Funny thing is is that black conservatives thinks theres a difference between a black person and a N word but it sounds bad coming from a white person	Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/28	7.143
That was a ratings farce. She didn't use A SINGLE LIFETIME LOCAL! My papa was born right after black folks were run out. It was a sad day when it happened. Few black young men were accused of raping and later brutally killing a white girl. White folks in the county wasn't even going to RISK something like that happening again. Also, many of the churches in the area preached separation of the races when it came to marriage and they were afraid if black folks moved in, there would be more temptations and intermingling. They got their understanding from the scripture where God separated the people as justification.But it was all one sided. Nobody cared that a white person couldn't move to the Bankhead Hwy area that was ALL BLACK as well as any of the other hoods. She wasn't in any danger. It added to the SENSATIONALISM. The brave black woman barreling into a Lions den of white racists that would kill her had they half a chance.If Hosea Williams NEVER MARCHED ON FORSYTH it wouldn't have been but a few more years and it would have happened organically. She was looking to put herself on the map via a "Noble think" doing battle against the "evil white man". She was looking for the fame of possibly being the first and only black woman to break the all white county.	Black, Nobody, Woman	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Gender - General	9/234	3.846

It was a different culture. Black folks use it like candy and are never offended by hearing it when it is used by their buddies. Talk about ownership of the word and such but it's really a double standard. Anyway, just the way black people use it w each other, sometimes it is meant as an insult while still other times it is just a slang that isn't intended to insult. Old timers weren't EXPOSED to black folks and they just learned to call them what they heard their daddy or Grandpa call them. It wasn't meant as an INSULT. It was just what you referred to black folks as. Now that is not to say that EVERYONE USED THAT WORD IN IGNORANCE. Some CERTAINLY used it as a term of hate. Most though like my papa honestly meant no insult and was really just ignorant.	Black, Old	Age - Over 65s, Ethnicity - Black	5/146	3.425

”During the trial, presiding U.S. District Court Judge Robert J. Ward stated, ”Copying there is, period.” In a later interview with BBC Television, Judge Ward stated, ”Alex Haley perpetrated a hoax on the public.” - WikiAnd so have you, Oprah Winfrey. A dangerous one at that. Charles, Prince of Wales, and Buckingham Palace should sue you for everything you have. A vast network of Black cons including Panthers who admitted they’re fascists in training courtesy of a tyrant in Mexico, and who have used/visited United Methodist Outreach Ministries’ (UMOM) facilities/programs, have been systematically holocausting the British in the US and Britain ”one by one”, because according to said Blacks, the British are all White Racists/Supremacists since they settled/established Britain/the US, and therefore, ”have/own more of everything than the Blacks”, and because ”everyone likes (the British)”. The greatest offender, according to said Blacks, was Princess Diana because her beauty (both inside and out) and caring for the peoples drew tremendous media attention to the great good Charles and the palace do for the needy, making the British more popular than ever. Thus, said Blacks claim they ”needed” to ”put an end to that”. They said they accidentally discovered that ”it was easy” to get away with having caused nervous breakdowns and fatal accidents so they learned to orchestrate these. British at UMOM said they contacted you about the hideous/illegal things said/done to them by said Blacks, whereupon, not only were matters immediately worse for the British but said Blacks remarked you not only supported but encouraged them to keep doing what they do, and at a later time they said that they considered your own attitude/remarks re Priness Diana ”approval” to ”put an end that”. Said Blacks assert that to allege/accuse a Black of committing even a misdemeanor is racism/supremacy, and they’re working on making this a felony for the allegers/accusers. Supremacy comes from the Latinword supremus, which means highest.supremacy: the quality or state of being supremealso : supreme authority or powerPut the word ”white” in front of it, however, and according to said Blacks this is the ”new terrorism”, and an ”epidemic”, that ”needs to be wiped out”. Even though the majority of British holocausted are no threat to anyone, while a portion of said Blacks have been convicted of hate crimes, (true or not) they bragged that they ”don’t allow” dictionaries to use ”Black Supremacist” as an example. Said Blacks are identical to you, at least in that, every ”no” uttered to a Black is evidence of racism/supremacy when whining publicly. Behind closed doors, however, they boast that this is how they make everyone their ”dogs”. And get freebies for compensation which they immediately publicly display akin to trophies. You know why they exist? It's called being a minority. People of color are normally more likely to end in communities with people of the same cultural background, race , ethnicity , etc. Don't act like black neighborhoods are just as 'clean cut' as white neighborhoods either. In the United States, it isn't uncommon for government funding (for streets, schools, public spaces, etc) to go more towards white communities than POC communities. Also, POC dont end up separated from white people because they wanted to, they were set up to end up that way. Imagine having the privilege of saying 'I want this whole neighborhood to be nothing but white just because I am racist' and actually getting that even if it was momentary. They still got what they wanted and it didn't take hard work for them to have it.	Black, Ethnicity, Nothing, Race	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	4/139	2.878

This is the BIG problem, and it is always brushed under the carpet in the UK and the USA and never REALLY reported, and the media are so scared for fear of being called racist and loosing there jobs, this is a fact, in the UK most of our cities and infested with drugs and mainly being controlled by Black people FACT in London 2018/19 there were so many murders mostly with knives and serious injuries, this happens every day in London now black on black gangs mostly over drugs and areas, now you can call me all the names under the sun as I am married to an Asian lady for 23 years, but facts are facts but the media will say another fatal stabbing's in London today, they dare not say Black on black gang related, this is not the white people doing this, so there is 100 a problem with black people, it seems to be part of there DNA make-up, just loo at Africa and it is still very tribal people with Machete slicing each other up, you do not get white people doing this now , in the USA and the UK the black people have definably still go a very BIG chip on there shoulders rightly or wrongly so for the slavery days which of course was terrible and disgusting and white people started this awful business, but in AFRICA they paid black people to trap there own people for the slave trade, but this has left a legacy deep within black people towards white people " a chip on the shoilder"... this is a fact I am sorry to say...the truth is always a bitter pill to swallow but there you have it. The only truth to what was discussed, that for some odd reason black neighborhoods tend to become slum dirty filthy ghetto. I personally believe that many black people live in section 8 apartments and little projects and since the property is not theirs they will not maintain it. And even landlords tend to stop maintaining their rental property becoming slum filthy and dirty.I am not saying black people or any minority are dirty people. I think people should maintain their property anywhere they reside because it reflects on them and how they live. Its the same as dealing with a person that does not maintain his hygiene. The guy with the beard talking about his old neighborhood... Real talk, he's got somewhat of a point. But it's not the people that ruined that neighborhood, but the policies held over them that did. Before Democrats got involved in the Civil Rights movement, mostly Black neighborhoods were prosperous. They were growing in size and wealth. But policies brought on by Democracts (the same that brought you Jim Crow laws) killed the growth, killed the jobs and instead presented welfare as a lifestyle in those neighborhoods. People don't add it up... White Democrats injected their policies and power in those neighborhoods to use those citizens as votes. That was all part of the plan. Black citizens will never gain full power over their communities again until they get rid of the Democratic influence. That doesn't mean become a Republican, just get away from the Left. There is such thing as a center.	Black, Crow, Jim Crow, Old	Age - Over 65s, Ethnicity - Black	5/152	3.289

SC98 Because it was during the Jim Crow era that the Democratic Liberal finally realized it could not completely hold down Black people. They finally figured out it was impossible, especially with the US DOJ getting so involved in lynchings and other hate crimes.So what's the next step? The Liberal worked their way into the Civil Rights movement and decided they'd use their "friendship" to garner votes.You want some real prospective, go look up what Malcolm X thoight about the White Liberal and compare his words to what you're seeing today. If the Negro wasn't taken, tricked or deceived by the white liberal, then Negroes would get together and solve our own problems. Yacub (The Biblical Jacob) created whites 6,600 years ago in the city of Mecca. Whites are of an acient, scientific, genetic, experiment. Get rid of the N word!!!!!!!!!! Don't use it even as a joke between yourselves! The N word is so degrading and should never be joked about even among the same race !!!! The N word was given at the time from white people to demoralize black people. To humiliate! If your black get ride of the N word from your vocabulary, remember where it truly came from! Let's go back to the time of Slavery, when everyday black people were called thee N word!!! Amongst other horrific names. I can probably take a confidante guess that they didn't turn to each other and jokingly say the N word to each other. The N word should be banished! I'm sorry. I just hate that word. How can you hold a race as a whole down for no logical reason other then ignorant beliefs. Treat them worse then anything anyone could imagine unless they were there. Then judge the same people that were still held down in many other different ways I won't get into. Then expect them to just bounce back and act civil about everything. Theirs a reason it's influenced and caused so much pain and grief and outlash. I got one do not blame or judge a single person for knocking no better then oppression after the way they were treated. It's pushed others to grow and do great things and for others do to many reasons has kept the cycle oppression and poverty going. We are human and build of patterns and habits and genetics passed on from our family members before us. And each carries on with it many different things such as mental illnesses, disorders , depression, anxiety and made for tough and poor situations. Then they're judged for it as if it is their fault. Misinformation and lack of compassion for the human race is a deadly combination. People struggle with change and when there beliefs are challenged. And while I do not condone racism or bigotry, it is understandable why certain individuals feel the way the do on a psychological standpoint. With that said, this happened 32 years ago. The March in Selma happened 54 years ago. The Charleston Church Shooting happened 4 years ago where 9 African Americans were killed during service. Sandra Bland 4 years.. Yes, there has been a lot of success for civil rights and black advocates. But some people alive in the peak of the civil rights era are still alive now. Their children, their grandchildren. Their ideas and beliefs unwavering. ‘Legally’ and ‘socially’ blacks are ‘seen the same’ as their white counterparts. But the hate lives on in the country. Not as bad as it was 50,60,70+ years ago, but as of 2018 hate crimes have risen in the third consecutive year. 3/5 of which are caused by race . We are still battling against racism daily but I have hope that one day the U.S will mature past ignorance and hatred.	African, Black, Race, Racism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	6/193	3.109

Paul St. Germain sorry Paul but back in the 60's when the civil rights movement was in full swing the south was infested with these people who hated everyone but more so the black because they were right there. And as for your argument about fighting for blacks is only because we are here if the majority had it their way everything black would be dead or just some where's else. Why with all that has been done over let's say just the past 20 years are black men and women still killed by police, when they are posing no threat? Why are black and brown people the highest incarcerated? Why are they continue to be discriminated against for just sitting in a coffee shop? I think the Bible speaks of something about this dilemma	Black	Ethnicity - Black	4/135	2.963
Paul St. Germain but Paul getting to all that is some of the reasons for all that is going on. Sadly you prove the point by not acknowledging some of the problems that we as black people face on a daily basis as I said before even to this day the racism that still exist really makes no sense at all. Yes you are correct when you say that everyone hold some type of racism within their hearts but when it pours out into action that's where the problem really arises and yes it happens to everyone but more so to African Americans by all other races all over the world sadly enough	African, Black, Racism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	4/113	3.54
Paul St. Germain and to your question of insanity as I said by them like they did what they had to do for their majority not for their minority if they had it any other way that would never even look twice at a black man and would do as little as possible to have any dealings with us it's just facts	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/62	1.613
Paul St. Germain Once again I am apologizing for you. what is untrue and factual, besides what i have stated is that i never once said ALL WHITE PEOPLE. you yourself just said that everyone holds some type of prejudice in their hearts, and what i stated from that is it becomes a bigger issue when they take action on those feelings. Look Paul you mentioned you were in Iraq so you are a fairly young man. the world is a much different place than when your father was your age . and that's why its so much more of a problem today. with all our advances as the human race , we as one race continue to suffer unexplainable bigotry. How do you get around that fact????	Age, Race	Age - General, Ethnicity - General	3/126	2.381

JACOB IBRIY. I don't need to get around the fact, the world is a difficult place for everyone. You don't need to apologize at all, I am simply stating my opinion, we both may have some untrue statements but the main point remains the same. We see many advancements with technology but humans are basically the same as they were 1,000 years ago, except there are now so many more people. The only option is to live life the best we can and protect the things that are most important to us. The system is stacked against everyone and until this generation is out of power I don't see any improvements happening in the next 20 years. Our only hope is to teach the younger generation who are entering these positions now to respect their fellow man regardless of their race or economic status because it is truly sad the state of affairs when you find yourself in the court system. It would be nice if we had leaders who cared about fixing the system but clearly everyone in power is more worried about enriching themselves. It is a sad world, especially when you picture how many parents teach their children to be just as bigoted as they are.	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/209	0.478

When people are suppressed by society, or by themselves, they resort to pack mentality and become resentful. Black and White. Most folk are so preoccupied with survival/work/bills etc they don't have the time, nor inclination to learn about others. This applies to all. Put a bunch of mixed races on an desert island and see how they would have to work together to survive, instead of choosing corners. Humans in general are spoilt and egotistical. Blacks have come along way but are still on the bottom tier in the US as far as income is concerned. The problem stems from lack of education and associated income. Aside from the well educated black person, most are not and they have the highest highschool dropout level per capita of all ethnic groups as a little over half graduate. Worth and income play a large role in social status in society today along with improved living condition's. My hope is that their constituents will put greater emphasis on the inportance of a higher education as this is the only way out. To an extent you are right. If they want a white community then they can have one. But when black people wanted to live amongst their own, their city was blown up. Some whites won't allow black people to build their own cities. That's the problem I have with this. Nothing that man said wasn't exactly racist . I believe he really truly believed in what he said at the time. That same man actually came back on the show and stated that he was no longer a racist . Icarus Vikare honey u can't be racist towards white people. I've said what I've said don't me. You can only be racist to a group of people who are systematically oppressed (in which white people aren't) you can come at me with all the statistics you want but if you are at least come with the facts. Black people can be ' racist ' to Native Americans etc because they are systematically oppressed, something that white people arent. And u can't bring that dude in here because he's the reason people are going to start making allegations against 'fake hate crimes' when they actually exist	Black, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	3/104	2.885
Icarus Vikare my iq is very high thank you very much, insulting someone is proof of a closed mind, but that doesn't matter. I've taken cultural and ethics study classes and each have said what I have, black people. cannot be racist to whites, but they can to other races. You cannot be racist to a group that is not systematically oppressed. And that's that. You can be PREJUDICE towards white people but there's more to racism than just a prejudice. We aren't talking about crimes (because for some reason people really love linking black people with crime when trying to prove their point on racism) what case are you even trying to prove anyway. You're debating for what exactly? Blacks can be racist to blacks, Native Americans and others because they are oppressed within the system. Whites aren't and I've said what I said. Also it's not like I'm sitting here preaching 'all whites are racist blah blah' because that's not true. I'm just saying that they aren't systematically oppressed like other races around the world	Black, Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	8/177	4.52

Aniyah Hart Honey, this idea that you can't be racist toward white people is so ridiculous. Have you taken a moment to see what the definition of racism is? Some of the most racist people I have met were black and asian, when I was in the military I got to meet some of the greatest friends I will ever have the pleasure of meeting and working with. Along the way, you also get to experience just how racist people of every color are toward each other. There does not need to be any systematic oppression for someone to treat a group of people different due to the color of their skin. "prejudice, discrimination, or antagonism directed against someone of a different race based on the belief that one's own race is superior." These college classes that would try and add something to this definition are promoting racism themselves. So your point is that it's fine to hate on white people because some people in the past were systematically oppressed. You weren't oppressed of course, but if you want to be racist and hate on the white people that is fine. What is your definition of black people hating white people as a group due to the color of their skin? I really want to know what you are going to explain racism toward white by blacks as anything other than the racism that it is.Or what do you call the white people being murdered by black people in South Africa due to the color of their skin? Is that justice instead of racism ? I really don't see how any teacher would pass this off as knowledge, they were pretty stupid. Paul St. Germain you dont understand the definition of racism clearly. I thought blacks were supposed to be the ones with the victim complex but here comes another person trying to see the poor little innocent white race as the victims. Smh....lol. And of course you dont think black people are being oppressed anymore. Things are equal now right? Lol. So I guess those whites that have all the land in Africa that is being fought over should just keep getting all the riches from the countries resources and the blacks should just continue to work for them and live in poverty right? supermusic1224 They should murder the white people and take their land back right? My point was there is no easy solution, but trying to limit which people can be racist is pointless. Who was I making the victim anyway? Things will never be completely equal, makes life a whole lot less stressful when you realize that. No one race has a monopoly on suffering, but everyone today has much more freedom to limit suffering and have a good life. Everyone else circumstances in life should never dictate how you feel about yours. A common human ancestor? Yes, possibly. Most animals are related to one another. Make no mistake, humans are ANIMALS on this Earth. The first life developed in the oceans, and from the oceans every land roaming animal evolved. (Or so it is believed.) However, the problem with your argument is that it's 500,000 years too late! The human race spread across the Earth and evolved independently for an extremely long time. They are different peoples who have their own ways of doing things. That's TODAY, not 500,000 years ago!So even if what you say is 100 correct, it does NOT make a bit of difference.	Common, Race	Ethnicity - General, Social Class - Working class	2/106	1.887

Yeah that's generally true, except we have those problems too. You can mainly blame the government because they forced some Aboriginal people onto underfunded reserves or to give up their lives and practically live as white people. I'm sure that's caused generations of drug and alcohol abuse that are still rampant on and off the reserves today. Arya Deva Race isn't 'appearance'. And you cannot have a successful society consisting of multiple races. We have evolved in different areas apart for thousands of years, there are differences in survival strategies, mating strategies, cultures, intelligence, religion, etc. The balkans is a perfect example of what happens when you force people who are different together. If you cannot see that what we have now is 'anti white' not 'egalitarian' than you are blind . White nations are all being flooded with nonwhites through organizations, that is how men in subsaharan African are getting all the way into places like England or Iceland, or Germany. It's a funded invasion. By putting one group of people on another group of people's land you are working against them, look what happened to the native Americans. Was that 'good diversity'? Our nations have become whores to the internationalists and the very concept of ' nation ' means ethnicity . That is how my people (the Polish people) have stayed together despite not having a nation state for 123 years and losing sovereignty multiple times. It is why we stayed together as a people rather than just integrating into the nations who ruled over us at the time. It is because we are not 'people who happen to live in Poland' we are POLISH people. It is the same with all ethnicities; America was 90+ white and mostly Anglo until the 1965 immigration act (which lied to Americans) was passed. Now white people will soon be a minority in a nation where even white People themselves are taught to hate white people, through education about 'white slavery', 'the holocaust' and all the anti white nonsense.This is too much to write in a reply, and I doubt you've even read this much, but you must actually do research on this rather than buying the narrative sold to you. Naivion's Life ! You've refuted nothing that I've said, your English is unreadable, mine is better even when English is not my first language. There is no empirical entity called the 'Deep South', it's a colloquial term that isn't specific. And blacks are the majority of victims of violence in Chicago as well, that doesn't mean whites are doing it, white on black crime is extremely rare, and every time it happens the media cries about it for months and starts riots over it. And I never said 'blacks are criminals', just that they are over represented in crime. White people do not have the right to Live amongst their own, have pride, love themselves, or work in their own interests in ANY PART OF THE WORLD. Europe is flooding with migrants at the behest of Jewish NGOs and political influencers while America, a country built by whites and was 92+ white in 1965, is now 63 white and approaching white minority status in a few decades, which will result in their destruction like in South Africa and Zimbabwe.You all love crying about evil whitey , yet you live in nations created by whites, using white technology. And all of white nations are being flooded with migrants not the other way around, even nations as innocuous as Iceland. It is because they want access to WHITE PEOPLE. There is a reason why all white societies are successful regardless of their history, because of white People. All I want is for whites to be left alone in their nations and I'd be more than happy to give other races that same thing. J R but what is the reasoning? Please read up on European history and the atrocities they have committed to the African people. Not just the Transatlantic slave trade but many other things - King Leopold of Belgium used to have black people walk around his house as target practice. The British people used to make Indians bow whenever in the presence of a Brit, they got the Chinese hooked on opium, poisoned the Native Americans with smallpox... There are far too many to name. It is disheartening to see where the world has come to today but at the same time, it is great how the world power is slowly starting to shift to a global centric world as opposed to a European centric world. I feel that deep down, Europeans are scared and threatened that they have the lowest populations and hence why they feel the need to compensate and rule others. If you simply look at the populations of India and China and the history of them, it becomes obvious that something doesn't quite add up with our current view of history. How is it there are SO MANY Chinese and Indian people? I implore everyone to do their research.	African, Black, Indian	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - Native-American	3/203	1.478

J R 75, well certainly we having a different view of the world. I went to a university where roughly about 65 of the students were black and seemed to be getting by in life the usual way, graduating, getting jobs and so on. There is no difference in people's actions/behaviour based on the pigment of their skin. Put people through the same situations or experiences and they just come out about the same, with a few variations obviously. You should save money and travel (reminder: US is not the world), it might help your view of what's going on in the world. I've been to Botswana where there's literally no white people but blacks and everything seemed smooth, breathtaking at times and generally well. People are just people, I've seen white and black slums where I was scared to even set foot. For any white folks reading this comment, I am sorry to say that from a moral standpoint and from what history has told us, atleast 90-95 percent of you have descended from the devil. Luckily now we are living in an era where change has made you realize that you don’t want that devil in you anymore. For the most part it has worked and the ones who have realized it are becoming angels. For any black person reading this, don’t get drawn into the hatred and try to seek revenge on the white person now for what their deviled ancestors have done in the past. You people have descended from angels themselves. Keep it that way like most of you have been doing. There is some demon devil in some white folk that has been in bred in them for a long time and they will find out what that hate will do to them. It’s unfortunate but it’s true. If you are reading this and you are a supremacist somehow in 2018 and are for segregation; one thin you need to understand is that people with your mindset made a system designed out of fear and cowardice to propagate hate and oppress races that they saw fit to oppress. In this case black people. And they did it well. They had people like you believe you are superior and they had people with my skin color believe we are scum. And they treated them like they were scum, bad schools, bad jobs little or no education while people like you got the best of everything. This helped further their agenda because everytime people like you doubted their superiority, you looked at the state we were in and your false belief was cemented. Of course white people have lower crime rates because they never had to grow up scraping for anything they could find. Of course to any supremacist the black man is uncooth and immoral and an inconvenience to be with because that's what the laws of this system dictates. You however forget that that's not what these people really are. You forget that that's what you're system of oppression turned them into. Then you blame them for ending up the way they did. It's sad that you watched this in 2018 and you reason like this if you do. You and the oppressed are both victims. You because you were fooled into such petty hatred and the victims because of what your hatred did to them. I dare you to love. I dare you to go against the hatred they taught you.	Black, Thin	Ethnicity - Black, Physical Identity - Physical Features	3/274	1.095

Umbra If you loosely accept the white definition of racism in the dictionary then it's possible. However, in America racism is thrown at people like Whoopi Goldberg who dare to bring up racism . Race was a concept created by white people along with the idea that whites were superior. It was the ideology that Hitler believed in and also what a lot of white people still believe. You can quibble about the Indian caste system and claim that was racism , however race was an unknown concept to them. Primarily racism is an invention of white people and it's a far more major issue that makes the question of black people being racist rather insignificant. Aerive Studio Cinema - Firstly, black Africans sold their own people to white foreigners because it got them stuff. When whites came to Africa there wasn't even a simple wheel, or pully system or any kind of scientific or mathematic practices, while in Europe, these and much more were common . The black race is far older than the white race , if Africans were capable of creating these patents, then they should have been able to create the technology, right? They had plenty of time to do it, long before the existence of the white race , they should have been thousands of years more advanced than we are today, back then. Europeans explored and learned, and from that, they began inventing. White people DESIGNED and built the technologies used today. Whites also build the safest, cleanest, most advanced countries on this planet, Africa still doesn't have a functional progressive working society. You'll notice that any functional school or hospital in Africa is ran by whites, and that whites feed ALOT of Africans. Why? Can they not feed themselves? Why do they need these white people to farm the lands and bring them food? They can't seem to do it on their own. Yes, it is a cultural virus. I know possible ways to eliminate it, but I don't want to give the opposition any ideas or they will try that with us.The sad part is that the process you describe happens innocently enough. First a single black , professional mother gets a place in a predominantly white neighborhood with the best intentions. She's doing a good job with her kid. However, a relative of her claims to be needy and pretty much forces his way in on her. Maybe he just got out of prison. That is a common problem in black neighborhoods, where single black women are seen as marks, and others in her family feel entitled to her help whether they deserve it, or earned it, or not. And this relative who pushes his way in soon has his entire "crew" in and around her house. So his crime buddies are making trouble in other neighborhoods and then hanging out there. So what happens? Some of the nearby white homes, along with that one, all get sprayed with bullets. And a couple of the most stable white families move out for the safety of their kids. Then their houses sit empty for a while, and may face blacks from that first home hanging out there and trashing the vacant lots. Then when the realtors get involved, about all they can get are black folks. Then more conflict arises, there is more white flight, etc.You can watch various Youtube videos on this sort of thing. Watch HUD videos, or even the episode of The Super with David Paladino who faced this. He got calls from neighbors of a black lady to complain about bullet holes in their homes. Some of these neighbors were black too, and they didn't want their toddlers and primary school children dodging bullets. He first told her to keep her brother and his company away, since they were all gangsters and starting beef with another gang who would keep showing up for payback. When she kept letting him come by, David had her evicted.	Black, Common	Ethnicity - Black, Social Class - Working class	7/348	2.011

The mass majority of people involved in black slavery were wealthy asians and other wealthy black people. The number of white people that were involved in slavery were less than 20 of the business. But you don't see anyone state that fact. Or the fact that white people fought and died for their freedom - as black people weren't allowed in the military, granted, but they still fought and died for that. The facts are facts unfortunately and there were a number of areas that grew more popular to black people that unfortunately then became trashed and unruly. That isn't to say all black people are that way - not at all as my friends are nothing like that - they're very respectful. But organisations such as black lives matter don't care about the facts. They only care about pushing the white people down and empowering black people regardless of the cost. Just like modern feminism focuses on the empowering of women and the putting down of men. Sad really.	Black, Nothing	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black	8/170	4.706

Why would I want to leave a place without blacks? It seems to me that in the most diverse areas whites often cannot wait to move out. I would also have to ask why any people must be subject to another group of people. Would you really argue that those racist blacks in Africa should have accepted the bold and diverse whites that chose to live in their country? It's inconsistent logic which you apply to argue why whites must have blacks around them at all costs even if they don't want them there, while also making sure blacks who now live there through state/federal social housing must now be protected at all costs from "white racism " it seems to me nobody wins in forced integration. Meanwhile Oprah herself would never dare outline many of the chocolate cities in the US or any of the Hispanic dominated areas, even in the Kingdom of Compton blacks have been ethnically cleansed from the area through gang violence. Will Oprah harass mestizos to accept blacks in their community? Don't be ridiculous, only whites have some form of mental illness that drives them to jump through these hoops of having to make the "moral cut" as proof of being a good person in the eyes of the media operating on institutionalized white guilt.I am in no way, morally or intellectually obligated to have anyone I do not wish in my house, business, county, state, country or anywhere else imaginable if I or anyone else do not wish them there. People merely wish to convince you that these decisions are ills because them using force to put people you do not want in your way looks bad in front of the camera's. Autumn Rainwater I'm not trying to be condecending in any way but have you ever taken an anthropology course in college? All your questions would have been answered. I don't think you are racist but maybe a bit misinformed. 1. You cannot fairly compare black crime vs white crime anymore. It's very much oranges-to-apples to do so. This is due to ghettos, the large number of black children born out of wedlock, and the systemic racism that exists within the U.S. that prevents blacks from getting the necessary education and training needed to progress in life and live their American dream (yes, racism is still a thing no matter how badly you want to say it's gone). The school systems established in black neighborhoods is horrendous. Black children are forced to learn with outdated books, untrained teachers, archaic technology, and weak counseling. Most non-white children don't have to deal with this and so they move on through life regularly. But blacks are left with three options, compete with white children to get into colleges they will never be accepted to, leave their homes (where they probably have a lot ancestral history), or commit crime to put food on the table. And you can guess which one they pick the most. This leads directly to my next point, which is that an overwhelming number of black children are born without fathers. The National Center for Health Statistics said in 2015 that 77.3 of black children live in single-mother homes due to the mass-incarceration of black males. Since single mother homes have the highest probably of creating criminals, this worsens the issue even more. This is especially interesting because black families used to be one of the strongest families in America before the Vietnam War. Children born out of wedlock used to be highest among whites and lowest among blacks. But as soon as soldiers brought back drugs from Vietnam, the ghettos became consumed in crime. Why did this happen? The systemic racism I talked about before. Black vets could not get jobs and had much tougher experiences doing the same thing their fellow white vets were doing so they turned to selling drugs to earn money for their families. This created the modern ghettos. If there is anything I have learned in life, and that is desperation will make a man/woman do anything. And before I forget, here are 10 of the most successful black areas in the U.S. ([LINK] You could have just done a quick Google search and found this. This proves that not ALL black communities are like what you describe. 2. You are making outright false claims there bud. First, Serial killers span all racial and ethnic groups in the U.S. The racial diversity of serial killers generally mirrors that of the overall U.S. population (yes, this also means there are more white serial than black ones). Second, of the 153 mass shooting cases recorded, none had ended in the conviction of a black man, woman, or undocumented immigrant by July 2018. And even in previous years, white males were over-represented in school shootings.3. Independent black countries don't exist today because during de-colonization, the European powers took a lot of the wealth they produced in Africa with them. That means the golds, the metals, the natural resources, etc. They also had set up several governments when they were there. So when they left, there were huge vacancies of	Black, Crazy, Ethnic, Immigrant, Racism, Racist, Woman	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Gender - General, Nationality - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	22/647	3.4

The statistics don't bear this out though – in fact criminality is essentially equal between both groups, and this is especially true when it comes to drug crimes. The over representation of black people in the carceral state is due to historical systemic forces, full stop. Along with the fact that white and black poverty do not differ by degree but rather by kind. In other words being poor and black in America doesn't mean that upward mobility is somewhat more difficult to achieve than if one were born poor and white, but rather the obstacles and difficulties encountered by poor blacks are worlds apart from those experienced by similarly impoverished whites. I did not gain this knowledge or insight by being born into America's permanent undercaste, I myself am white. No, I gained these insights through actually examining the statistics, and reading actual scholarly texts and peer-review journals. Ciaraaaa like I said two wrongs don't make a right. We didn't run into any problem solving tactics through the last eight years of Obama now did we. through Obama we've had hate groups like black lives matter. Don't want to call them hate groups. if I started White lives matter I would be called a racist . but I guess I don't understand.	Black, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	2/63	3.175
Brendan Stanczyk I am considered minority since I'm biracial, so there's no way I can be " racist " but on behalf of the black community, why does black lives even matter to non colored people? Why are they so bothered by it? Think all about the hate crime, all things black people has suffered and still do. Can't get pulled over by an officer without fearing they're about to get shot, scared to walk around "white" neighborhoods, can't even get jobs because the color of their skin. In all honesty, blacks are the most misunderstood race . I believe all people were created equally, and I have said that, but you're clearly turning my statement into something else. Again, if you want answers to end racism , ask Donald Trump.	Black, Colored, Race, Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	7/127	5.512
haha "no way you can be" anyone can be racist .. WOW why do you think because you are colored or anyone of color can not be that crazy . So only white people are racist ?? How do you think white people feel walking threw the hood. Did you know black people are scared to be in the hood/ghetto as well. It is not about race it is about the way people act.. Lets get back to the start of this conversation. I said the guy with the beard had said it is not about black people it is about GHETTO trash that destroy areas that good people live in. Brendan Stanczyk Do I believe people of color can be racist ? People of color didn't steal white people and force them into slavery (dismissing the fact that some Africans sold each other). But yes, I believe so. Not on the same level as white people though. America is white privileged.	Racist	Ethnicity - General	1/50	2.0
Ciaraaaa I worked at a company that had affirmative action. I watched people of color nice black people don't get me wrong but they were uneducated where I was and they got promoted because they were black . Now you might think that is a little poke or shove to the man. but I find it unfair. there is black privilege as well as white privilege it just depends on how you look at the particular situation.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	3/76	3.947
Brendan Stanczyk True, I never said there wasn't black privilege. But America was built for white people... Let's be honest here	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/21	4.762
Ciaraaaa it was built for freedom. I don't remember anything about White freedom. it may be a perception of white freedom. from what I understand from the history books Europeans came to America to escape religions prosecution. I wasn't there at the time and neither were you. So I'm so tired of listening about the past. I love our history and all don't get me wrong but I am tired of having to go beyond my years to make exceptions for black people. Let's make everything equal for everyone now and not talk about the past. It's black people that talk about the past. white people never talk about the past. I wasn't there and neither will you. I mean I could tell you stories of Russia that blew up my ancestors in Poland but you know what no one seems to care about that. I'm not talking about the past when it comes to that I love Russian people they killed my ancestors but you know what I didn't know my ancestors. I'm happy I'm living now. It's black people that talk about the past so much. it's liberals that write the history books and bring up hate	Black	Ethnicity - Black	3/199	1.508
Brendan Stanczyk Something as big as slavery could never be forgotten and it was only brought up to make a point about white privilege in America. Yes, America was built on "Freedom" but black people have it hard! America isn't as "free" as you think. Understand? I haven't struggled a day in my life because of my light brown complexion, yet I watch innocent black people do. And I'm not excluding the fact that there are actual white people who struggles, but look around. Black people got it hard !! And I mean HARD. Now, I do believe all races are equal. There's no doubt about that... But history can only be forgiven, not forgotten.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	3/115	2.609

Terry Barreneche *Sell. I own 3 companies and blame no one for anything. What you people are failing to realize is its not a race issue, but rather a CLASS issue. Poor people are predominantly of the same mindset. Take a look at poor neighborhoods in Japan, Africa, Iraq, India, Mexico, Germany, etc... There are gangs and slums in every country I just named. The Yakuza, Bloods, Latin Kings, Mafia, Al Queda, KKK/Skinheads, etc... They are all born from poor neighborhoods and low class status. Drive around the U.S. and youll see "ghettos" of every race , they just go by different names like trailer parks or slums. And in these undesirable areas is where crime takes place; crimes from every single race . My mom lives in a 3 story house and shes never done a drive-by or sold heroine. And not once at any of my meeting have me or my partners discussed extorting someone or burning down a house to get paid. Rich black people are just like other rich people of other races, and vice versa. Unfortunately there are many poor black people in America. LOOK IT UP. Now I'm just guessing because I don't know anything about you, but based solely off of your narrow and inaccurate view of the world, I am pretty sure that I am more educated, reasonable and successful than you. True, Lansing used to be entirely white. TF south in 1982 only had one black person attend the entire school of 2000+ , now it's entirely black .	Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/27	7.407

Actually, the reason it's like that is not because of Black people. White people Redlined those areas for black people and refused to let them move during the Civil Rights movement. So basically Black people were forced to live in terrible neighborhoods that they had to call their own because they couldn't buy property anywhere else. When it comes down to it, it really was the White Realtors' faults.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	3/69	4.348
It's true. White People should be able to live in a all white People area. It seems black and other minorities just can't keep away they love to live in white areas for some reason but at same time they Bad mouth us 24/7. We live in a world today where diversity is ONLY forced onto WHITE countries. Can't tell me otherwise.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/62	1.613
This is what is wrong in this world. We all are one, irrespective of skin color, ethnicities, cultural backgrounds, heritage, traditions and religions from all over the world. As of today, there are continuous struggles of making desperate attempts to uniting all people to stand up and make a difference for not only themselves, but for the rest of the world to see who is number one. It's sad to see those people refusing to do so and also having to force themselves to isolate those large groups of people by religion. When I see or hear about that, that makes me feel very sad. Racial segregation needs to stop. But here's one thing that doesn't stop from who we are... Being ourselves, being proud of who we are, what we do, what we say, what we look like, our interests, our sexuality, our positive qualities and characteristics, our personal views and opinions, love for ourselves and other people and also to treat others with respect and common courtesy, even though if they don't treat us with the same respect we expect from them. We must also learn to grow up with people who don't take an interest to us. In this world, we have gone through a lot, but a day will come when the light will dawn on us and will enlighten all people in this world, how to show love and compassion to one another. As an Indian , seeing this makes me feel very sad.	Common, Indian	Ethnicity - Native-American, Social Class - Working class	2/248	0.806

But before we can defeat Satan and his demons, we must take the first step by praying this prayer to Jesus and meaning it, "Dear Lord Jesus, I believe you died on the cross for me and was raised for my justification, I want your blood to wash away all my sins, I now receive you as my Lord and savior." Oprah is successful because she has vision. She knew this was a dangerous move; and she knew our country was on the fence of major changes. I wouldn't doubt if she herself even knew one day this video would end up online being viewed by millions, titled, "oprah visits white county where no black person had lived for 75 years", because in the much more tolerant society of today... we see a terrible compilation of white supremacy with her and the ray of light. I think the question should be reversed why should white people follow other people and dislodge them from their lands take it over forcibly and turn round to complain against their victims. Blacks were living peacefully in Africa when white people forcibly took them into slavery, Indian natives were living peacefully and doing their own things when white people left Europe and came down and forcibly took over the land. So the problem can be solved easily, every one go back to your point of origin or quit complaining and be accommodative of others.	Indian	Ethnicity - Native- American	1/94	1.064
When Mexican people and Black people(in the USA)choose to have their own communities, it's because they are choosing to live near people who share a similar culture as them and also around people who they know won't target against them. However when white people choose to have white only communities it's going to be racially motivated because white people in America don't have a culture(I'm not saying that white people as a whole don't have a culture) that unifies them all. I just watched a video where they asked a blind man about race . He was white, and he said something that we all should understand. We should judge an individual by his character and what he or she does. Not what they look like, which is what we tend to do. These white people in the panel have the right to feel how they feel, but it doesn't make their feelings correct. They just feared change, and due to the lack of understanding of black culture they were disgusted and afraid of something different entering the life they were use to and changing it. To be prejudice is simply unacceptable, because you are implying that one race is better then the other. Yet it is obvious that all cultures of different skin colors contributed and still contributes to humanity and its advancement in all kinds of ways. This negativity is all just something taught to us to keep us from being unified. The media loves to show footage of a few closed minded people and fuel this irrational hatred. You simply let it go because it has no consequences for you. For a black person, being judged by their colour has a lot of social and political consequences. In a society where the majority are inherently racist because slavery existed only a generation ago, being stigmatised and labeled for something that everybody is already too ready to hate, will severely restrict their freedom and lower their quality of life (In indirect ways). Even when a black person hasn't done anything, people are already stereotyping them. Even when a black person has better qualities and education, they are less likely to get a job when competing with non- black people. You, on the other hand, are already privileged because of your race so no amount of insult will phase you.	Black, Race, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	5/129	3.876

becareful on what you read on what you learn from so call white history. Like for example: if you go in to a church supply store and look at all the pictures. Then look at the picture of Adam & Eve and you will notice that all the people in those pictures are white. Now since Adam & Eve was considered to be the first man & women as white folks describe it and sometimes explain it then how can Adam & Eve be claimed to be white if no white folks can produce a baby as black as African . I for one think if Jesus Christ were real he was trying to tell everyone how they are controlling us with religion so many people sided with him and then they killed him so they made up all this bto turn him into a religion the very thing he was against. Black people also want to remain seperate. They write things on walls like "kill white people". It's so natural for races and different cultural groups to want to live amongst their own, with people who look like themselves and share similar beliefs and values as themselves. Multiculturalism is forced on white people and only white people. If you go to China or India and any other non-white country you will never see them being told their area is too chinese or too Indian . This is a Marxist war on white people and white people's culture.	Black, Indian	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - Native-American	2/95	2.105

Sally-Ann saying black people want to remain separate isn't actually a fact. They write things on the wall like "kill white people " does not represent all blacks ... did you see them write it on the wall? Did they leave a message stating they were black ?... cultural groups might want to live near each other but I'm sure you know the reason neighborhoods in America are the way they are now?	Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/72	2.778
kennedy campbell I have seen black people wearing "kill white people" on their t-shirts. Of course not everyone wants to be separate but why not allow those who want to remain separate to have that right. Aren't we all about freedom of choice and personal preference? Multiculturalism should not be forced on people. As I said, it can create much conflict on all sides. Monoculture societies exist but it's only unacceptable for white people and in white neighborhoods. Do you see the double standards? I don't live in America. Stop jumping to conclusions.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/93	1.075
Shaquille Hinds You are no longer forced. You are not a slave. You can even go back Africa if you want. Life is much tougher there. Majority of African people still live in Africa. Their towns and cities are not forced to be multicultural. Look and see your freedom for what it is.	African	Ethnicity - Black	1/53	1.887
Kevin Miller If that's the communities personal preference then yes. That applies to all people. Go to Japan for example, they would never allow their country and race to be replaced. Their towns and cities are mostly all Japanese. Why aren't you calling them racist ? Only white people are targeted for population replacement. No other parts of the world are being forced.	Race, Racist	Ethnicity - General	2/62	3.226

Sally-Ann Well for the record if someone of any race is caught doing it here there will be repercussions including possible jail time, fines and/or getting sued.	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/27	3.704
Sally-Ann Why would I want to go to Africa? Because my ancestors are from there? After many generations have passed and the indoctrination of black people we no longer ' share similar beliefs and values' as those in Africa. Basically the only thing that distinguishes the black people in america from the whites is their skin color. You said "Multiculturalism is forced on white people' but white people are the ones who brought blacks into their society. The people you brought into your home (which was taken from the natives btw), taught them your ways and shared your land with, you now want to kick out because they gain the right to be seen as equals? By all means, have your segregated community but don't say multiculturalism is being forced on you when you brought another race in. Society evolves, we're no longer savages killing others just because we're from a different tribe or hanging women calling them witches. Not everyone will be comfortable with it but change is inevitable and no one is born racist btw, the like and dislike of any race is taught. North America is a multicultural country and the world will continue to mix because we have a desire to advance and thrive. No ones forcing multiculturalism on anyone, the world is just evolving.	Black, Race, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	5/219	2.283
Shaquille Hinds Ok, North America can be multicultural. But every race needs a homeland that is predominantly their own race and culture. Every race has one. Go to Asia, it will be mostly Asian, India mostly Indian , Africa mostly African etc. But Europeans are being forced to become a minority in their own homelands and that's where my problem lies. Less than a decade ago white people made up more than 12 of the world's population, now we're down to only around 7 and it's dropping. It's a form of genocide. The white race is dying and it's intentional. I'll give you an example. Norway has always been a white country but now they are complaining that it is too white. When they start doing that to Asian or African countries then I'll say fair.	African, Indian, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Ethnicity - Native-American	7/135	5.185
Shaquille Hinds... Well most races are thriving and booming. The Chinese, the Africans, the Arabs, the Indians are all growing in number. It's only Europeans who are dying out as a race . No race is better than another but every race deserves to survive. That is what creates true diversity - the different races, cultures and heritages. It's a lie to say there are no differences. Every race has its unique appearance and way of life and nobody should have the right to take away from them.	Nobody, Race	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General	5/87	5.747

+Shaquille Hinds You didn't answer her question. Why Europeans are forced to accept other races and why in China, India, Africa it is not allowed from other races and nationalities to come and settle? I wanted to settle in India but they don't allow foreigners to do it. Even if you marry an Indian they will never give you a citizenship. Also white people from South Africa are leaving this country because they feel unsafe there. And very soon SA will become mono-racial as all other Sub-Saharan African countries. veryserioz Africans and African Americans have completely different cultures although they may share the same skin tone. Race talks about skin color and physical features, while culture depends on where you were raised, how you were raised, and by whom. You could see an African American that is educated, articulate, and acts so called 'white', and an African American who does not do anything for themselves just as quickly. I, myself am the son of a white European mother and a black East African man. I honestly don't know how you could hate someone based on their skin color, it has nothing to do with that it has to do with how you are brought up, since the average salary of a black person is lower than a white person more black people are exposed to worse things at a younger age which will influence. There are certainly black people who do terrible things but tell me truthfully that there aren't white people who aren't terrible as well. Take Obama for example. gladify As a matter of fact there has been a decline of black crimes in general but an incline in Caucasians committing crimes. Here's a quote from a Washington Post article: The pattern of results, evident in a series of reports from the Bureau of Justice Statistics, is most stark among women. Since 2000, the imprisonment rate among African-American women has dropped 47 percent, while the rate among white women has risen by 56 percent. These trends have combined to shrink the racial disparity in women's imprisonment by two-thirds.A similar pattern emerges for men, who compose a much larger share of the prison population. The rate of imprisonment among African-American men remains very high, a quarter of which is based on wrongful imprisonment, nonetheless it has tumbled 22 percent since 2000. The rate for white men in contrast is 4 percent higher than it was in 2000. As a result, the racial disparity has shrunk by nearly one quarter.Here's the link to that article: [LINK] In any rate, 40 of 2,200,000 is 880,000, NOT 1,000,000 lol. 47 of 880,000 is 413,600. I guess no one told her that since Blacks are only 12.5 of the American population (keep in mind how many of those are only partially black but identify as such) then there are bound to be many places where blacks don't live. Most blacks tend to live in densely populated areas and as soon as you leave those areas the number of blacks tends to dwindle. Well thankfully we live in a nation that does not imprison people over feelings. Racism is a touchy subject overall, Dr.King and people like him made great strides in bringing down the walls between black and white people and dismantling Jim Crow laws in the 1960's. However things were not able to progress for a very long time and now the United States faces another racial epidemic again. Between police who are out of control (Even if you are objective about it) on top of loose social media based organisations like BLM who quite frankly act like domestic terrorists when these groups have had a very destructive effect on the cities that they have rioted in like Ferguson.These people back up young adults who act like thugs, Yet when someone like Alton Sterling gets shot and killed while sitting in his car in front of his family they just kind of ignore it. And no one seems to care about were the vast majority of black people get killed: By other black people in gang related activity.These tensions are pushed by both sides and quite frankly it gets old .I am 28 and i hope these things are fixed in my lifetime? ”Why would you shut somebody out if you don’t even know them?” wow this is a good idea i bet you leave your doors unlocked at night because locking them would hurt and belittle others.if i and my group of friends built a house together, i would say we have a right to exclude whomever we please from that house. and if the people excluded are offended then so be it. if we go on to invite our wives into this house and have children there, do we then lose the right to exclude? to protect our families and our new community?people should be entitled to freedom of disassociation. if a pizza shop won’t cater to a gay wedding, they will lose a percentage of gay customers and so they either must live with this loss or they must change their beliefs. likewise if a community decides to exclude blacks then they either must live without the benefits of having blacks in their community or they must change their beliefs. but it isn’t up to you to decide which they choose.if having blacks in a community is so beneficial then the all-white community will surely suffer. so if you actually believed in what you’re preaching, you would allow the all-white community to see the error of their ways by simply letting things be. but of course we all tacitly acknowledge that increasing the percentage of black residents in a community is generally not going to do that community any good, and is certainly not going to do any more good than increasing the number of whites in that community.	Black, Gay	Ethnicity - Black, Sexual Identity - General, Sexual Identity - Male homosexuality	5/272	1.838
else where My views stem more from deontological ethics than religion. Really, all philosophical ethic views go for ”this is how ethics SHOULD be”. Religion aside, we ALL try to push our moral views on others to some degree, like you are doing right now. Nothing wrong with discussion to approach the perfect ethical view that will never be found.As for your ”if a bad thing exists but nonthreatening, so be it” view, that sort of thing would be a neutral act. Nothing ”wrong” per say, but wouldn’t it be better if we at least tried to help them?To be fair, I don’t really believe in good society or person to exist as we all have our flaws. Some things are just more flawed.Monoracial cultures like this, whatever the reason, induce harassment at best and violence at worst. That’s bad for obvious reasons. It also fuels ideas of superiority over others, which is also bad as no person is better than another. Even if we ignore the usual psychological effects of these cultures and think up an apathetic monoracial culture that didn’t interact with others, wouldn’t it be BETTER if they did break away from isolation and be at peace with others?I can explain any point in more detail if you’d like. I’ve got a firm hold on my moral views and I’d be grateful for any crossroads you can give me for me to overcome and improve my views.	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	2/244	0.82

I don't think there's a problem with a community being of one color. However, I do think it is a problem if the community shows ignorance toward other colors. There are plenty of places that are mostly white/ black /etc., but they have no issue with people of other skin colors. This county does. It's fine that they're an all-white county, but it's not fine that they don't want anyone with black skin living beside them and they have racist , ignorant ideals and beliefs. That's not okay. Race SETS culture. Whites are more suitable for the winter in their biology than any other race . Why are you talking about race and biology?According to biology, we are all humans. That is our race . And if you're going to talk about a topic thats already false in biology itself, what kind of point are you proving? This is WHY this problem still exists, because people like you correlate everything to the human construct of race created for division. We don't talk about humans as 'white', we talk about them having more or less melatonine. The more you label a human being that is 99.9 the same as you, then you are directly apart of the problem. First of all most of the Native Americans themselves didn't even believe in ownership of land. They believed that everyone had the right to live on it. Anthropologists have discovered that what we now know as the Native American is not as native as we fully think- there was another race of humans that lived in the Americas, eventually being driven out by the 'Native Americans' who migrated from east asia on land bridges of the far east of Russia which had been present in the last ice age . And if you want to get technical here- Whites have been driven out of places that we consider 'ours' for centuries from many foundations of people including the Huns, Mongols, Arabs, and Africans. In fact, just less than a century or two before Spanish colonization had occurred in the Americas, the Spanish have been fighting wars against the Muslim caliphates to RETAKE Spain itself. So believe me, no ONE group such as whites have it as easy as you think. It's not that Black-and-white.	Age, Race	Age - General, Ethnicity - General	2/173	1.156

There's no such thing as a native or native born anywhere .that term is created to built boundaries to lands and people living there to have a title to live. without the boundaries there's no such thing as people belong to certain land and places .it's all created by human beings as they controlled the lands they moved into. just like a rich wealthy person can buy an island or huge lands and put fences and walls around from others preventing to enter and another person buy a big buildings and let other people live as rental tenants ... it's always been like this ,anywhere.everywhere .then the governments created the laws ,rules and regulations to let me work more beneficial for the rich and less for the poor.in u.s case ,the country was built by white brits and Indians are were not Americans ,because the land wasn't named as anything .they were in the land and came thru Bering straight from Asia way before because there was no boundaries, nationalities or controlled immigration .they were most likely originally Mongol or Turk ethnic Ainus .there was even Russians living over northern California all the way to Alaska and there wasn't such state names as its now .southern California was azteks and current Mexicans. This was all before the Europeans landed.so the world and its history and people are moving here and there,taking over the lands building kingdoms and countries continued that's how it always been .now that there are countries and nationalities people are trying to poses the most beneficial ones and avoid the others .than but the good old immigration never stops...the most natural move of human beings on their earth where they come to life. Thank you everyone! These days if you have an issue with anyone of a different race it's immediately labeled racism without even knowing what the issue that started it is all about. I was called a racist when I got into it with an older white man at Walmart. I was walking through entrance door holding my daughter's hand when this speeding cart was exiting the entrance door. It happened so fast and the cart ran over my daughter honestly I didn't think of how or why at that moment because my focus was Heaven. The cart was full and heavy so a group of people lifted it so I could pull her from underneath of course she was screaming mostly because it scared her. She had a few scrapes but nothing major and I wasn't upset because accidents happen then that man said maybe you should watch her better from now on. I lost it and I told him off without cursing or being physical although the other customers wanted to tear him up. I wasn't being racist I was being a mother heck if another black person would've said that i would've reacted the same way. I didn't ask for or expect an apology but when responded the way he did sent me into orbit because it became clear that he didn't care and she could've been really hurt. If only I had known that God was about to dispatch angels to bring Heaven & my husband home to be with him I wouldn't have spent one second arguing with that man. I'm remarried now and we recently lost our two children. We are 35 & 37 death swept through our lives taking our family with it and it's hard but God left us here for a reason. Life, children and family is a blessing and in a blink it could all gone so spend time enjoying your blessings and being thankful for them. Don't waste time on the nonsense going on just lead by example! Action speaks louder than words ever could and everything contagious isn't always bad. Since my children died I've started my own anti-bullying underground campaign because when a parent loses a child it's a nightmare and too many parents are losing their children to bullies. I didn't have options when my girls died from illness but we can do something about losing our children to bullies. Those white people are just extremely scared of the outsiders and connected black skin color with criminal behavior according to their experience in other cities like how their birth cities have changed after black people arrived. The same phenomenon can be seen in the Nordic countries. At first inhabitants welcomed Africans with open arms untill women got wraped and old people mugged at their own front door.So who to blame and is it the color at all? I think it is more like a lcase. When some people come from harsh conditions and are mixed m with tender trusting people, the abuse scenario is ready. UIn that sense it makes sense to protect the vulnerable tru sting people from those who arrive from war/gang areäs.	Black, Old	Age - Over 65s, Ethnicity - Black	3/125	2.4

At first these white people breathed a sigh of relief. At last, they said, "No more crime, drugs, violence and welfare. All of the blacks have gone!" Then suddenly, reality set in. The "NEW AMERICA" is not America at all — only a barren land. 1. There are very few crops that have flourished because the nation was built on a slave-supported system. 2. There are no cities with tall skyscrapers because Alexander Mils, a black man, invented the elevator, and without it, one finds great difficulty reaching higher floors. 3. There are few if any cars because Richard Spikes, a black man, invented the automatic gearshift, Joseph Gambol, also black, invented the Super Charge System for Internal Combustion Engines, and Garrett A. Morgan, a black man, invented the traffic signals. 4. Furthermore, one could not use the rapid transit system because its procurer was the electric trolley, which was invented by another black man, Albert R. Robinson.

5. Even if there were streets on which cars and a rapid transit system could operate, they were cluttered with paper because an African American, Charles Brooks, invented the street sweeper. 6. There were few if any newspapers, magazines and books because John Love invented the pencil sharpener, William Purveys invented the fountain pen, and Lee Barrage invented the Type Writing Machine and W. A. Love invented the Advanced Printing Press. They were all, you guessed it, Black. 7. Even if Americans could write their letters, articles and books, they would not have been transported by mail because William Barry invented the Postmarking and Canceling Machine, William Purveys invented the Hand Stamp and Philip Downing invented the Letter Drop. 8. The lawns were brown and wilted because Joseph Smith invented the Lawn Sprinkler and John Burr the Lawn Mower. 9. When they entered their homes, they found them to be poorly ventilated and poorly heated. You see, Frederick Jones invented the Air Conditioner and Alice Parker the Heating Furnace. Their homes were also dim. But of course, Lewis Later invented the Electric Lamp, Michael Harvey invented the lantern and Granville T. Woods invented the Automatic Cut off Switch. Their homes were also filthy because Thomas W. Steward invented the Mop and Lloyd P. Ray the Dust Pan. 10. Their children met them at the door-barefooted, shabby, motley and unkempt. But what could one expect? Jan E. Matzelingler invented the Shoe Lasting Machine, Walter Sammons invented the Comb, Sarah Boone invented the Ironing Board and George T. Samon invented the Clothes Dryer. 11. Finally, they were resigned to at least have dinner amidst all of this turmoil. But here again, the food had spoiled because another Black Man, John Standard invented the refrigerator. Now, isn't that something? What would this country be like without the contributions of Blacks, as African-Americans? Martin Luther King, Jr. said, "by the time we leave for work, Americans have depended on the inventions from the minds of Blacks." Black history includes more than just slavery, Frederick Douglass, Martin Luther King, Jr., Malcolm X, and Marcus Garvey and W.E.B. Dubois.

I lived down there (Atlanta) during that time and, as I recall things, Oprah did not choose to leave town before dark, she was run out of town, and made it out safely with the assistance of the National Guard. Unless you experienced it for yourself, it's difficult to understand what it is really like. Or, I should say was like, anyway, as I moved in the late eighties. Regardless of how you might feel about it, there are (or were) many parts of the south that remained unchanged for many, many decades. Oprah was ill-advised to go there at that time, and was doing little more than poking at a hornets nest with a stick. She was in search of ratings, not attempting to improve race relations. Did her visit change anything there? I could be wrong, but I don't I don't recall anything positive resulting from her visit, and would be really shocked if the county now celebrates Oprah Winfrey Day. Not having lived there for almost 30 years now, I don't know if it would be any different today, but back then, she did little more that endanger the well being of those who accompanied her that day. It's not the color of the skin that people don't like. If everyone in the world was purple but a group of people here liked cheese and people over there didn't like it then they started spreading how bad each one was like people who like cheese are people who lie and steal then the other people wouldn't like them. Not because of any thing appearance wise but because of what they think they are like. The looks of that person only act as a bucket that you get thrown into if you fit that stereotype. I hate when people say we are all human so we should all love each other. I agree and wish it was like that but skin color isn't what people don't like. I hate people who do bad things. If I choose to group one type of people with the thing I hate then I hate that group of people. How you stop racism is stop talking about race . Educate people and open people up. It's like if you ever seen a alien from another planet, media has taught us they want to kill us so your first instinct is to run, be afraid, exc. It's not looks that people don't like. Race rejection has more to do with culture than with color, i think.... culture defines a bunch of attitudes, if your culture is one of careless behaviour and unresolved resentment then it will be rejected by another culture that gravitates around other things.... cause in the end all races and colors in the different regions in the world have dealt with problems of discrimination of its people by another group, it is our ability to deal with those problems what develops and defines our current culture. Jordan LeftYou know nothing of American history or Southern culture. That you equate the Confederate flag with racism just means the media (and some racist nut jobs like Dylann Roof) have done a good job of twisting its symbolism to the Southerners.The Confederate flag was always a symbol of the rebellious Southern independence, not about racism . And for 120 years, the Confederate battle flag has been part of the Mississippi state flag. Is the entire state of Mississippi racist ? No, of course not.And the Civil War was not about ending slavery, it was about control over the South and not letting the Southern states secede. Many like to ignore the fact that Abraham Lincoln would have let the South surrender, end the Civil War, and NOT abolish slavery. If you don't know this, you need to read a bit before making statements about the regional culture of another country.	Nothing, Racism, Racist	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General	5/152	3.289
Abigail Hennessey No, the Left can't let that happen. The Left wants everyone to believe Forsyth County (and 90 of the US) is just as racist now as it was 30 years ago and that civil rights and equality for blacks has not improved one bit. "Rampant, systemic racism " is the Left's primary tool for getting reelected. They don't care that it promotes the lie about the level of racism , which is the reason race relations have declined so dramatically. A couple of years before Zimmerman/Treyvon, I believed the Left, liberal media (even Obama) were trying to start a race war. It was subtle at first, but the last two years prove that it's true. Jordan LeftMaybe your fellow citizens know the meaning of the flag better than you do: independence and rebellion against overbearing government policies that infringe on their way of life and cause them harm. Maybe YOU are the one oversimplifying it, incorrectly, as " racism ."I can only go by what I read in several news sources, but they all say pretty much the same thing: many people are not happy with Swedish government policies because it's putting the Swedish citizens LAST. Half of Europe seems to feel the same way, especially Germany. And I see Merkel is really popular in Germany now, because of her "German citizens last" policies. And how about the migrant-organized gang rape of Calais, France and the subsequent police cover-up? I hear that's really popular among the French. This might not be the thing people want to hear regarding race but I with give you some truth. Forced integration will always put a wedge between people. Everyone speaks of the US as a melting pot, but bringing this many races, religions, and cultures together will always lead to animosity among diffrent groups. Now I'm not advocating we have forced segregation again. The though of that idea wouldn't work. Now what if we could have our own communities or areas? Be surrounded by people you know? and in public we are all together. It may not be the brilliant idea that some people could beat out with better ones, but with all the issues we have with each other if you could just step away and not be bombarded with the class of cultures from time to time I just had a thought maybe you could decompress and actually be more understanding or even take it upon yourself to sit down and have a conversation and learn about cultures like I enjoy doing when I meet new people. I wouldn't know how to get this idea into practice, but it seems like taking all these groups that may have diffrent attitudes tword things and forcing them to hold hands and get along always seemed like it would have troubles also.just thinking out loud	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/225	0.444

liedetector101 That has never been the case. Canada operates on a system of hyphenated citizenship (Polish-Canadian, Dutch-Canadain, Chinese-Canadian etc.). This is basic anthropology (I have an Anthro exam in 2 hours lol). Canada is a young country and the hyphenated system will continue until Canada's nation building is complete.Canadians are slowly trying to build a national identity based on multiculturalism. It's a slow process and it's not something that's going to be completed in my life time. There is no 'Canadian' identity, as of now, Canadian identity and values are only a fallacy perpetuated by conservatives. Canada is only 150 years old ! Every day we are engaging in nation building.As of now there is no 'becoming a Canadian'. We are Canadians only on the basis of State affiliation, not on the basis of national identity. This will change eventually, but not any time soon. These process of nation building take a long time. Canada can't be compared to the majority of the worlds countries. Canada is a young country of immigrants. That's why the hyphenated system continues to this day. Groups that moved to Canada centuries ago are still hyphenated such as English-Canadian and French-Canadian.And what's the problem if a person from Africa calls themselves 'African-Canadian' or 'Black'? I know people from Nigeria and Ethiopia that are totally fine with both terms. Also 'African-Canadian' IMO is generally for immigrants so that's why you may not have heard many people use it. While we travelled we chatted about kangaroos and Crocodile Dundee. No, Dribble. Racism still exist because some people are just f*cked in the head. Racism still exist because what's going on in this video is exactly what is still happening in middle America today. I live in a state that has towns and counties with this exact same mentality; towns that admitted to reporters that they didn't want Obama as president, not because of his birth certificate or his policies, but because they "don't want no black man in office." Exact words. Revisiting history is supposed to highlight our f*ck ups and help us learn to be better. Too many if us are too stupid to learn from it. Why are unarmed black men 5 times more likely than unarmed white men to be killed by police?	Black	Ethnicity - Black	3/51	5.882

that's odd because i can think of alot of prisons in Pa that are in white neighborhoods or white areas and many times the black man has a longer record so he gets a longer sentence even if that particular crime is the same.it depends on what you consider to be an unarmed black man..michael brown was unarmed and that shooting was justified so if that's the common case..there is your answer. But why do BLM protesters want that? Because cops have been killing black people for no reason, like that man who was selling cds outside of a store, police officers shot him dead and the media tried to make the man look bad. They're not saying this just because they're racist or hateful, they are saying this because they don't want more lives taken away from them. +Avery Studios I don't usually agree with kneejerk "leftist" bashing, but I actually do agree with the sentiments that a cool, collected approach that instigates conversation is undoubtedly the best form to take. A moment that I REALLY admired during this clip was when Oprah said, "Stop it. Let him speak. He has a right to speak " despite the fact that he held views that damage people of her race . I think being able to listen even when you're listening to something as egregious as racist vitriol is important for multiple reasons. At the very least, it allows people to recognize why a harmful mindset is harmful in the first place. I don't think liberals these days are arbitrary and irrational with their "NO THIS IS UNACCEPTABLE" attitude (of which I am also guilty). I think they are just fed up with the trivialization we give to views like racism , so we act very assertively and repeat that racism is wrong instead of saying why. I just think if we want anything to change, Oprah's diplomatic approach is probably one of the better ways to go about it. Don't tell people that they're wrong. Let these people speak and prove for themselves why they're wrong.	Race, Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - General	4/206	1.942

Steve Protoss We're talking in the context of dividing people, but if you want to get into that, the GDP, with no additional regulations since World War II is predicted to be be at $53 trillion. That's the fault of democrats. You seem to forget who made the income tax, the property tax, and the estate tax, Woodrow Wilson. Democrats do also increase taxes more than Republicans on average, just look at FDR, his tax spike was the biggest in history. Are you really against military spending, do you think we shouldn't have a military? Besides that, Democratic policies such as welfare, Medicare, and Social Security make up most of the deficit. Reagan's economic policies were fantastic in my opinion and if you give me details on how it is bad, I'll debate you, but blaming Republicans for all this is not just avoiding Democratic actions involved, but is also outright wrong in that Democrats tend to cause the poor fiscal policies you are claiming Republicans support. TheGamePixel Actually, Regan economics created NAFTA. AND NAFTA has destroyed American industry. I challenge you to find anything that is made in America today that is still made here before he became president. Look, I'm not a demoCRIP or a reBLOODbican. They are both gangs fighting for turf. But their end game is the same. Crushing taxes, destruction of the middle class, race warfare and lying about things that are going on in the Middle East. They both LOVE to kill brown skinned people. Something about that region they haven't been able to get a foothold of as of yet. Maybe because the Middle East was the place where civilization began? Sumer? Babylon? That's Iraq. And it's more than oil they are after. They want the land that was theirs at one point before humans began procreating beyond their control. And if you look at our economic status on paper, you'll see that America flourished while Clinton was in office. People made money hand over fist on the stock market during his presidency. But it was designed that way. Gave people a false security. And when Bush1 took over, a lot of people lost a lot of money. Then there was the housing collaps (Obama). Now we are in a full recession. +A JaxThe funniest thing is, that the majority of those who are totally against it often have ancestors and heritage of different "races". But I don't think that there are different races, I like to call it different cultures. And it's good to have variety and different cultures. What people don't get is, that the country is responsible for maintaining it's cultural identity. The citizens can mix as much as they want, as long as they live in this country and live the given lifestyle everythings cool. Don't know where the problem is...I'm myself a proud German but my ancestry spreads across the Holy Roman Empire, England, Prussia, Norway and somewhere by New Zealand or so. Isn't that cool? I alone combine so many cultures in my genes, it's crazy !Mixing makes humans interesting and versatile in their genes and is proven to make the human race as a whole stronger. actually, no, that isn't correct! race mixing is necessary to prevent the different races from evolving into seperate species such as horses and donkeys or dogs and foxes have done, however having a country full of mongrelised people isn't an advantage in any way! every race has it's own strengths and weaknesses and unfortunately you don't get to choose which is passed to the babies so you end up with a country full of average people... if the races don't mix that much then you get mainly average people but some of each race get to do what they are genetically better at, for example chinese mathematical genius coupled with anglo saxon inventiveness... no race is superior to another but we are slightly different and it is because of these differences not inspite of them that mankind has come this far... no sir.. celebrate being white, celebrate being black and celebrate being asian and that said if you love someone of a different race then celebrate that also but it isn't any huge advantage to your country, sorry.. There are alot of commenters with the same question along the lines of.”well if the whites want their own area and blacks arent trying to come there why does it matter”...prejudice should never be swept under the rug because its convenient or isn’t an immediate threat to anyone. As a society we should strive to abolish as many instances of prejudice as we can. although peoples ideas of what is discriminatory can change from a person to person basis, the mass majority of modern society has realized and frowned upon the prejudice of hating a person based on something they cannot control like the pigment of their skin.If you want an argument based of practicality instead of my own opinion, think of this- if we as a whole let whites have their own communities that cutoff the entry of black folk there are many real world situations that this could cause problems for. If there were a natural disaster or a mass tragedy in a predominantly black area neighboring one of these ”white societies”, where would the refugees go? There would be no one near by for miles willing to help them before farther away people could come. What if one day having their own little town isn’t enough? After being allowed to fester and breed the ideas of white supremacy in their own untouched nest, don’t you think the extremists bound to arise will not settle just staying away from blacks? That’s why we have hate groups like the KKK. Those KKK members weren’t BORN with hate, it was taught, and over years it grew until giving blacks dirty looks and calling them slurs wasn’t enough.. and then you have people being lynched and killed for their skin color. Point is, hate will grow as long as you let it exist. So although ”white societies” may not have immediate affects if attempted, their long term affects keep racism and hatred alive and well, which must be stopped at all costs.	Black, Racism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	3/332	0.904

Because it enables people to be scared of whats different. What if a mass tragedy happened near one of these ”white communities” and innocent black folk had no where to go in refuge because their neighboring area were too ”scared” or prejudice to let them in, even if they’d never met any of them, but not let them in because the pigment in their skin. We are all one race on one planet, and we can keep ourselves in all the little groups we want that keep us comfy but it is impossible for us all to stay in our own little boxes because there will always be a reason for us to need each other.	Black, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	2/116	1.724

Kbrat ! I'm white and I find your sentence very inaccurate. Lately, it is inarguably a fact that white people steal black cultures. Internet is not apart of culture so that statement was irrelevant. We stole their music from the get go when the country was introduced from rock and roll. Rock and roll started from the Jazz and Blues of black people mostly in Harlem and that music influenced one of the biggest rock stars of all time, Elvis Presley. The music that is mainly streamed out and listened to now, such as r&b and pop, come from rock and roll which came from you know who. Music is a cultural aspect and I gave my example to why your statement about whites starting culture being false. Even before that, our ways of living in America in colonial times have been adopted from Native Americans so we have always borrowed from others. It is also rare to find a food or dish that is specific to this country. American food is basically the rest of the world's food with different inspirations. We have established our current culture mostly from influences from Hispanic, Indian, and African countries. We aren't original at all. We are a mixed breed.	African, Black, Indian	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - Native- American	4/207	1.932

Kbrat ! Finally, I can't imagine how I would act and behave if I was contained in an area of in depth poverty. Do you know why? Because I have never lived in any one of those areas because I have something called "white privelege". I will probably never experience a lifestyle like blacks because I am sheltered by the government. I'm not prideful enough to admit that I have advantages other people are not blessed with due to unfortunate circumstances. So claiming you would never rob someone at gunpoint is absurdly inconsiderate and ignorant when you realize you will never know how it feels to be in a financial jam and what it can make people do. You have no clue how you would act if your choices were that limited. How can you be sure you won't kill or rob someone if it means you don't die of starvation, or your child gets fed, or you have a roof under your head. No one wants to die, the government placed blacks where they are today, and their choices and opportunities are limited. Living in a society like that I imagine would put you on edge from everyone, make you hostile, defensive, desperate for anything, and subjected to substances to brighten the day. All it takes to know that is common sense, and your inability to see that shows how impervious you are to other people's situations. That is how the United States works. If roles were reversed and we were put in the same environments as black people, your tune would change drastically because our race would not make us behave better when confronted with death.	Black, Common, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Social Class - Working class	3/278	1.079

Kbrat ! How black people behave isn't a racial matter and that is why you are wrong. You believe because of "who they are", they can't make the best of their situations when it is still undetermined how we would behave in the same situations. They are victims of circumstance, not belligerent because of their skin color. You can say the same with any ethnic group that has ever been at the bottom of the barrel of social hierarchy. Jews and Hispanics have been looked at the same way at a certain point in time and it wasn't because they belonged to a certain group of people. It was because the people above them confounded the groups to the worst places of society where means of escaping it were very grim. Those people have all acted the same way as black people do today and it wasn't by choice. It was by circumstance. So don't act all high and mighty over a certain breed of people like an aristocrat just because your life wasn't thrown into the fire. You have too much pride for your own good.	Black, Ethnic	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	3/187	1.604
Kbrat ! Also, you can't act a color. That is impossible. Stating blacks can't behave in an orderly manner because they are shunned for "acting against their own race" is idiotic. Basically you are saying that we are the only ones allowed to act like we have common sense and if a black person does they are considered "whitewashed". Good behavior is not associated with being white. If a black person wants to act as a respectable human being, he should just be that and not called "white washed". You act like we are generally the best people on Earth. Whites in America are far from that. No human is perfect or should be judged based off the color of their skin and that is final.	Black, Common, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Social Class - Working class	4/126	3.175
Agent 47 Bad behavior?Isn't it kind of odd that a majority of them behave that "BADLY"? Joining street gangs, doing and selling drugs, using slang, ratchet behavior - I mean do you even watch the videos where the kids fight their teachers?Everyone wears the same clothes - everyone eats the same food - I really don't think wearing a tshirt and eating cheeseburgers is black "culture". Rap isn't black "culture", unless somehow you have the racist notion that only blacks can rap and listen to rap.I mean it's a little odd when blacks make up only 15 of the population, but out of that 15 of blacks 10 make up 49 of all crime in America, including Asians, Latinos, Whites, Native Americans - etc.You can look at the statistics my dude, They don't lie.	Black, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	3/138	2.174
Kbrat ! And you still dont know what culture means, or the customs that black people generally have involving clothes, food, art, music, dance, etc. so just stop with that idiotic implying. So yeah, im done now, if you actually provide a good argument then i might reply depending on how long that takes. But for now im done because it is impossible to make progress with you. Farewell, Kbrat.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/70	1.429

The people of this town may be bigoted but at least they are not puffing people in record numbers. If you want to help blacks then fix the ghetto, we're actual racism is happening. I see no better way to accomplish that then a free market system with low tax and a low minimum wage rage, also with private schooling and healthcare. The ghettos aren't a result of a black environment they are a result of broken Democratic policies trying to fix a system that worked but at a slower rate then they wanted, and now the black family has all but been destroyed and kids being forced into "diverse" schools that are some of the worst in the country. Not to mention the lack of jobs, and I don't blame the employees and companies, I wouldn't pay minimum wage to somebody with a poor education and bad upbringing. I disagree, Mr Doe. It's the few who are not. Racism isn't always about blatant aggression or hatred. It's about believing something inherently negative about an entire race of people. "Trump supporters are racist " for example. That itself is a prejudiced statement. As a white man who voted for Trump, I take offense to that comment because I am not a racist . Are the black and hispanic Trump supporters racists as well?The media is mainly to blame because the media has been pushing the "blacks and hispanics are a minority held back by the privileged white man" theme for years (decades?). These groups not only promote a proud heritage of blacks and hispanics, but they degrade white people as well. I've seen it with my own eyes. Heard it with my own ears.Besides, the very names of the organization, if used for a group of white people (White Lives Matter, La Raza Blanco), would be considered racist . Saartje Hond What? These are actual statistics from the Brittish goverment, which they got from NHS, their state run hospital system. The statistics I got about traffic accidents I got from Association for Safe International Road Travel, why would they lie? Guns are a huge problem everywhere, don't you agree? Is there a nation where gun related crimes is a good thing? I don't think so. USA have, despite increasing their amount of weapons with 100, seen a dramatic drop in violent crime, especially murder, USA don't have that many murders compared to Europe, and the murders they have are mostly committed by gangs, who, believe it or not, don't run around with legal weapons, just like the criminals everywhere. They get their weapons from Europe, Slovenia for example, where weapons are so common handgrenades are usually given for free if you made a purchase of guns. So yes, guns are definately a problem, but what's the solution? Many nations like Brazil, Honduras and Mexico tried to ban it altogheter, but it obviously haven't worked. What is your solution? Note: posted this below as a response, but I'm interested in everybody input.Funny thing is that for the last eleven years, I have lived on military bases with people of every race , religion, orientation, political affiliation and philosophy.... we are governed by the same rules as the civilians in our nation . We don't have any of these problems. Of course you have your bad apples here and there, but we generally live in peace. With the same backgrounds and diversity as the public, I am utterly confused as to why the civilians can't emulate; if we violate the law, the penalties are the same for us as it is for you. There really is not any particularly special coercion for us to comply with the rules. I'm not sure it's the "camaraderie", or the collective dangers we have faced. What is your take on that? Why do different races and cultures in the military manage to operate harmoniously while civilians fail so often, when we live by the same laws as civilians do? The problem with that statement is you have a political party like the Dems that are keeping blacks in a state of anger and violence by race baiting and keeping blacks on a subsistance living through welfare. Not encouraging them to work hard and keeping them in ignorance. there are plenty of blacks who have worked hard and gotten out of the poverty and hate the way the rest act. if these black people can do it, than i believe all can. they just need to quit living in the past and start looking to the future	Black, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	2/97	2.062

Freddie BThat can be said about anything. Either way, numbers are more reliable than anything else.As the saying goes, numbers don't lie. Although people can manipulate numbers, that manipulation doesn't remain concealed and the truth always come to light, because numbers don't lie. The numbers regarding black crime rates and blacks on welfare are solid. The numbers come from both leftist websites and rightist websites.The numbers are the same regardless of the political bias of the person reporting it. Leftist websites try and claim that whites receive welfare and commit crime at higher rates by showing total numbers, but their attempt at deception fails. Anyone who knows basic math can look at the numbers and realize that if 3,000 murders are committed by whites and 2,000 murders are committed by blacks, then blacks are committing murder at higher rates.The total number for whites may seem like more, but if the white population was equal to the black population(45 million), then amount of murders committed by whites would only be about 700 compared to 2000 by blacks.These numbers aren't the exact rates - I'm just giving an example. By the way, if the black population was equal to the white population (192 million), then the murder rate among blacks would put the number of people killed by blacks at 9600, as opposed to just 3000 by whites.I'll say it again: numbers don't lie. I’m a black man and if anyone says that someone like Trump or even the Republican party is racist, then they do not know history or politics (but can vote smh). It was the Democratic party that was in favor of slavery and against the abolishment of slavery. The Democratic party were the ones that voted no on allowing blacks to vote. It was them who put in Jim Crow laws, gave rise to the Ku Klux Klan and protected it politically for DECADES. It was the Democratic party who gave blacks welfare, food stamps and various entitlements which tore apart the black family because the state replaced the father in the household. The reason is because black women decided that they don’t need a man around anymore when they can live off the state by having a kid, as a result single motherhood skyrocketed as well as crime which is a direct correlation, and food stamps in Black American has increased by 58 under Obama by the way. They are the ones responsible for racism in America whatever racism there ACTUALLY is, they have been the scourge of our community since the time of Jefferson and Jackson, they brought on the war, they were in favor of segregation after the war, they are the result of high unemployment especially in the black community. And for the Obama’s, the Clinton’s and the rest of these baby tyrants, as well as the morons that follow them, to tell us Republicans that we’re racist?!?!?!? THEIR ENTIRE LEGACY is RACISM and SEGREGATION. This can be traced all the way back to the founder. Pull out a $20 bill, the man on it is the founder of the Democratic party Andrew Jackson who had 300 slaves and was considered a plantation elitist.	Black, Crow, Jim Crow, Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	12/298	4.027

Joshua Brown That’s true. The Republican Party has been in favor of a free market and less government regulations on business for its entire lifespan, and I can’t think of any policies that would better help advance Black America. A free market allows any person, black or otherwise, the ability to earn money and then invest that money to move upward in social status. I really wish that more black people saw that the more the government has power over them, the harder it is going to be for their people to move up on the totem pole. I also think that Republicans these days need to do a better job reaching out to the black communities as they have not done well in recent history. One thing I really like about Donald Trump is that he did make an attempt to reach out to Black folks, and his numbers went up compared to what Romney did in 2016. I hope Republicans follow Donald Trump’s lead and continues investing time in speaking to the black community.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	6/176	3.409

Race relations haven't gotten worse, they are better than before the civil rights era, but not as much as people would like to believe. The difference for the "Obama made race relations worse" crowd is the explosion of social media, and everything being recorded on camera phones and posted. Think about it in the early 2000's there were things like chat rooms and such where people could chat and share ideas, but those were much smaller rooms and usually specifically themed rooms (film lovers, sports etc...), but no where near as connected as things like facebook, twitter and others. Now people can post their racist rhetoric/views or a incident and it gets shared by millions with the insults flying from all over the place, hell this site is a prime example. I think whites should have their own community if they want. Every other race gets to live their own kind, but today I won't even be able to find an all white place in Sweden, of all places, because of their forced immigration programs in the EU. Native Americans are allowed to be proud of their race , black people are allowed to be proud of their race , arabs, jews whatever. However, a white person is not allowed to be proud of their heritage. Race	Ethnicity - General	1/50	2.0
Are you from Sweden? If so, the reason why you can't find an all-white community in America is that it's suppose to be the land of the free. To have a white community where only white people can live is not legal. Having a black community where only blacks can live is also illegal.American soldiers have fought and died to keep America free. America had a big war called the Civil War over a hundred years ago and Civil Rights movement over 50 years ago where a lot of Americans fought and died for this freedom.However, there are plenty of communities in America where the majority are of one race . In my area, whites can go to ethnic restaurants where almost every customer is white. All the communities that are nice are almost all white. I don't support BLM because they aren't about solving black problems, especially in European countries where there are no problems like in America. Or we can talk about the mafia which were Europeans terrorizing other American Europeans.You can talk about the crimes committed by black people IF you acknowledge that whites did the same to whites not so long ago.Also Detroit is a bankrupt city that was built around car factories; it attracted Afro Americans that were looking for jobs but due to the ever present racial tensions between both side's extremist groups there were riots and the Euro Americans moved out. Just Me while racism does exist is small quantities is some places, public displays of open discrimination is not usually accepted anywhere in the western world. What you told me, was the equivalent of somebody saying that they were refused service for their color , or that they had to use a " colored only" water fountain. It is so unacceptable to do these things as to make them incredibly unlikely, or impossible to happen. Even if (and that is a big if) somebody had said that you couldn't sit down because you're black , so what? You could sit down anyway and she wouldn't have been able to stop you within any means of the law. If you had done that 40 years ago you could have gotten lynched in some circumstances, and it would've been considered by many that you would've been in the wrong, this was even backed up by law. That is systemic racism , and is a major problem with a large part of society. However, if one individual, in one rare circumstance, who does something that almost everyone around them considers to be terrible, then that is not a societal problem, and is not systemic to a culture but is instead an anomaly. You would've been within all of your rights to call the police, or sue her for racial discrimination and you would've had full support by a jury, by a court, and by law enforcement. THAT is equality, and we are all lucky enough to all have the same rights, including you. If you could provide context for that situation, it would be much appreciated. Lastly, you need to realize he illegally authorized Bin Laden’s assassination. There was no resistance, he outright murdered Bin Laden in violation of our Constitution. I guess you like presidents who violate the law.	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/99	1.01
Faith Holcomb I try to treat everyone the same.Think of it this way - you make a big deal about race as if it’s important. The way you act matters.I have no problem with black people, but you’re right, I have a hard time seeing people like Shaquille O’Neal and Morgan Freeman as black , because they don’t make a big deal about their race and they’ve taken steps to overcome their cultural differences. They learned to be a part of society at large, and not the society that black america wants for them.If a black business owner walks up to me and talks to me like a normal human being, I’m not going to have a problem with him. If a white man walks up to me and shouts and cusses and has his pants sagging between his legs, I’m going to have a problem with him.You’re missing the point, and you think it only has to do with race when it’s a cultural problem, therefore you’re the racist . The culture is what drives people like you deeper into poverty - you have some sort of set ideals that you have to be poor or that you can’t overcome your status - Well if you think you can or you can’t you’re right.You need to take steps to better yourself, go get an education, earn a degree or learn a trade, then once you’re really good at your trade or skill, use it to your advantage and move up in the world. It’s a struggle, sure, but you can’t constantly blame people who have more money than you. Just because they figured out the system and know how to play the game of the system doesn’t mean you can’t do it either.By the way - Donald trump has a system in place that’s going to help the poor. The basis is that if you make less than 25k per year (50k joint income) you do not owe any federal income taxes. That’s amazing. That means people like you and your wife can keep more of your money and spend it on the things you need for your kids. You can live a better way of life and won’t have to struggle as hard. I can show you many many examples of black violence against whites, including robbing/beating/raping/killing of women, children, elderly and even disabled . Excluding cops because the ones that make the news misrepresent the real numbers...and cops actually kill more whites than blacks anyway. It really is true...please look it up. yupitsme brands I disagree it depends solely on the person. Many white people now a days are not taught the history, so when they hear the truth, they react as if these things being said are myths instead of reality. It doesn't help that there is constant propaganda on the right that mischaracterizes the situations as if it's a liberal agenda to paint the world as racist instead of addressing the history of the world as it is. Example, Santa is just White!	Racist	Ethnicity - General	1/83	1.205
yupitsme brands and you know why? Slavery what's the one thing in history that whites don't want us to forget. The mythology is white people enslave black people and white people freed black people. When the truth is so much more complex. So in short, white people don't want us to forget that we will want their slaves. However, they don't want to Bear the responsibility of the atrocities committed when we were once their slaves. This is why you have a lot of anger and bitterness when it comes to younger white people. They don't want to deal with the history what they want to reap the benefit of it. You will hear I never owned slaves. That's like a mafia princess acting as if her diamonds dropped out of the sky. She is right she never killed anybody. But she profited like white people from slavery segregation the impoverishment of black people. The problem is like I said the truth has been hidden from them as much as it's been shoved under our noses. This is been going on for decades and centuries. And don't get it twisted we benefit from the impoverishment of other people in other countries around the world As Americans. People suffer at U.S hands to pay for our way of ease. Yet, how many people are in denial over that? You see it's all the Vicious Cycle racism and white supremacy is a poison that impacts us all black and white alike. november132Sorry folks was using the talk to text feature and sometimes it does pick up what I say accurately. I have made some edits.I hate revisionist history. Not only did black people not start the slave trade but white people didn't stop it. What happened was and I'm going to paraphrase here because I really don't want to recite the history from memory. In 1412 5 European Kings in concert with the Pope decided to divvy up the world under the Church of racism and white supremacy. Their mindset was unification of Europe would promote world domination. This created the extermination of the Native Americans Holocaust of the Africans the whole enslavement of half of the world under European oppression. America in the sixteenth and seventeenth century culminated in this great experiment under the guise of theft of resources that was supposed to be brought back to Europe to support the European structure. Historically Europeans colonized both the Americas and coastal countries of Africa. Europeans decided to come into each country and propose false alliances setting two countries against each other giving guns to one side and selling guns to another taking human beings for profit. This was the fundamental promotion of the slave trade. Using that money the Europeans sold rum to Indians an opium to the Chinese. This was called the transatlantic slave trade. Enter the Gullah Wars there were many uprisings from the enslaved Africans who did not want to be slaves. Not only was there an unorganized resistance but there was also organised resistance. The Gullah Wars was started when runaway slaves took over Native American lands in Florida and merged with the Indians to fight United States government. The US government under Andrew Jackson lost in the Gullah Wars which fuel the Abolitionist Movement in both the South and in the North and ended up with the Trail of Tears. The US government feared that all of the East Coast Native Americans would join the Gullah and take the country back. The US government response was to march the remaining nations into the Midwest.The Civil War where white people claim to free black people was a combination of English interference in the United States and tariffs arguments while slavery was a factor it was not the only Factor nor was it the only cause of the war. At the end of the Civil War the United States created the 13th Amendment to the Constitution which states that no person shall be deprived of their rights without due process of law. The United States still have slavery it's just under the conditions in which you can become enslaved have changed. Which gave rise to the Jim Crow laws and the current situation we deal with today which is the criminalization of the entire African American population. So in short, slavery has not ended in this country it simply has changed. If slavery had ended in this country the 13th Amendment would sound something like this no person Shelby deprived of their rights. I suggest you learn history before you debate with me. Now just for the record I can provide all kinds of sources and everything else to what I just said. But since you didn't bother I won't either.

Well they did often sell members of other tribes they had captured, but no they didn't necessarily start the slave trade. Slavery was around long before African slavery was popular. John Locke oh it's worse than that. People like to ignore history. The reason why Japanese are xenophobic has to do with Europeans going into the country and taking over. It's around 14 45 roughly Europeans decided they were going to divvy up the entire world. The Dutch went into Japan because the pope told them to you know that whole thing about racism white supremacy and attempted to take over. When the Japanese discovered what was actually going on they kicked every European out of their country forbid Christianity to be practiced in Japan and killed every bit of infestation they found. They became an isolated country until Admiral Perry representing the United States and fired a cannon into the Imperial Palace and demanded that Japan open its borders. People fail to understand the historical events that lead to the things that are currently going on today. They used terms like racism and all that stuff because they truly do not understand why things going on and why things are the way they are. So they feel Justified saying I never owned slaves or I never did this or I never did that it doesn't matter. What matters is when people do things for your benefit and you are entitled you are going to be blamed for the actions that other people do in your name. Only when you remove the barriers yourself and help others work towards removing them can you show people that are being oppressed that you're not one of the oppressors. That's like a mafia princess acting and getting angry when people blame her for her wealth when she never really committed a crime but she accepted the stolen property and defend it as if it hers. Nerdy Minded You said "Can you explain to me how melanin makes people care less about their communities or makes them lazy, or violent?"Who said that people of color care less about their community or are more prone to violence or lazy?No what racism does do is take away resources from these same communities and distribute them to the lighter shades, so the trash isn't picked up, the schools are in disrepair, there are no positive gangs, etc. People are called lazy because they are poor when most of them work 2 and 3 jobs because they can't make a good wage. PsychoDieter91 melanin is not the only difference between black and white. Black and white is a concept created by Europeans to promote their own superiority. Genetically the albino gene, creative Caucasians to begin with. This is proven out through DNA. Culturally ,Europeans and Africans are different. African American and european-americans are equally different because of the cultural development of the United States. 1. Race is not only the color of your skin, it implies a series of physical and mental characteristics in common in a certain group of people, this being a very similar genoma. Also the correct term would be " ethnicity ".2. Racist groups today believe in racial differences (which are actually real and factual), just because it is not politically correct to talk about it doesnt mean that it is wrong. The debate is centered on what to do with these differences between people and it is still pretty much debatable.3. Being anti- racism is a very recent thing, most big cultures and nations in the past were racist (and they were certainly not stupid), in fact discriminating other people is in the very nature of men since we are hierarchical creatures and can recognize patterns.For sure racism does not equal stupidity. I'm an Asian (Indian) who just moved to Forsyth County. I honest to God had no idea this was the county's history- You really can't tell. Blacks are still in the minority, I'm assuming purely out of fear, but most people I come across aren't racist mainly because people from Atlanta come from so many different places and countries. There is a much higher Asian population, and I believe the Hispanic population is still higher than the black population (but don't quote me on that). Because I came from a white-majority area (Indiana) it never occurred to me that Forsyth's black population is lower than surrounding counties; If I wouldn't have watched this video, I wouldn't have known. White people already have their own communities. That part is not racist at all. All races have their own communities. A look at history helps us to understand why minority groups have their own communities. When a minority group immigrates to any country, they rarely separate from each other because they are one another's support system. They speak the language and share the same culture. If you are a Jewish person living in an Asian community, you won't be killed or yelled at. In fact, the Asian community probably wouldn't even care. If an Asian person lived in a black community, they probably would not be chased out either. The people depicted in the video hate people solely based on their race , and that is what makes it racist .	Black, Race, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	4/129	3.101

I'm not sure what race you are, but that's the problem a lot of white people are clueless that racism is still present in all parts of the U.S. The funny part about your comment is that the north is just as racist . The south is just more upfront about their racism . The south will tell you how they feel. Most of the neighborhoods up north are still segregated into different races. I know people from the north who are actually terrified to go into the different neighborhoods other than their own, black and white - this was around 2003. I thought that was so weird when I visited the north. These days...The south is mostly not like that. Our neighborhoods have a good mix of all races. That's actually interesting you say that, because I too am from the NYC area (born in Manhattan in 1990, raised in Brooklyn and then New Jersey), and my very first experience with racism was actually in Queens. I was five years old and we were visiting family friends who were hosting a holiday party in Astoria Heights. I was in the kids' bedroom with some other kids and I asked to play with a toy. The girl whose toy it was said "Okay, you can have it but Jessie can't because she's black ." I was floored. Up until that very moment I hadn't even noticed any differences between any of us. Later, the same girl told us that everyone who didn't celebrate Hannukah had to leave the room because we weren't "special enough". It was a very weird night, to say the least, and even though at that time I was not yet aware of the terms " racism " and "prejudice", I have never forgotten it as the moment when I first experienced them. I clarify I grew up in The Bronx, a borough on New York City that is heavily minority driven. I guess I grew up in the 'white' part as people like to tell me, though it was pretty integrated, but I went to school with a good mix of people. Maybe as a kid I was just color blind and didn't really think about these things. I had black friends, Hispanic friends, Asian friends- I didn't really think about color I just thought 'you're my friend, we have fun'. My best friend growing up and her entire family who treated me like family were black . I remember we used to call each other sisters and people would get a bit of a strange look on their face, obviously I knew we looked different but it was never something that was in the forefront of my mind as being important. Having grown up in the South, but in a major city, and living for many years in the North in smaller communities, I've noticed it's more of an urban/rural divide. I live in New England and I'm actually surprised at the derogatory things I hear people say. They may not be dropping n-word bombs constantly, but their are a lot of loaded words, like lazy or talk about busing. One thing about being in the South, especially in cities, you are far more likely to actually know and interact with people who are black (disclosure: I'm white). It's odd to me how people from the North think they get a pass on prejudice by virtue of where they are born, no offense intended. Frankly, I rarely see any black people where I live and it sucks. I watched the original showing of this episode. When I saw that it was Forsythe county GA I just had to comment on this page. This is a perfect segment to show to children in High School to teach the topic of the roots of Racism . Forsythe County GA is the site of another one of the 99 KNOWN former All Black towns that were forcefully taken over by White mobs during the 19-20th centuries. There is a documentary about it and a few of the Black families who had their land stolen are still suing to get that land back. These people and others like them are the reason there can be no lasting peace between the races in the United states. Until Black people get the recognition and retribution we deserve from our oppressors there will never be real peace. We refuse to tell the truth and right the wrongs when it comes to Black people in this country. I'm a white, straight person who lives in Canada. I believe in God and is 16 years old . I support homosexual people and people of all races as everyone should in this day and age . I don't understand people who judge an entire religion. Who judges an entire race . I've seen plenty of jerks who were Atheist and I've seen great people that are Atheist. I've seen plenty of jerks that were Christian and i've seen plenty of amazing people who were Christian. I've seen good and bad Asians and i've seen good and bad blacks. I've seen good and bad whites. I don't judge whether you are slightly over weight or 90 pounds. If you are nice to me I'll be nice to you. I believe people shouldn't be judge unless it is for the better. (as in encouragement to make your life better). If you take your beliefs or morals so far that it involves you having to hate certain people, then I think you need to wake up and see the bigger picture and stop taking things too far! TLDR: IT DOESN'T MATTER WHAT RACE /RELIGION YOU ARE, DO NOT JUDGE OTHER PEOPLE FOR THEIR RELIGION/ RACE . WE ARE ALL HUMANS AND WE ALL NEED TO BE NICER TO ECH OTHER! The flag was nothin more than a battle flag and it stars and strips has no representation of race . The 13 stars represent the 13 confederate states. It was the hate groups that gave the flag an ugly image. The use the flag at kkk rallies because they know that slavery still exist in the south when the flag was in service. Today they try to say that the flag is just a symbol of southern pride and some take it a step farther and say it us a symbol of white pride. The flag itself is not the problem. It is the stigma given to it by white surpremist always dusplaying it at hate rallies that distroyed the flag image. If you think about it, slavery also existed under the stars and stripe banner too but there is no racist stigma place upon the flag. There is no underlined symbolic racial image represented by the flag like it is with the confederate flag. Thats one reason why you dont see it at white surpremist kkk rallies. If the racist would have never made use of the confederate flag at hate rallies then perhaps nobody would have ever complainedf about it still being displayed on state property, maybe. Some black southerners didnt have anything against the flag because of historical reason, not racit reason. +Michael Jung Now its not but its ok if you feel that way because I dont like the flag now for what it now stands for. Im just saying that when that rebel or battle flag was first created it was mainly created as a battle flag and did not symbolize white supremacy at the time it was created. Keep in mind that both the north and south had slavery before the civil war. Yes now the flag today represent racism , racial hatred and a who lot if mest up bullcrap and is flown buy racist thugs while the stars and stripes lost that racist slavery stigma many many years ago. BTW, I am black too but I am not trying to defend the use of the flag. First of all Slavery was a government program. Now that slavery is over and the government isn't racist as openly and stupidly, they do it differently.After slavery and Jim Crow , the government started another racist program called the welfare state. In 1960's, black women had 25 of their kids out wedlock, now it's 70. This harm blacks more than anything as they are still in the bottom of America. Now big government Liberals Democrats want to sell false narratives such the war on black males from the police, but to fail to mention that black males that make 6 of the population commit 52 of all murders, usually killing other Blacks. Of course this is caused by the failed drug war since the 80's and of course personal choice.Don't get me wrong I'm Libertarian and not that much fan of conservatives either but Blacks still vote mostly Democrats(Obama got 95 of the black vote, talk about racism) who give them freebies and want to increase the minimum wage, which hurt the inner city youth more. Rose Davis It's gotten more "racist" . In the late 1960s you would be strung up by your shoelaces if you dared question the liberal status-quo. Even republicans were more moderate. Fundamentalism wasn't near as strong. There are more race-conscious whites alive now than there ever has been. People everywhere are tired of political correctness. Whites are growing tired of being singled out and told to be ashamed - tired of not being able to take pride in their own ancestry - tired of being told that white skin bestows some kind of magical privilege and for that reason we should be very, very sorry. People aren't buying it and I don't blame them. The liberals have failed. Multiculturalism has failed. People are rejecting it. The fires of nationalism are spreading across all Europe and it has shown itself in America (Trump). This gives me hope. "We are the world", "kumbaya" egalitarianism is stupid - it's time we realize that a person's personality and temperament is determined by their genes, therefore we are fundamentally different. I honestly don't understand why people hate others simply because of their skin colour, why does the colour of someone else's skin bother some people so much? Just thinking about how people get all hot and bothered about someone else having a different skin colour actually makes me laugh because of how utterly stupid they are. It must be some kind of mental illness to hate others for that reason. joAnn beallHello not all black people act the same.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/10	10.0
+Tev While I agree with your argument, you just overstepped the main reason why people discriminate. It's not so much the color of a skin, but the behavior of that group that stands out. It doesn't even have to be a majority that displays this behavior, as long as it stands out, which is enough to attribute it to an entire group. Racists often do not care about the color of a skin, but instead certain actions or behavior that they perceive as unwanted and common behavior from that group. The hatred towards a skin color is a result of hating that group for some stupid reasons in the first place.	Common	Social Class - Working class	1/111	0.901

+joAnn beall Actually it's all about the color. All this nonsense about actions didn't start until the 70's when blatant racism started to be looked down upon. Before the civil rights act of 1964 it was perfectly acceptable for a White supremacists to say I don't like Blacks simply because they're Black . Martin Luther King Jr wore a suit almost every day of his adult life. He was educated and had a greater command of the English language than most White Americans. He was seen as a greater threat to the United States than any so called thug or lowlife. Look at all those Black men who were killed and beaten back in the day. Look at how they dressed, how they spoke and generally carried themselves. It's always been about race , Racism will never die it will just refine itself and transform. In 100 years from now the White supremacists will have a whole different excuse to justify hatred and mistreatment of Black people.	Black, Race, Racism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	6/165	3.636
+Tev It's about dehumanizing other people. Ever heard of the chain of being?? Unfortunately some people use that as a model for domination. If those who are in power at any given time can dehumanize others they feel it is justified to dominate others who are in an insubordinate position. The term " race " is a creation of the 19th century by scientists to categorize humans by phenotypical differences such as skin colour, yet you don't see a " race " of people based on the length of their fingers. Back in Roman times anybody who was dominated by Rome was legible to be a slave, it had nothing to do with skin colour or race because " race " didn't exist. Now we have this term " race " to obscure humans realities, it makes life more "convenient" for some people to attach meaning, and form a template about how they will act in front of certain other people based on false information. Not everyone is a racist , but nobody on this earth is free from living with prejudices.	Nobody, Nothing, Race, Racist	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - General	8/173	4.624

+Ian Paluck Excellent comment. In addition to the reasons you stated, the existence of "racism" also serves to divide people and put them in opposition to one another. If you've read anything by Machiavelli you understand the advantage gained in dividing the commoners into small groups in opposition to one another. Whether it's on grounds of "race" or nationality , or religion, or whatever, that division is advantageous to the powers-that-be. It keeps everyone fighting amongst themselves and keeps their eye off the ball.	Nationality, Race, Racism	Ethnicity - General, Nationality - General	3/83	3.614
+Rob Robert Humans by nature are oppositional. Whether it's black versus white, my team versus your team, liberal versus conservative, or Ford versus Chevy. The business of division and keeping the commoner's eyes off the ball is only a more calculated and sinister variant. But the desire to break off into "tribes" is a survival instinct, that will usually manifest itself in some way. Normal people will always team with the group with which they most identify, with or without media and government manipulation.	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/84	1.19
mista butterworth. Yes there are those differences in susceptibility to diseases. However a lot of those differences are because of differences in adaptations. For example white people are more prone to skin cancer, when they live in hot climates. Black people who move to northern climes, where it is cooler, are more susceptible to Vitamin D deficiency because their skin colour does absorb as much sunlight. Asian people often are lactose intolerant as their traditional diets did not include as much dairy. however the point is that these differences do not perpetuate over generations. For example I have noticed that most Australians of Anglo Celtic heritage have slightly darker skin tones than our English counterparts. I would guess that if nature was allowed to take its course white Australians will end up with much more olive complexations than our ancestors, in part because we do interbreed quite a lot and many Australians, who have ancestors that go back more than 2 generations, do mix racially. Furthermore, after 100,000s of years I suggest we would end being brown or black - because of skin cancer. Natural selection would breed out the fairer skinned people who were more susceptible to skin cancer. The so called differences between races are fluid. We probably won't now change as dramatically because humanity adapts the environment to i	Black	Ethnicity - Black	2/221	0.905

brontewcat The susceptibility brought about through eons of adaptation is what evolution is all about. Whether that manifests itself through genetic immunities and weaknesses, or something as seemingly superficial as skin tone makes little difference. Those varying paths of evolution that humanity has taken over the last couple hundred thousand years have made the different breeds what they are, as well as the cultures and languages that are synonymous with them... As far the current state of human evolution is concerned, the fairer skin types have most certainly shown no sign of being weeded out, quite the opposite. Skin cancer is not something that can be chosen out of a population through natural selection, and certainly couldn't have been long before anyone knew what it was. While it is more prevalent in lighter skinned races, like all forms of cancer, it is not race specific. And the more humans broke off into distinct types, the more those types have grouped together. Making interbreeding likely more of an anomaly now in the last few centuries than at any other point in history.	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/181	0.552
Marish Long I would love to see the scientific evidence of the things you commented on here. yousuckatdrawingSurely not all people of the same race have the same culture, there are a lot of black people that behave like the stereotypical white person and vice versa so therefore I don't understand how you can put it purely down to culture. The thing is racists hate a certain race regardless of the way they live their lives, all they need to know about the particular person is their skin colour and that is enough for them to hate them. So are you saying that racists only pick and choose which black people to hate or that they assume all black people have the same morals etc?	Black, Race	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	5/109	4.587
Tev I'm not putting it purely down to culture I'm saying that for the majority it's not just about skin colour like you suggested, I think it's more nuanced than that. The environment you are raised in is important. For example a white person living in a non-white ghetto would probably have a completely different outlook to a white person living in a gated white community. If you have never been exposed to the negatives of a particular culture then you probably wont understand the mindset of someone who has. If you are already of the opinion that the majority of people from this particular group behave in a way that you dislike, it's easier to apply these negative associations to all members of the group than it is to judge each person individually.Also humans and other animal species display a natural ingroup preference, trusting and welcoming people that don't look like you goes against millions of years of evolution, maybe for some people it's just innate. Others have probably made informed decisions, for example in Sweden 2 of the population (non-native) commits 77.6 of the rapes, the situation is so bad that the police don't even record the ethnicities of the perpetrators anymore, because pretending there isn't a problem obviously makes it go away. When I hear something like that I don't think I could condemn a Swedish woman for choosing to not associate with people from that particular group. One way you can do that is by making a judgement call based on skin colour/appearance. It's discriminatory but there's rationale behind it. Ironically I think it's unwise to assume that all racists think the same way, some of them probably are as you described, maybe not mentally ill but too stupid to have any real opinions of their own, but I don't think most people that would be considered racist fit that stereotype. I'm from Northern Ireland, UK, and I don't know much about America but this confuses me so much... Those white people are immigrants from Europe and the blacks are ones from Africa... How is one saying go home and not the other, they are both at home there or they are just both immigrants. I mean I don't want those people to come back to Europe if they act like that and ruin the community so I'm glad they are not "going home" but it just confuses me because America isn't a really poor country like lots of other countries where things like this happen. I don't want to ever go to America but most people aren't really poor and most people have normal things like TV and Internet but it's weird it looks like a poor crazy country like this and the people act like that too, but really we are only living a little bit better and richer than America compared to other countries where there is a big difference so I don't know how a country that has lots of people that aren't poor and I thought was normal can act like this and get away with it? The only racism I can sort of understand is Native Americans telling the white and black people to go home but not only is it the same, they are actually treated like immigrants from what I saw, I don't get it at all... America and Americans are scary, confusing and I'm jsut going to pretend it doesn't exist, I will make sure never to go on vacation in that direction in the world too... +swaggerlikecolgate By excess do you mean excuse? Typo? My point is racism exists on both sides and there are plenty of examples of white people being targeted when they move into some black neighborhoods. It has a lot to do with how expensive or should I say how inexpensive the neighborhood is. I know some blacks are afraid of gentrification of their neighborhoods. So it is the flip side of the same thing that happened in the past. Whites were afraid of plummeting house values when blacks moved in the neighborhoods. Atlanta is actually pretty diverse. What happened was the Olympics came and they tore down all the public housing. So then they gave people housing vouchers so they spread out to some suburban areas and the property values took a dive. Some nice areas turned to ghettos. So intown is now fancy condos and now all the minorities have to move out. The white population keeps moving further out. I just check statistics for Forsyth County, GA and I want to live there. Median income is $30000 larger and family income is $45,000 than national average. Murder is at 36, rape is at 28 (100 represent national average). Single parents make up 9, married couples make up 88. Education level is 16 higher than in average Georgia, 47 have bachelors and higher. Unemployment is 1.3 less than national average (5 vs 6.3). These are good numbers. Wonder what numbers I'll get when checking on cities that are politically correct and appropriately mixed.P.S. These statistics are from 2014-15. Demographics are (1st number is for Forsyth, 2nd number is average for Giorgia) - white: 85/62 , black - 3.5 31.5 , asian - 9.1 3.1, hispanic - 9.7 9.3	Black	Ethnicity - Black	1/132	0.758
+shmaveyeyea These stats tell me one thing. The number one determining factor in criminal activity is not race , but economical advantage and education. Why this part of fairly recent history is disturbing and seems out of this world and unacceptable but when it comes to more recent events about multiculturalism and the friction created between people many are saying that it failed or it should be stopped and is seen like some kind of plague? My observation is that there is no structural difference. At the core both are challenging the same feelings and ideas. Racism will never be eliminated because we discriminate in every part of our life, it's part of who we are and how we function. May be about what music we listen, what clothes to wear, what we will have for dinner, what job to pursue and so on. All we can do is to slow and easy eliminate or at least muffle as much as possible the bad parts, the parts which violate the rights and freedom of others. And that is achieved in time, a lot of it. 30 years is not even one generation and we can see substantial changes so maybe in 500-1000 years cultural differences will no longer be serious problems when it comes for people to live together. But for that to happen, current unrest and bumps are needed as part of the process.	Racism	Ethnicity - General	1/211	0.474

RACISM IS THINKING A RACE IS SUPERIOR ! SO SHUT UP WITH THAT. WHITE PEOPLE HAS THE RIGHT NOT TO GET MIXED WITH BLACKS.dang it. we respect black people that live in africa and have been living as the unique race of their place eversince the beginning of the humanity. WHITE PEOPLE RESPECT THAT. we don't search for taking away their culture from them, settling in their village. im shocked. whenever black people want their peace want their culture to be saved or anything there is nothing wrong about it. But when we decide to live that way we're racist . THAT IS RACISM . we'll never have the same right . According to the bureau of justice statistics , 52 of homicides are commited by black people as they're only 15 of the whole america. So we got the right to be scared ! black people now are all around the world, but we couldn't do the same in so many places from their origins. everywhere in america racism towards white people is allowed and its everyday all around us. I grew up in a small town in northern California in the 70s with people like this. These guys at my high school jumped and beat up a new black student because he was talking to one of their girlfriends. It divided the town and caused a lot of problems. These students were football players on the high school team and my dad was the coach.. He kicked them off the team. Their parents made threatening calls to our house and vandalized our garden. They put graffiti on my dad's car. The local newspaper wrote a article about my dad, basically calling him a communist and tried to get him fired from his job. Thankfully most of the town stuck by my father and their appeal was denied. My dad left at the end of the school year and ended up buying the newspaper that had tired to get him fired. We just recently moved into this county and I had NO idea it had this kind of history. You wouldn't even be able to tell it was the same place if you came here now. It makes me sad to see that only a few decades ago it was such a racist area, but it's also kind of amazing to see how much it's changed. It's an Atlanta suburb now, and there is lots of diversity. I'm on the edge of the county (closer to the city), but I can't imagine things throughout the entire county could be much different. I'm Asian but have never once felt discriminated against; I have African Americans, Asians, and Hispanics/Latinos in all my classes. If you drive through the area, you'll see restaurants and hubs of all races. The "big city" feel definitely changed things here. The ancestors of these idiot's kids may still be here (hopefully with changed views), but most likely, they fled to Southern Georgia/away from Atlanta when they saw the changes that were taking place. While I'm sure the racists still exist, I have not encountered anybody here who has been like this- So glad to say that things have changed, because this makes me sick. This is why Oprah is gazed upon till this day. She did "Jerry Springier" things and made it clear and civilized. Seriously in the USA you could be living less then a couple blocks or street away from such an area. Every area where red lining occured in the past is still pretty much the same color. Next thing somebody who is African related moves in they have screwed up children, or cousins who everybody is afraid of. The women are preaching negativity as well as the men. So it is impossible to escape negative minded people People build small communities only expecting people of there own kind to walk around the area. They are alienated shock to see somebody different come by, because they mostly use transportation. They have virtually a small town. White people live within distances of black people, only divided by transportation needs. One guy said; I have never been this close to a black guy before in his entire life. So the answer is yes they do exist. A good example is a co-op which looks like a group of houses but is classed as a building. They do not want anybody not European enough to move in and have excuses. But in a nutshell every single good looking place in the nation is just like that. Personally it is about living cheap and still escaping being around people of African decent. The biggest issue is that they have no money and no way of learning asides for grade school which does not block media (like the stuff on youtube or prime time television). A whole list of problems. We have the opposite problem. Those supremacist moving in and calling themselves part gentrification. Look at that Target Store kid being attacked. racism is a form of bias and bias is apart of human nature that we cannot change but we can change the level of ignorance and belligerence put towards these feelings which lead to racism discrimination and the teaching of this which is ten times worse because if your parent taught you to hate the color blue and you saw blue you would feel good hating it and proud belittling its value but if someone took away that chunk of your initial view on the world that grew with you, you would feel threatened - right ? Racism comes from close-mindedness, not intellectual incapability. Humans' natural response is to push away and abject anything that is not "us" or "unclean". When skin colour is fed into that, the result is racism because there's the belief that another race from 'us' is 'unclean'. And the only way to overcome this mentality is through education. +K B I wish people knew more about history too and lets not forget humanity as well. Black people did not invent or create slavery. This was something that most cultures practiced including white Europeans well before the trans-american slave trade. Slavery didn't exists as we know it today until the catholic church created a document called Dum Diversas (this document called for perpetual slavery) and the US court system got involved. The Middle Eastern countries would take Africans as slaves well before this. Slavery in the African countries was nothing like slavery in the Americas. Slaves were considered human and they weren't lynched, castrated, eaten by dogs, and ripped apart by horses like the Europeans did to punish slaves. Plus the slavery in Africa wasn't psychological, and it wasn't to destroy a whole race and break them down like the slavery the Europeans did. Slaves in Africa were prisoners of war and they where allowed there freedom after a set time. When the Europeans came along it pushed the Tribes in Africa in to an arms race . Which later lead to some leaders just trying to keep their tribes out of the slave system.	African, Black, Nothing, Race	Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	5/195	2.564

You kinda forget how intelligent and amazing Oprah is these days.... then these kind of clips pop up on YouTube, and all you are left with is awe and respect. Everyone knows the basics of what she came from, what she overcame – and that in and of itself is amazing. But in that time, and in that climate – she was so far beyond her time. I am left speechless at her insight, her bravery and her refusal to let society to tell her, to force her to believe that she was worthless and would amount to absolutely nothing . She didn't just prove them wrong; she beat every single obstacle that life could possibly throw down and she won – and rather than just relish that and ride away, she fought for what she believed in and did so in a society that was wholly against her. And I honestly don't feel she even sees it as the massive accomplishment it truly is; she pays homage to those that came before her (and rightfully so) but that does not negate her own achievements.I was born in 1986, and my exposure to her has pretty much been relegated to the "richest, most powerful woman in the world"; it's things like this that remind me who Oprah really is. I grew up a county south of Forsyth (Fulton) and, while I had heard rumors about this mentality, wow. Just, wow. I want to express whole-heartedly that this is NOT the opinion of the majority of people in Forsyth, or other metro- Atlanta areas any longer AT ALL. I was born in 1986, and to imagine this being a popular consensus only 28 years ago is nothing short of appalling. I worked in the area for a while, delivering pizza in 2006-2007 while it was still scarce to see African Americans in the county, I delivered to a black family one night and absolutely could not HELP but to ask about their experience being new to the area... they joked with me, jovially. Expressing that they felt they, "brought a little flavor to the neighborhood". I probably shouldn't have said anything, but I was honestly a bit shocked to see some new money of color up there... but happy to see it was so. I am a native Georgian, a native southerner, I grew up without an accent; I am not racist , I am a homosexual , I love being in the country, hunting/fishing, etc. Most all of my encounters with people here, native or otherwise, are unbigoted, accepting, and kind. I am happy to report that this attitude is no longer the norm AT ALL. I admire Oprah's bravery and lack of bias in this episode, she is truly amazing. She has always been a comfort to me. Please, please, PLEASE don't let these idiots convince you that the south is a hateful place, it's not. This was incredible to watch. How many strives we have made in the past and yet there are still in this case, whole communities that segregate an entire race to what they believe to be bad. The worst part is that we are now in the year 2015 and we still have the same problems as in our dark history, only now there are better structured laws, punishments and justice for it. Hey Y'all, I am from and live in Forsyth Co. and am disgusted by how this made us look... FoCo used to be one of the most racist counties in the nation , but that was almost 30 years ago, so much has changed in our county since. I wouldn't want to live anywhere other than FoCo, the people here are simply beautiful and loving and supportive of their neighbors, all of their neighbors, regardless of race or belief. We love our Friday nights our tea sweet and our southern roots just as much as we love each other. Two of our five high schools have been ranked top 500 in the country and top 20 in the state. My high school class had a graduation rate of 99.97, we are successful and driven and we always try our best to do what is right.... I am sorry for our past, but these things cannot be unsaid, just know that this was a very different time and a very different mind. I personally don't see the point in racism , judging people based upon skin colour or other physicality's, all races have good and bad people, just like all countries, religions etc My problem is that white racists seemed to be looked down upon much more, like if you're a white person who's racist it's some how worse then if you're a racist Asian or black person. And way, way too often people don't know the difference between a racist person and internationalised racism , therefore calming that persons of a certain race can't be racist . If people are racist , I don't care, as long as they don't try to preach it, force it on others, to me it just shows a lack of intelligence. the saddest misconception these "white" people have is actually believing they are only white! I look, was highly education, and talk like a white woman. I have pale skin, auburn hair, freckles all over my back lol. Yet, I am not white. I am French(Great Grandfather and Grandfather are from Normandy France) Native American (my fathers mother was pure Native American) then Scott's from my Mom's fathers side and Welsh from Wales on my Grandmothers side. This is my point. I look white, live like a white, yet one thing remains. The fact I am NOT white. This land was the Native Americans home first. British, Parisians, German (in the city I like in it was colonized by British and German settlers). So these people live in ignorance. 3/4 if not all of them are not pure sumarian white blooded. Thank you for educating people on this sad yet all too true form of racism. My Dad would of joined the KKK. The only other race he liked, other than white, was Native American. I played and was friends with many other cultured people. He would forbid me. However my Mom is the one who encouraged me that what I believe, that colour is not a factor in my life, is good. My Dad was a good man but totally ignorant about races. Why make exceptions for whites when he had Native American blood and was proud of it. It baffles me. I moved away from Toronto because it isn't even Canada there anymore. It's not about race , it's about knowing what it is like to be Canadian. I now live in a community that is 95 white and it needs more diversity. I also married outside my race , so it isn't a racial thing.... it's about having basic decency actually and when 70 of your population wasn't born in Canada then you cannot expect to raise your children as Canadians in those neighbourhoods. 2nd generation offspring are much better at understanding basic Canadian principles.... give it 30 years and Toronto may reflect Canadian values again.... BTW, Something of a side note: I don't watch Oprah Winfrey. (except for a few times whenever I was changing the channel to get to something else) I don't think I've ever watched her for more than 5 minutes at a time. The thing that has struck me about her is her uncanny ability to be talking about how much money she has (or something related to how much money she has) virtually every time I have ever had the displeasure of watching her. For anyone who is against race mixing because they think its a sin. It's not if they both share the same faith. God is absolutely NOT against interracial marriages. God only commands us to marry people of the Christian faith. He's concerned about a person's heart, not what color of skin he or she has. Some people might ask, "Why did God forbid Israel from intermarrying with surrounding nations?"The reason for this was not the color of their skin or their national origin, but the condition of their heart. These people were idol worshippers. They did not believe in the One True God. The same principle applies today for born again Christians; We should not marry anyone who isn't of the same faith. This is a big Psyop propaganda piece. The people in the studio being interviewd are actors. The reality is that many in the Black Community are no different in their views toward Whites. It is unacceptable to acknowledge or show this, though. The old argument that Blacks cannot be racist holds no water any longer. Not with a Black president, a Black Attorney General (2009-2015), many Black or pro- Black politicians, policy makers, influential public figures and corporate heads who have a very clear anti-white agenda which they are pushing on multiple fronts. The Spanish organized the black volunteers into a militia; their settlement at Fort Mose, founded in 1738, was the first legally sanctioned free black town in North America. I knew this would be on here. Our son’s high school lit class is studying books on ”stereotyping” and the results thereof. I told him it would be interesting to ”put the shoe on the other foot”, so to speak, and let the students see how easily you can get wrapped up in bigotry, racism, and stereotyping simply by being born or raised in a particular place. So I was actually on here searching for the whole video. Our family moved to Forsyth County in 1967, and lived there well after this horribly STAGED event (by the media) occurred. Suffice it to say, the gentleman ”Frank Shirley”, if that was even his real name, was not a Forsyth OR Dawson County resident, and there NEVER WAS a ”committee” of that nature in either county. Racism certainly DID exist, but it was not outward like it is portrayed in this video. Most of the people seen along the streets in the news footage were not from Forsyth County, or even Georgia! They had come from as far as Alabama, Tennessee and South Carolina as a result of various and sundry ”white supremacy” propaganda. Personally, our family was from Atlanta – our mother was a member of the media, and our father was a high school music director by day, jazz musician by night. We had friends and visitors of all natures in our home, and we never learned hatred like what is seen in this montage. Of course, it has been HIGHLY edited by OWN, but when it actually happened, the news media wanted to come to our church to film us during a worship service for NO REASON WHATSOEVER. In fact, it was always funny to us that, if what they were after was preaching on or against the topic, they would choose the only progressive church in the county rather than one that was 100 or more years old. Whatever the case, many of our church members, and many other church groups, went out and served water to the marchers who came with Hosea Williams. It is still disheartening to hear some of the things that were said, and yes, we still live close enough to the area and occasionally, some of the old timers still say the same things, but things have changed mightily, and for that, we are thankful. The truth of the whole matter is this: Mr. Hosea Williams attempted to lead a peaceful march through the city; the majority of people we knew went out to serve water and whatever needs they might have; but as usual, the media hyped it all up, incited riots, and then put the footage together so that it reflected as badly as possible on everyone concerned. We all just need to stop all the hating and HELP one another, for time is short, and we’re all in this boat together.	Old, Racism	Age - Over 65s, Ethnicity - General	4/481	0.832

PONYBOYonline I think what people who condemn these folks don't realize is that just as they themselves seek order, these people are trying to maintain the order and status quo as they see it. Many may not think their mindset is right, but the foundation for all our thoughts and concerns are the same. Theirs has led them to an ideology that isn't popular in this day and age . So we deem it evil and wrong. Disorder begins in the minds of each of us individual. And order will emerge from the thoughts of each of us when the time is right. Our level of consciousness is the same in this era. We can try and mask that fact with good deeds and political correctness. But if you sit in judgment on these people, how are we different than them. They are judging the world as they see it. And we judge them in return. They see certain things as evil. We see them as evil. We have the same level of consciousness. And like you said, we have the same level of emotional response too. Like the word says, let he who is without sin cast the first stone. I for one would look back at my life and slowly put my stone down and quietly walk away.	Age	Age - General	1/219	0.457
+knossis1 this is a real question and not rhetorical, if a side committed violent acts, or something that caused great pain (thought unfairly by some), would you not add more to the disorder by just walking away? is that the best thing to do? and again, this is not rhetorical, because I read somewhere about an indian guru who said he does not add to disorder by doing nothing , because he wishes no harm, nothing negative could come from it. I feel very confused about that (at the same time I really want to believe it, because I also know that doing something is not always the right thing), because it had always been that there are so many wrongs in the world that (unfair treatment from race , sex , creed, or corporations manipulating media, etc) is it not one's "social responsibility" to make things better? or is the right thing to do here just to accept it and not get caught up in it? ALFERD PACKER I think each of us must find a path that works for us in life. We are the creators of our own individual realities. There are shared realities, when you are at work, commuting to work, eating at a restaurant etc. But have you ever noticed how much control you have over the reality you create for yourself when you're alone in your home? It is during this time that you can play around with the notion of accepting things as they are, and not getting caught up in the things of the world. When I'm in my home, I control my reality. I don't watch tv, don't have cable. I don't watch the news etc. So I'm not blown to and fro on an emotional level by the day to day events presented on the nations newscasts. I didn't find out about the Boston Marathon bombings until two weeks after it happened. I don't ever think it's wise to get caught up in events that the world chooses to present to you. It's always best to be an observer, never a participant. If a riot breaks out, and disorder is the rule of the day, I can never add to the disorder by not participating. None participation will always reduce a situation, not add to it. But sometimes events beyond your control will require you to participate in situations not of your choosing. If there is a war going on, you may be drafted into it. If a ruthless dictatorship takes over your country, you may find yourself a slave or a servant. In these situations the control over your individual reality may be severely reduced, but you still have control over your reactions to things. This is where forgiveness and unconditional love come into play. These two things supersede right and wrong. Forgiveness overcomes wrongs and unconditional love rights all things. I don't sit around worrying about the so called right and wrong. There is nothing that states life is fair or that it should be. In this era the consciousness of humanity is the same across the board. We all live in fear, we all are slaves to our base desires, we all get angry at our fellow man, we have all lied, cheated and stolen. None of us are perfect. That's why I find it better not to get caught up in movements or conspiracy theories or even right and wrong. I let society govern itself. We have Civil laws to govern the worst offenders amongst us. I let them do their job. The problem with most people is they get caught up in the system. They think democracy or what ever form of government they live under is something to hold onto. The conspiracy theorists who think they need to overthrow powerful men who they believe seek to control the destiny of the world, are no different from them. Why? Because the conspiracy theorist seek to control our destiny too. They want reality to be as they see it. How is that any different in thought than the mega powerful among us who do the same thing. If we go from a biblical stand point, at every turn the Godly command is to come out of her my people. Meaning to come out of Egypt, come out of Babylon, come out of Greece and Rome. If you want true control over your life, you have to come out of the Man made systems in place, and live harmoniously with nature. You must walk away. I'm still in the system, so are you, so we are part of the problem on some level. I reduce that by not getting caught up in it as much as I can. I do this until I can find a clear way to leave it all behind altogether. Until that time, I won't seek to tear the system down or change it. I	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	1/772	0.13

Alex Turner These stereotypes are based heavily on statistics and observation throughout history. The concept of race is a very simple and direct explanation for these phenomenons. It has incredible potential over which groups of people are the best for investment when the goal of a civilization is to be as efficient and productive as possible.As you can see throughout history, the Whites and Jews have dominated the world and contributed to their civilizations far beyond any other race . Is it not wise to acknowledge this? Is it not wise to favor these over the rest?As for being harsh, it doesn't matter how I put it. This topic is very 'cold' since it clearly encourages removing groups of people of less value.	Race	Ethnicity - General	2/124	1.613

knossis1 You could add any racial slur to my comment, towards any race , and it would sound racist . But what I said is not. Even though we all have flaws and set backs, some of us actually feel bad about and try to change those things - in my opinion that is a good person. There are people who are so filled with hate, who have no remorse, and actually get a high from mistreating others - that is a bad person. I would prefer if everyone had a good conscience& they listened to it, and worked to better themselves, but it just is not that way. I do understand what you are saying about loving all and not judging, and I try to approach most things that way, but I've learned that some people are a lost cause and only an intervention from God can change them. Those kinds of people are untrustworthy and dangerous. I'm looking at this from a survival and flourish perspective. And you are very correct - with population growth, we would eventually be forced together again. As far as a war at my door step, nice doesn't mean weak. I do not mean that we should literally separate in that way, I just feel that in order to have a huge, lasting positive change in this world, those who will stand up for what is honorable need to stand together. I firmly believe that those who are reckless toward eachother and their enviornment (to a massive extent) would have been extinct at their own hands if it weren't for those who work hard at making this world a liveable place i.e. doctors , firemen, caregivers, those who feed the hungry and help the sick, those who protect and build safe living environments, etc. I feel like the ones who are self-centered and careless of life do not contribute to our exsistance, they only drain us of recourses (again, from a survival and flourish stand point).	Race, Racist, doctors	Ethnicity - General, Nationality - General	3/330	0.909

Sandra Hopkins Some of the things you mention regarding recklessness, survival and resource management are the foundation or bedrock concerns of many groups who want to separate from others who they deem are a drain on such things. I think the big mistake many people make is looking at this world as if it has any permanence. Science has proven it doesn't. The Universe is blinking in and out of existence daily. The earth is destroyed and recreated daily. Our existence is illusionary at best. Our universe is holographic in nature. A hologram created within every individuals mind. When we hold on to the things of this world as if they were something to fight for or stand up for, we miss the big picture. We miss the eternal things that do matter. Things like wave form energy, particle wave duality etc. The fact that before each of us manifest in human forms our carbon atoms where born within stars. We have always been here in one form or another. Each of us is the Universe made manifest. As the bible says The Kingdom of Heaven is within us. We are much greater than the world around us. Don't get caught up in good or evil. They are just labels that separate. The Universe cares little for your perceived morality. Most of the food many American's find on their plate isn't grown in America, on American soil. Many people in South America live in poverty so that we can enjoy the life we have here. American foreign policy ensures that these countries have leaders that will allow us to export their goods at rate and price to our liking. It's easy to sit back and judge others and say they are irredeemable, never realizing that our very existence in the world almost ensures someone will die and suffer elsewhere. Material existence is an epp and flow in have and have not. For someone to rise, someone must fall. Nothing we do here has any bearing on cosmology. There is no good or evil. There just is. The penalty for all our activity, be it so called good or evil is the same. That penalty is encoded in the flesh, and it is called Death. The penalty is carried out by the Weak Nuclear Force. All men will die, no matter if they are good or evil. The reward is also the same, no matter if you live a righteous or unrighteous life. The reward is we are all born again. We are given new name, a new Mother, a new Father, a blank mind, or clean slate. Having no memories of our previous lives or circumstances. This is the cycle of life. We see it happening around us daily. A continuous cycle of life, death and rebirth. The Universe is going through the same cycle of life and rebirth daily also. The ancients knew these things, their societies were based off of the study of astronomy and many other fields of science. They wrote mythologies about their science. Many of our modern religions most sacred books contain these stories. We foolish focus on the surface, on words like good and evil. Looking quickly for justification to judge one another's actions. Never realizing when we judge, we are just as flawed as the people we are judging. Like I have said, there is nothing to be gained for doing good or evil. For all things we see pass away daily. But the wise man chooses the righteous path, not because he seeks favor or reward, but because he is wise and can clearly discern the beginning and end of all things. Judgments will always lead to separation, which will always lead to greed, envy and eventually war. And with War,	Nothing	Age - Youngsters	2/676	0.296

Sandra Hopkins Sandra a big misconception amongst religious people is they don't understand the stories that are gathered together in the bible. They don't understand the societies and cultures that the stories were written under. They don't understand the world view of the ancient civilizations under which these mythologies were written. What we do is try and have the stories make sense to us today. And the stories were not written with us in mind. Just like many of our contemporary mythologies and stories aren't written with future civilizations in mind. The concept of Heaven and Hell are grossly misunderstood. Hell is not a literal place of burning the evil are sent to. There is no literal hell. All the stories in the bible are based on ancient science and cosmology. Genesis is not the story of the creation of our Universe. It's the creation of a Heavenly parallel earth that surrounds our literal earth. It's called the Celestial Sphere. The ancients mapped the heavens by creating the Celestial sphere around our earth. That created the constellations made to look like men, women and animals and used the shapes as navigational tools as they migrated from place to place. They wrote stories about their science of astronomy. It was a way for them to never get lost in their travels across the globe. Today we have GPS, in ancient times the whole world used the celestial sphere as their GPS. There science was much deeper than that, but I'm just trying to give you a surface understanding of things. If we were do look at the story of Genesis from a scientific stand point, The very fact that plant life is created on the third day and the sun on the fourth, is a big problem. There can be no plant life on earth with out the process of photosynthesis. The Sun is needed for Photosynthesis to occur. Other things like talking serpents and flaming swords are dead give aways that the stories are mythological in nature. So it really does no good to try and understand the concepts of good or evil through the eyes of mythological aspect of Hell. In the New testament the Greek word that is translated into evil is ponerous, which means labor, work or hardship. From the biblical perspective man labor or work is seen as a curse upon man. It is evil because man can not see his relationship with nature and the freedom provided by such a union, when he has to work laboriously, and pay money for food that nature gives to us freely. In Genesis God is said to have told Adam that because of the fall, the ground of the earth was cursed and man would now have to labor for his food. So from the biblical standard labor or work is evil and a curse upon man kind. So in essence every one of us who works are labors at a job is doing evil. We are disconnected from nature and live counter to it. In today's society when we use the word evil, we think of things like murder, rape, stealing, lying etc. But that's not how the ancients saw evil. Evil was any man made work or labor that took us away from a harmonious relationship with the heavens(Celestial Sphere) and nature. Even the concept of a Soul is misinterpreted. In the Genesis myth God is said to have formed man from the dust of the ground first and then God breathed into the form the breath of life second, and man became a living Soul or being. A Soul is not some ethereal spirit with in man. A Soul is man. Meaning from the myths stand point God combined two	Woman	Gender - General	1/877	0.114

knosis1Thank you for sharing that it is very interesting. I do know that the bible was written in a different time and with a way to describe things as they existed then. I also realize that many of the stories are mythological, and for the purpose of passing down certain beliefs.I do, however, believe that future generations were held in mind when many of the verses were written, and it states that throughout the entire bible. I still believe that rape, murder, etc. Can be lab led as evil, even with that understanding because it does take us away from a harmonious relationship with the heavens and nature. I believe it goes against the flow to a common good(I use the word good to describe the absence of hate, murder, etc). If no man/woman ever has intentions to be kind or helpful, some may survive, but I believe our lives would not be as long or productive in helping further generations along.I also believe that who we are/our choices do affect our next life - where we end up and how much suffering we endure.While I love to learn and appreciate intellectual conversation, I was only speaking of human behavior when I said "good and bad". And cannot be convinced that there is no such thing as good/bad behavior because I have lived it. I have also had two near death experiences in my life and during so, experienced a piece of heaven and a very vivid piece of hell. I must tell you that those experiences were while I did not believe in either and was against any form of spirituality. I have seen evil and it exsists not only within us but all around us. I have seen good and it too exsists within and around us. They are the yin and the yang - they are the "balance"of this world.	Common	Social Class - Working class	1/313	0.319

Sandra Hopkins You should check out a book called the Holographic Universe. It would give you a scientific provable explanation to what you saw during your near death experience and exactly what created what you saw. I equate near death experiences to something equivalent to our dream state. A state in which we are either astral traveling to other dimensions or our Holographic minds are creating these dimensions or Universes on the fly. None of us have all the answers regarding life, concepts like good or evil. But I know the Universe is a Loving one. It graciously endures all of humanities failing without condemnation. And as 1 Corinthians 4 through 5 states, " Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It does not dishonor others, it is not self seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs." The Universe operations on these same principles. It doesn't operate from the human stand point. for isn't the heavenly above the human or earthly. We keep record of wrong doing but the Universe does not. If we are to align ourselves with the heavenly, then why do we continue to think from a lower earthly standpoint. I don't worry about what good or evil mankind does to one another, I forgive and move on. I can guarantee any man or woman this, as long as their minds are set on earthly matters, on concepts like good and evil. Who is bad, who is not. They will continue to be reborn on with that level of consciousness until the full realization of these heavenly or universal concepts of Love , forgiveness, mercy and no judgments are brought fourth through the living of many life times. It is hard for many to grasp these notions in this age, this level of consciousness. But it's best to leave the judgment of mortal men and women to the heavens first and the civil authorities second. The heavens has embedded the same judgment within all matter, from the stars to all biological life. That judgment is death, doesn't matter what type of life you have lived, the judgment is balanced, its the same for one and all. The Civil courts aren't so good at their jobs, some are rightly convicted, some are wrongly convicted. It's not balanced, that's why the heavens supersede the earthly. You want a proper judgment for all universal activity look toward the heavens. You want an improper judgment for human activity, look toward the earthly.	Age, Woman	Age - General, Gender - General	2/427	0.468

Stan Howser It depends how you look at it, in some cases it's definitely failing, but on the other hand, when you look at writers, artists, musicians, actors, do you really look at someones cultural or racial background, sexual orientation, gender , skin color etc?It doesn't matter, we're all so very different, but not that different at all.Everything is paradoxical.	Gender, Sexual	Gender - General	2/61	3.279
+DaZeD Merlin It's hard not to look at it or hear about it when it's always shoved down your throat these days. You can't force multiculturalism and it's just awkward when people try. People are always going to be racist , and unfortunately, people are always going to be sensitive pansies who think the world actually has a chance of being some perfect Utopia.	Racist	Ethnicity - General	1/63	1.587

Connor D You're right, but that's black and white thinking again, it's really everything, everything is paradoxical. Racism can be a lot of different things, hating someone purely by the color of their skin is racism , but when you don't accept certain behavior linked to people of a certain race or culture is racism as well.So you're right, it will always exist, and it's normal to link certain behavior to certain groups of people, stereotyping is functional, it makes us able to organize things in our minds.But the exception makes the rule.In social groups we always seek out who we belong to the most, prison is a great example of how racism , or fascism works.If everyone was literally mixed up though, and every race was mixed, racism wouldn't even make sense anymore in the long run.I'm not naive enough to believe that our world will ever reach a point that we all get along though, but it's possible to some extent.I think you should be able to laugh at racial differences as well, black comedians laugh at whites all the time, while being certainly offensive, and maybe racist , I can still appreciate how they portray our differences.	Black, Race, Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General	10/203	4.926
DaZeD Merlin I think even if everyone were the same race , there'd still be people categorizing people of different shades. That's how futile I think it is to try to force prejudice to go away lol. The more attention you bring to it the harder it is to get past. It's refreshing to hear from someone with a realistic perspective on it though.	Race	Ethnicity - General	1/63	1.587
Connor D Yes, the more you focus on a problem the worse it becomes.If we were all the same race we'd still do it, sure, even now we already do it to our own race , redheads get bullied a lot just because they look different, in Africa albinos have a very hard time to fit into society, sometimes they get killed just for being albino.Not accepting someones gender , sexuality, the way someone looks or behaves, it's all some form of fascism, and we all do it all the time.It's human nature, but we can try, if we can acknowledge the fact that we have a hard time accepting something that is different we can work on it as well.I'm not saying some people don't fit their stereotypes perfectly, but pure hate based on race , or color... it's just ignorant imo. There are places in the extreme north and northwest parts of the U.S. that have few if any black people. There it's not so much about racism as the fact that slavery wasn't practiced much there (so not many black families that go way back) and some places are extremely rural (so not many jobs to draw in people from outside). What they aren't telling you about Forsyth county is that it's the wealthiest county in Georgia. The median income there is about $84,000. In 2008 it was ranked the 13th wealthiest county in the entire U.S. Obviously not all black people are poor. Some are quite wealthy. But the vast majority of black people who might like to move to this county simply can't afford to do so. While there are no doubt a considerable number of white people in the county that actively move against black people moving in, money is a much bigger factor. Just speculating here, but it wouldn't surprise me if some of the very wealthy white people living in this county make it a point to outbid any black people they find winning a bid on a house. It would be especially easy to do if they own and operate the real estate companies in the county. In 1912 a white woman was raped in Forsyth county, allegedly by a black man who allegedly later brought some of his black friends over to rape her some more. She died a short time later from pneumonia thought to be contracted from spending all night out in the woods naked. One of the accused men was killed by an angry mob in his jail cell. The rest were sentenced to death in court and hung. White vigilantes ended up running off an estimated 98 of the black population of the county in the following months. They weren't with the KKK as the original KKK, which was formed in the aftermath of the Civil War, had ceased to exist long before back in 1871. Later though some of the people involved became members of the KKK when it restarted in the 1920's. By the 1920 census, only 30 non-whites lived in the county. However, by the 2010 census, only 85 of the population was white (still higher than normal). Anyhow, that's a county in Georgia ended up with such an outrageously high percentage of white people. Over the last several decades, the Atlanta area has grown enormously. Demand for places to live has skyrocketed. I suspect that's why the demographics have changed so much.	Black, Racism, Woman	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	11/427	2.576

But whats more strange: the guy who wanted to research it have been attacked on the streets, and even men came at their home and beat him and his wife, and said that they should stop with the research. And they refuse further research in the cave they found it... you find more on the internet. Just like the pyramids they are way older than they ssy they are. +MsSlam1234 I get what you're saying, but unfortunately it's just not true. It has NOTHING to do with race...nothing . In this society we have today, there are the "haves" and the "have nots". It's just the way it is. When you go anywhere, healthcare, restaurant, gym...the "haves" will get the better treatment. Like I said, this has nothing to do with race ...it doesn't even have to be about money. It may be about a pretty person being favored over a not so pretty person. This behavior doesn't make it right, but that's life. But my point is that we can't avoid the truth just to make everyone feel "accepted". That just isn't reality....the PC propaganda machine pushes this, but it's in our nature to favor what we desire. Are ALL of your friends your BEST friends, or just one or two? They're just good friends or even acquaintances, but this PC world trains people NOT to offend anyone. I have LOTS of really close friends, I have only TWO "BEST" friends....TWO. One is my wife, and the other is a guy I grew up with, we would take a bullet for each other. All my other friends know this and can handle this. You see my point? We are NOT "all" equal, no matter what people try to force upon your beliefs. EVERYONE is biased, and even racist to a certain degree. Not violent racist , just having an opinion or a preference isn't racist . But in today's world it's considered HATE. The same with homosexuality, but that's another story. Jeff W Whoa, don't be so quick to pat Canada on the back. Of course prejudice happens here. But in case First Nations yes to the same degree as blacks.. Governments and churches colluded. I am Canadian and I know. . It will take another 100 years to wipe out memory and the fall out of a torn up nation . They are still fighting to get land claims ratified. They have to prove back many generations they lived on lands, but white people desecrated all traces of some of those communities. Now we are bending over backward for immigrants of all colour to sometimes detriment of Canadians. So that would be a form of intolerance of Canadian ideals in favour of Hindu or other religions over and above ours. But that is another topic.Example: I was mistaken for first nations when in grade 1. Let me tell you it was not pretty. Getting blamed for things I did not do, being made to stay after school (5 years old). Would not answer me when my hand was raised. Getting some of my work marked wrong, when it was correct, which was evident when it came to arithmetic. So to confuse a young mind who can calculate and still be told they are wrong, crazy making. My parents went to teacher with my math book I took from class with evidence of tons of X's where it should have been marked correct. First thing teacher said..."Oh, so she is not a little Indian ". It was only half a year and my life got normal. I was not beat or shoved in residential schools away from my family for years....so a tiny taste of what they endured, tells us we berate peoples for not "getting over" the past transgressions, while they must get re-educated and their lands back. SinginSoldierNoCal Diversity in a city does not create wealth. It's a nice sentiment and it would be cool if it were true, but it isn't. That would be mixing cause and effect. Wealth is what creates diversity, not the other way around. Wealthy areas have jobs and benefits like well funded schools, high end medical care, etc. If you started with 100 wealthy white people in an area, the hordes of people seeking jobs and other benefits would quickly produce a high amount of minority representation. The fact that this wealthy county is not chock full of minorities is surprising because normally such wealth would create a large minority population even if there wasn't one before. There's a reason for that which goes back to a racially charged incident in 1912, but I'm not going into that here. Nobody wants to live in Forsyth county? Are you kidding me?In 1990, a few years after this video was made in 1987, the population was about 44,000.In 2000, it was about 98,000In 2010, it was about 175,000.In 2013, it's estimated it was about 195,000. The population has almost doubled every 10 years. People want to live there very badly. It's very close to Atlanta and people who work in the incredibly fast growing Atlanta area are desperate to find a place nearby where they can afford to live. Now I realize that to someone from a major metropolitan area like New York these numbers might seem small, but the total population of Georgia is only about 10 million people. So, in a state with 159 counties, one person in fifty lives in Forsyth county (not one person in 159 which would be average).	Nobody	Age - Youngsters	1/285	0.351

heyitsreyna123 And people wonder why systematic racism still exists to this day and why some minority communities haven't been able to advance. When you create a sub-culture of "lord of the flies", you only get a community that is broken down due to lack of opportunity and a dog-eat-dog mentality. Slavery may have ended in 1865, but that doesn't mean that racism ceased to exist.	Racism	Ethnicity - General	2/65	3.077

Which white people Emmanuel? You said stated it in general terms "But do white people like me?" I can't speak for all white people so I don't know. I don't know which black people like you or dislike you or anyone else. I believe part of the problem is we all sometimes tend to generalize. I believe there is not much worse bigotry than when a black person is anti gay or when a gay person is anti black or whatever other insane bigotry. There are huge numbers of black people who are racists. Nation of Islam is filled with bigots. There are a lot of racists who are white idiots too. I believe it's a human problem of ignorance & fear. Those two things lead to anger which leads to hate. It's shameful there is still bigotry going on in the US today yet most of it is directed against LGBT at this time. Science proves homosexuality is as natural and normal as race but some are too ignorant or indoctrinated into a form of religion to understand reality. Things are better than 30 years ago and much better than 60 years ago but once racism and homophobia ends, humans will find something else to pick on people for which is why it's a human condition of mental illness. BTW, I'm white & I don't hate anyone. I base like vs dislike on the individual but even if I dislike someone, I don't hate. I might dislike how someone is acting or how they behave yet I know people can change for the better so there is at least one person out there who doesn't hate you. I suspect there are millions.	Black, Gay, Homophobia, LGBT, Mental, Nation, Race, Racism	Ethnicity - Black, Ethnicity - General, Nationality - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments, Sexual Identity - General, Sexual Identity - Male homosexuality, Sexual Identity - Transexuality	16/282	5.674

Kyla Kay I mean anti-White propaganda indoctrination that tells us that mass third world immigration & forced integration/assimilation resulting in our people becoming minorities in their own lands is good for us. The same anti-White propaganda that tells us that we deserve it because of slavery/colonialism etc etc ..The same anti-White propaganda that tells us that while every one has the right to freedom of association, this right is denied to White people who want to live among their own as the lady at 2:04 in the above vid is reasonably asking. Education in subjects such as Math, physics etc do not carry the same ideological baggage as say History and sociology which can be grossly skewed/misrepresented depending on what ideology you want to push. The elites that rule over us at the moment have deemed that egalitarian Marxism is the ideology which is best for us and anyone who disagrees or dissents is a hateful bigot. A great example of this is the comment left below by Vinicius Martins; he's spouting verbatim the same clichéd egalitarian idiocy that he was indoctrinated with without even questioning its logic: "we are all the same" and "we all bleed red" what does that even mean? Rats bleed red too are we the same as rats? Should we be happy to share our living spaces with them "despite all our differences"?	Red	Ideological and Political Identity - General, Ethnicity - Native-American	4/228	1.754

peterpedant As a black male, I do see the elite goading the population into whatever politics they choose (currently, it's allowing 30 million illegals, in order to begin forming the NORTH AMERICAN UNION). I'm an artist and a NYC educator (over 12 years). Twenty-something, white liberals migrate to New York City and teach in "urban" schools to indoctrinate the youth with their version of sexuality, history, etc. They are instructed on what to teach (including Common Core). There were, in fact 2 elite societies in the early 20th Century. One was the more Bohemian society, and there was another, more conservative. BOTH are playing for the minds of a glib, unsuspecting public. This public regurgitates what they've been trained to think. Why is Malcolm X and Marcus Garvey regarded less than Martin Luther King and Mandela? SUBMISSION. Easy. And I LOVE Malcolm X. If people could cut the hyper-sensitive, reactionary talk....they'd see he was light years ahead of King. And if Black Americans walked on Malcolm's path (AFTER he separated from the Nation of Islam) they'd be more self-sufficient, today. The elite knew this (particularly those who want dependency) & knew Malcolm was the greater threat. I may not agree with all your points, nor David Duke's points.....but, some are valid & I'm not hyper-sensitive. I'm very much against the violence & lynching. Emmanuel Owusu First of all guys, the bone of contention of my comment was the high cost of education in America. I never intended it to be a platform for racism and for those who think skin color has anything to do with intelligence, o well, go ask Dr. Benjamin Carson.The America i see today, compared to what our founding fathers saw with their minds eye, is awful. We're 7th in literacy, 27th in math, 22nd in science, 49th in life expectancy 178th in infant mortality, 3rd in median household income, 4th in labor force, 4th in exports, etcGuess what we lead the world in: Number of incarcerated citizens per capita and defence spending.The America that i heard and read about waged war on poverty and not poor people, made ungodly technological advances, cured diseases, and cultivated the world's greatest economy. We reached for the stars and acted like men. We aspired to intelligence and did not belittle it. Why? Because we had an informed citizenry. Race is an issue. But i won't talk about racism . I prefer to talk about education. If that ghetto guy was educated, succeeded in business or had a career, no one would be scared of him. Wouldn't matter if he was white, black , hispanic or whatever. Ladies and gentlemen, we need to reinvent our system of education, make it more affordable to the average man or woman on the street who has no parents or help from anyone in society. We need to make education affordable so that when students graduate from college, they wouldn't be so much burdened with enormous student loans and the likes. I have so much more heartfelt comments to make...i would pause here though and solicit your concerns as well. What's up with the football helmet hair style of the 80's? LOL! Seriously, though, as I am of mixed ancestry, and predominantly Indiginous Native American - in appearance as well as dna, I have no problem having black or mixed people anywhere in America. I have one message for those who think America should be white only - get in a boat and go home! I'm on Ancestral land, and me and The People are here to stay!
