I can tell that i witnessed at least as much violence from women as from men. I would even suggest, it was more from women. Against children, against men (when they don't get what they want for example)...what angers me talking about that, is, that the violence of women is usually excused: " She was overstrained with her children!" or "He did this or did that, so she had to explode!". I am 40 years old now and made some very sobering experiences with women. My whole life I thought, that men are responsible for the most evil things, but seeing all the behavior of women now more clearly, I think it is pretty much enough evil in them, too. Culture appropriation is one of the stupidest things I've ever heard. Literally a 'problem' made by ppl who are bored and want to have superiority over others. I am white but I come from a culture where we have our own traditional clothing and I would never tell a person of colour that they could not wear it cause if they really want to why not? Just as long as you're being respectful. Telling someone they can't wear something is racist because you're creating some kind of superiority over them telling them what they can't and can do. About the first fruitcake , I'm curious how much drama is actually brought by their own actions. People like this seem to always be looking for a fight, they dress like freaks so that someone can say something to them or look at them a certain way, it then gives them an excuse to go off on the victim angle. "Acknowledge your privilege!" Bullshit. Males literally have less rights than women. No control over child but financial liability, by law women always get custody unless proven beyond all doubt that the mother is unfit, and if a woman accuses you of being the father you have I think it is one month to prove her wrong or else you are by law held liable. I could state more but this is just complete and utter bullshit.	Woman	Gender - General	1/76	1.316
the AC thing is just common sense though. Would those women rather put on a sweater or have it be warmer and deal with their male coworkers in shorts and tank tops? I mean.I'll say this. There is definitely a level of misogyny in the world that is unacceptable. As an online gamer, it's been something that's really stood out: every girlfriend I have had has been harassed by guys online endlessly, whether on social media, or games, etc. That being said in some instances it isn't as ridiculously one sided as feminists portray it to be. I was friends with a girl who raped me repeatedly over the course of the year and used drugs to accomplish it. She'd get me drunk to the point I'd black out and she'd intentionally mix my drinks to get me to a point where should could me drunk enough to have sex with me and I wouldn't remember it. Sure, I liked her, sure, she was hot, but it was still wrong. We were supposed to be just friends.I think the major problem with views like feminism is they can be so polarizing, but honestly I think if people just empathized they'd see where each side is coming from and we could actually reach a reasonable compromise. Rape convictions ARE low. And the sad fact is the law just isn't equipped to deal with those sorts of crimes adequately. And people do have a right to be mad about it: we have a type of crime that is more difficult to prove than any other, but the aspersion of it can ruin your life. It's a complicated issue and we have a long way to go.There is a lot of feminist stuff I'm against, but I also recognize once you start ignoring the opposition and just looking at their ideas as something to be beat is the moment you're as bad as the most extreme feminist.If definitely seems alien to a degree, to men. We don't get the messages women do. If you've had a girlfriend who is even moderately attractive? Dick pictures sent on facebook. All the tme. All day. You've already dealt with guys who only want to talk to her if she's not with her boyfriend. Guys who ignore her even after she's turn them down. Men deal with these problems, but it's not as widespread as women. Not by any degree.	Alien, Black, Misogyny, Sex	Ethnicity - Black, Gender - General, Nationality - General	4/375	1.067

as a woman (yes i have to say i'm female because my comment would be less valid if i was a man), i absolutely HATE the whole 'teach men not to rape' thing. It's like teaching someone not to murder, or teaching someone not to rob or maim or set someone's house on fire. In your everyday setting, any sane human being would know not to rape. If you have to teach someone not to rape, then, as Ben said, you have bigger problems on your hands. It's literally common sense, and I feel that this 'feminist' movement of the modern age is robbing men of common sense. These women (and some men) walk around acting as if men don't have any common sense. As if men don't know that it's bad to rape someone, as if men don't know it's bad to be blatantly racist or sexist to someone. Men are human beings, and it's human decency that stops people from committing violent acts such as rape. I know a guy who thinks it's okay to rape, and literally nobody condones his actions. He lost all of his friends after they found that out about him, because all his friends had common sense. It's sad how these people are going around calling themselves feminists when they have no idea what the term means, or the damage their actions and ignorance is making. And whenever you stand up against them, they shove their excuses in your face. It's a sad fact that people like that exist - but I suppose all we can do is ignore them if they bother you, and carry on with your life of not raping people. I think most feminists know at least in the subconscious that even though they are individually not smart enough, not logical enough, or independent enough (at this time) to be on par with men due to centuries of male dominance (which I do agree to), I think they secretly push this feminist agenda of male demeaning and women entitlement (or empowerment as they refer to it) anyway !!Feminists haven't found a good way to bridge the gap, and there is a gap due to 'majority dominance', which is fair thing to recognize. Men have built things from machines, cars, bridges, and houses and buildings, and a lot (not all) but most do have that masculine touch to it. Like stick shift driving for example, only 2/10 women can do that, and probably 4/10 men can do it. I dunno random numbers, but my point can still continue. I understand the need to having AC a tad warmer, I've had a female coworker complain about the cold, and the men coworker complain about the heat. It makes sense given our different body types. This rape culture thing is a bit more serious though, especially due to being physically dominated with bigger male muscles, but not just that, they're claiming they were psychologically manipulated due to their emotional imbalance? so are they claiming men have stronger emotional control as well? Huhn? So the question of what women DO have to make up for lack of muscles, and lack of emotional control come to mind.. I know they ARE different BUT equal, but HOW exactly I wonder... (Seriously wondering right now, not being sarcastic). What do they have of in equal value to make up for their feminine "helplessness" and "vulnerabilities"? Does there gorgeous curves make up for it? or am I just a chauvinist for not able to think of something now? .. thinks ..they're nurturing.. pillows.. (damn my chauvinist mind).. there's gotta be something... long sexy hair.. the talent of not being unaffected by the phrase 'be a man', as there's no equivalent to that insult in the feminine world-So, I think that's an advantage right? you can never say "be a woman" and expect another woman to get offended by that. Could their weaknesses be their strength? .. less muscles, but maybe they have better orgasms? less emotional control but more quality happiness? they do.. have better smiles and seem to be having more fun... I've always been jelly about their big butts cushioning their seats, must be more comfy I've thought. What else.. they'd have waged less wars, maybe saved economy better, more animals, more compassion, possibly avoided slavery and land conquering altogether, alright I think I'm getting it now ladies, or most likely I'm not, despite my effort. Just tell me!All in all, I'm on the side of women actually, but not at the cost of my de-masculinity. You can't just undo what's happened to men, how their minds have conformed to on their view of women, this perspective is learned from society, you can't change all that overnight, can't undo the movies/music we've watched and heard that are about objectifying women; Can't undo centuries of lifestyle scenarios where women tend to stay at home and not-mow the lawn, you can't undo all that in a rapid way. I have no doubt we will get rid of these stereotypes naturally. I'm seeing women mow the lawn now, drive shift, speak up and shut up hot heads in conference meetings. It's happening. Why do we need to rush I wondered... then from history

3:40 this woman 's take is such an absolute breath of fresh air, every feminist/SJW/Snowflake should listen to, it only they could shut their cry holes for more than 10 seconds. Now, for all the kiddies out there, (and all SJW windbags that somehow made it to adulthood without learning this) listen up. This woman is teaching the single most important lesson for all who are smart enough to hear it, boys and girls, men and women: That is how a person gaind strength, through her actions. That is how a person gains respect, by earning it. Do you see the difference between how this person gets everything SJW snowflakes complain and whine about wanting for themselves? Her actions dictate it, she doesn't need to ask someone else to give it to her, she went out and got it herself. SJW culture of whining for change, for blaming others for their precieved injustices, its not necessary, in fact its counter productive. Dont depend on others to give you everything you want by bitching about being a victim. Just change yourself, dont worry yourself about other people, none of your business anyway, you worry about you, and I guarantee you can have anything you ever wanted, if you dont want to be a victim, stop behaving like one and take some control of your path in life. All sexes, races, creeds, these segregated groups are all a mental perception. Self strength through self respect. Ben Shapiro, my only issue with what he said about calling police is the fact that minorities, especially black people are often arrested when they are the ones who call the police, because police in America see black people as the aggressors and criminals. I'm gonna put myself in those shoes for example. So, I call the police and say there was a break in or that I've been assaulted and need assistance because I fear for my life. The cops show up on scene and without a word from anyone pull their gun on me (the minority/ black person) and order my hands up or me to the ground. From there, I am cuffed while the person who assaulted me (non black person) is free to roam about and not cuffed. I attempt to explain to the officer that they are cuffing the wrong person and that I'm the one who called and I even have video evidence, as onlookers confirm what I am saying. I'm still cuffed, searched without my consent, and possibly even public disturbance or trespassing (on a public sidewalk or my own property) charges brought against me and then only after I sue the city do the police act like they didn't know about it or that the cop lied in his report. Only then do they investigate even though I filed a report against the officer for wrongful arrest over 3 days ago and nothing had been done. The police department will at first say the officer did nothing wrong and then once body cam footage is released they'll either take no action, fire him (where someone will give him a better job if he's white), or he'll get a desk job and his normal raise or more pay without restraint. If he's retiree age and committed a crime such as false/wrongful arrest, they'll let him retire even though he could have been this way his entire career. Other civilian jobs fire people and then you get no retirement if you do a shitbag action that deserves firing. Not police, apparently. Not when you're white. So no, Ben. That's the part I don't like about your statement. Most everything else was on point, when you don't have misogyny in the court, police force, or court. Yes all Rubbish. There are Toxic Males and Females. Mild Males and Females. Aggressive Females and Males, Sexual Predator Females and Males, Submissive Males and Females. The way they go about it varies. There are passive aggressive Men and Women. There are emotionally abusive women and men. There are physically aggressive men and women. There are verbally abusive women and men. Every human develops differently. The only difference in my opinion is the proportion of the above will vary between the sexes. Just remember Emotional Abuse is considered by most Experts in the Psychology Field as one of the worst forms of abuse because it is difficult to identify. Women tend to have the skills in this area far more than men. Conversely Men have the necessary traits overall be more Physically abusive. The obvious is not always the worst. As an older obviously attractive man I would like some of these Feminists to tell me how to say "No" to some women without the risk of a Tantrum.The Sexually Aggressive side of some is unreal. The Woman Sales Person who tries to use her Sexual Charm to Sell.Some are unreal even if you use far more Polite Language than "No". They storm off yelling. They abuse you. They shout and yell. The worst I ever had was when she stormed off forgetting her telephone and two gold earrings. Next morning she rings the Police and tells them I stole her telephone and ear rings. I would love for a feminist to ask me my standpoint on transgenderism. I have a transgender ftm partner, but he knows that I dont completely support the idea of transgenderism. He himself calls it gender dysphobia sometimes, so he understands that it is a mental disability. I told him flat out "i have no problem calling you a boy or my boyfriend, but i do not support the idea that men can be women and women can be men." I personally believe in freedom of choice. They can choose to turn their penis into a vag, or take certain pills to give them horomones of the opposite gender , but i dont support it. So when i say id love to have a feminist ask me about how i feel about transgenderism and pronouns and all this, ill simply say "there are two genders and sexes. Male and Female. I am not gona call anyone something other than he/she/them. I do not support transgenderism, but indupport your own personal choice." Id love to see them look at me and say im wrong, because if they were to do so, they would be saying that they shouldnt be given reedom of choice and that i should support them being made to do so. The first guy is a passive aggressive zeta male. Just because you're gay , don't mean squat. There plenty of gay men out there who don't act like you and who don't get abuse on the street like you. Maybe if you behave like a normal person sometime instead of this daily " queer " flaunting that you do, maybe if you stop being so passive aggressive at people with your bullshit, they will leave you alone. It's perfectly natural to laugh at ridiculous things, and you sir, the way you act and the way you are is ridiculous. It's not respectable. Ah motherfucking Scottee. You are a fucking victim of masculinity! Fuck the victim part, you are fucking man. I don't dislike gays. I only got a problem with it when they be flirting with me. Like bruh, step off. I know I'm good looking, thanks for the compliment, but its uncomfortable. Most men mean well with what we say. But this agression with SOME men, is how we were raised. And rape? It's a horrible thing. I get it. I was a raped. But it is always talked about. The halls of school, in the walls of your home, all over you know? Feminists, you had your good points a long time ago. With prohibition, some things needed to stop like drinking overly. But people are allowed to drink, but its the choices they make to continue having a good time and maybe go over. With working conditions, yes I love it. We needed better working conditions. And we do now in these countries now. 3rd world countries? That don't really know better but it's how they live. I love all people, black, white, Asian, gay, women, men. I don't hate people, I hate actions by them. White supremacy? Some people are racist. My dad is black and he hates white people and people of color. Racism isn't inherited, its started by something. My great grandmother was a slave in the 1800s, but I, as a white man, am not racist. Slavery was wrong. But there are some people who are racist, such as my dad. And actually, some of these people who are bashing on white people, you are being somewhat racist against white people. But not all people are racist. Not all people hate each other for skin color or a gender but for points made. Actually, did you know that whites are actually the minority? People of color were cramped onto these boats by the hundreds and brought to America and there had to be at least 16 white men on these boats making sure everything went right. Now fuck the people that say some people were meant to be enslaved, no that's so wrong and racist as heck. Now I love all people man, but man, the people who are just bashing because what they heard? That ticks me off. And honestly, I'm not trying to play minority or majority. But these are just the thoughts that I have. Let me know if you feel the same way or if not, I'd love to hear your side too.Love men, love women, love black, whites, Asians, Africans, Russians, and anyone else. As a victim of sexual assault I'd rather be cat called, or have a sly comment made than the alternative that I got. Cat calling and sly cheeky comments ARE NOT SEXUAL ASSAULT . Now excessive unwanted touching or groping is sexual assault, not when someone touches your arm lightly or your thigh. If you don't want that touch move or give a warning that you'll call the police if they persist. Please do this. They persist then that's sexual harassment, assault if they get physically aggressive. When you tell someone to go away and yet they continue to make dirty comments and making you very uncomfortable is verbal assault. But not SEXUAL ASSAULT . This is what I as a victim identify as sexual assault. Once you experience the real thing, you will definitely be able to tell the difference. Well most likely.	Sexual	Gender - General	6/142	4.225

While we live in a country with many cultures and therefore room for racism , that is not to say that EVERYTHING that depicts or resembles a culture that is 'oppressed' is oppressing that culture. The logical term for this fallacy is the fallacy of composition, when something is presumed true of the whole based on that thing being true about a part. In this case, the effect of oppression through depiction in other things, such as rude satire or art, is transferred to a mere Halloween costume, and the connection through race used as proof that the costume is racist . This argument has been used many times and disproved many times. As the title says, feminist vs. logic. And logic always wins. Whew. Please like my if you understand any of this. Every like is another triggered feminist defeated.;)	Race, Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - General	3/141	2.128

I just want to kill my self at this point feminists are fucking this world up men can't win with anything when it comes to a woman since women get much shorter jail sentences then men in any crime they do then men can get put in jail over accusations of a woman and she gets away with it and possibly a money reward for the fake accusations and doesn't have to pay it back. An example of this is an American man in school had a scholarship for football and this woman accused him of sexual harassment or rape ad he got put in jail and lost that scholarship while the woman got a money reward for 'traumatic event' and didn't have to pay it back when he was found not guilty she didn't even go to jail. Then women complain about something that's stupid and when men don't do it or do it they complain that their doing the EXACT THING THEY WERE PISSED ABOUT so there's no win, win for the male population they can't complement women or even offer to help since your seen as sexist and the women always plays the victim card even when they aren't the victim. Nobody teaches their kids they have to be violent, that they have to be dominant, they have to be the leader. I can't stand when people like this make up things and try to pass it off common knowledge or facts. Why should a man or anyone to hand over the power they have rightfully earned. They act like someone in power is some kind of abusive or bullying mentality when it simply means that person is just good with people, good at leading people. Is a shepherd abusive because they simply lead the sheep to the water, it's not but these new age feminist would have you believe that simple act was violent when it clearly is not. I can't believe the one lady at 9:05 goes as far to claim air condition is sexist, that's just outrageous. And the last after trying to claim dressing up as a cartoon character is mockery when in fact it shows admiration, respect, and looking up to that virtue & is in NO way racist or disrespectful. The other side of the medal is that female claim to be raped quite often while in fact they just have a grudge against that person. I know a guy who's life was ruined because of it. He had an affair with a girl. After a couple of weeks the relation went nowhere. She was mad, went in psycho mode and claimed he raped her. Guy went to jail for it. After a couple of years the woman admitted she wasn't actually raped but she had sex many times with him and that particular evening she was drunk an even initiated the sex . Yet the damage was already done. Guy already did time, lost his house, his job, his friends and so fort. I think not female but men should be protected against these false aquisations of grudgeful witches. Kutulue Nothing would be done. This has been done so many times, and the woman almost always gets away with it. I experienced it secondhand with my bestfriend of 18 years. His wife cheated on him, so he filed for divorce. She was upset with that so she filed 12 charges against him. In more broad terms, 8 were for the rape of a minor (his daughter) and 4 were for forceful oral sodomy (on the wife). Of course, none of them were true. The man lost all of his friends, his clients and business, and if it weren't for my mother's testimony in court, he'd be spending the rest of his life in prison. Need I mention that his wife has absolutely no evidence? They were willing to lock him up over a case with absolutely no evidence. They didn't even test his child. Men can't even trust the system to bring them justice anymore.	Nothing, Woman	Age - Youngsters, Gender - General	2/156	1.282
TacitSwine750 That's one of the big problems: "Innocent until proven guilty" doesn't matter fir many of those metoo-people. Is it shit that many rapists are running around? Yes of course. But that doesn't justify the destruction of someone on pure belief and no hard evidence. The allegations alone are enough to destroy one's livelihood, and in case that the allegations weren't found to be true, nobody cares. The person is stigmatized. Well done. I do believe the 19th amendment was passed in 1920 during the height of the suffragette movement. When they next started complaining was right after WWII when they were told to leave the factories so the men could have jobs again as they stayed home to raise the children including the ones who 'were left on the doorstep' while the husbands were overseas fighting. Mind you many a teenage boy and preteen boy got an education at that time as they could go at it for hours at a time. The next time it all started up again was in the sixties and seventies during the 'sexual revolution' and the open marketing of the birth control pill. Things just continue to get more and more out of the ordinary to just downright crazy . We have gone far past the point of pushing for equal rights to just plain insanity when it comes to certain things. All the while these feminists fail to realize that got more respect and better treatment in general when treated as ladies. They don't understand that for a man to treat her as a lady means he treats her better than himself and everyone else.	Crazy	Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	1/199	0.503

Just an observation on the way things continually change and that goes up to a point. I notice autocorrect changed the word they to that after I hit the arrow key. Some of us want change while others don't and what some don't realize is that some changes change nothing and others make things worse. One thing I've learned is people as a whole are still the same. People as a whole don't change. We still have the same percentages of every type of good bad and in-between along with everything else. We simply hear more about it with the way technology is these days. The comment about being treated treated like ladies is just that. Feminist don't realize that and I have a daughter who considers herself a 'femin-nazi'. Her attitudes changed after starting college and at the age of 34 still lives on a college campus and will never leave as she has no reason to as she works at a college. Other comments are about how each generation has its own who want to change everything. The problem with western societies is that there are those who have all they could want and don't realize it. Others who don't and will always be ignored by the majority. Used to be anyone could stand on a street corner on their soap box and say what they wanted and gather their eleven percent following off the street while others ignored them, others considered them crazy and others didn't care. It's an insane world we live in and as a whole it looks to be getting worse. Sorry for the rants. We all get fed up with things from time to time. True, my daughter loves Moana and Tiana...as far as I'm concerned there would be uproar if a white girl was to play either of these in a film, it would be classed as racism . Yet when it's the other way round it's fine. To be clear, I couldn't give a rats arse who plays who, irrelevant to race etc, but still there would be uproar (under statement). That's racism . These dick heads are creating racism , and the woman in pink is bang on when she says that a little girl dressing up as Moana is celebrating their culture. Darius Gibson okay. With that in mind would you say that having a black Snowwhite (which has been done) is appropriation? After all, Snowwhite got her name because her skin was as white as snow. When it comes to children dressing up I would think that there would be an issue if those kids are told you can't be that person/character because you're not the same color. After all, if children are wanting to dress up like someone it's because they idolize or admire that character, that admiration should be nurtured not redirected to a character that is the same race/culture of the child. Yet if everyone embraced other cultures and learnt about them and wore the clothing and experienced their rituals and traditions there would be less racism . So the racial isolation these SJW's seem hell bent on enforcing will actually encourage racism . So the effect will be the opposite of what they claim to be standing for.It makes me wonder if the social study professors that are teaching the SJW's this dogma are actually doing it to extend and stimulate racism under cover. at a tribal level, men tend to be the warriors because they have greater upper body strength, on average, than women. There are women who are large and strong, who have been warriors - Celts, Central Africans, etc - but in the main, women are at a disadvantage in a fight (not counting with firearms). Of course, women have sex and men have force, so men tend to force women into sex . No cultural revisionism is going to do away with that imbalance of power any time soon. So women find men to protect them from other men. Sad, if you like, but here we are, and no social justice campaign is going to alter human biology. Especially if romantic chivalry is considered archaic and misogynistic, then men get nothing much at all out of respecting women, except freedom from lawsuits. And hence the superficial sexual equality of Tinder, and the reactionary MGTOW movement. Not sure what to do to make things better – Christian decency? But that has Christianity in it, so it's off the table.	Nothing, Sex, Sexual	Age - Youngsters, Gender - General	4/177	2.26

What these racists espousing "cultural appropriation" haven't the foresight to comprehend is that they are teaching people to self-segregate. When two cultures come into contact, they share elements of those cultures. It's an organic process. This is what real "diversity" is. Furthermore, it's interesting to note that these individuals never communicate in the mother tongue of their ethnic background, nor do they dress appropriately, or only utilise technologies discovered or invented by their people. How convenient; enjoying the fruits of a culture they attempt to oppress. As an olive-skinned, mixed race person, I find this disgusting.	Ethnic, Race	Ethnicity - General	2/96	2.083

"Cultural Appropriation" is a load of CRAP! So, if a person from Zimbabwe wears jeans and a t-shirt, are they stealing Western or White Culture? Because most African Cultures never had jeans and t-shirts as part of their culture until Whites introduced it to them. If a person from Mexico, China, Japan, Blacks or any other country or culture wore a cowboy hat, is the stealing from Whites since that hat was invented by and mainly worn by Whites? Once again, it's another racist attack purposely directed at ONLY WHITES. Whites aren't allowed to wear clothing styles from other cultures, however, other cultures can wear clothing designed by and for Whites or Western Culture. Very similar to how Whites can't say Nigger but Blacks can. However, if it was said Blacks aren't allowed to say certain words that ONLY Whites are allowed to use, that would be called Racist and Discrimination. When are Whites going to finally say, "enough is enough" and start speaking their minds and standing up for what is right. We currently live in a culture where some Whites believe it's acceptable to be discriminated against because they are being taught/brainwashed to be ashamed of being White And WHITE MILLENNIALS dominate this self hating culture. Men and women are the same and men set the temperature control to make it colder so women’s nipples stick out is what they are saying. Ever been around women going through the change? They’re burning up with hot flashes one minute and then putting on sweaters the next. Ever gone and stayed in a hospital or visited anyone in the hospital? They keep the ac blowing cold as it helps reduce the growth and spread bacterial infections. If your working in an office building where men are wearing proper suits they will be warmer yes. If the woman wants to be scantily clad and freeze to death just so she can draw more attention to herself and away from her competition that’s her problem. She should dress appropriately for business instead of trying to look like a prostitute selling herself. I work out in the heat and come into the breakroom soaked in sweat and turn on the fans and cool off. Meanwhile the old bitties are complaining about being inside freezing to death where it’s between 75 and 80 degrees and turn the fans off again. When ppl think of Me Too movement they think of actresses and moguls with power. But it happens when you are struggling to survive too...when your boss knows you will be quiet or your kids wont get food and you'll lose the roof over your head without the job. All I can think of to try and make you understand is...think of the least attractive, oldest, ugliest most unpleasant, smelly, mean woman you have ever worked for and imagine you have to give her oral sex or be homeless. If You That explains why your English is so shit. I'm not from America. Actually I haven't had an easy life I was beaten as a child, abducted and raped as a teen, abandoned and abused in an isolated cult in another country. Came back, lived with gangsters, went back to cult to give up drugs, met my kids father, gave birth to both of my daughters in cult houses with no drugs or medical intervention and had to go straight back to doing chores carrying a baby. Left cult, lived with kids narcissistic personality disorder father while cleaning houses to supplement our income...then learnt to cut glass and solder and had a business making stained glass mirrors. Finally kicked asshole to curb...moved to a low-income hood where I survived doing things I wont put on the internet, beat up 2 men...one was attacking a woman holding a baby and the other tried to attack my teenage daughter, lots of jobs...kitchen manager, greenhouse worker, astrologer, trade painter and now farmer. Which is a privilege and it took me years to find someone who would lease a farm to a woman. Love being a grandmother more than anything else in the world. Good on you for making money - I got pulled out of school to cook and clean at 14yrs old. I wanted to help people in Africa too...I hope you do.	Old, Woman	Age - Over 65s, Gender - General	3/232	1.293

Yoongi Trash so you'd rather women not vocalize their issues and just continue to be oppressed? And all women want to be happy but it's hard to do so when sexual harassment is around every corner (by every corner I mean that I can't even walk downtown without be harassed by street scum who are alway male) it's also hard to be happy when men act as if they are entitled because 'men build the world we live in' or whatever. When America was discovered, women were not permitted to do anything but stay home and clean and watch kids..... so in fact, that just proves any feminists point. We weren't allowed to fight In the war or do any of the shit that 'men should be praised for' mentioned in this thread. But now that women are finally comfortable enough to stick up for themselves..... were the evil ones? Seriously?!?!?	Sexual	Gender - General	1/151	0.662

Jordan Groulx I think he has a problem with feminists bitching to men about spreading out their legs or somehow having "splaining" be exclusive to them along with interuptions, may I suggest you read the 3 feminist leader quotes I provided in my first comment on this thread around the bottom of it? Also probably because feminists say men are more privileged, if you believe this then I will say I can list 50 fem privileges and if you'd like me to list them then all means ask.You make the claim you're harassed when you walk down and sexual harassment is constant a occurrence these days, if this were true then I must wonder why my female relatives or mother are never saying they had a guy creeping on them, also it should be obvious why its a male usually doing it seeing as how men are mainly the ones attracted to women, should I also note men also get catcalled? Or the fact that if a woman is commenting on another woman's clothing in the middle of the street it's typically going to be a slut-shame rather than a compliment?I don't typically see any men acting entitled over the fact men were the ones who built majority of the world, last time I remember a guy saying he was entitled to something because men invented majority of things in this world was well, never. If an example of this "entitlement" would be the comments around the top of this reply thread that would be wrong, they were countering "TL W's" reply of "men are always burning the world" or how a female only world would be just as advanced of not more.Yes, you are indeed correct about what women were only able to do at the time America was stay home. However you are forgetting about the fact women were allowed to do many things including getting an education and inventing new things after the first feminist wave movement around 1910s-1920s and yet I don't hear many inventions made by women that are groundbreakingly helpful to the world. Further more I already explained why that feminist point is wrong in my first reply on this thread and also showing great hypocrisy in a feminist invention made in 2019.As for how feminists are evil please take a look at my 3 feminist leader quotes again. I love that in every case women have a big opportunity to show intelligence about their country and racism/sexism statistics, they constantly blurt out random facts and big words, unrelated in some way to the conversation thinking they sound smart, but then men and non-feminazi women completely fucking demolish them with true facts that 1. They can never deny, and 2. That always makes them look speechless and just look like the idiot of the conversation. On top of that, because they never win arguments they keep digging themselves deeper into a hole by coming up with more 'offensive actions' to women that wouldn't be close to being considered offensive 5 years ago, making their 'statistics' just sound like more bullshit. Because of this, more and more women are continuing to go against these types of insane women, which makes feminazis desperate and angry, making them say things like 'no they don't even know what sexual harassment is, and that's their problem'. "Is it confined to an anachronistic corner" No, it's quite real. Societies disallowing effeminacy and whorishness, E.G. Middle Eastern and African ones, have high birthrates among their own kind, while ones respecting nonsensical, forced, impositional political correctness are having problems that the leftist traitors within them won't acknowledge. That us men are superior is merely a fact. it's basically the opposite of how it is with ants and hyenas. Females belong in the home with children the same color as themselves and us men belong in the workplace. That's nature and logic. Byakuya Fukawa So true, and in high school everyone negatively judged. Homosexuals probably get it worse, usually because of them being effeminate men and less about actually being gay . But kids in general are just terrible. I was bullied pretty hard in elementary and somewhat in high school because I was smart and had glasses. They'll pick on you for anything. Some people just aren't nice people. But unless there is an actual systematic targeting of a certain group that can be quantified and identified then there is no point complaining about it. I was bullied because I was taught to be good, to be kind, to not insult. I was weak. Does that excuse those idiots-no, but ultimately you are bullied because you are weak. So become strong, use your superior mind to hit these guys on the nerve. Beat someone up if it's absolutely needed and you have to defend yourself. Make them fear you. Emily L ummmmmm.... I know that feminists are doing something you better dumbass and they're also trying to do the right thing but here's my logical view one I'm a 15 year old kid I've been through hell and back hell in School let me give you prime example a black girl with a smart aleck to me she called me the n-word I said it back is it was magically the most baddest thing ever then I called girl just flirting with her cupcake and she went to go get the teacher just as I was messing around let me give you another example one of my friends and me were in a pizza place and lady that was probably knew no I'm a nice hairdo and my friend was acting dumb but she got very snotty and told us if we ever talk to her like that again she'll have us thrown out of here like we did anything wrong there's so many damn instances where women say that it's so hard to be a woman when it's even harder to be a man you have to worry about so many things and hell I'm not athletic a lot of things I look it's but I don't and that's the power of perception and that's the very much the problem people presume as much as they think and when that Veil is lifted in it what they have is wrong it's very annoying to them so they get pissed off and that's quite the reason why so many male superheroes in comic books is because a lot of males dream of you being the hero and not many women or in that state because well it's very hard to make a woman superhero and not overcomplicate things and not me something that's very this that or the other there's so many instances I can get in one whole sentence like right now hell I'll give you a private example when a woman hits a man nobody does s how I've had it happen if a girl was beaten the s out of me in school ripping at my hair scratching at me bruises gave me a f* black guy and nobody did a damn thing because they thought I did something to piss her off when all I told her was to quit messing with my sister and my sister was maybe five at the time she was coming to visit me and she was lost she was probably asking what classroom or were the lunchroom was and this was in like maybe High School and the lady started beating the s out of me because I told her to lay off my family and the finally some teacher my birth father came to school orc the principal came out I don't know pulled her ass off my sister watched in horror and couldn't do a thing and while I was at I had to heal up and almost in an infirmity 4 a month a week so let me ask every f* feminists this damn questions you think it's so hard to be a man then f* grow a pair and see if you want to be one because it's much harder than you think you want to use jobs against us go in the army dude dirty grimy jobs that nobody wants to do I'm sorry this is not targeted to this either but this is how I feel I'm sick and tired of these videos I just stumbled across it and it just in infuriated me	Black, Dumb, Nobody, Old, Woman	Age - Over 65s, Age - Youngsters, Ethnicity - Black, Gender - General, Physical Identity - Physical (and Mental) Impairments	10/601	1.664

First guy - He has no idea what he's talking about."Men are forced to be violent" while being a man himself, crying, about how much he's bullied for being feminine. If all men were taught to be violent, why isn't he?It's not up to the gay people to come up with solutions for homophobic hate crime. I see a lot more homophobic behaviour coming from young women more than young men nowadays.Unfortunately there is no MALE privilege.Now when talking about a black gentleman and a white gentleman I can understand that some aspects of life can be considered WHITE privilege but if I was put against a black woman and compared the same way I was with the man, it would be exactly the same. WHITE privilege rather than MALE.I have nothing to hand over as a white male."I want them to hand over some of their platform" is that why you're on a public platform now?"We've had a patriarchy for a long time, hasn't really worked."I forgot that we have a queen and a female PM. And I love how he couldn't stay quiet when the other guy was talking.Second woman - People are not as fucking retarded as some of the men you know in your life.The vast majority of us understand what rape is, we understand what sexual harassment is.I haven't accidentally raped or assaulted someone, I've purposely NOT done those things. The same with the VAST majority of people I know.Sure when I was 11-12 I was obsessed with girls because fuck I had just started to like them but newsflash, they were just as interested in my penis - Shit's a two way street.I may have fondled a couple of breasts without permission but I've also had my dick grabbed by the same people.That was when we were just becoming teenagers.. It's that "equality" they want that got us to here. And they want more and more and more and more, so yes the question is: where do we draw the line ?Some of them slowly got into power, changed few laws so now more and more sick people do some crazy fucking shit with their bodies which they then demand others to perceive and accept as normal. Not gonna happen, I am not letting some mentally sick people tell me what i can and cannot say and do. YOU chose to be fucking gay , tranny , to change your body, to cut your dick off. IT IS YORU FUCKING CHOICE SO DON'T IMPOSE IT TO OTHERS !!! That should be a law. If those bastards force their bent views to others it should be dealt with as a crime !Isn't peodophillea illegal ? Everyone knows that people can have safe sex in their teens and all over the world they do consensually. So why is it illegal to convince someone young to have sex with you but it is legal to convince a boy that he can cut his dick off and become something else, something irreversible which can ruin his life forever. The reason the gay guy in the first clip gets fucked with is because he has a public life where people recognized him. If he was just joe blow it wouldn't be as much as he is experiencing. Most people that are known to the public that have something of a controversial opinion or even an odd way of presenting their thoughts, should expect some push back to whatever subject they are expressing about, especially when they are in the middle of a movement of some sort. The problem with Feminists, is that they try too hard to speak in such an intellect way, as if they have this new idea-that the world really needs to listen to, as a viewer you can see the mental retardation right before your eyes, what a shame they don't understand this fact before they go on TV. Masculinity is science you fucking morons. Testosterone makes us how we are. Not society. Get over it. Also, why do these morons have problems with KIDS dressing up as their favorite cartoon? They have no idea about race , racism , slavery, oppression, or what have you. You bringing up this stupid shit, is teaching them to feel a certain way about a certain people. GRANTED, don't have them paint their face to resemble another ethnicity , but if a black kid wants to be fuckin abe lincoln, or a white kid wants to be denzel washington or Malcolm X...as long as nobody is painting their faces, who gives af? Let these kids live! Stop bringing them into adult problems! My whole family is totally white. For Halloween two years ago, my sister wanted to be Pocahontas. Now, that may seem offensive to some of you, but not as much as a local woman . She screamed at my sister for dressing as a "character out of her race " and how she was "disrespecting" the Native American culture. My mother defended her by saying that since my family is mainly Irish, the woman was not allowed to celebrate St. Patrick's day because it was rude to our culture. People can wear whatever they want. Fuck people who say otherwise.	Race, Woman	Ethnicity - General, Gender - General	3/98	3.061
Why is it always that these sjw's are always ironically privileged, have university degrees, and are from first world countries?They dont have real problems so they create them. They complain about privilege, but ignore they're own, they hate men, but have a fathers and sons who love them. They claim that to be white and male is to be racist but cannot see theyre own racism in such a ridiculous statement. If we keep feeding into the notions of these people and give them power, humanity is lost.	Racism, Racist	Ethnicity - General	2/88	2.273

If dressing up as Moana is cultural appropriation and racist , what is making "Annie" a black girl or making The Wizard of Oz a black film or making Thor a woman (heard they were thinking of doing this)? And, by the way, Thor is not just a cartoon superhero, he was a Norse god who was part of an ancient religion. How about we make Mohammed a non-binary black woman , or the Buddha a white guy? Idiots. You can tell how manipulative and angry the first guy is. Sorry tried to sound smart with big words and talking fast yet he trips himself up all the time. Interrupting, body language showing clear frustration and anger. Telling you now, notice how most of these fems are insecure and easily offended? They can't find love because if how they are so turn to the internet and social media to bitch and complain about how entitled they are and that they DEMAND acknowledgment. He's a blatant attention seeker and narcissist. Not interested in what anyone else has to say and definitely wasn't listening.Even the way he talks is fucking annoying. 0:56 especially when he goes high pitched.
