" with having a learning environment that puts some people off. Scientific competition of ideas and peer review have nothing to do with sweeping statements about women being bad scientists. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/34 | 2.941 |
| cough a peer-reviewed scientific paper to back up her point: [LINK] In essence, when women know their gender isn't being seen by the people marking their papers, they perform better from increased confidence and a few other things. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/38 | 2.632 |
| David Murray Thats, like, seriously not what the paper is saying... It's saying when GENDER is anonymous it boosts confidence in women. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/22 | 4.545 |
| Yeah because that paper is representative of women. Most women I know would not even think of writing their name on a paper would make a difference, just like for men it wouldn't. If I said to a random woman that she is more likely to worse for writing her name on a paper, she would give me a slap, quite rightly so | Woman | Gender - General | 1/63 | 1.587 |
| In 2015 still discussing about gender differences. SO disappointing mr Yannopoulos | Gender | Gender - General | 1/11 | 9.091 |
| Milo's is funny when talking about gender identity. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/8 | 12.5 |
| how many girls should be forced to do subjects they have no interest in before feminists think there is gender parity also the dr lady was very much unprepared well done milo | Gender | Gender - General | 1/32 | 3.125 |
| So she thinks there's a gender imbalance in the sciences but she has to encourage girls to go into the sciences and they still don't like it? Well there's your imbalance! | Gender | Gender - General | 1/31 | 3.226 |
| it true i am 25 and i have female friends they earn twice as much as me for less hours.Its no longer truth that woman are having difficulty to find jobs, man are having difficulty finding well paid job. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/40 | 2.5 |
| There is nothing wrong with crying. It is a human emotional reaction. Tim Hunt is socially maladjusted. He might be more content in his work if he can remain in total isolation from other human beings. If his work is administrative, he may need to learn some managerial skills. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/49 | 2.041 |
| Out of the 1000s of majors 1 major is only 20 women so we don't have gender equality? This makes absolutely no sense whatsoever. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/24 | 4.167 |
| what a hopeless brat ! he doesn't have a background in science at all, yet seems to think of himself as an expert on the female brain... | Brat | Age - Youngsters | 1/26 | 3.846 |

| | | | | |
|--|-----------------|---|-------|--------|
| Dr. Emily Grossman: Expert in genetics and molecular biology, studied at Cambridge and Manchester, dissertation on her cancer research. Woman in the scientific field.Milo Yiannopolous: Political pundit, no discernible background in science, commits several logical fallacies (strawman fallacy, naturalistic fallacy just to name two that he also uses frequently in his other debates). He cherry picks shaky scientific evidence to support whatever conclusion he has jumped to. I include these logical fallacies in my criticism largely because he is a man who supposedly bases his debates on pure science (in which he has no experience) and logic (in which he commits so many fallacies in his arguments that it seriously undermines his credibility).In what way is he even qualified to debate her? | Woman | Gender - General | 1/124 | 0.806 |
| I think as long as everyone gets every opportunity regardless of their sex then the job of feminism is done. We dont need more women in the maths related sciences, of course everyone is free to try to encourage other people to pick up any kind of science or pursuit of knowledge, but that should be a personal matter, not something where any sex is given a disadvantage just to have the other sex be able to catch up. | Sex | Gender - General | 3/79 | 3.797 |
| scarlett luis it was nothing , really. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/6 | 16.667 |
| Jake Lai Of course it is, IQ and its relation to race is the biggest PC taboo of all, nothing else even comes close. | Nothing, Race | Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General | 2/24 | 8.333 |
| DesphinxLike I have said before... ‘Our male created advanced civilizations’ have NOTHING to do with grades or education or the females ability to memorize male concepts and copy them on a test, it has to do with the male’s ability to visualize abstractions (abstract concepts) and make those concepts a reality. In other words to make something from nothing but the pure elements of nature, this is only within the mental realm of the male mind.In other words females are functional and males are dynamic. | Mental, Nothing | Age - Youngsters, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 3/87 | 3.448 |
| For once, a feminist isn’t a fat cow. This feminist actually looked decently attractive. It’s a shame she’s brainwashed and can’t think for herself. | Fat | Physical Identity - Physical Features | 1/24 | 4.167 |
| And how could we help these woman ? Da da-da dah...with state funding! | Woman | Gender - General | 1/12 | 8.333 |

| | | | | |
|--|----------|----------------------------------|------|-------|
| What is with this absolute equality bullshit?20 of A-level physics students are girls? Who cares? Nothing is stopping girls from picking these subjects, they simply don't. As someone still in education I see school events organised with the objective of encouraging girls into STEM. Feminists try so hard to get women to do science, but most simply are not interested. Why Is this a bad thing? | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/67 | 1.493 |
| The good old "have your cake and eat it too" argument. She doesn't want to admit that there are biological difference in men and women that predispose each sex to fare better in certain environments, yet she wants the environment to change in order to accommodate the empirical evidence which suggests precisely that. | Old, Sex | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 2/53 | 3.774 |
| I don't know where Emily Grossman got her idea about sexism towards women's intellect originating in the Renaissance. On the contrary, late 15th and 16th century women were frequently as educated as men (eg Queen Elizabeth I and most of the other Tudor women were fluent in Latin, Greek, several modern languages and the sciences) this all being a product of Humanism. Sadly, this situation did not persist. | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/68 | 1.471 |
| "Women are strong, independent, as good as men at everything, so when we hear things that hurt our feelings, we run away from it and can't handle it.Seriously, did that chick hear the words coming out of her mouth? | Chick | Gender - General | 1/40 | 2.5 |
| remember everyone, if a woman says it, it's wrong, because our matriarchal ultra feminist society that we totally live under will totally smear any Rational Logical man that tries to disagree | Woman | Gender - General | 1/31 | 3.226 |
| That woman was destroyed | Woman | Gender - General | 1/4 | 25.0 |
| boring anyway, in my stupid scull, and i how i see it in today, whats this has to do with gender at all (except biology)? | Gender | Gender - General | 1/25 | 4.0 |
| woman cry because they are sensitive, so what are we? no, just cry because i'm cool or something? | Woman | Gender - General | 1/18 | 5.556 |

| | | | | |
|---|-------------|---|-------|-------|
| Why is he so desperate to hold onto to this archaic sexually diamorphic view. He is so scared of the fact the men and women are not that different intellectually - the differences have been so exaggerated for centuries....I suppose it's very convenient to hold onto old stereotypes that women are inherently dumber than men particularly in progressive areas like STEM subjects . He is so pathetically desperate to hold onto his gendered superiority . Omg women have brains too! At my school I hated the science/maths subjects but i was in the minority- most of the girls chose these subjects and got 99 entry scores - they were all incredibly passionate and ambitious . These stereotypes are so old hat and serve no purpose but to reinforce sexist views. I dont even know why it warrants being aired on television. anyone who believes Milo's crap needs to educate themselves. He is a walking gender complex with a lot of cognitive dissonance issues and needs to see a shrink. | Gender, Old | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 3/169 | 1.775 |
| +Stella blue First off, we are a sexually diamorphic species - I have no idea how anyone could actually disagree with this on a logical or social level. Men and women are not that different on an intelligence level for sure (I think a study had men couple of IQ points above women on average - but pretty negligible). Studies do show that most women tend to huddle around IQ averages than men, whereas men vary greatly on the IQ scale, which is why the geniuses of our society are mostly men but also most dumbasses are men as well.But men and women do have different strengths and weaknesses as genders, and the compliment each other quite well. Men tend to gravitate towards jobs with more money and more dangerous work, while women tend to gravitate towards jobs that is more fulfilling to them personally. Men and Women have different outlooks on life - there is nothing wrong with this at all. That is what Milo is saying, he is not calling women stupid, far from it. He is pointing out women make different life choices to men. I am sure they are choices that feminists hate, but they are CHOICES - isn't that what feminism is all about - for women to make their own choices. And they generally don't choose Science and Maths as careers. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/229 | 0.437 |
| At the very end she starts to bring up mental health issues. That was my favorite oh yes girls who are statistically more likely to be happy vs boys and men are 3 times as likely to kill themselves vs females..... but lets spend all our time improving women's self image clearly they need it. | Mental | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/55 | 1.818 |

| | | | | |
|---|------------|------------------|-------|-------|
| As a woman studying for a masters in science I feel rather insulted by some of the things she is saying. I am offended by Tim Hunt suggesting I shouldn't be working in the same labs as men and I see how what he's said could potentially alienate young girls from STEM subjects but she's essentially backing what he's saying, telling us that girls need to be nurtured and coddled, and that we aren't suitable for a competitive environment (or should at least be shielded from it until we're emotionally capable of handling it). That to me is as damaging and patronising as Hunt's comments. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/105 | 0.952 |
| What has this Milo achieved in his life to consider himself qualified to make such statements on television? Regardless of WHAT he is saying, his whole attitude is just arrogant. He has never learned a proper job or earned a degree yet thinks he has enough life experience (by playing computer games as far as I can gather?) to spread his opinions on highly sophisticated and controversial topics on television. Let me repeat, this has nothing to do with whether or not I share his views - I'm just taken aback by his know-it-all behaviour with nothing to show for it. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 2/101 | 1.98 |
| silvr94 The same can be said about feminists and their victimhood mentality. "Oh look!! A man is spreading his legs a little bit inside that train. That's oppressive!! That's patriarchy !! That's manspreading!! We must fight that till it is erased from the society!!" Yep, feminism is totally legit in its argument and activism //rolls eyes//And regarding this video, Dr. Grossman herself supports Tim Hunt's statement, even though she doesn't realise it and she actually thinks she's arguing against him. She says that women in general are "more sensitive" and more prone to crying. She even admitted she cried after her exams in Cambridge, in which she scored higher than most of her male colleagues. She also stressed how the STEM "environment" must be changed to better suit female "sensitivity". Basically, she just shot herself in the foot and unwittingly agreed with Tim Hunt's statements. | Patriarchy | Gender - General | 1/145 | 0.69 |

| | | | | |
|--|----------------|-------------------------------------|-------|-------|
| silvr94 Now Dr. Grossman is a qualified scientist while this Milo guy is not. However, that does NOT mean she's qualified to speak about sexism while he's not. That's called Argument from Authority, which is a logical fallacy. And in this case, Dr. Grossman isn't even an authority on gender and sexism . She's a molecular biologist. So it's not even an argument from authority; it's what I'd call The Argument from FALSE Authority. With that out of the way, let's see what Milo and Dr. Grossman are saying. Dr. Grossman states that women are disadvantaged in pursuing STEM fields. Milo countered by saying that in college, women are outperforming men on average. Not only that, there are more women enrolling in colleges and universities than men. Here's a short link on that: [LINK] This is an unprecedented trend in history. You'd think that with so many women enrolling in college, their collective strength would force the so-called "sexist" STEM fields to open up to the new and vast market of potential female workforce. But NO!! Women are not flocking to STEM fields, except for biology and medicine: [LINK] | Gender, Sexism | Gender - General | 3/188 | 1.596 |
| +KhukuriGod where and when did i say that i consider dr. grossman an authority? both she and milo aren't experts in one sense. however being a woman does give her an advantage when it comes to describing discrimination against her as a woman , an experience milo can impossibly have (even though he likes pretend to know what it feels like to be a woman or black etc) | Black, Woman | Ethnicity - Black, Gender - General | 4/66 | 6.061 |
| +KhukuriGod Gender pay gap was an example I used to put my point across. There are, of course, studies showing that girls' interest in STEM is no lesser than that of boys. If later on in life these young women are less interested in STEM then it must have to do with socialization effects. But do give books on feminism a try instead of making up your mind about it judging by youtube videos. Ciao | Gender | Gender - General | 1/75 | 1.333 |
| 4:20That woman is RUSTLED AS HELL. Look at that face, the look of defeat where only bitchiness and non-sequitur are one's last bastion. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/24 | 4.167 |
| This woman is the perfect reason why males are doing poorly at school, now. They will do anything to promote the agenda, to the detriment of those not focused on. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/30 | 3.333 |
| Hmmmm, if woman are different and excel when learning in different methods, could it also suggest they have a difference in interest? I think so. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/25 | 4.0 |
| I really dislike it when I am applying to a job and there are boxes that I have to tick Sex: M/FAboriginal: Y/NVisible minority Y/NI am a white male of european descent and equally qualified if not more than any other applicant yet if an aboriginal woman applies for this job she will definitely be getting it over me. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/62 | 1.613 |

| | | | | |
|--|------------|-------------------|------|--------|
| Emily is concerned about the small category of women who have the talent but are marginal in terms of self belief.Are there boys in the same situation?Yes but encouraging THEM hurts the Female/Male ratio she is obsessed with "improving".Isn't that gender discrimination?Yeah. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/46 | 2.174 |
| It's funny that feminist try to push the "there's no difference between men and women" and now this woman goes out claiming that females learn a different way...hmm..suspect... | Woman | Gender - General | 1/28 | 3.571 |
| The woman's position is that women percieve they are at a disadvantage and Tim Hunt's comments support that perception, and she doesnt want to talk about the reality. Well if girls's perception doesnt represent reality then we should be trying to make them see truth not change reality. I would im posture that the main source of ignorance of girls negative perception of themselves comes from feminism and their patriarchy world view. | Patriarchy | Gender - General | 1/72 | 1.389 |
| Throughout the interview the poor women makes the point that women are insecure and need special attention! Feminists never fail to live up to their own stereo types. Most feminists have nothing to do with womens rights they're just angry fanatical women who just want the upper hand against men because they feel insecure | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/54 | 1.852 |
| Women are holes I pump my penis into and jizz all over their babyions, nothing more, nothing else. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 2/18 | 11.111 |
| Can a woman even pose a logical argument?? Talk about living up to a stereotype. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/15 | 6.667 |
| Milo is both sexy, and smart, with a sharp tongue! He's so loveable. Too bad I'm a girl, and I'm not black :p | Black | Ethnicity - Black | 1/23 | 4.348 |
| +TabbyAngel2 Wait what? He like black women! lol! | Black | Ethnicity - Black | 1/8 | 12.5 |
| +anim3z4u nooo he likes black men lol. he's dating one | Black | Ethnicity - Black | 1/10 | 10.0 |
| So let me get this straight that woman thinks that women need extra help to do what men do? That sounds a little sexist to me | Woman | Gender - General | 1/26 | 3.846 |
| I cant hear what's trying to be said because the man is being very aggressive with his points and kind of shouting the women down. Be quiet, stop butting in and let her speak! The man actually said "his (Tim hunt) a silly old man..his 73". How rude to all older men to assume that their all sexist and stupid! | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/60 | 1.667 |

| | | | | |
|---|---------------------|---|-------|-------|
| So why is this woman teaching science rather than being in a lab herself? Telling young females to do STEM and not doing it yourself is hypocritical. "Those that do DO, those that don't TEACH." | Woman | Gender - General | 1/35 | 2.857 |
| In the UK I feel like theres a problem with stereotypes in general, I got pushed into physics because i got told men were better with numbers and stuff and all the girls were pushed into biology because women are supposedly better with qualitative data, then theyd try and push some of the more stereotypically lesbian women to join the rugby team regardless of whether they were actually stocky athletic types. Me and other rugby guys were told to train them, if one girl was doing well she'd get told she must be a lesbian or if they actually were one, they were then told to do better and I just think if at any point we dropped the stereotypes and let people do what they want the whole system would be better | Lesbian | Sexual Identity - Female homosexuality | 2/133 | 1.504 |
| So feminism constantly depicting women as failure's waiting to happen because the mythical patriarchy is out to get them has nothing to do with girl's lack of confidence? | Nothing, Patriarchy | Age - Youngsters, Gender - General | 2/28 | 7.143 |
| Short and simple. If feminists want more women in STEM they should stop graduating in gender studies. This blind feminist is so heavily indoctrinated by feminism she can't see that SHE is helping perpetuate the very thing she is claiming to fight. | Blind, Gender | Gender - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 2/42 | 4.762 |
| Milo Yiannopoulos' arguments are terrible. As a poor, developing country, Bangladesh has very little scientific history of any kind. Norway has a scientific history that goes back centuries. Although Bangladeshi women face enormous disadvantages in virtually all spheres of life compared to Norwegian women, one thing they do not face is being raised to perceive science as a male gendered profession, since very few people of either gender have pursued science in any depth until recently. There simply aren't generations of notable male Bangladeshi professors who have come before them.He doesn't even grasp that he's making Emily Grossman's point that the cultures of these countries have led to different expectations. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/111 | 0.901 |
| Watching this again. I can't get enough of Milo's debates.This woman is so damn dismissive of the facts though, and I don't get that. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/24 | 4.167 |

| | | | | |
|--|--------|------------------|-------|-------|
| Absolutely! Women are sooo discouraged from entering STEM fields!All those gender quotas to push women into STEM, and the millions of dollars spent on scholarship programmes and government initiatives to get more women into STEM fields... Oh... wait. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/39 | 2.564 |
| basic "men are from mars, women are from venus" the woman just wants to be heard despite not making any sense at all | Woman | Gender - General | 2/23 | 8.696 |
| "Who'd like to start: - doctor?" That's typical of the "ladies first" attitude that still exists today in our equalitarian (is that a real word? It is now!) world. My experience is that women always permit favour to their own gender; in short, they live prejudice. This is the type of smoke that really does indicate that there is a fire that needs quelling. "Renaissance", "soft brain", who is Emily Grossman kidding? Is she seriously contending that any young woman would be guided in their thinking by concepts that they are not even likely to be aware of? "Hang on Gov, I was just reading a Renaissance tome that said I've got a soft brain," give me a break!Finally; I am concerned that Sir Tim Hunt is still finds it possible to "fall in love" with the modern woman . given the amount of testosterone around in the female gene pool, some would suggest he bathe elsewhere. | Woman | Gender - General | 2/157 | 1.274 |
| I like how she dismissed his comment that women, given the choice, do not end up going into stem fields. The issue is not the field not allowing women to join, Women don't let themselves join. Males are by nature competitive beings. We aim to be the best that we can be and to not let anyone stop us. If we are at the top, we reach down and bring others up. But, to hinder ourselves to give the other gender an advantage is stupid and unidealistic | Gender | Gender - General | 1/87 | 1.149 |
| Get this in, old man says women cry when criticized, women proceed to cry about it and have him fired. But the women are the real victims here! | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/28 | 3.571 |
| Did any body else notice how close that woman was to crying!? | Woman | Gender - General | 1/12 | 8.333 |

| | | | | |
|--|-----------------------|---|------|--------|
| The Blonde Guy is so correct. Whoever complains when women are benefitting from overrepresentation and positive reinforcement? Nobody . So, by constantly whining when women are in some kind of minority or at some form of disadvantage, people only uphold the norm that women nag, should be put first always and are overly emotional. We must turn gender blind and stop this nonsense before the UK starts to look like Sweden, home of the Feminazis. | Blind, Gender, Nobody | Age - Youngsters, Gender - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 3/74 | 4.054 |
| wow that woman looked so pissed at milo lol. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/9 | 11.111 |
| Milo thoroughly embarasses this woman , | Woman | Gender - General | 1/5 | 20.0 |
| Oh I see how this works now, when a man says something about segregating the sexes he's a misogynist pig, but when a woman says it (and she basically admitted that she agreed with Tim Hunt on the subject) she's merely leveling an unfair playing field because we have to protect girls from the inherent nature of competitiveness in men. Because if there's anything this world is built on its holding hands and hugging stuffed animals to express ourselves. | Misogynist, Woman | Gender - General | 2/79 | 2.532 |
| 8:07Because less women choose physics, she really doesnt understand what equality means. It does not mean everything is statistically equal to the entire population. It means that men and women have the same possibilities. There is nothing putting good students of one gender before good students of the other. Theres just more men interested in science, its that simple. | Gender, Nothing | Age - Youngsters, Gender - General | 2/60 | 3.333 |
| She talks about physics courses as evidence that women don't feel science is for them but what about biology where there is much less of a gender gap and sometimes women dominate? The evidence would seem to suggest that women are more interested in some sciences than others rather than not being interested in science and what's wrong with that? | Gender | Gender - General | 1/60 | 1.667 |
| Milo sounds like he has read what it is like in a STEM workplace from a heavily biased book and believed every word without any experience himself. As someone who currently works for an engineering firm I can see first hand that it is far from equal and we as a society should not become complacent that the work needed to bridge the gender gap has been done just because some statistics may paint that picture. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/76 | 1.316 |

| | | | | |
|---|-------------------|---|-------|--------|
| Dr. Emily Grossman is an intelligent, capable scientist. Who the hell is this Milo guy?! Why was he invited on this show? He clearly has no experience as a woman in science and is a raging chauvinist . Kudos to Emily for not walking off. I would have. | Chauvinist, Woman | Gender - General | 2/47 | 4.255 |
| Dr. Chiara Mingarelli Dr. Grossman may be an intelligent and capable scientist (although I have no evidence one way or the other). Nonetheless in this debate she seemed to be saying that women need special treatment to succeed in science and as a woman in science I think that is nonsense. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/51 | 1.961 |
| Chris Campbell i agree but ...»as a woman in science »chris campbell | Woman | Gender - General | 1/13 | 7.692 |
| He's right. People only complain about male dominated fields. Where are the gender activists in females dominated fields?Oh right, I forgot the golden rule of identity politics. "It's only bad when men do it". | Gender | Gender - General | 1/35 | 2.857 |
| I'm glad he's queer , it's how he get's away with it. | Queer | Sexual Identity - General, Sexual Identity - Male homosexuality | 2/11 | 18.182 |
| I cry I cry I cry I am a woman . Enjoy. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/11 | 9.091 |
| "Women learn in a different way" Yeah, the way that they teach in schools. I find it hilarious how school caters to women, society caters to women, and women still are not able to cut the mustard in the STEM fields. Destroy the prospective futures of men, in the name of women, and it's still not enough. I decided school wasn't the place for me. The world is going down the shitter at an ever increasing rate. I'd rather spend my time learning about agriculture and how to survive in the wilderness than spend time learning about needlessly complicating things with needless mathematical mental masturbation when I'm likely going to be competing with people who're getting jobs because of their reproductive organs instead of their merits. Apparently, a lot of men are thinking the same thing, as the amount of men pursuing post secondary education has been steadily falling. | Mental | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/149 | 0.671 |

| | | | | |
|---|-----------------------|---|------|-------|
| This woman is an idiot. She keeps trying to make a feminisit (cultural Marxist) point that women should go into STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) but evidence proves over and over that women that wont choose it, they don't want it. Scandinavia hand holds women to go into male fields like construction and STEM but women wont go into it and if they go into it then they wont stay in it. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/72 | 1.389 |
| I'm doing a level chemistry and biology and girls are more than capable of keeping up with the guys in the "competitive" environment. Sure there's less girls in the class, but that's cause girls don't want to do science as much, nothing to do with sexism . They don't need special advantages over guys. Stop infantilising them | Nothing, Sexism | Age - Youngsters, Gender - General | 2/56 | 3.571 |
| And when I do my a levels I am not a man or woman , I am not white or black I am a number, nothing matters but my answers on the page | Black, Nothing, Woman | Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Gender - General | 3/32 | 9.375 |
| Men aren't empathic? As a male I just have control of my feelings. Why won't feminists admit this like the good doctor here just did? She admitted to crying but wont admit to women using it in a clutch to avoid issues and problems. Who here hasn't has a female turn on the water works when backed into a corner with the truth.Let females be female and cry,accept how your gender is wired and quit trying to turn males into females. This feminism crap is getting old and so will the women who buy this bunk and lonely. | Gender, Old | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 2/99 | 2.02 |
| She actually agreed with Tim hunt about women crying when they are criticized; yet she assumes that his statement was motivated by sexist assumptions, while her statement was an expression of female empathy & reflection? They both interrupted each other too much, which was distracting. Anyway, the allegation that women don't choose to go into STEM careers because of sexism hasn't been backed up with evidence here. There may be something to that, but where's the evidence? That's how science is done after all. | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/84 | 1.19 |
| " We don't complain when women dominate subjects such as nursing, We shouldn't complain when men dominate subjects like physics." I would love to see what the other woman would've said to that. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/33 | 3.03 |
| How appropriate that Dr Grossman , makes indeed a gross man. She is at odds with her own gender and yet can't quite "compete" with the men unless they "help" her with her immaturity and emotionalism. Victorian era female in 2015 , this is the third waves major contribution. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/49 | 2.041 |

| | | | | |
|---|------------|------------------|-------|-------|
| JennJenification I think that they mean discouraged by all the gender quotas pushing women into STEM, and the millions of dollars spent on scholarship programmes and government initiatives to get more women into STEM fields. Yeah. That kind of "discouragement." | Gender | Gender - General | 1/40 | 2.5 |
| Milo is a Sexist misogynist . !!! FACTWe feminists want more women in STEM!!More CEO's More payMore in garbage disposal,More in woodworkMore in metalwork. ..Wait a minute..... .Milo is a closet feminist. 4th coming out Milo?!?!He wants more women to do what they actually choose to do, instead of being shoveled into STEM? .;) | Misogynist | Gender - General | 1/63 | 1.587 |
| How does that woman know that a woman does better by not writing her name on a test?For all we know, some of those papers could have been a man's paper, but she wouldn't know because there's no name on it! | Woman | Gender - General | 2/42 | 4.762 |
| 8:27 'This is based on an assumption that there ought to be some kind of gender parity. My suggestion is that there isn't. We don't complain when women dominate subjects like nursing—we shouldn't complain when men dominate subjects like physics.'Exactly. I'm supportive of women being encouraged to enter STEM fields. However, they shouldn't receive special privileges as an incentive for doing so. Positions should be filled based on qualifications, not gender quotas. | Gender | Gender - General | 2/73 | 2.74 |
| "He's a silly old man" I don't understand. Is he referring to the fact that any person today is prone to have the beliefs and attitudes of the average person when they were brought up? | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/35 | 2.857 |
| Come on. His a noble prize winner, if anyone should be aloud to screw up once it should be him. He made a bad remark, but the punishment (him losing his jobs and positions, along with a complete character assassination) does not justify the crime. They should give him his life back and just ask him to release a formal apology. Nobodies perfect, and this just shows that. We should all move beyond this and maybe get back to what is important, the science. But this is probably to rational for an Internet driven with nothing more than raw emotions. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/100 | 1.0 |
| Girls are being put-off taking up STEM because an old man makes a quip. Meanwhile, boys that like science have for years been subjected to bullying for being a nerd; swirlies, de-bagging; and the like. If girls are prepared to quit science over such a trivial thing then how much dis they actually like it in the first place. | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/59 | 1.695 |
| A 72-year old said some things that younger people find inappropriate. Gee, that's never happened before.Really though, the guy in this video said it right. If a few offhand comments from some old man causes someone to decide not to become a scientist, how committed was she to doing so in the first place? | Old | Age - Over 65s | 2/55 | 3.636 |

| | | | | |
|--|-----------------------|--|-------|------|
| She made no sense at all. I wasn't able to count how many contradictions I've heard in her speeches. The worse thing was when she simply stated that "girls are going to do worse (and she actually says that it has been shown they do, like there was a study proving it officially, without any numbers or methodology manipulation) when they recognize and identify themselves as females in tests/exams, because they self-reflect themselves and think they're going to fail". WHERE IS THE LOGIC ON THIS? I couldn't process this on my mind, cuz it's simply one of the most ridiculous and nonsense thing I've ever heard in my life It's basically saying that women are extremely emotional and unable to think for themselves while facing the slightest disadvantage or difficulty. PURE VICTIMHOOD AND OPPORTUNISM HERE. Based on her arguments, she openly affirms that women are being disencouraged and not receiving enough support as they should because they "feel" diminished, not welcome, afraid, rejected. <— Which means either they create this idea, this hallucination on their minds that they aren't mentally prepared to face LIFE with their own strenght and intellect, therefore lacking any kind of resilience or endurance towards of pression and tension whatsoever or that women are fragile and need, as he says, "extreme special care around them". Which also means that women AREN'T worthy or capable to follow science carrers, specially the ones men dominate (its not a coincidence), and if they're not being handed everything, they can't stand for a qualification and competence's competition (which is how the freakin working market works) BECAUSE THEY DON'T FEEL SAFE OR PREPARED. Equality? Seriously, this is total BULLSHIT. Our generation is the most whiny, fuzzy and pathetic one in humanity's history. People are completely denying the idea of individuality and throwing away what merit and effort are there for, forgetting that everyone has their own situations and circumstances, all for the sake and good of "political correctness". And the most hilarious thing about all this, is that she doesn't realize she's being extremely hypocrite, lacking common sense, logic and coherence. She destroys herself in her own arguments. Fact is, she's trying to argue against facts. Women are the majority on schools and universities over men in developed countries and have different carrer/profession choices, because men and women differ almost entirely, biologically speaking, encompassing mental and physical aspects/factors. Men dominate some areas, while women dominate other areas, AND THAT'S IT. I'm done. | Common, Fuzzy, Mental | Ethnicity - Black, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments, Social Class - Working class | 3/411 | 0.73 |
|--|-----------------------|--|-------|------|

| | | | | |
|---|--------|---|-------|-------|
| Maltfalc Thats the problem with Modern Feminism. Especially in the US and the UK.I work in a female-dominated work environmeent (Fashion Design) and every one i work with consider themself Feminist but they actually focus on real problems that women face.When one of my french colleagues showed me the whole Tim Hunt Drama at work she said: "Pseudo-Feminists like the ones who complained about Hunts comments and other non-issues is damaging real Feminism. They make women look like overly-emotional weak creatures by overreacting to that guys comments."I wonder if these Pseudo-Feminists (who are usually american or british) realize that they FEED the bad stereotype about women by being outraged about such nonsense.As my 47 year old manager who is a Feminist said:"Those american new-wave feminists damage everything Feminism is about." I couldn't agree more. Luckily Feminism in Germany, France, Belgium etc. is not as insane yet. Yes, we have tiny groups of that outrage-culture type aswell. But every Feminist i know from these countries is the logical type that focus on real issues - think Prof. Christina Sommers = Real Feminism. | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/186 | 0.538 |
| If these harpies want more girls in STEM fields, maybe we should start closing down gender studies faculties... | Gender | Gender - General | 1/18 | 5.556 |
| Gender segregation, crying..She concedes Tim Hunt's points and yet he's still the feminist unperson of the week for having articulated these (innocuous and self-evident) truths?..With these sorts of advocates, Feminism really doesn't need opposition. What a farce... | Gender | Gender - General | 1/40 | 2.5 |
| my boss once told a female coworker that she had to stay on duty 31 of December (this is common in our work, It is a random pick), she went to the bathroom to cry. so it is true what this scientist says. | Common | Social Class - Working class | 1/43 | 2.326 |
| "Tim Hunt is perpetuating negative images of women!" says woman who just stated that women tend to cry a lot more than men, get scared out of their comfort zone, lack the confidence men have, and basically need extra help so they're not terrified of STEM classes, especially if scary boys are present! WHAT?!?!? | Woman | Gender - General | 1/54 | 1.852 |
| If Milo liked women, I would make a sexual remark about him doing something to her. | Sexual | Gender - General | 1/16 | 6.25 |
| I have a feeling that he had enemies looking to get rid of him, and they pounced upon his remarks to force his resignation. This whole thing is so stupid, that as great of a scientist as he is (even though he couldn't figure out how to trim his nose hairs), they gave him the boot because of his poor choice of humor. I say this negatively affects how we should view the college he worked at, how they would be such a bunch of sensitive pussies who would get rid of a noble prize winner over something so dumb. | Dumb | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/100 | 1.0 |

| | | | | |
|--|--|--|-------|-------|
| 'the stereotype threat' - well thanks for clearing that up with some grade A mental gymnastics. | Mental | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/16 | 6.25 |
| Here's the part of the debate that never gets discussed. Men, time and time again, make decisions about work and careers that subordinate other concerns to making money. They do this for the same reason that it can be shown that married men out earn both women and unmarried men. It is, quite simply, because women create social pressures for men to be breadwinners. There is nothing mysterious about this. Men anticipate women's expectations and demands of them so they go into STEM or other fields perceived to pay more. It's also why they work longer hours. It's because women deny men choices in life that women enjoy themselves. Men don't get to consider "work life balance" because women do not allow them to. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/124 | 0.806 |
| There is an issue with lack of woman in the sciences.... as a TEACHER I....-Those who can't,. teach | Woman | Gender - General | 1/19 | 5.263 |
| With all due respect this guy Milo knows nothing about the modern scientific academic environment. He will never have come across misogynists - men who hate women - basically despising the very idea that women should be anywhere near the bench. He is unlikely to have had to counsel young undergraduates barely out of school having had their confidence knocked out of them and suffered sexism from grown men who think that women are basically soft headed and unsuitable.Milo likes to casually suggest this is a scientific fact to strengthen his misogyny - the same way people like to name check the Bell Curve when explaining how the negro is just too dumb .It's all a big joke to him the idea that intelligence young women are not welcome in some circles. Social factors or biological biases are irrelevant to individuals cases - if someone wants to do something they should be free to do it without being told they can't.The extremes of P.C are just a smokescreen for misogynists to hide behind - "look at the stoopid feminazis ha ha !".Say something positive and useful to young girls maybe - instead of using your acceptance of the crap people say about homosexuality as an excuse to diss anyone elses none acceptance of injustice. | Dumb, Misogyny, Negro, Nothing, Sexism | Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Gender - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 5/217 | 2.304 |

| | | | | |
|--|----------------|---|------|--------|
| Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart So now I'm a ' misogynist moron'. I'm making the claims about the inferiority of women ? I'm claiming "women should be held to as lower standard" now? I'm criticizing Milo "feminists caused the Charleston killings " not necessarily supporting anyone else. Well don't waste any more of your time with a moron. | Misogynist | Gender - General | 1/57 | 1.754 |
| That woman is a doctor? I thought doctors had to be smart? | Woman, doctors | Gender - General, Nationality - General | 2/12 | 16.667 |
| I'm a strong independent woman . I'm going to be a scientist. One old man who won a Nobel prize said labs should be segregated. I give up on my love and passion for science. | Old, Woman | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 2/34 | 5.882 |
| So feminism opinion is that women are weak willed frail creatures that need constant encouraging and motivation to achieve anything of any worth. And this is supposed to be the pro-women's side?Did I just time travel back to the 1920's when every woman was suffering from hysteria? | Woman | Gender - General | 1/48 | 2.083 |
| Ok, she starts out saying that women are no different than men and should not be treated differently. Then explains that their studies out showing that women are different from men and should be treated differently. This woman is an idiot. I'm sorry feminist. Lol | Woman | Gender - General | 1/45 | 2.222 |
| I came for the misogyny . I left disappointed. Great debate Milo. | Misogyny | Gender - General | 1/11 | 9.091 |
| "There's a historical precedent; during the renaissance..."Sorry, exactly how many 15th century teenage girls is this woman bumping into, in 2015? | Woman | Gender - General | 1/22 | 4.545 |
| more female sexism toward men and women, women r weak and cant compete so lets give them a help in society.... that attitude does not help any1. | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/27 | 3.704 |
| This feminist is a real misogynist with her silly ideas about women being weak and frail. And it's always feminists that portrait women this way! | Misogynist | Gender - General | 1/25 | 4.0 |
| FranckByNature And I base this on absolutely nothing . | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/8 | 12.5 |
| Old science dude says it's distracting and counter-productive to constantly watch out for female colleagues feelings while doing science and a young science woman comes on to say how he should be more careful and mind the female colleagues feelings.UWOTM8 | Old, Woman | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 2/41 | 4.878 |
| "We need more women scientists working in labs"- Woman scientist who has chosen not to work in a lab | Woman | Gender - General | 1/20 | 5.0 |

| | | | | |
|---|---------------|------------------|-------|------|
| If a woman signing her name at the top of her test has her do worse it is likely to do with the social side of her brain interfering with her rational side. That is, her mind spends more resources on thinking about or even communicating through the test with whomever she thinks will grade it. In other words her affirmation of her gender activates a daydream-esque scenario-creator that now frames all her actions, even that of taking as test, as though she had an audience. An imaginary audience to be sure but the effect is the same. We've all done this have we not? It's the difference between making the shot and making the shot while others are watching. The latter is far more difficult. Being female - wired to attract others - would likely make this behavior more pronounced and triggerable merely through the identification of one's gender. This is the answer. Just research it and give me my kudos afterward. | Gender, Woman | Gender - General | 3/163 | 1.84 |
|---|---------------|------------------|-------|------|

| | | | | |
|---|-----------------------|---|-------|-------|
| They both raise valid points but I don't think either of them have really reached a final rational conclusion. At certain levels women are disadvantaged and at certain levels men are disadvantaged. Girls don't want to go into STEM as often as men and their own limiting beliefs do negatively affect their performance as Dr. Grossman notes. It may be beneficial to identify where they are hearing these messages and educate them so that they do not accept them personally. Still, nowadays they get into college more easily, do better at school, get jobs more easily and are paid better up until they are in their 30s like Milo says.If they can get past their own doubts they will do better and that actually suggests they may currently have a bigger real advantage and their biggest disadvantage is in fact their own beliefs.Would accommodating women's different style perhaps by reducing competitiveness benefit women and reduce their doubts? Perhaps, but that also means that it may negatively affect men and this actually would be a rational reason to segregate them professionally to some degree. Would this be economically, socially, and politically advantageous on balance? It's impossible to say.Are men simply more naturally adept due to their biology in certain areas? Perhaps, but the science is still out. Are women more naturally inclined to pursue other interests? Perhaps, but the science is still out. It is not enough to point out that in certain cultures where women have more freedom, financial equity, or however Milo is defining "more equality," they choose not to enter STEM. There may be plenty of biases in these cultures that still subtly suggest that STEM is not as feminine or there may be other legitimate social costs for a woman entering STEM. But given women's evolutionary role there is certainly some credibility to the idea that women's brains are different and that they may be naturally drawn towards careers whose tasks reflect those roles such as those that engage in more caregiving and empathizing. This cannot be discounted on some philosophical notion that men and women are equal simply because they can still be equal in value but have different tendencies and aptitudes.Are there stereotypes that discourage women from pursuing STEM degrees? At least in the US I think so, but what are they proposing is done about it? Milo makes a good point in that it should be an individual decision to make when determining what they really want to pursue and the onus is on them to make an assessment of their own capabilities just like every man must. Even if men truly were more capable in STEM professions, there is enough variability that that alone should not rule out all women. But some still will rule themselves out. Again, where are these messages coming from and how can we curb them? I would suggest identify the sources and educate.Are women more likely to cry? As it is, sure, but let them cry and deal with it appropriately. Don't give them special treatment whenever they cry. Let them experience and express their emotions healthily. Maybe men need to learn ways to better handle other people experiencing their emotions without needing to get them to stop or being so uncomfortable that it affects their ability to work and treat them as they would any other co-worker. This probably will also greatly help men who have a tendency to cry and probably experience | Gender, Nobody, Woman | Age - Youngsters, Gender - General | 6/994 | 0.604 |
|---|-----------------------|---|-------|-------|

| | | | | |
|---|------------|------------------|-------|-------|
| PresidentScrooge The first one. Because lack of confidence is a result of social conditioning that exists, and ideally can be fought against, but biological essentialism implies some sort of inherent inferiority, which is the worst kind of sexism . | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/38 | 2.632 |
| I don't think that this woman knows what empathy/empathic means. she seems to think that it means being absorbed in your own emotions to the point of tears. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/28 | 3.571 |
| Feminist starts losing the debate 6:20 implies Tim Hunt is a misogynist 8:27 FIRIN' MAH LAZER BEEMS!!!! PEW PEW | Misogynist | Gender - General | 1/19 | 5.263 |
| Fernando Batista remember, it's wrong because a man said it. A man who advocates segregation is sexist, a woman who does it is trying to protect women from the evil men! | Woman | Gender - General | 1/31 | 3.226 |
| Fernando Batista "Milo's right, she thinks Tim Hunt is correct and she doesn't seem to notice it."Because a man said it, it's automatically sexist, even if it is exactly what the femiharpies want. That's why she doesn't seem to notice that she agrees with Tim Hunt; the only thing going through the idiot's mind is "sexist man; break Patriarchy !" | Patriarchy | Gender - General | 1/60 | 1.667 |
| +BringerOfD No its wrong because a person in authority said it. Sexism is a form of bullying and has no place in a civilized society. | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/25 | 4.0 |
| Philippe Parise 'the feminists' I wish that people would stop grouping people into these conveniently hate-sized boxes lol. I agree hopefully one day these stupid arguments will be a historical joke and men and women wont even give a second thought on what they want to do in life based on which sex organs they have. But bear in mind that without 'the feminists' no progress would have been made and it would still be a quite oppressive world for women in the west countries. | Sex | Gender - General | 1/85 | 1.176 |
| Leona Beazant I'll try and make it more clear. "Women are affected by stereotypes" and "women are weak" are both statements that rely on the premise of women being incapable of making their own decisions.One side says they can't make their own decisions because society tells them they're wrong, the other says they can't because they just don't know how.I don't agree with either statement, because we're living in a world where women have their own agency.In my worldview, a woman who has an statistical advantage over a male counterpart in college, in hiring and in payment, but hears a stranger say "women should stay in the kitchen", doesn't have much to complain about, and unwanted opinions usually can't be solved with anything other than censorship or mind control. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/132 | 0.758 |

| | | | | |
|--|-------------|---|-------|-------|
| Leona Beazant "Therefore women might CHOOSE not to go into that field of work"Because they are weak and need someone to hold their hand and whisper encouragements in their ears in order to work properly.Hypersensitivity and a successful career on a competitive field don't go hand in hand.Most men hate their bosses, have societal expectations over them and are pushed to certain areas depending on their backgrounds, and yet they aren't seemed as victims of society the way women are.Wanting to end sexism is a fine, if unrealistic, goal, but putting sexism as the main reason women don't prosper is incredibly patronising.I feel like we're talking in circles | Sexism | Gender - General | 2/113 | 1.77 |
| Fernando Batista yes and putting sexism as the main reason while excluding men from experiencing any of it IS SEXISM !!!!there is only one solution, remove the double standards and let the problems sort themselves out over time.. once the older generations phase out things will get better, this hate on men only brings more inequity.. | Sexism | Gender - General | 2/57 | 3.509 |
| Milo mopped the floor with that chic. if only women didn't choose useless courses like gender studies. There are so few women in Stem fields when compared to humanities. This is their choice. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/33 | 3.03 |
| Milo didn't even make a great argument here, that's the sad thing. For example, what Milo is saying is 'Hey, uh, It's nottt certain but women MIGHT have different brains?? I mean, we don't KNOW, but someone made a theory so I'm gonna' stick HARD to it.' and this woman simply doesn't have the ability to shoot him down over how vague and dumb his facts are. Shame. Because people like Milo are always very, very able to shoot down facts when wrong, not cited or vague. This is just one problem more feminist types have. They're so stuck on their premise I doubt they ever listen to the argument of the other person. | Dumb, Woman | Gender - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 2/114 | 1.754 |
| A doctor got schooled in science by a journalist from facts..... Not only should this woman hang her head in shame whatever clown college she got her doctorate should as well. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/31 | 3.226 |
| I like how the math and science teacher basically agrees with the old Nobel Prize that women can't take criticism without crying, but argues that this must not be said otherwise it will hurt poor fragile women's feels and that is the reason there is a gender gap in STEM fields.Her argument is based on the assumption that the old scientist is correct. How about feminists make some introspection and go back to empowering women, to not fear competition, instead of trying to build "safe spaces" where their feels must never be hurt by facts at odds with their emotions, because they consider women as "perpetual victims of everything". | Gender, Old | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 3/110 | 2.727 |
| All I can say it's that age contradicted her self few times and he REKT. | Age | Age - General | 1/15 | 6.667 |

| | | | | |
|---|------------|---|------|--------|
| Milo should accuses her of homophobia . The result would be the first time a feminist has to think before respponding | Homophobia | Sexual Identity - General | 1/20 | 5.0 |
| If this woman is such a marvellous scientist who was so much better than her male peers, why is she just working as a teacher and broadcaster and not advancing human knowledge as a research scientist?Hardly leading by example is she? | Woman | Gender - General | 1/42 | 2.381 |
| letssuperfuntime Thanks for clarifying your point. I will look at the whole paper when I have time. I would say that whether or not the authors have established an historical bias against women in STEM, it's indefensible to simply replace one form of sex discrimination with another and Milo was right to draw attention to that aspect of the study results. | Sex | Gender - General | 1/61 | 1.639 |
| Remember people; all these top comments in favor of Milo are clearly just the same guy using sockpuppet accounts. Even though most men and women disagree with this feminazi bullshit the feminists still should have absolute control over everything. | Feminazi | Gender - Female intelligence | 1/39 | 2.564 |
| The homophobia in her tone and demeanor is palpable. | Homophobia | Sexual Identity - General | 1/9 | 11.111 |
| imashaaark or maybe misandry | Misandry | Gender - General | 1/4 | 25.0 |
| This woman is clearly intelligent, it's just a shame that her ideological bias is blinding her.If a girl (or a guy) needs emotional support in order to learn effectively then they may not be best suited towards STEM fields, and that's not a bad thing. Science should be cold, calculated and objective.Why should the scientific approach be changed to make it more accessible to people who can't control their emotions and start crying if they can't solve a problem. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/81 | 1.235 |
| both my parents are nurses ikr thats weird lmao | Weird | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/9 | 11.111 |
| The problem with modern feminists is that they teach women that they already are equal to men, so when they enter the male dominated profession, they're not ready to overcome their female tendencies and limitations, refuse to work harder to match up with men, can't take the criticism, and begin to blame men for sexism . | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/55 | 1.818 |

| | | | | |
|--|-------------|----------------------------------|-------|-------|
| Trav sex | Sex | Gender - General | 1/2 | 50.0 |
| What's funny is physics and astro is my major.....its damn near 50/50. And in the upper classes I see mostly woman . The head of math is a woman as well.....feminist lies. | Woman | Gender - General | 2/31 | 6.452 |
| Milo raises some great points. Don't talk about how awful it is that somebody thinks girls are 'too sensitive', then go on to claim that this kind of comment can, by itself, put an entire gender off studying an entire field of subjects (STEM). Either girls are perfectly capable of going and studying science, despite but one old man says in a throwaway remark (this is what I and any sane person knows to be true); OR they have to be treated like delicate little flowers who are going to run away from the scary sciences because of what one old man says in a throwaway remark. Which is the more feminist belief here? | Gender, Old | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 3/114 | 2.632 |
| Why dont feminist worry about the gender inequality in construction work or in lower paid manual labour work? | Gender | Gender - General | 1/18 | 5.556 |
| This Emily is as sexist as the Nobel prizes she is criticizing, only as reversed sexism , when she says that she is very passionate about encouraging young girls in following science. She did not even mention encouraging boys as well... | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/40 | 2.5 |
| Only 20 of girls are a level physics students. BECAUSE girls don't like physics. They are not being pushed out, they are not becoming physicists because they have no interest in it. Well, the 80 that don't, at any rate.Why isnt she talking about the lack of parity in the sanitation fields where 90 of jobs are men? Is it because of sexism or is it that women simp,y don't want to have a job where they take out the trash. | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/82 | 1.22 |
| John R That isnt the case lol. If physics is so boring to women why are countless women in today's generation going into engineering. Why are 50 percent of China's engineers women? Its because of the SOCIAL environment. There is no reason to go into a physics if there is no social human interaction which happens a lot with these male robots who work in the Physics field. | Engineers | Nationality - General | 1/68 | 1.471 |
| There is nothing preventing more women from joining those fields except that THEY DONT WANT TO. Period.Why is 90 of sanitation jobs taken up by men? Beciase women don't want to take up those jobs. PERIOD. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/37 | 2.703 |
| John R His point about female engineers in China is due to their memory-based system and their education system; though I do not think it is 50/50. Though his point about physics being socialized is confirming this feminist's concept that they need to be nicer to girls. | Engineers | Nationality - General | 1/47 | 2.128 |

| | | | | |
|---|-------------|---------------------------------|-------|-------|
| TheIslamicAtheist Now, don't be using that language.And it so happens, I myself am a woman . So how's it feel to be outsmarted? | Woman | Gender - General | 1/23 | 4.348 |
| John R The point is to promote re-interest in STEM. Economists warn against such staggering disproportions, and believe that more gender integrated occupations would make the economy more efficient. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/29 | 3.448 |
| John R Dude, in the last decades a lot more men have join nursing more than ever before. I don't know if its due to immigration of male nurses overseas or domestic males increase in interest. Nevertheless, there is actually a silent promotion for males to go into nursing and trust me I know - I am a male nurse.How is pushing women into STEM going to decrease women in Nursing ? There are other areas where we could transfer women into STEM like for example, there are a lot of women in business, social sciences and teaching that I think should go into STEM. There are already an too much teachers whether male or female and reducing these extra teachers could be helpful in promoting those females to go into STEM. So no, I don't think it's going to affect a lot.People's interests change. It's not absolute at all and is very fluid. And also at the end of day the interests of individuals have to be aligned in some way to the interests towards the economy and cultural development. Gender segregation in job sectors is bad for the economy and culturally we have to evolve to be motivated towards tasks that we might otherwise have found uninterested before. As human beings, genders have to evolve and start learning to share the same tasks. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/227 | 0.441 |
| Son of Nemesis hmm can't argue with that in this day and age . But your argument is the same as Tim Hunt's who had his life ruined and was fired for being pro gender segregation in science labs | Age, Gender | Age - General, Gender - General | 2/38 | 5.263 |
| John R The government is. There is a whole initiative for men to go into nursing and teaching. There is also an initiative for women to go into mining.There are zero women in Sanitation school. It's a horrible career. | Zero | Age - Youngsters | 1/40 | 2.5 |
| John R I'm not forcing them. I'm breaking down cultural stereotypes so men and women don't make their choices BASED on those gender stereotypes. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/24 | 4.167 |
| John R Society constructs gender stereotypes. Boys simply get reinforced to take interest in engineering from older peers, fathers and classmates. The idea of nursing is feminine so boys are too emberassed to explore. Same goes reverse for girls. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/39 | 2.564 |
| Son of Nemesis human males can be born with a woman's brain and that is a fact. That goes to show that we have different brains and therefore will make very different decisions in life. 90 of sanitation jobs consist of males... why's that? Women don't want to get into it or it's sexism against men? | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/56 | 1.786 |

| | | | | |
|---|--------------------------|---|-------|--------|
| +John R ...The reason girls don't like physics/STEM, etc. is because it's difficult for them... as their brains did not evolve around these concepts and for these purposes. Females do not have the mental capability to create civilizations. | Mental | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/38 | 2.632 |
| Did I really just hear someone with a doctorate degree defend her argument with a survey about 'confidence?' Really? This argument makes women out to be infants that are controlled by their feelings. We all have to overcome stereotypes, regardless of race or gender . To say that women won't succeed because of stereotypes is pretty insulting. | Gender, Race | Ethnicity - General, Gender - General | 2/56 | 3.571 |
| Ah, the good old perpetual victim status. | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/7 | 14.286 |
| GOD DAMN THIS MILO DUDE LAID A SMACKDOWN ON THAT WOMAN | Woman | Gender - General | 1/11 | 9.091 |
| This is all bizarre. The feminist there is saying she is against what the old guy (Tim) said but she then goes on to say the same things.She says girls are more sensitive (Tim said they cry easily.) Same thing.He said girls should be separated from boys, presumably so boys and girls perform in different environments. She thinks environment in science fields should be more nurturing, supporting, etc. so girls feel alright. Well, the if men perform better in competitive environment, they should not be forced into a feminine, 'nurturing' environment. Only solution is gender segregation to provide environment appropriate for each sex . Both are basically implying the same thing.She also rejects Milo's claims about boys and girls being naturally diff, hence boys doing better in science. Yet she goes on with biological generalizations about women.She is very confused and contradicting herself at every point.Here's what I think: In the UK (and the west in general), unis and workplaces are desperate to hire women to showcase their 'equality'. This gives women an unfair advantage. There's no institutional sexism driving women away.However, I do think that women might do better in a less cut throat, competitive environment. It is up to them to create such an environment. If that involves segregation and actually improves female participation, success in sciences, I wouldn't be against it at all. But I don't see how exactly segregation would work - it would be full of inconveniences. Still, it remains a fact that men have an advantage over women in sciences/math because of being overrepresented at higher end of IQ distribution and being less risk averse. | Gender, Old, Sex, Sexism | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 4/276 | 1.449 |
| So women are still recovering from the renaissance period and may still think their skulls are soft... she outed her inner feminazi right from the go ! | Feminazi | Gender - Female intelligence | 1/27 | 3.704 |

| | | | | |
|--|---------------|---|-------|--------|
| She herself said men and women think differently, but rejects the differences in achievement being anything other than sexism .It's strange that someone who can act so dumb can also be a teacher. | Dumb, Sexism | Gender - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 2/33 | 6.061 |
| "Who wants to start? Doctor..." stupid smug smileHow I hate this politically correct sexism ... | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/15 | 6.667 |
| It's not sexist when feminists are the ones advocating gender segregation. It's only sexist when men, especially non-feminist men do it. Because modern feminism is becoming one big sexist double-standart. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/30 | 3.333 |
| Hail super gayan Milo, destroying bad arguments one red pill at a time :D | Red | Ideological and Political Identity - General, Ethnicity - Native-American | 2/14 | 14.286 |
| Women won't get equal representation in STEM fields by having feminists hold their hands and tell them scary stories about The Patriarchy . | Patriarchy | Gender - General | 1/22 | 4.545 |
| This is yet another feminist foisting her ideology on people and demanding that there be absolute equity. She claims, without evidence (because there is none beyond vacuous feminist "research") that it's sexism that's preventing women from entering STEM, when it's just their personal choice - STEM doesn't interest them. I've seen that interest from women time and again. It's not because they're inherently shy, it's because physics and engineering aren't interesting to them.Feminists would have laws made to force parity, and to a large extent they have succeeded. How about, we let people choose where they want to go. | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/100 | 1.0 |
| According to this woman :1. Women should be allowed to compete with men in scientific fields2. Being emotional gives women an advantage.3. Men hitting women emotionally creates a culture in which women are at a disadvantage. So basically this woman wants women to compete with men but only if men have to hinder themselves to think as a gender other than their own in order to allow women their advantage. This woman is a social hypochondriac. | Gender, Woman | Gender - General | 3/78 | 3.846 |

| | | | | |
|---|------------|------------------|-------|--------|
| Women can be sexist and its just as ok for them to be sexist as men. sexist women are also bigoted assholes, no matter what the feminists say about how "gender power dynamics" make it ok for them to be prejudiced. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/43 | 2.326 |
| The dynamics of this interview alone prove Dr. Emily's points. 1. Women are often too ready to shut up other women, in support of men. Notice the anchor's referee type approach to Dr. Emily, as opposed to the man. Just count the number of times she cut off Dr. Emily vs. the man. Why is this the case? a) Jealousyb) For the same reason that kidnapping victims often come to defend their captor. Humans have a desire for familiarity. Some women thus may find it difficult to "go against the grain" and speak up against a man, in support of her fellow woman .2. The man repeatedly tries to put Dr. Emily into an "inept, vengeful female" box. He can't fathom that a female is able to have emotions, meanwhile put them aside in order to rise to the top. This is quite ignorant, though. Often behind a successful women is a girl who once learned the consequences of romance and distractions. And luckily, girlish fantasies are easier to squash than the hormonally-driven ones of men. So really, who is the more balanced employee to hire? Woman , man, or woman -girl?Cheers to not living with blinders. | Woman | Gender - General | 2/197 | 1.015 |
| Welcomed with open arms in STEM, universities basically fight for more women to join them and feminism creating their worst nightmares just to continue their Holy War against Men. Feminist are the ones who create sexism where there is none, rape culture where is none.They create those people who can't handle reality, who are afraid of everything. | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/57 | 1.754 |
| SynsterFear She cried on Twitter about misogyny afterwards! lol! | Misogyny | Gender - General | 1/9 | 11.111 |
| James Bond Milo actually put his research team on that to prove that not a single misogynist tweet was sent to her, he mentioned it when he did a talk with Sargon of Akkad. | Misogynist | Gender - General | 1/34 | 2.941 |
| This generation of Social Justice "warriors" who are offended at every single thing and want the world to change for THEM, thinking it revolves around them... yeah, they should just do everybody else a favor and kill themselves... I say this from the bottom of my heart.. they have literally nothing to contribute to society, and the worst is they think they do. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/63 | 1.587 |
| I found Hunt's comments offensive, but I find nothing in Dr. Grossman's arguments to agree with. With her it's not about just plain being a jerk, no, it somehow impacts THE ENTIRE HISTORY OF WOMEN IN THE WESTERN WORLD. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/39 | 2.564 |

| | | | | |
|---|------------|----------------------------------|-------|-------|
| If women do worse writing their own names on a test? What so if she left it blank she would do better? Sorry zero logic in that statement. | Zero | Age - Youngsters | 1/28 | 3.571 |
| Qwertie asdf IF thats the case then all women should change their sex and start thinking like men? | Sex | Gender - General | 1/18 | 5.556 |
| $20 dollars says they used Gender Studies as the Experiment group and compared it to the grades of girls in general populationAnd I should have to explain why GS students would do worse in Math | Gender | Gender - General | 1/36 | 2.778 |
| Yesterday, scientists for the FDA suggested that men should take a look at their beer consumption, considering the results of a recent analysis that revealed the presence of female hormones in beer. The theory is that drinking beer makes men turn into women. To test the finding, 100 men were fed 6 pints of beer each. It was then observed that: 1) 100 of the men gained weight, 2) talked excessively without making sense, 3) became overly emotional, 4) couldn't drive, 5) failed to think rationally, 5) argued over nothing and, 6) refused to apologize when wrong. No further testing is planned. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/102 | 0.98 |
| The most infuriating thing about the PC crowd is their inability to acknowledge biology in any way. they think women and men are exactly the same everywhere except the genitals and because of this neo-creationist belief that says that everyone is created the same under.... noone , they blame everything on white men. there's not "enough" women in STEM and according to their beliefs, women have the same interests as men inherently. But women don't seem to want to go into STEM and that can only mean that men don't want them to. It can only mean that the evil white man is brainwashing the woman into preferring to study about humans than the material world. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/116 | 0.862 |
| This woman is an idiot, in Norway sciences are dominated by men and care jobs are dominated by women and no matter how much money the Norwegian government spends on programs to encourage women to go into STEM and men to go into care, the numbers don't change.Men and women are wired differently and there is no amount of feminism that can ever change that. Also, his comment wasn't sexist it was a valid point and making an old , noble-prize winning scientist apologize for telling the truth and what is on his mind is beyond reprehensible. I don't care how much self-reflecting or encouragement this harpy needs. | Old, Woman | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 2/108 | 1.852 |
| When women make derogatory comments about men, such as likening us to cave men, or Neanderthals it doesnt even get mentioned, let alone the Front page of a national newspaper. Just goes to show how " sexism against women" is big business now. Everybody is searching frantically to find it, even in places where it doesnt exist. | Sexism | Gender - General | 1/56 | 1.786 |

| | | | | |
|--|-------------|----------------------------------|------|--------|
| That guy’s nose hairs should make everyone cry- regardless of gender . Yikes! | Gender | Gender - General | 1/12 | 8.333 |
| blood on the moon Nothing at all... Nothing at all... | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 2/9 | 22.222 |
| blood on the moon Every man wants him and every woman wants to be him. Or is it the other way around? Oh well, no matter. That hair... it’s beautiful. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/30 | 3.333 |
| Milos final statement said it all.My piece for the puzzle.Why are there so many initiatives and grants and programmes to get more women in STEM with mass media coverage but zero programmes for more male nurses, teachers, or care givers?Not to mention the UK government and EU are only one step short of mandating that all companies obey a minimum female:male ratio at the highest level or risk punitive measures and shut-down. As far as I can see no mention has been made regarding studies on the average F:M ratio of applicants or relevant qualifications/experience. | Zero | Age - Youngsters | 1/98 | 1.02 |
| pizzarelaguy she probably considers herself a battered woman now | Woman | Gender - General | 1/9 | 11.111 |
| +11WhenPigsFly What, that women ought to be mollycoddled, anything short of 50/50 in all fields amounts to sexism and brilliant old men should lose their jobs for bad jokes? Sounds like a most rational and unobjectionable stance. | Old, Sexism | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 2/37 | 5.405 |
| +ossified4reason Remember, if women are the majority in something, it’s because men are being pushed out, but if men are the majority, it’s because women ”just can’t handle it”. Yay, misogyny ! | Misogyny | Gender - General | 1/31 | 3.226 |
| A feminist shouldering responsibility for ANYTHING? Not gonna happen. Also when Milo suggested about male and female brains being different she gave a mocking look. Then he made the (true) point that if a woman is committed to science an offhand remark won’t deter her, and she’s like ”that’s ridiculous coz women are different!” lmao. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/55 | 1.818 |
| harlon57 A world where people do not compete? Indigenous tribes. French Polynesia. Rural communities. Competition was exactly what Karl Marx was talking against which is why it lead to the ideology of Communism. Communism was essentially trying to create a Community of cooperation or the revivalism of the old ”hunter-gatherer” society structure. Too bad it failed because of its one state autocratic parties which got taken over by psychotic Alpha Males like Stalin. | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/73 | 1.37 |

| | | | | |
|---|-----------------|---|-------|-------|
| harlon57 Atheism has nothing to do with this.Obviously co-operation cannot work in our current society since our society is individualistic instead of a group-oriented one. But co-operation over competition CAN work in a industrialized society as long as the society was community and communal based. That was what Communism wanted to establish. They wanted to dissect the nation into thousands of smaller communal where people will work with each other. Not only will people work within the communal to keep it stable, but communals will work wither other communals to keep the nation stable. It would be a community based society based on tribal structure. | Nation, Nothing | Age - Youngsters, Nationality - General | 3/106 | 2.83 |
| QuickBeam15 I called the person a sexist because they said men are more intelligent than women. That is not being an arrogant asshole, that is calling a spade a spade . | Spade | Ethnicity - Black | 2/30 | 6.667 |
| TheIslamicAtheistQuit being a homophobe and talk like a grownup.We aren't gonna strip women of their agency or penalize men because a bunch of gender studies majors and NO ONE ELSE say we should. Welcome to the free world. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/40 | 2.5 |
| Jack Mehoff Males ARE the oppressors. The common denominator for every single injustice and chaos in human history have been males and it continues to b seo and we have to come to understand it as a normal part of life. So don't get too upset when Feminists point out the obvious truth. | Common | Social Class - Working class | 1/53 | 1.887 |
| martyspandex numbers might sound impressive (mine is around 175 — I often wonder as to the accuracy of these tests) , but my real life experience has been nothing short of "traumatic" LOL . If others could pop the proverbial blue pill,or red pill. I would suggest to them to wait as I still can't tell which side is more painful. LOL | Nothing, Red | Ideological and Political Identity - General, Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Native- American | 3/62 | 4.839 |
| martyspandex Yes, 175 is very different from 150 . IQ will change with level of consciousness. Other factors also contribute to as many or more differences: Development , skill , experience in any or preferably all of the above : physical, emotional, mental , spiritual, etc etc etc levels. This is a model for a person who is integrated and has no shadow side or fake self in operation. Everything mentioned above has been attained before. | Mental | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/75 | 1.333 |

| | | | | |
|---|-------------|----------------------------------|-------|-------|
| This was very level headed. I like to see a discussion taking place in a civil manner. BUT all of the subject shifting was leading to nothing being truly discussed. A moderator with some skill would be a good addition. The presenter was a passive observer rather than an active source of discourse topics. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/54 | 1.852 |
| QuacklingBoondoggle Nothing wrong, just pathetic. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/5 | 20.0 |
| the law of gravity cares for gender parity | Gender | Gender - General | 1/8 | 12.5 |
| And that's disappointing about the MGM stance. Definitely not logical or reasonable to cut off a healthy part of a child's anatomy, no matter what their gender . By all means let them if they decide themselves later in life, but inflicting it on a tiny baby is unspeakably cruel. I would never do that to my son or daughter :/ | Gender | Gender - General | 1/60 | 1.667 |
| This guy is a Noble Laurete, he can say anything he wants. Will an undergrad XX in Computer Science change her major to Gender Studies because an old white guy scientist rants on? No, who cares, the media which has time to fill. | Gender, Old | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 2/43 | 4.651 |
| Milo A+ buddy. To be fair I don't think this woman realized the totality of her postilions and was not prepared for a competition. This is almost the point milo is making. How much would people bet that milo did his homework before this interview and the woman just glided through expecting a caricature to show up. | Woman | Gender - General | 2/57 | 3.509 |
| I thought she was about to start crying, but she was just pulling faces.Women are encouraged to go in to computer industry, they sat next to me in computer class 15 years ago. Where are all the women in the IT industry now? They decided to do other things instead of spending all night on the computer growing up. They studied gender studies or became a mom or went in to another female dominated industry. They have no excuse anymore, in fact we see the opposite now, women are encouraged in to these industries at the expense of men. Now when those same women change their minds or go to in to another industry we have a brain drain in that industry and then we all lose out as a society, all because some feminists hate men and want to encourage female supremacy all while claiming equality equality equality. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/150 | 0.667 |
| She continues to name those supposed touchy feely strengths of woman , which are of no importance for science. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/18 | 5.556 |
| Women feel science isn't for them? Well stop telling them they need gender studies degrees because how oppressed they are. | Gender | Gender - General | 1/20 | 5.0 |

| | | | | |
|---|-----------------|--|------|--------|
| FourSquareEyes She was interviewing AT's manager about the recent incident, and being extremely annoying. There have been calls for her removal. And her attitude in an old interview with Erin Pizzey was disgusting too. But she seemed much more professional on this one. | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/43 | 2.326 |
| Cole Pram Ah. Nothing beats the common pleb.Gold. Pure gold. | Common, Nothing | Age - Youngsters, Social Class - Working class | 2/11 | 18.182 |
| Mike Tike And what happens when the enemy wipes out all your enlisted female soldiers? No more women to continue the race . | Race | Ethnicity - General | 1/22 | 4.545 |
| Cole Pram lol is your dad a phaggot? how could a 11 year old girl break his collarbone and why he didn't knocked your bitchy sister out? | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/27 | 3.704 |
| SovietBear91 She's eleven years younger than the dad, not eleven years old . | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/12 | 8.333 |
| +jmmom Ohhh yea that is called internalized misogyny honey.Hahahaha! I'm sorry I couldn't even write that with a straight face xD | Misogyny | Gender - General | 1/22 | 4.545 |
| Chris Marlborough He's a waste of oxygen. He contributes nothing positive to the world and makes it worse with his ignorance and intolerance. His a cynical opportunist that cares nothing for the causes he takes other than the money he can wring out of them. | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 2/45 | 4.444 |
| FlyingD The progressives thay are talking about are the SJWs complaining about not being enough blacks in medieval poland and those that complain about mechanical apartheid in Deus Ex, and about a game having only black NPCs, while thay can't seem to remember that in a game, there is only one character that isn't an NPC? | Black | Ethnicity - Black | 1/56 | 1.786 |
| FlyingD"Progressives" are the ones responsible for Manspreading Lawswhich are eerily similar to the Jim Crow Laws which oppressed Blacks for how they sat on the bus.....making them REGRESSIVE by very definition. This is Orwells nightmare, "progressives" are Regressive by nature | Crow, Jim Crow | Ethnicity - Black | 2/42 | 4.762 |
| Feminism is for nobody "That look she gives Milo... she looks like she going to stab him.", yeah he already rapped her mentally, lol | Nobody | Age - Youngsters | 1/24 | 4.167 |
| +Feminism is for nobody Maybe she would have, if no one saw it. | Nobody | Age - Youngsters | 1/13 | 7.692 |
| bawoman I've seen another woman host a conversation involving Milo and have detected a certain admiration for him. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/18 | 5.556 |
| +bawoman In another discussion with Milo that middle woman sided with the feminist. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/13 | 7.692 |

| | | | | |
|--|--------------------|---|-------|-------|
| Go Milo. People can make their own choices in UK schools and colleges without being coerced by teachers and professors, but let's all thank this utterly sexist woman for insulting the intelligence of every female schoolgirl in Britain. Young women do not lack confidence in the UK, compared to young men and the studies that claim to show this are garbage. Young women are generally a law unto themselves, largely due to the entitlement and impunity they enjoy from birth. Women are not weak, they are simply increasingly pampered. Sexism is as strong as it ever was, but favours women in virtually every way. | Sexism, Woman | Gender - General | 2/104 | 1.923 |
| The teacher example still fails to account for credentials and experience.Minorities from other countries don't account for native minorities. Take this study here from the NAACP: [LINK] While it was a done a while ago, it illustrates my point: minority women are naturally going to underperform compared to white women due to the way education shakes out. I'm not saying minorities are dumb (I'm a minority who's graduated college and has a job that fits my education level), I'm just saying that this is the reality of the situation. | Dumb | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | 1/90 | 1.111 |
| She did better than the boys in this environment that is somehow hostile to women and causing them to fail/frightening them away. Milo can be obnoxious but this woman is being a moron, women have been doing better than men in education for ages. My sister is top of her class in maths and science yet does not want to go into any field related to those subjects. Knowing her I really don't think it has anything to do with her gender or her feeling intimidated by the "male environment". Oh and obviously the old biochemist's comments were moronic and should have been ignored. | Gender, Old, Woman | Age - Over 65s, Gender - General | 3/104 | 2.885 |
| She did refute herself with that one.I agree the old guy they were talking about should just be ignored. | Old | Age - Over 65s | 1/20 | 5.0 |
| Extraterrestrial Prose Most boys are not studious at school and whey they grow up, they go into Trades. Its only a minority of beta male nerds from school who go on to build academic careers. Women on the other hand are equipped to work in social settings and since STEM jobs lack it they feel less motivated to go into it.Men are sheep not women. Women's social groups are based on familial structure while men are based on power. Women work together while men follow their leader like blind sheep. This is especially evident in Prison where men construct themselves based on followers and leaders (gangs) while women re-create a familial structure with sisterhood bonds. | Beta male, Blind | Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments, Sexual Identity - Male homosexuality | 2/116 | 1.724 |

| | | | | |
|--|---------|---|------|-------|
| MyKeyMoonShine The woman in the video actually speaks the truth while Milo gave a very quasy unsophisticated analysis of what is going on. Stereotype effect is very powerful and deters women going into male dominated fields. Even women who are very good at math feel they would not be good enough in competition with the other men. Not to mention the reputation of STEM Fields being sexist and lack any female socialization. This is definitely one of the two key factors why women go less into STEM fields and contributes women to have poor confidence about it. | Woman | Gender - General | 1/97 | 1.031 |
| TheIslamicAtheist Lesbian relationships are the type of relationships that have the highest interpartner violence lol. | Lesbian | Sexual Identity - Female homosexuality | 1/15 | 6.667 |
| DarkTriad A citation would be useful. At this point we have conflicting accounts anyway so I don't see how we can know anyway. Even if it wasn't a joke him being forced to resign over expressing his opinion is ridiculous and I have nothing but contempt for anyone who would support this. Are we seriously putting the sensibilities of a few uptight feminists above medical science? Seriously? How does this do anything but harm? | Nothing | Age - Youngsters | 1/74 | 1.351 |
| DarkTriad Sorry for the very late reply, i've been busy. Thanks for sourcing but it's basially those two women's word against a lot of other people's word and evidence that contradicts their claims. Here's a good write up explaining why [LINK] The fact that they were both obviously intent on creating a witch hunt over this doesn't make me inclined to trust them either.Anyway, as I said, this is silly. Even if he meant every word of this he should simply have been ignored. | Witch | Gender - Female age and physical appearance | 1/85 | 1.176 |
| Nick Barden Yes, those countries are behind in LEGAL equality and some social equality but when it comes to education they have more equal roles than the west. Sweden still has culture stereotypes and beliefs about certain sectors even if there are no "gender roles" .My point wasn't about social gender roles but the construct of STEM environments as non-social ones versus STEM in Asia where it has always been traditionally more social and open. | Gender | Gender - General | 2/75 | 2.667 |

Table 2: Summary of the results per sociolinguistic variable

| Sociolinguistic variables (Hiper - Hipo) | KeyWords | Number of occurrences | Frequency | Frequency(%) |
|--|----------|-----------------------|-----------|--------------|
|--|----------|-----------------------|-----------|--------------|

| | | | | |
|---|--|-----|-----------|---------------------|
| Sexual Identity - Transexuality | Transgender | 1 | 1/45764 | 0.0 |
| Gender - General | Sexism, Woman, Male chauvinism, Sex, Chick, Gender, Sexual, Patriarchy, Misogynist, Chauvinist, Misogyny, Misandry | 257 | 257/45764 | 0.5599999999999999 |
| Age - Youngsters | Nothing, Zero, Nobody, Brat | 52 | 52/45764 | 0.11 |
| Gender - Female intelligence | Feminazi | 5 | 5/45764 | 0.01 |
| Ethnicity - General | Racist, Race | 4 | 4/45764 | 0.01 |
| Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments | Disabled, Dumb, Crazy, Weird, Mental, Blind | 21 | 21/45764 | 0.05 |
| Social Class - Working class | Common | 5 | 5/45764 | 0.01 |
| Nationality - General | doctors, Nation, Engineers | 10 | 10/45764 | 0.02 |
| Nationality - Chinese | pussy | 1 | 1/45764 | 0.0 |
| Age - Over 65s | Old | 34 | 34/45764 | 0.06999999999999999 |
| Age - General | Age | 8 | 8/45764 | 0.02 |
| Physical Identity - Physical Features | Fat | 2 | 2/45764 | 0.0 |
| Ethnicity - Black | Black, Fuzzy, Negro, Spade, Crow, Jim Crow | 12 | 12/45764 | 0.03 |
| Sexual Identity - Female homosexuality | Lesbian | 2 | 2/45764 | 0.0 |
| Sexual Identity - General | Queer, Homophobia | 3 | 3/45764 | 0.01 |
| Sexual Identity - Male homosexuality | Queer, Beta male | 2 | 2/45764 | 0.0 |
| Ethnicity - Native-American | Red | 2 | 2/45764 | 0.0 |
| Ideological and Political Identity - General | Red | 2 | 2/45764 | 0.0 |
| Gender - Female age and physical appearance | Witch | 1 | 1/45764 | 0.0 |

Result analysis:

- Taking into account the words that were detected, we can reach the conclusion these comments are associated with : : Sexual Identity - Transexuality;Gender - General;Age - Youngsters;Gender - Female intelligence;Ethnicity - General;Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments;Social Class - Working class;Nationality - General;Nationality - Chinese;Age - Over 65s;Age - General;Physical Identity - Physical Features;Ethnicity - Black;Sexual Identity - Female homosexuality;Sexual Identity - General;Sexual Identity - Male homosexuality;Ethnicity - Native-American; Ideological and Political Identity - General;Gender - Female age and physical appearance;
- The percentage of hate speech related words is 0.9265.
- Considering that the variable Gender - General has the most occurrences in the post, we can interpret that this is the predominant hate speech.

- Overall there were 426/1696 occurrences of hate speech related comments.